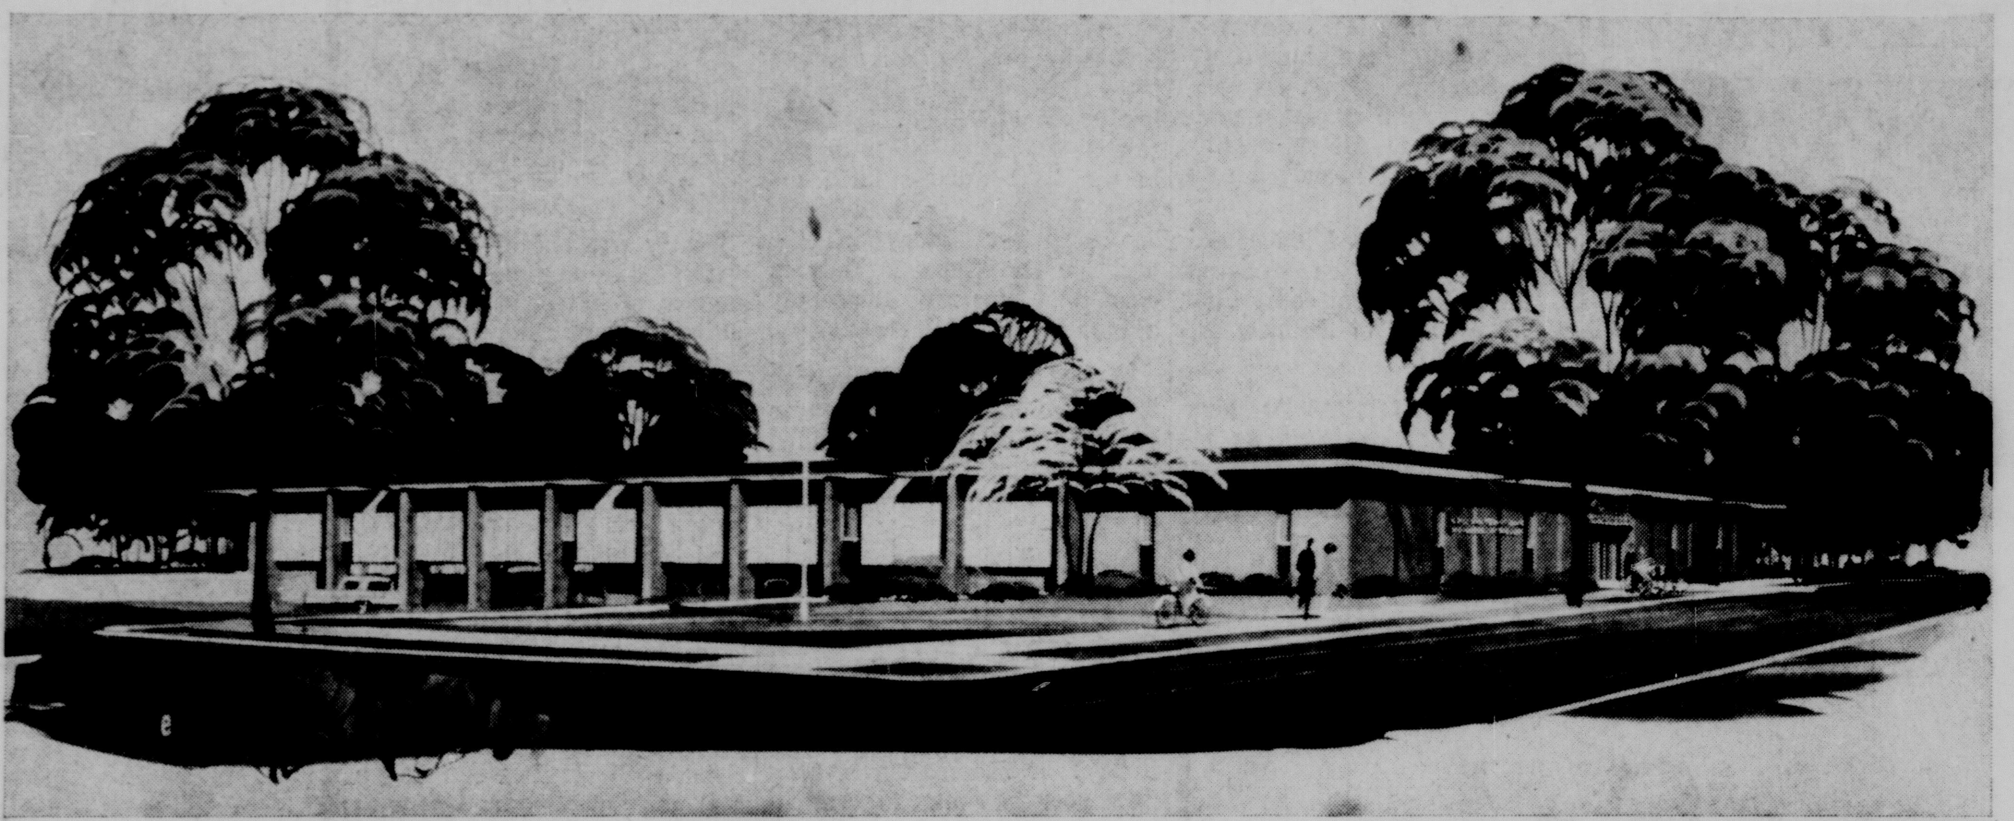
LIBRARY VOTE IS SATURDAY



ARTIST'S SKETCH shows the planned new home of the Arlington Heights library, facing Euclid between Dunton and Vail. A portion of the 40,862-square-foot building would remain unfinished for several years, until village population growth demands it. Saturday's $1,425,000 referendum provides for that expansion. In addition, roofed parking area at left could be enclosed at relatively modest cost should population reach beyond the projected 75,000 level.

New Site, Building Proposed

See precinct map inside.

Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday in a $1,425,000 referendum to build and equip a new Arlington Heights village library.

Precinct voting places will be at Wilson School, Miner Junior High, Arlington High, Pioneer Park and the Municipal Building.

THE REFERENDUM would authorize purchase of a new site on the block bounded by Euclid, Dunton, Vail and Fremont, and erection of a 40,862-square-foot building.

A part of the building—about 6,000 square feet—would remain unfinished for several years, until population growth demanded it. Funds for that future expansion are authorized in the current referendum. The present building at Miner and Belmont would be sold.

Here is a breakdown of the planned referendum expenses:

Construction — $947,500
Land — $114,500
Equipment and furnishings (including new books) — $156,000
Architect fees — $72,000
Legal fees — $15,000
Contingencies — $120,000

APPROVAL OF the referendum would add approximately 5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to property taxes. That sum would be reduced, up to 25 per cent, if a federal library construction grant is approved. The library board has indicatel it will apply for such a grant, through the Illinois State Library.

Present plans call for opening of the new facility in the spring of 1967.

Urging a "Yes" vote in the referendum, Village Pres. John G. Woods said, "The plan proposed was carefully prepared by the library board and thoroughly reviewed by its citizens committee. The proposed project is both practical and economical.

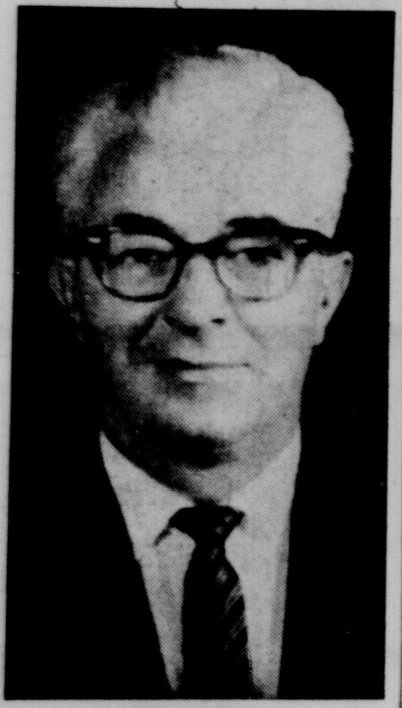
"Arlington Heights urgently needs a larger library; it is vital to the educational and cultural growth of our village. An adequate library is needed to complement the excellent programs of our elementary and high schools, both public and parochial. Our high school students frequently go to downtown Chicago to do routine research work.

"The time to act is now, before the deficiency of books and library services becomes critical."

Sen. Graham Hospitalized

State Sen. John A. Graham (R-Barrington), 54, was reported "resting comfortably" at Sherman Hospital in Elgin this week after suffering a slight stroke Friday night.

Hospital officials Tuesday described his condition as satisfactory, although they said no visitors or telephone calls are being permitted, "to allow the senator maximum rest." Graham's condition evidently had improved somewhat from Monday, when it was described as "fair, the same as when he was admitted."



GRAHAM

Barrington Township Republican Committeeman Harold Smith said, "I don't expect additional medical word for some period of time — doctors always say they have to see how things develop."

The question of Graham's health throws a new wrinkle into Republican slatemaking in the district.

The senator announced several months ago that he definitely would run again, amidst rumors of potential challengers from the moderate ranks. In the past week, both likely opponents have formally declared they would not put up a contest: Wheeling Township Republican Committeeman Thomas Houser said he will manage Charles Percy's campaign for U.S. senator, and State Rep. Eugene Schlickman (R-Arlington Heights) this week said he will run again for the State House. (See story inside.)

These decisions were obviously welcomed by Graham. Last week he said, "Personally, I have felt, as many GOP state leaders felt, that in any areas we can avoid primary contests, it will be helpful to our over-all efforts come next November."

Regarding Schlickman, he said, "I have nothing but respect and regard him as one of my friends. For his first term in the House, he did an excellent job."

Graham was first elected in 1958.

Prospect Heights Group Gets Incorporation Advice

The Prospect Heights Improvement Association this week received word it would be legal for the community to incorporate without the consent of surrounding villages.

But, this information was termed "kind of superfluous" by William Valiant, PHIA president.

A letter to Valiant from Edward J. Bieg, an attorney who has offices in Arlington Heights and Chicago, said 1965 legislation provides that an area of less than four square miles can incorporate as a city, or an area of two square miles as a village, provided the area contains more than 7,500 residents. Permission of an existing municipality within one mile is no longer necessary. Previously, consent of neighboring communities was required.

VALIANT CALLED this "interesting," but he said, "I don't know that it changes anything. I'm sure we could have gotten approval from Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, and Wheeling, if we had wanted it. None of the communities—at least not Arlington or Mount Prospect—is any longer interested in annexation."

Valiant pointed out that the negative ballot in the last vote on the question of incorporation of Prospect Heights, taken about five years ago, was about 6-1.

"I imagine we'd have the same results now. The majority would be against because of the tremendous increase in costs.

"Annexation of the area would be less expensive because the established communities are already absorbing certain fixed costs, such as police protection and other services. Adding some 8,000 residents from Prospect Heights wouldn't increase their costs proportionately."

IN HIS LETTER. Bieg said, "The residents of Prospect Heights could then control their own zoning and stop the annexation of small areas by the surrounding villages."

"This law was not in effect when the Prospect Heights Improvement Association took its last poll. Perhaps now the residents would like another opportunity to express their opinions on this very important matter."

According to Valiant, Bieg has never been employed by the PHIA — "I've never heard of him."

The association has no attorney on a retainer basis, and "if we were to list an attorney, it would probably be John Haas, who's done a lot of work for us," Valiant said.

Trustees Ask:

Do Yield Signs Curb Accidents?

The Arlington Heights village administration got grudging approval for a new set of "Yield" signs Monday—but not before the board of trustees asked for a survey on the effectiveness of such installations.

Approved were signs on Patton Avenue at Elm.

When the proposal appeared on the village board agenda, Trustee John White asked Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson where the suggestion originated. Hanson said it stemmed "from (traffic) counts done by the engineering department." He added the traffic counts indicated traffic was not heavy enough to justify stop signs.

TRUSTEE ROY A. Bressler, most unyielding opponent of the signs, interjected, "I'd like to again point out to the board that yield signs simply are not effective."

Trustee Carl Mees asked for "documentary evidence that there are fewer accidents when yield signs are installed."

Trustee John J. Walsh Jr. said he "disagreed that they're ineffective . . . they slow me down."

TRUSTEES ASKED Hanson for information on the experience with yield signs in Arlington Heights and national experience, based on reports of the National Safety Council.

When the last set of yield signs were requested by the administration last month, Hanson said new installations would carry the explanation, "This Means Slow."

Buckley Appointed Magistrate

Robert C. Buckley, former Arlington Heights police magistrate, has been appointed a magistrate of the Cook County Circuit Court.

Buckley, 42, lives at 222 N. Derbyshire Lane. He and 21 other new magistrates were sworn in Monday by Chief Judge John S. Boyle.

The Arlington Heights judge was elected village police magistrate in 1959 and reelected in 1963. He became an acting Circuit Court magistrate with the passage of the Blue Ballot court reform, continuing to serve in the Arlington Heights court and other north and northwest suburbs covered by Municipal District II.

WHEN DISTRICT II was selected a month ago by the American Bar Association as one of the outstanding courts in the United States, the presiding judge gave strong credit to the Arlington Heights court.

Rotary Ice Carnival Events Listed

Bulletin

Scratch one Rotary Ice Carnival this weekend. Park district officials looked at the weather Wednesday and decided the ice could not be readied by Saturday. They rescheduled it for Saturday, Jan. 15, in hopes the weather would turn "good" (cold). If that fails to occur, the carnival will be set back to Jan. 22.

The eighth annual Rotary Ice Carnival is scheduled for Saturday at the retention basin, corner of Olive Street and Douglas Avenue. Skating competition for boys and girls of all ages will be held at 10 a.m.

The carnival is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Rotary Club under the direction of the Arlington Heights Park District.

THE ROTARIANS will award medals to first, second and third places in each event. Participant ribbons will be given to all who take part. A special trophy will be awarded to winner of the 880-yard race for all boys.

Any youngster in Arlington Heights may enter.

If the ice is unsuitable for the event Saturday, the carnival will be postponed to Jan. 15.

The schedule of events is:

10 a.m.—Girls 7 and under, 110 yard dash. 10:05—Boys 7 and under. 10:10—Girls 8 and 9, 110 yard dash. 10:15—Boys 8 and 9. 10:20—Girls 10 and 11, 110 yard dash. 10:30—Boys 10 and 11.

10:40—Girls 12 and 13, 220 yard dash. 10:50—Boys 12 and 13. 11—Girls 14 and 15, 220 yard dash. 11:10—Boys 14 and 15.

Mrs. Flentie Dies; Widow Of Ex-Mayor

Services were held Friday in San Gabriel, Calif., for Mrs. Louise Flentie (nee Graue), 81, widow of a former Arlington Heights village president.

She died at a rest home in San Gabriel Dec. 28. Burial was at Forest Lawn cemetery there.

HER HUSBAND, the late Julius D. Flentie, was a village trustee from 1908 to 1916 and village president from 1927 to 1941. They moved to California in 1946, and he died in 1961.

Mrs. Flentie was born on June 27, 1884. She is survived by two children, Mrs. Gilbert (Gertrude) Wilke and Dr. Edgar Flentie, of San Gabriel, five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Ban School Bus Parking

An ordinance prohibiting parking of school buses on public streets when not loading or unloading was approved by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday.

The ordinance was requested by Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson. He said he has received complaints of some drivers, when they finish their route, "using the school buses to go to beauty shops, post office, and I presume in this case have taken the bus home for lunch."

Hanson said in one case two buses are parked for long periods on a residential street. He noted zoning restrictions already prevent their being parked on private property and said the intent is to get drivers to return the buses to their normal parking space when done with their routes.

Scholarship Fund to Honor Helene Bristol

Establishment of the Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund was announced this week by Larry S. Jenness, principal of Forest View High School, Arlington Heights.

He said the permanent scholarship fund would honor the memory of Helene Bristol, education editor of Paddock Publications, who died Friday at Northwest Community Hospital Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Bristol, 39, of 4105 Jay Lane, Rolling Meadows, had been seriously ill with a liver ailment for several weeks.

Services were conducted at 10 a.m. Tuesday in St. Simon Episcopal Church, Arlington Heights, by the Rev. Samuel N. Keys and the Rev. Linas H. Brown. Burial was at Elmwood Cemetery, River Grove.

MORE THAN 300 northwest area community and educational leaders attended chapel services Sunday and Monday evenings at Haire Funeral Home, Arlington Heights.

Surviving are her husband, Robert J.; a son, Robert E., 10; and a sister, Dr. Joan Patterson of Chicago.

Temporary administration of the scholarship fund will be by a committee headed by Jenness and Jack W. Martin, assistant to the superintendent of High School District 214. Other committee members include Dr. Donald Thomas, principal of Elk Grove High School; Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications; and Donald Morton, vice president of Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Jenness said permanent trustees will be named shortly.

AN ANNUAL contribution of $400 will be made to the scholarship fund by the northwest suburban division of the Illinois Education Association.

MRS. BRISTOL

Ethan Janove, division public relations chairman, said the executive committee voted unanimously Tuesday in favor of the annual donation.

Contributions may be sent to Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund, c/o Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, 25 E. Campbell St., Arlington Heights.

A memorial fund has also been established for Mrs. Bristol at St. Simon Episcopal Church, 717 Kirchoff Road, Arlington Heights.

A NATIVE of Chicago, Mrs. Bristol attended Wright Junior College, Gregg Business College, and Northland College.

One of the first residents of Rolling Meadows, Mrs. Bristol joined Paddock Publications as a news correspondent in 1954 and was made editor of the Rolling Meadows Herald when that edition was added to the Paddock chain in 1955.

Her dedication to Rolling Meadows was reflected in numerous civic honors, including honorary membership in the Lions Club; Rolling Meadows fifth anniversary award for community service; and the special appreciation certificate of the Rolling Meadows Home Owners Association, which guided the city's incorporation. She also served as a director of the association.

In 1960 Mrs. Bristol was made education editor and special assignment writer for all 16 Paddock newspapers.

Her duties included news coverage of area high school boards of education, the new northwest suburban junior college, and general education assignments.

IN ADDITION, she served as the newspapers' medical writer, specializing in suburban hospital developments, and was responsible for reporting the Cook County Board of Commissioners.

Mrs. Bristol held memberships in the Education Writers Association, League of Women Voters, and Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's Club.

To Receive Directory

Residents of Arlington Heights are urged to be on the alert this Saturday, Jan. 8, to make certain they receive their free copies of the Paddock Directory for Arlington Heights.

Every home in Arlington Heights is scheduled to receive a free copy of this handy directory. It will be delivered by a large crew of boys sometime Saturday.

PADDOCK DIRECTORY provides a complete listing of every head of household in town, with address, phone number, wife's name, name and year of birth of each of the children, and place of work for the head of household.

Complete data was gained by a crew of census takers recently. A small percentage of residents did not wish all of the information to be indicated, so such information is missing in a few cases.

The directory is expected to become a social necessity for homemakers as they quickly look up information when needed. The yellow pages are certain to be of help, too. The directory will be issued annually.

Gas Station Permit Approved by 5-2 Vote

Construction of a Marathon service station at the northwest corner of Palatine and Arlington Heights roads was approved by the village board Monday.

The board instructed Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel to prepare an ordinance granting a special use permit for the station. The vote was 5 to 2. The board had tabled action a month ago after a motion to deny the special use permit snagged on a 3 to 3 vote tie.

ONE OF THOSE voting for denial a month ago, Trustee Thomas Hanlon, voted for approval Monday. And Trustee John White, who had not been present at the earlier meeting, joined Hanlon, Carl Mees, Frank Palmatier and Village Pres. John G. Woods in favoring the station.

Opposed were Trustees John J. Walsh Jr. and Roy A. Bressler.

Trustees asked Siegel to write into the ordinance provisions for removal of several old frame houses on the corner, an early end to a septic drainage problem and a restriction against Marathon's ever abandoning the structure.

Bressler indicated his opposition was based on apparent existence of "dense competition within a mile" of the new station.

WOODS REITERATED neighborhood characteristics as his reason for favoring the station: existence of what he called a "junk yard" across the street and the proposed location of an interchange at the intersection.

Trustees easily approved, in 7 to 0 votes, the drafting of two related ordinances annexing the property and zoning it B2 (service business). The special use is limited to a 150 by 150 foot portion of the lot, which is somewhat larger. (A

March of Dimes Begins This Week

This week marks the kick-off of the 1966 March of Dimes campaign according to Richard A. Cowen, chairman of the March of Dimes for Arlington Heights. Cowen is a practicing attorney and lives with his wife and children at 124 N. Gibbons Ave.

Within the past few days, each resident in the Village should have received a mailing from the March of Dimes asking for a contribution. The funds raised will be used primarily in the fight against birth defects. While the March of Dimes has been best known in the past for its efforts in fighting polio, that now represents only a minor part of its activities.

In 1965, over $13 million was spent for medical care, research and education programs aimed at combating birth defects. These funds were spent at 36 treatment centers providing inpatient treatment and diagnosis, eight clinical study centers involved in programs of research and training, and 57 birth defect centers where teams of doctors and nurses treat and care for children born with any birth defect.

Birth defects affect 250,000 babies born in the U.S. each year. This averages out to 700 each day, or one every other minute.

Nearly one out of 10 American families experiences the anguish of having a child born damaged in mind or body. The March of Dimes works to help these families as well as working in research to prevent similar tragedies from striking others.

"We still need volunteers to help right here in Arlington Heights with our March of Dimes," stated Cowen. All that is asked is one hour of your time during the entire month. This is less than the average person spends watching television each evening. Anyone who can volunteer one hour is asked to call Richard Cowen at 392-3732 or Mrs. Norman Bittner, 255-1009. (A

Drop-In Day Is Set at Center

The Over 50 Club of Arlington Heights will meet Thursday (today) at Recreation Park from noon to 4 p.m. for a drop-in center day. Cards and craft will fill the day. Coffee and tea will be furnished.

On Jan. 13 a tour of Abbott Laboratories is planned. Buses leave Pioneer Park at 8 a.m. for the trip to North Chicago. The group will eat at Phil Johnson's in Northbrook. Reservations are to be in by Monday.

Hearing Feb. 2 On Zone Change

A hearing on a petition to rezone one lot near Central and Arlington Heights Roads from R5 (apartment) to B1 (retail business) will be held by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission at 8 p.m. Feb. 2.

The lot is west of a filling station at the northwest corner of the intersection. Owner Arthur Melles indicated he would prefer to develop the lot for commercial use rather than apartments. He will be represented by Atty. Myron Minuskin. (A

Downtown Renewal Tops List of Goals

Twenty-two major goals for 1966 are cited by Village Pres. John G. Woods in a report distributed to the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday. As in past years, heavy emphasis is given to downtown redevelopment, attraction of industry, traffic problems and population growth.

Here is the text of Woods' report:

Arlington Heights is a dynamic community which is making significant progress toward the achievement of its most important goals. Our dramatic growth presents both a challenge and an opportunity. Much hard work lies ahead.

The year 1966 should see the completion of several major projects which were advanced in 1965. It is my recommendation that the board devote its efforts in 1966 to the following important matters:

1. REVITALIZATION of downtown Arlington Heights.

(a) Adoption of central business district revitalization plan and thoroughfare plan developed by Tec-Search in cooperation with the ACTION committee.

(b) Removal of certain existing obsolete structures by implementation of amortization provisions of village code.

(c) Commencement of several major projects in the central business district.

(d) Improvement of recently acquired railroad parks to provide additional shopper parking space; adoption of specific plans for additional downtown parking.

(e) Secure more adequate post office facilities including a substation.

(f) Continue negotiations with officials of Chicago and North Western Railway on feasibility of depressing railroad tracks; meet with county, state and federal officials.

(g) Formation of downtown development corporation.

(h) Thorough review of all applicable ordinances to determine if any further legislative action is necessary or desirable.

(i) Continue meetings with downtown property owners and with civic, service and homeowners groups to discuss downtown plans.

2. CONTINUE EFFORTS to attract administrative headquarters, research enterprises and light industry to secure long-range tax relief. Several active prospects should result in additional companies locating in Arlington Heights this year. Arlington Heights has many outstanding advantages which are now being recognized. The brochure being prepared by Arlington Heights Progress will be of real assistance in this connection; also helpful is the brochure prepared by the Chamber of Commerce.

3. Secure an entrance and exit to toll road.

4. Continue efforts to develop an alternate source of water supply from Lake Michigan through DAMP or other source.

5. Improve Thomas Street and approve other street improvement plans.

6. Continue efforts in the field of human relations.

7. Improve traffic control along Arlington Heights Road by installation of traffic signals at Miner, Euclid and Oakton and also at Northwest Highway and Kensington Road. Complete traffic study.

8. CONDUCT "Operation Understanding" — a planning conference on problems and prospects for all area officials (including park board, school boards, junior college board, plan commission, zoning board of appeals, board of local improvements) and other interested citizens with field trips conducted.

9. Prepare and distribute an annual report in order to inform citizens on vital matters.

10. Hold Newcomers' Night at regular intervals in order to acquaint our new residents with matters of interest to all citizens.

11. Study (legal) implications of reaching 50,000 population mark which is expected to occur in 1967.

12. Work toward straightening Wilke Road.

13. Study adequacy of court facilities and fines collection procedure.

14. Install street lights in Stonegate through motor fuel tax funds.

15. UPDATE ordinances regulating subdivisions and enact a housing code; conduct complete review of building, plumbing and electrical codes.

16. Appoint Arlington Beautification Committee with emphasis on developing plan for downtown landscaping.

17. Continue to support youth activities.

18. Adopt Weller Creek drainage improvement program in cooperation with Mount Prospect.

19. Formulate plans for civic center in cooperation with park board.

20. Continue reforestation program.

21. Encourage the Inter-American Friendship Program.

22. Continued adherence to sound principles of municipal development including continued cooperation with area officials for proper development of Area.

I look forward with pleasure to working with the board in 1966. (A

Ownership Of Property Is Cleared

Minutes of condemnation on a 14-inch wide strip along N. Belmont Avenue were approved by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday at an estimated cost of $600 to $700.

The board earlier had authorized an engineering survey to determine where the mysterious strip exists. The survey indicated it runs approximately 650 feet from a point several lots north of Oakton Street.

THE STRIP OF land, of unknown ownership, lies between lots along Belmont and the street right-of-way. The board of local improvements had begun special assessment proceedings to improve the street when the gap in ownership came to light. It legally prevents levying of assessments along the abutting property owners.

Once the land is condemned and the street right-of-way touches individual parcels, the special assessment, or a private contract arrangement among property owners, can proceed. (A

Guard for Hazardous Spot Hired

A guard has been located to help children across a hazardous school crossing near Dunton School.

The crossing—at Arlington Heights Road and Cypress Street—had been unguarded after the former guard resigned, and parents had been warned to accompany their children to school starting Monday.

The new guard started Tuesday afternoon, according to Robert Campbell, assistant superintendent of District 25. He is Henry Kaefer, an Elk Grove man. Kaefer told school authorities he applied for the job after learning of the need for a guard through a Herald article.

ROTARY CLUB of Arlington Heights paid off another $500 of its pledge to Northwest Community Hospital last week when club vice president Bob Paddock presented a check to fellow Rotarian Hal Rose, chairman of the building committee for the hospital. Rotary Club expects to fulfill its pledge by the middle of 1966.

A guard has been located to help children across a hazardous school crossing near Dunton School.

The crossing—at Arlington Heights Road and Cypress Street—had been unguarded after the former guard resigned, and parents had been warned to accompany their children to school starting Monday.

The new guard started Tuesday afternoon, according to Robert Campbell, assistant superintendent of District 25. He is Henry Kaefer, an Elk Grove man. Kaefer told school authorities he applied for the job after learning of the need for a guard through a Herald article.

Ownership Of Property Is Cleared

Minutes of condemnation on a 14-inch wide strip along N. Belmont Avenue were approved by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday at an estimated cost of $600 to $700.

The board earlier had authorized an engineering survey to determine where the mysterious strip exists. The survey indicated it runs approximately 650 feet from a point several lots north of Oakton Street.

THE STRIP OF land, of unknown ownership, lies between lots along Belmont and the street right-of-way. The board of local improvements had begun special assessment proceedings to improve the street when the gap in ownership came to light. It legally prevents levying of assessments along the abutting property owners.

Once the land is condemned and the street right-of-way touches individual parcels, the special assessment, or a private contract arrangement among property owners, can proceed. (A

Only Memories Left of Happy Christmas Celebrations

With the holiday season over, most folks are busy packing away decorations and ornaments, with happy memories of the gay activities just past which we will look back uopn with pleasure for years to come. Celebrations and the happiness of Arlington Heighters were countless, as friends and relatives gathered to observe Christmas, see in the new year, honor those who celebrated birthdays and enjoy the company of family and neighbors.

Christmas visitors in the Lester Cordes home, 126 N. Waterman, were their daughter and son-in-law, the Dwight Lohkamps and nine-month-old Jo-Anna Lyn of Elizabeth, N. J., and Mr. Lohkamp's parents from southern Illinois.

Lester Cordes was home from Stanford University, Stanford, Calif., for the holidays. The Cordes also entertained friends from Wisconsin and other guests during the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Larsen, 817 S. Roosevelt, gave a New Year's Eve party for 12 guests. Co-hosts for the evening's gaiety, which began at 9 p.m., were Mr. and Mrs. James Dresmal of Evanston. Hors d'oeuvres were served throughout the evening, and a buffet supper followed a champagne toast at midnight. Entertainment for the evening was comprised of dancing, with traditional decorations of balloons, paper hats, and streamers contributing to the festive atmosphere of the occasion.

MRS. EUGENE Dresmal, a former resident of Arlington Heights whose home is currently in LaFayette, Ind., spent the holidays with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Soprano, 1106 W. Wing. She also enjoyed visiting friends and other members of her family in Arlington and surrounding area, and was paid a holiday visit by her sister, Miss Mary McClurg of Cleveland.

Enjoying a 30-day leave is Bud Terbell, who arrived in the home of his parents, the Floyd Terbells, 402 W. Kirchhoff, on Dec. 1. Bud, who has been stationed at Otis AFB in Boston, will leave Saturday for Alaska, where his new station will be King Salmon AFB.

Guests paying Christmas visits to the Terbells were their daughter and son-in-law, the Ronald Kesselrings; Mr. Kesselring's parents, the Carroll Kesselrings; the Gordon Kesselrings, of Iowa City; the Arthur Gaws, of Chicago; the James Gaws, of Oak Lawn; and the Terbells' daughter, Martha, a student at Central College in Pella, Iowa. Christmas dinner in the Terbell home was served to 22 persons.

CHRISTMAS EVE guests in the Jerome Rauch home, 110 S. Dunton, were her parents, the Paul Tossmans, and sister-in-law and son, Mrs. Ronald Tossman and Bryan. The evening was concluded with attendance of church services.

Scott, son of the Robert Letzels, 1237 N. Chestnut, celebrated his eighth birthday Dec. 30 by going to dinner at the Elks Club, accompanied by his parents and his brother, Jim. A surprise feature for Scott was the birthday cake which was served him at the conclusion of the meal. On New Year's Eve, Scott's maternal grandparents, the Frank Andrews of Chicago, came to the Letzel home to see in the new year and to extend best wishes to their grandson.

Scott's brother, Jim, 10 early in December, celebrated the occasion Dec. 18 at a bowling party attended by Scott and five friends. Following the party, the bowler with the highest score was presented with a small trophy commemorating the event, and the boys enjoyed hamburgers, cake and ice cream before returning home.

Jan Groenland of Grand Rapids was a guest in the home of the William McElrays, 122 N. Forrest, on both holiday weekends. Other guests for New Year's weekend were Miss Ann Dillon, of Oklahoma City, a junior at Northwestern University; and the Carl V. Spanglers, of Pittsburgh. The McElrays' daughter, Susan, was home from Ohio Wesleyan College in Delaware, Ohio, to spend Christmas with her family.

THE FRANK Halamas, 825 S. Highland, traveled to Lansing, Mich. to spend Christmas weekend with their daughter and son-in-law, the Francis W[illegible]rs. Mrs. Halama remarked that the Christmas in Michigan was somewhat whiter than the one experienced in the Chicago area, due to a blizzard on Christmas Day, but that the occasion was most enjoyable in spite of the weather.

The Wednesday following their return, the Halamas entertained at a dinner in their home for 21 friends, and on Sunday evening they were hosts at a buffet dinner for 28 guests. A highlight of Sunday's festivities was the entertainment presented by Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hill of Skokie, who have traveled extensively in Europe. They brought with them a number of tape recordings which they had made abroad featuring such groups as a German childrens' choir singing Christmas carols. Mr. Hill, also an accomplished organist, then played tapes of Christmas carols of his own organ music which he had recorded in his home. As an end to the caroling, Mr. Hill played back the recordings of the group which he had made during the evening.

IN ARLINGTON Heights to spend Christmas weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Taylor, 25 S. Dwyer, were the latter's parents, the Harold Kunkels, of Peoria.

The Henry Hanigans, 903 N. Dunton, were visited by their daughter and family, the Sean Smythes and Laura, of Chicago on Christmas weekend. New Year's Eve the Hanigans entertained at a celebration attended by 10 persons. It began at 9:30 and included a buffet dinner, with traditional decorations completing the gala atmosphere.

Larry Rocca, a junior at Notre Dame University, spent Christmas with his parents, the Lawrence Roccas, 117 S. Fernandez. Larry then traveled to Binghamton, N.Y., for a New Year's visit with friends, returning to his studies on Sunday.

Cindy Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Brown, 603 N. Forrest, arrived here Dec. 17 to spend the holidays. On Sunday, Miss Brown traveled to Grand Rapids to visit her grandparents, the J. Yturrias, and friends in the area, returning here on Wednesday. She will return to Loretto Heights College in Denver on Jan. 9.

THE BROWNS were also treated to a visit from their daughter and son-in-law, the Gary Lams, who spent the yuletide here, returning to resume studeis at Old Dominion College in Norfolk, Va., on Sunday.

Although her 13th birthday was Dec. 22, Ann Grashorn, daughter of the William G. Grashorns, 817 S. Walnut, waited to celebrate the event Dec. 28, at which time she and seven friends enjoyed an ice skating outing in Wilmette. Following the party, the girls returned to the Grashorn home to warm up and Participate in a pizza supper. A family party was held for Ann on her birthday, when her parents, accompanied by Ann and her aunt, Mrs. Carl Apelt of Palatine, took the family out to dinner.

A CHRISTMAS Eve turkey dinner, held in the Grashorn home for members of the family was attended by the Robert L. Brookman family of Kenilworth, Lester Grashorn family of Palatine and Mrs. Carl Apelt. An original touch in table decorations were the placemarkers, which were pine cones which the Grashorns had gathered on their summer vacation in Colorado expressly for this purpose, which were sprayed with gold and to which names were added.

Walter Hage of La Grange, uncle of Mrs. Russell Hansen, 15 W. Orchard, recently returned from a vacation in Pompano Beach, Fla., bringing back greetings from former Arlington Heighters, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Klehm. Mr. Hage was the guest of longtime friends, the Charles Caspers, formerly of Morton Grove and now of Pompano Beach, and with his hosts enjoyed an evening with the Klehms.

MR. AND MRS. John Shelly, 350 S. Derbyshire, entertained his brother and mother, the Floyd D. Shelly family and Mrs. Charles B. Shelly from York, Pa. They were joined by Mr. Shelly's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Zuse DeWitt of Evanston.

Miss Barbara Stahnke, 110 S. Brighton. entertained college friends home for the holidays at her fourth annual carolling party before returning to Northern in De Kalb.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hansen and David, 908 S. Beverly have just returned from Christmas in New Orleans and New Year's Eve in Shreveport, La., with Mrs. Hansen's mother and grandmother, Mrs. Nan Hinckley and Mrs. Corrine Cocke.

MR. AND MRS. Melvin Coobs, 401 S. Carlyle, were hosts to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wamsley and to Mrs. Coob's aunt, Miss Dorothea Schmitt of Freeport. Highlights of their visit were the Nutcracker Ballet at McCormick Place and an open house for neighbors and friends on New Year's Day.

Mrs. Richard LaSorsa, 216 S. Brighton, entertained her neighbors with a holiday tea last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Skinner entertained at a cocktail party celebrating the new year.

SPENDING THE holidays with their daughter and family, the Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Martell and three grandchildren, were Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Goldthwaite, 426 E. Park.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ball, 454 Banbury, arrived home after spending Christmas in Phoenix and Scottsdale, Ariz. and starting the new year in Las Vegas, Nev.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerre Frautschy, 1005 Park, will have a birthday party Friday for Mr. Frautschy's father on the occasiin of his 70th birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Peterson of Arlington Heights will join her father for the celebration.

MR. AND MRS. Frank Kroll, 326 S. Derbyshire, were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hoym, former residents of Arlington Heights who are now living in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Joining them were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sweigert of Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. John Otson, 315 S. Derbyshire, welcomed the new year with a brunch for neighbors and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Demaree, 816 Mayfair, gave a party New Year's Eve.

Miss Sue Van Oosten flew home from Women's Medical College in Philadelphia to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Van Oosten, in a holiday trip to Minneapolis to visit her sister and family, the M. J. Grishams.

Joining five brothers is the feminine version of an income tax deduction for the James Bryants of 334 S. Derbyshire. The event occasioned the gift of a bottle of pink champagne from Mr. Bryant to his wife on New Year's Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Tarchala, 1019 N. Ridge, entertained with a New Year's Day buffet dinner. Providing musical entertainment were Billy, Susan and Carol Tarchala and their young cousins, Nancy and Cindy Lehman and Philip Arkin. They sang Christmas carols accompanied by Mr.s Tarchala at the piano and Mrs. Gil Lehman on the violin. The women also played a few piano and violin duets. (A

MR. AND MRS. Frank Kroll, 326 S. Derbyshire, were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hoym, former residents of Arlington Heights who are now living in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Joining them were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sweigert of Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. John Otson, 315 S. Derbyshire, welcomed the new year with a brunch for neighbors and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Demaree, 816 Mayfair, gave a party New Year's Eve.

Miss Sue Van Oosten flew home from Women's Medical College in Philadelphia to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Van Oosten, in a holiday trip to Minneapolis to visit her sister and family, the M. J. Grishams.

Joining five brothers is the feminine version of an income tax deduction for the James Bryants of 334 S. Derbyshire. The event occasioned the gift of a bottle of pink champagne from Mr. Bryant to his wife on New Year's Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Tarchala, 1019 N. Ridge, entertained with a New Year's Day buffet dinner. Providing musical entertainment were Billy, Susan and Carol Tarchala and their young cousins, Nancy and Cindy Lehman and Philip Arkin. They sang Christmas carols accompanied by Mr.s Tarchala at the piano and Mrs. Gil Lehman on the violin. The women also played a few piano and violin duets. (A

Best-Selling Author to Talk At St. Simon's

Robert Short will be the guest speaker for St. Simon's Episcopal Church, 717 Kirchoff Road, Arlington Heights, today.

His subject: "The Gospel According to Peanuts."

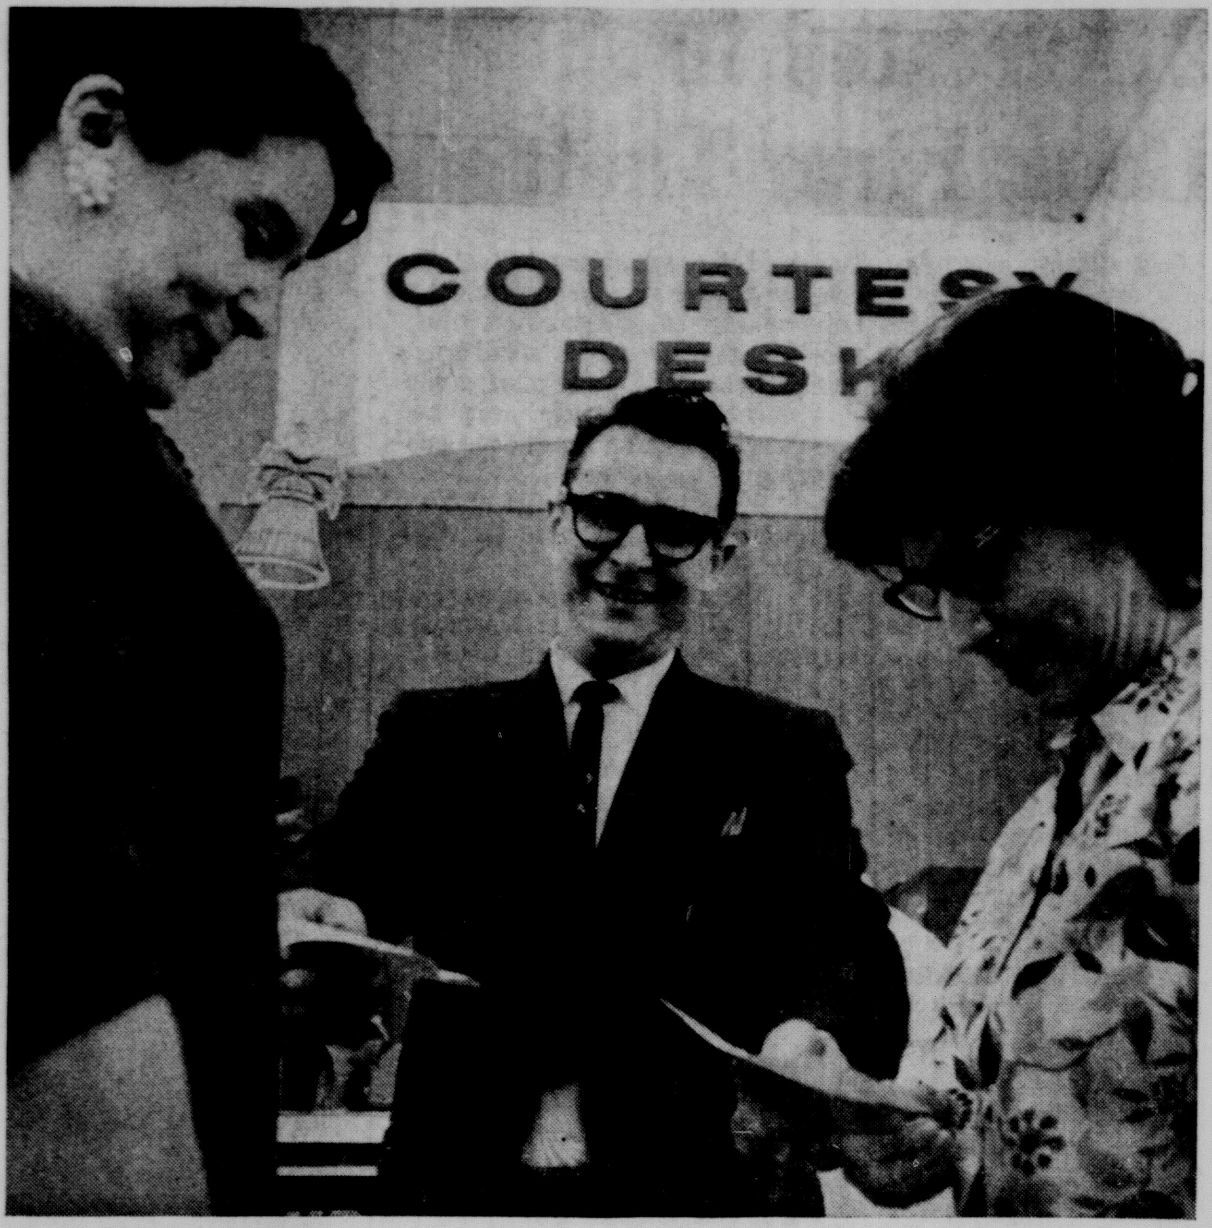
Short is the author of the best seller, "The Gospel According to Peanuts", published by the John Knox Press early in 1965, and he has written many other articles relating to theology and the arts, the field in which he is currently working toward his Ph. D. at the University of Chicago. These have appeared in publications here and abroad.

Short's talk will be at a dinner following a 6:30 p.m. communion service. (A

Adult Sunday Evening Club Meets Jan. 16

Mrs. Richard Kehr, president of the Bethany Circle at Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, (Euclid and Wolf Roads) Prospect Heights, has announced the first meeting of the Adult Sunday Evening Club Jan. 16.

Mrs. Ruth Eckman, who has worked on the formation of the group for several months in cooperation with the Parish Education Committee of the Congregation, began the planning for this group with the Bethany Circle. It is intended to give adult members of the congregation, single people and couples, a chance to fellowship. (ACM



PRESENTING CHECKS to two customers is Jim Tyrcha, grocery store manager at Zayres in Palatine. To Mrs. Harold Hughes, 406 N. Williams, Palatine, (left) went $1000, her reward as revealed when the seal was erased from her profit sharing premium card. Mrs. Dan Ramirez, 710 Old Northwest Hwy., Palatine, received $250. These profit sharing premium cards are available to all grocery shopping customers in the the supermarket at Zayres in Palatine, a division of Scot-Lad Foods, Inc. It so happens that the seal was erased on Mrs. Hughes' card when she was doing pre-Christmas shopping, not only for her family, but for foods to be distributed to needy families for distribution on Christmas Eve. Signup Begins for 5 Park Programs

Registration has begun for five midwinter programs of the Arlington Heights Park District.

—A ceramics class for children over 10 years old will begin tomorrow (Friday). Cost of the 10-week course is $3, exclusive of materials. An adult ceramics class, lasting eight weeks, begins Jan. 24. Register at the park district office, CL 3-0620.

—A competitive swim club for boys will begin Saturday and extend through March 12. Three age groups will be accommodated at the Saturday morning lessons. Fee is $5.

—ADULT BRIDGE lessons will be held Tuesday evenings, beginning Jan. 11 for 10 weeks. Fee is $10, and the course will be taught by Chester Rumpf, life master player.

—Guitar and folk singing instruction for young adults and teenagers will resume with the second session of guitar lessons Jan. 13. Beginner and advanced instruction will be handled in the 10-week class directed by Clifford Stewart. Orientation for the $10 course was scheduled Thursday (tonight).

—The second session of ski lessons will begin Jan. 13. Cost of the four two-hour skiing excursions (Jan. 13, 20, 27 and Feb. 3) is $18 plus bus fare and a weekly equipment charge of $2.

Additional information on any of the programs may be obtained at the park district office. (A

2 Donations Approved by Arlingtones

The Arlingtones barbershop singing chorus board has voted to donate $800 to the Institute of Logopedics and $150 to St. Francis Parish.

The funds are derived from admissions at the chorus' singing engagements. The Institute of Logopedics, for training of children with speech defects, is in Wichita, Kan. The money is to be earmarked for a child living in northern Illinois to attend the institute.

THE GROUP recently presented a concert at St. Francis Parish in Lake Zurich, and its donation, for the church's building fund, is derived from the concert admissions.

Arlingtones singers carolled at two old folks' homes during Christmas week: Addoloratta Villa in Wheeling and the Lutheran Home in Arlington Heights. (A

Village Considers Mailbox Regulation

The Arlington Heights Village Board is considering an ordinance regulating curbside mailbox installations and a resolution seeking a reexamination of the post office department's new emphasis on "mounted" delivery.

Both actions stem from a recent announcement that new subdivisions in Arlington Heights will have to have curbside mailboxes for the rural-type delivery service.

Action on both the ordinance and resolution was delayed to the Jan. 17 board meeting after trustees asked for proposed specifications for mailbox installations.

THE ORDINANCE was suggested by Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson. It would require developers to make a uniform installation at each building lot, acceptable to the village manager. Hanson said that would mean a two-inch pipe sunk three feet into the ground, at a distance from the curb and height set by post office standards.

Trustees said they wanted to see sketches before approving the ordinance.

Hanson also distributed copies of a letter from Donald L. Swanson, regional director of the post office department, explaining the new service. Trustee John White termed the letter a "splendid example of doubletalk."

The letter was similar in tone to one sent the village manager of Elk Grove Village, where protests have also been made about the curbside boxes.

SAID SWANSON, "Two disturbing misconceptions have caused unfortunate reactions in a few areas. The first misconception is that mounted delivery is a rural-type delivery. The second misconception is that this type of service is a new program without advantage except to the post office department.

"Mounted delivery to curbside boxes has existed for many years. It is very urban in approach, with mechanization to provide fast and efficient service with modern equipment. The postal patron receives both letters and parcels at the same time, and the taxpayer receives added value for his dollar."

Swanson enclosed sketches which he said demonstrate the installations can be attractive.

He maintained the service is not "selectively applicable to Arlington Heights" and added: "The highly competitive labor market, steadily expanding demands for new service, budget restrictions, increasing availability of improved vehicles, sharply increased mail volumes—these realities have made necessary the new emphasis on mounted delivery."

VILLAGE PRES. John G. Woods read aloud a Herald editorial, asking the post office department to review the policy, and suggested the board pass a resolution to that effect. He termed the curbside boxes "a very disappointing development. I do not feel this is a step forward."

Disagreeing, Trustee John J. Walsh Jr. noted the Arlington Heights Post Office has "really serious help problems" (the office is constantly undermanned). He added, "We could make lemonade out of lemon . . . It can be done quite esthetically." (AF

Both Drivers Given Tickets After Crash

An Arlington Heights woman was treated for head injuries at Northwest Community Hospital Wednesday, Dec. 29, after an accident at Park Street and Pine Avenue.

She is Lucille C. Siegel, of 316 E. Park St., who was driving west on Park. Police said her car collided with one driven south by Margot M. Davidson, of 407 S. Yale. Mrs. Siegel's car then struck a stop sign. Police charged her with damaging village property and failure to yield; they charged Mrs. Davidson with negligent driving.

2-Story Building Proposed

A proposal to redevelop a triangular parcel northeast of Highland Avenue and Northwest Highway has been referred to the Arlington Heights Plan Commission.

The parcel is across Eastman Street from the old St. Peter's Lutheran School property, which will be redeveloped this spring with the seven-story Highland House apartment building and three-story Eastman Center office building.

Currently on the parcel is a two-story frame residence housing a Texaco station.

JOHN SCHAFEHEN, owner of the Hobby Lobby, 210 E. Northwest Highway, proposes to build a two-story masonry building housing an enlarged hobby shop and offices.

As part of the development, Schafehen seeks the vacation of a short frontage roadway and a quit claim on the village's interest in a triangular concrete divider. He would use that area for parking.

He cites as advantages to the village "the elimination of a traffic hazard occasioned by the existence of a roadway tangent to Northwest Highway," a cash sale price for the road and divider, modernization of the area and an increase in property tax revenues.

Boy Scouts Seek Sustaining Members

Charles K. Esler of Barrington will head the 1966 sustaining membership enrollment program of the Northwest Suburban Boy Scout Council.

Russell E. Larsen, council president, explained that "the sustaining membership enrollment program is for persons who desire to be identified with the Northwest Suburban Council principally through their financial support and influence in the needs of the Council Program." Larsen went on to say that "Scouting has made available this special membership program which encourages citizens, with an interest in scouting, to share in the financing of the council."

THE INCREASE in available boys, and expanding Boy Scout Program and increased costs have created a financial need greater than other sources of income can provide. Sustaining Membership will account for nearly 30 per cent of the Council's operating budget.

Charles Esler is the general manager of the central area of the United States with American Telephone and Telegraph Co., headquartered in Chicago. (B10

2 Arrested in Book Firm Theft

Cook County sheriff's police have arrested two men in connection with the weekend burglary of Ginn & Co. book publisher's office, 450 W. Algonquin Road, Arlington Heights.

Taken were a portable typewriter and about $20 in change from vending machines. Burglars missed about $1,500 in cash.

Arrested are Ricardo A. Fatigati, 27, Cicero, and Joseph B. McClure, 22, Northlake. County officers arrested them for a traffic charge at Rand Road and Milwaukee Avenue; they searched their car, found a bag of coins, portable typewriter and tools and charged the pair with possession of burglar tools. Ginn officers also signed a complaint charging burglary.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS police said the serial number of the typewriter was the same as that reported taken from Ginn. Entry into the new office building had been gained by breaking a window in the garage area and forcing open an inside door leading to the offices.

Several desk and file drawers were forced, as were all vending machines.

The office, which opened in Arlington Heights in November, also was burglarized Dec. 19. At that time, $1,588 was taken.

THE CASH had been kept in a different place in the second break-in.

Police are investigating possible existence of a burglar ring which might be responsible for a series of commercial break-ins in the village and nearby suburbs in recent months.

More Delay for Vehicle Stickers

Arlington Heights vehicle stickers will be even later this year than previously announced, Village Finance Dir. Stewart M. Grant said this week.

They probably will not be distributed to all residents until mid-February, Grant reported. Previously, Grant had expected the delay to run to late January, because the stickers were ordered later than usual, but the printer has had subsequent production problems.

The village now should receive them on Jan. 18. The delay also applies to vending machine stickers which are similar to the vehicle stickers.

RESIDENTS WHO had vehicles registered last year received a renewal notice a month ago. Grant urged residents who received the form to return it with remittance and return envelope.

Although the village hall will be open Saturdays after the stickers are received, Grant said it would speed processing if residents use the pay-by-mail form.

A 10 per cent penalty applied after Jan. 31 will be waived until all stickers are distributed, the finance director reported.

Stop Light Toppled at Sigwalt St.

An Arlington Heights driver was injured, and a traffic signal was knocked down, in an accident at Arlington Heights Road and Sigwalt Street shortly before 1 p.m. New Year's Day.

Thomas J. Riesing, 17, of 434 S. Vail Ave., was treated for head pains. Police said he was driving south when his car collided with one driven east by David L. Swinney, 29, Chicago.

The Riesing auto continued into the porch on a home at the southeast corner of the intersection; the Swinney vehicle knocked over the stop light. Police charged Swinney with disobeying a flashing red signal and damaging village property. (A

Woman Injures Back in Fall

Auto Show Set For Randhurst

Randhurst's fourth annual auto show will be held January 11-16 at the center, Rand and Elmhurst Roads, Mount Prospect.

To be staged in Randhurst's enclosed mall, the show will introduce the complete line of 1966 automobiles in the first Chicagoland auto show of the year.

More than 60 of America's most popular cars and special displays will be on exhibit at Randhurst, the world's largest shopping center under one roof.

PARTICIPATING dealers from northwest suburbs will include:

George Poole Ford of 400 W. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

Morton Pontiac Inc. of 666 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights;

Bill Cook Buick Co. of Euclid Avenue and Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights;

Busse Buick Motor Sales of 30 S. Main St., Mount Prospect;

Arlington Park Dodge, 1400 E. Northwest Hwy., Palatine;

Martin J. Kelly Oldsmobile Inc. of 1516 W. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights;

Mark Motors Inc., Chrysler-Plymouth-Mercedes dealer, of 2020 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights;

S&H Rambler of 1700 E. Northwest Hwy., Palatine;

Roto Mercury Sales Inc. of 1410 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights;

Lattof Motor Sales Co., Chevrolet dealer, of 800 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights; and Mack Cadillac of 333 W. Rand Rd., Mount Prospect.

The cars may be viewed on the mall from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, Jan. 10-14; Saturday, Jan. 15 from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Sunday, Jan. 16 from noon to 5 p.m. (Rh

Hospital Reports '65 Achievements

The past year was a year of expanded services to the community for Lutheran General Hospital, reports administrator Robert J. Nast.

"We thought it would be interesting to review some of the major stories at Lutheran General which occurred during the past year," he said.

January: Volunteer services expanded with the formation of the Men's Volunteer Corps.

February: Announcement of an alcoholism treatment, rehabilitation, education and research center to be built by the Lutheran Institute of Human Ecology, adjacent to Lutheran General.

MARCH: 44 employees cited for five or more years service to the hospital.

April: Blood bank welcomes 10,000th donor.

May: Employees pledge $26,000 for the expansion of Lutheran General Hospital.

June: Pastoral Care Department's spring institutes draw largest crowd in history. $300,000 challenge gift for the expansion of Lutheran General.

August: Hydraulically operated heart-lung machine — first of its kind in the nation — installed at Lutheran General.

SEPTEMBER: Cancer research project undertaken to help find simple method of detecting lung cancer.

October: Service League sponsors "Art Originale" project to provide original paintings for patient rooms — first of its kind in the nation.

November: $500,000 expansion completion campaign nears halfway mark.

December: New intensive care unit, first part of the $6,200,000 expansion program put into use.

"Obviously, at a rapidly growing institution like Lutheran General, it's impossible to list all of the events which took place during the past year," Nast said. "We hope that during 1966, Lutheran General can continue to expand its services to the community." (B10

Houser Resigns As Attorney For Township

Wheeling Township Board of Auditors Tuesday accepted "with regret" the resignation of Township Atty. Thomas Houser.

Houser's letter of resignation explained that future duties will keep him away from the township so much that he will be unable to adequately fulfill the job. Houser is expected to manage Charles Percy's campaign for U. S. Senator next fall.

Township Road Commissioner William Luehring said that Houser also resigned as attorney for the road and bridge district. (ACM

Children Hurt In Collision At Central Rd.

Two Des Plaines children were treated for chest pains and bruises at Northwest Community Hospital Wednesday, Dec. 29, after an accident at Arlington Heights and Central Roads.

They are Dawn R. Szepi, 1½, and Debra L. Szepi, 5, passengers in a car driven north by Sharon R. Szepi, 24. The Szepi car collided with one driven north by William H. Graham, 65, of 1611 N. George Ave., Arlington Heights.

Police said the Graham car was turning left. They charged him with failure to yield. (A

An ordinance requiring southbound traffic on Drury Lane to stop at Euclid Street was approved by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday on recommendation of the village engineering department.

Suburbs Gain in Business Activity

Arlington Heights, Palatine and Mount Prospect are among larger Cook County communities which have shown gains in business activity during the past year, according to statistics just released by the Chicago office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc.

A physical count on manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers listed in the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January, 1966, compared to January, 1965, shows that the number of businesses in Arlington Heights increased from 609 to 620, in Palatine from 323 to 348 and in Mount Prospect from 262 to 292. The gains are represented by new shopping centers, auto dealers, service businesses and industrial concerns.

The Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book lists all manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit. It does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers and real estate brokers. (B-10

Passenger Treated After Cars Collide

A 47-year-old Elk Grove Village woman was taken to Northwest Community Hospital complaining of stiffness and head pains after an accident shortly before 5 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 29, at Arlington Heights and Central Roads.

She is Sonia Lehmann, 74 Forest Lane, a passenger in a car driven north on Arlington Heights Road by Bruce L. Lehmann, 16.

Police said the Lehmann vehicle was stopped at a signal when it was struck in the rear by a car driven by Robert F. Tomlinson, 37, 304 E. Hintz Road, Arlinton Heights. He was charged with driving too fast for conditions. (A

Township Rescinds Surety Bond Action

The Wheeling Township Board of Auditors Tuesday voted unanimously to rescind a motion approved Dec. 7 to obtain the surety bond for the township tax collector through Kehe, Foy & Snelton Insurance Agency of Arlington Heights.

The state requires that township tax collectors be bonded for "a sum equal to 10 per cent of the largest amount of taxes collected in any year during the preceding five years." Mrs. Marjorie Annen Carter, Wheeling Township tax collector, handled approximately $11¼ million in tax money last year and must be bonded for about $1¼ million.

The $2,298 figure quoted by Kehe, Foy & Snelton to furnish this bond was lowest of three considered at the Dec. 7 meeting. Other quotes submitted were $2,941 by Lumberman's Mutual Casualty Co. and $2,438 by Ken Gallagher Agency, Inc.

THOUGH KEHE, Foy & Snelton had been approved by the board, the bond was not then obtained from them because, according to Township Supvr. Albert Peters;

1) On Dec. 8 a fourth quotation of $2,778 was received from Committee of Insurance Brokers of Arlington Heights, and

2) After the board acted, Mrs. Carter asked that no action be taken until she could appear before the board and present her own views.

AT TUESDAY'S meeting, Mrs. Carter said that she preferred to be bonded through the Gallagher Agency because "he specializes in surety bonds" and 17 other tax collectors in the Chicago area are bonded through him.

Noting that Gallagher's price was $140 above that of Kehe, Foy & Snelton, Auditor Robert Cagaan said, "if we are going to get the same coverage for less, I don't see any difference in who supplies the bond."

However, Auditor Ethel Kolerus stated, "I would adhere to Mrs. Carter's preference if it would give her peace of mind to have the same agent as 17 other tax collectors."

OTHER POINTS brought out were:

—The actual bond must be certified by law regardless of who supplies it;

—Not all agents who quoted prices indicated the name of the bonding company;

—The bond might cost less if agents were asked to quote prices for a four-year period instead of for one year; and —Not enough time had been allowed for all agents to submit quotes.

Since Mrs. Carter will not be collecting taxes until the end of March, the auditors decided to hold up action.

IN THE MOTION rescinding the Dec. 7 decision were provisions that:

—Bonding agents be requested to resubmit quotes on a four-year basis;

—Requests be made early enough in advance that all quotes could be submitted before the Feb. 1 board meeting;

—Agents name the bonding company, and —Quotes be sealed and opened only at the board meeting.

ALSO AT TUESDAY'S meeting, auditors agreed to Supervisor Peters' request that the pay checks of township employes be dated Dec. 31 even though they were approved on Jan. 4.

Peters explained that the new higher Social Security tax rate was effective Jan. 1 and that in the usual procedure of dating the monthly paychecks on the first Tuesday of the following month, employes would have to pay the new tax rate on wages earned before the rate took effect.

"Why should they pay the higher rate for December earnings just because the checks are dated Jan. 4?" Peters asked. He assured the auditors that a certified public accountant had advised that in this it would not be illegal to date the checks Dec. 31. (ACM

Village Considers Mailbox Regulation

The Arlington Heights Village Board is considering an ordinance regulating curbside mailbox installations and a resolution seeking a reexamination of the post office department's new emphasis on "mounted" delivery.

Both actions stem from a recent announcement that new subdivisions in Arlington Heights will have to have curbside mailboxes for the rural-type delivery service.

Action on both the ordinance and resolution was delayed to the Jan. 17 board meeting after trustees asked for proposed specifications for mailbox installations.

THE ORDINANCE was suggested by Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson. It would require developers to make a uniform installation at each building lot, acceptable to the village manager. Hanson said that would mean a two-inch pipe sunk three feet into the ground, at a distance from the curb and height set by post office standards.

Trustees said they wanted to see sketches before approving the ordinance.

Hanson also distributed copies of a letter from Donald L. Swanson, regional director of the post office department, explaining the new service. Trustee John White termed the letter a "splendid example of doubletalk."

The letter was similar in tone to one sent the village manager of Elk Grove Village, where protests have also been made about the curbside boxes.

SAID SWANSON, "Two disturbing misconceptions have caused unfortunate reactions in a few areas. The first misconception is that mounted delivery is a rural-type delivery. The second misconception is that this type of service is a new program without advantage except to the post office department.

"Mounted delivery to curbside boxes has existed for many years. It is very urban in approach, with mechanization to provide fast and efficient service with modern equipment. The postal patron receives both letters and parcels at the same time, and the taxpayer receives added value for his dollar."

Swanson enclosed sketches which he said demonstrate the installations can be attractive.

He maintained the service is not "selectively applicable to Arlington Heights" and added:

"The highly competitive labor market, steadily expanding demands for new service, budget restrictions, increasing availability of improved vehicles, sharply increased mail volumes —these realities have made necessary the new emphasis on mounted delivery."

VILLAGE PRES. John G. Woods read aloud a Herald editorial, asking the post office department to review the policy, and suggested the board pass a resolution to that effect. He termed the curbside boxes "a very disappointing development. I do not feel this is a step forward."

Disagreeing, Trustee John J. Walsh Jr. noted the Arlington Heights Post Office has "really serious help problems" (the office is constantly undermanned). He added, "We could make lemonade out of lemon . . . It can be done quite esthetically." (AF

An Arlington Heights woman was treated for head injuries at Northwest Community Hospital Wednesday, Dec. 29, after an accident at Park Street and Pine Avenue.

She is Lucille C. Siegel, of 316 E. Park St., who was driving west on Park. Police said her car collided with one driven south by Margot M. Davidson, of 407 S. Yale. Mrs. Siegel's car then struck a stop sign. Police charged her with damaging village property and failure to yield; they charged Mrs. Davidson with negligent driving.

2-Story Building Proposed

A proposal to redevelop a triangular parcel northeast of Highland Avenue and Northwest Highway has been referred to the Arlington Heights Plan Commission.

The parcel is across Eastman Street from the old St. Peter's Lutheran School property, which will be redeveloped this spring with the seven-story Highland House apartment building and three-story Eastman Center office building.

Currently on the parcel is a two-story frame residence housing a Texaco station.

JOHN SCHAFEHEN, owner of the Hobby Lobby, 210 E. Northwest Highway, proposes to build a two-story masonry building housing an enlarged hobby shop and offices.

As part of the development, Schafehen seeks the vacation of a short frontage roadway and a quit claim on the village's interest in a triangular concrete divider. He would use that area for parking.

He cites as advantages to the village "the elimination of a traffic hazard occasioned by the existence of a roadway tangent to Northwest Highway," a cash sale price for the road and divider, modernization of the area and an increase in property tax revenues.

Boy Scouts Seek Sustaining Members

Charles K. Esler of Barrington will head the 1966 sustaining membership enrollment program of the Northwest Suburban Boy Scout Council.

Russell E. Larsen, council president, explained that "the sustaining membership enrollment program is for persons who desire to be identified with the Northwest Suburban Council principally through their financial support and influence in the needs of the Council Program." Larsen went on to say that "Scouting has made available this special membership program which encourages citizens, with an interest in scouting, to share in the financing of the council."

THE INCREASE in available boys, and expanding Boy Scout Program and increased costs have created a financial need greater than other sources of income can provide. Sustaining Membership will account for nearly 30 per cent of the Council's operating budget.

Charles Esler is the general manager of the central area of the United States with American Telephone and Telegraph Co., headquartered in Chicago. (B10

2 Arrested in Book Firm Theft

Cook County sheriff's police have arrested two men in connection with the weekend burglary of Ginn & Co. book publisher's office, 450 W. Algonquin Road, Arlington Heights.

Taken were a portable typewriter and about $20 in change from vending machines. Burglars missed about $1,500 in cash.

Arrested are Ricardo A. Fatigati, 27, Cicero, and Joseph B. McClure, 22, Northlake. County officers arrested them for a traffic charge at Rand Road and Milwaukee Avenue; they searched their car, found a bag of coins, portable typewriter and tools and charged the pair with possession of burglar tools. Ginn officers also signed a complaint charging burglary.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS police said the serial number of the typewriter was the same as that reported taken from Ginn. Entry into the new office building had been gained by breaking a window in the garage area and forcing open an inside door leading to the offices.

Several desk and file drawers were forced, as were all vending machines.

The office, which opened in Arlington Heights in November, also was burglarized Dec. 19. At that time, $1,588 was taken.

THE CASH had been kept in a different place in the second break-in.

Police are investigating possible existence of a burglar ring which might be responsible for a series of commercial break-ins in the village and nearby suburbs in recent months.

More Delay for Vehicle Stickers

Arlington Heights vehicle stickers will be even later this year than previously announced, Village Finance Dir. Stewart M. Grant said this week.

They probably will not be distributed to all residents until mid-February, Grant reported. Previously, Grant had expected the delay to run to late January, because the stickers were ordered later than usual, but the printer has had subsequent production problems.

The village now should receive them on Jan. 18. The delay also applies to vending machine stickers which are similar to the vehicle stickers.

RESIDENTS WHO had vehicles registered last year received a renewal notice a month ago. Grant urged residents who received the form to return it with remittance and return envelope.

Although the village hall will be open Saturdays after the stickers are received, Grant said it would speed processing if residents use the pay-by-mail form.

A 10 per cent penalty applied after Jan. 31 will be waived until all stickers are distributed, the finance director reported.

Township Rescinds Surety Bond Action

The Wheeling Township Board of Auditors Tuesday voted unanimously to rescind a motion approved Dec. 7 to obtain the surety bond for the township tax collector through Kehe, Foy & Snelton Insurance Agency of Arlington Heights.

The state requires that township tax collectors be bonded for "a sum equal to 10 per cent of the largest amount of taxes collected in any year during the preceding five years." Graham Illness Clouds Picture

Schlickman Throws Hat In Representative Race

by NANCY ANDERSON
Staff Writer

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R—Arlington Heights) this week announced he will run for re-election to the Illinois House of Representatives.

His announcement was intended to squelch speculation that he might challenge John Graham of Barrington in the June primary for the sure Republican post in the State Senate.

However, there is now a possibility that Graham may not be able to run again—he suffered a slight stroke last Friday and is recuperating in Sherman Hospital, Elgin, where he is reported in "satisfactory" condition.

If Graham's health should cause him to pull out, the Senate nomination quite likely would go to Schlickman.

WHEELING Township Committeeman Thomas Houser, considered the first likely opponent to Graham, last week announced he would not run, but would serve as campaign manager for Charles Percy in his race against U. S. Sen. Paul Douglas.

Another potential Republican candidate—for either the Senate or House—is William Davies of Streamwood, who expects to announce his intentions late next week.

Davies Tuesday said he "very definitely" is thinking of running, probably against Graham. "I think we need better representation," he said.

Active in Republican affairs, Davies is now Streamwood village attorney and Hanover Park District attorney. He lost out in successive campaigns for Streamwood village president and trustee in early 1963.

ASKED TO comment on Davies' potential candidacy, Hanover Township Republican Committeeman Eugene T. Devitt was less than enthusiastic:

"In this country, I guess anyone who wants has a right to run for office," he said.

Devitt himself was an unsuccessful candidate in the 1964 at-large election for state representatives.

He was noncommital Tuesday on chances of his running again, although he said that the western section of the new House-Senate district is "fairly well represented" with Graham for Barrington. Heaviest population lies in the townships of Wheeling and Elk Grove, so it figures they should have more say about the district's representation.

AS DEVITT pointed out, the question of candidates may be fairly well ironed out when the Republican committeemen get together Saturday. They are required to meet just to comply with a technicality in the state statutes—but local candidates will be a chief subject of discussion.

The new House and Senate districts, which coincide under separate reapportionment of the two branches, take in Barrington, Elk Grove, Hanover, Palatine, Schaumburg and Wheeling Townships, half of Northfield Township, and a section of Maine Township, all in Cook County.

Predominantly Republican, the district is expected to elect two Republican state representatives and one Democrat.

Schlickman, elected in the at-large ballot, is the only Republican incumbent, and GOP support for him seems assured.

"EVER SINCE the end of the 1965 session," Schlickman stated as he announced his candidacy, "I have looked forward to the opportunity of returning to the state legislature. I enjoy the work and was able to secure the passage of needed legislation."

SCHLICKMAN

DAVIES

The first and second bills introduced by Schlickman were passed and signed into law. They provided for the automatic disconnection from rural fire districts of territories annexed to municipalities and for employers to use ability tests in the selection of their employes.

His third and fourth bills also passed the legislature, but were voted by Governor Otto Kerner. One would have appropriated funds for the improvement of Salt Creek in Palatine Township. In his veto message, Kerner indicated he would support the other—establishing half-way houses for prison parolees—in the next session.

Schlickman was rated by many observers as one of the most outstanding freshman legislators.

HE FEELS that as a second-term legislator he will be in a position to be more effective and influential. Schlickman said he especially looks forward to patricipating in the selection of the Republican leadership in the House.

"I can't think of a more critical issue in the next session," Schlickman stated.

In the legislature, Schlickman served on two of the most active committees — judiciary and municipalities. Also, he serves as a member of the Illinois Legislative Council, research agency of the legislature. (B10

Hotel rooms for our tour to Hawaii leaving March 5th, were booked almost a year ago. As a result we know we have the finest rooms, not only at Hilton's Hawaiian Village in Waikiki, but at our outer island locations — the Sheraton Maui, the King Kamehameha in Kona — and the Kauai Surf on Kauai.

All of these deluxe hotels are awaiting our arrival and will have the rooms ready and waiting.

If you have been thinking of going to Hawaii, don't wait any longer. All of the highlights of this island paradise are included in our two week tour.

And there is plenty of time to relax on our tour — if you want to golf there's the Kaanapali course on Maui — designed by Robert Trent Jones — and on Kauai there is a beautiful, seaside municipal course that offers a great challenge.

Space is available now on our tour to Hawaii, leaving March 5th — it's a good travel buy — and an event in your life that will never be forgotten. Call now for a full color brochure — Wayne Griffin Travel, Inc., 104 N. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, CL 5-7010.

Schlickman Throws Hat In Representative Race

by NANCY ANDERSON
Staff Writer

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R—Arlington Heights) this week announced he will run for re-election to the Illinois House of Representatives.

His announcement was intended to squelch speculation that he might challenge John Graham of Barrington in the June primary for the sure Republican post in the State Senate.

However, there is now a possibility that Graham may not be able to run again—he suffered a slight stroke last Friday and is recuperating in Sherman Hospital, Elgin, where he is reported in "satisfactory" condition.

If Graham's health should cause him to pull out, the Senate nomination quite likely would go to Schlickman.

WHEELING Township Committeeman Thomas Houser, considered the first likely opponent to Graham, last week announced he would not run, but would serve as campaign manager for Charles Percy in his race against U. S. Sen. Paul Douglas.

Another potential Republican candidate—for either the Senate or House—is William Davies of Streamwood, who expects to announce his intentions late next week.

Davies Tuesday said he "very definitely" is thinking of running, probably against Graham. "I think we need better representation," he said.

Some residents traveled to be with relatives during the Christmas holidays while others greeted guests who came to visit.

On Sunday before Christmas, the Floyd Kingstons of North Beverly Lane headed for Harrisburg and a week's stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Endicott. They also visited relatives and friends in nearby Evansville.

Also heading downstate were the A. J. Tomasos of E. Clarendon who stopped at Streator to pick up the grandmother, Mrs. A. F. Ourada, before going on to St. Louis and the home of aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Skillstad. Joining them for the Christmas weekend was Mrs. William Eggers of Omaha, who with Mrs. Ourada were guests in the Tomaso home during New Year's weekend. The ladies planned to end their visit on Tuesday. On Tuesday before Christmas the Tomasos gave a holiday party for board members of the Arlington Greens Community Assoc.

ON DEC. 18, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jackson of E. Clarendon greeted brother, Ronald, and his branch of the Jackson tree of Oxnard, Calif. for a holiday visit. On the 21st, all were en route to Breckenridge, Minn. and the home of the senior A. W. Jacksons. More than just a holiday gathering of the clan, the senior Jacksons were celebrating their 40th anniversary Dec. 30. New Year's Day return home ended their second trip to Breckenridge in December for the Dale Jacksons. On Dec. 9 they attended the funeral of Mrs. Jackson's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Shelstad.

The Tony Buschers of E. Oakton welcomed their first grandchild, whom they saw for the first time on Sunday after Christmas when they visited the Donald A. Youngs in Chicago. Karen Ann was born Dec. 15.

Christmas weekend guests in the N. Dryden home of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Yetter were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morrissey, brothers, Steve and Tom, of Rochelle. For New Year's, the Yetters were weekend guests in the Morrissey home.

THE CHRISTMAS holiday was a happier one for Terry Marschmann of E. Clarendon who was able to get around with the leg cast he has worn since last July. The Arlington freshman was injured during a Little League game in which his team won the trophy. Joining her brother in orthopedic mishap was his sister, Sandy, whose broken arm was casted for seven weeks during the fall.

Nancy Radcliffe of N. Hickory celebrated her seventh birthday Dec. 28 at an afternoon party for Bobby Andrews, Nancy Saemrow, Bernadette Zaborowski, Jay Bonner, Patti Shannon, Marcia Kagay and sister, Janet. Janet, 5 in December, observed the occasion with an after-school party for Natalie Averill, Barbie Andrews, David Saemrow, Kevin Bonner, Bradley Larson, Eric Lundell and Jenny Westman, her cousin.

The Joseph Snells of N. Douglas gave a New Year's Eve party for the George Olsons, Milt Walbergs, James Romanos of Arlington and the Mike Needhams of Palatine.

A FLIGHT FROM O'Hare on Sunday evening ended the Christmas vacation for Sandy Johnson of E. Olive. She returned to Denison University in Granville, Ohio.

Sunday ended a weekend of skiing for the Don Tyrells who joined members of the Alluettes for a bus trip to the Ironwood, Mich. area. Pursuing their favorite winter sport, improved considerably by a recent and heavy snow, the group skied at Powder Horn and Indian Head.

New Year's Day guests in the Don Miller home on N. Hickory were the Robert Millers of Milwaukee, Eric Peterson family of Hebron, the Frank Millers of Morton Grove, grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Miller of Morton Grove, and Miss Patricia Peterson of Milwaukee. Also home for the holidays was Donald from Parsons College in Iowa.

Home for Christmas with the family on N. Hickory was Kathy Shannon from Western Illinois University. A train trip back to Macomb on Monday ended her second visit home during December.

HICKORY MEADOWS

The James Wendt family of E. Jules traveled to Dubuque on Christmas Eve for a week's visit with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Frommelt, returning in time to spend New Year's at home.

Miss Carole Coppens of Harrington Park, N. J. arrived at O'Hare on Dec. 26 to begin a five-day visit with her friend and former schoolmate, Annette, in the Haney home on E. Marion. Her first visit to the Midwest, Miss Coppens did a bit of sightseeing and was among the high school students attending the party on Wednesday evening given by her hostess. A flight east on New Year's Eve ended Miss Coppen's visit.

HOUSEGUESTS IN the Ed Kreusch home on E. Jules during Christmas week were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. DeMarco of Mayfield, Ky. On Sunday the Kreusches entertained the Ray Beinlich family of Greendale, Wis. and the Frank Kreusch family of Wilshire Avenue. Home for all the holiday activity was Susan from Alverno College in Milwaukee.

Houseguests in the Walter Dobbs home on E. Olive during the Christmas holidays were his mother, Mrs. Albert Dobbs, and aunt, Mrs. Walter Franklin of St. Petersburg, Fla. The junior Mrs. Dobbs gave an afternoon tea Dec. 29 for her guests and neighborhood friends. Assisting at the serving were young Jimmy and Susan. A flight from O'Hare on Sunday ended the two-week visit for both Mrs. Franklin and Mrs. Dobbs. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

Kitty Thorstad, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Thorstad, 412 S. Phelps, enjoyed her Dec. 27 birthday because she invited several friends in for lunch that day. Guests at the birthday party were Mary Vernig, Nancy Knight, Nancy Johnson, Katie Weiss, Virginia White and Kitty's younger sisters, Barby and Patty. Luncheon dessert was birthday cake and ice cream, and after the last crumbs were cleaned up, the birthday girl's aunt, Mary Kelly of Skokie, took the partygoers to the movies.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shawhan, 532 S. Prindle, were hosts for the traditional family Christmas dinner. Among the guests were grandparents, Mrs. Nell Shawhan and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McPherson, as well as Ruth's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hintz of Des Plaines. The holiday mood was heightened by friends dropping in all during the day to extend Christmas greeting to the family.

MIXED WITH the holiday greetings were congratulations to the Shawhans on their 24th wedding anniversary Dec. 27, which they marked quietly, spending the evening with long time friends in Westgate.

Mr. and Mrs. David Roy were hosts at a family dinner Christmas Day at their home, 425 S. Prindle. Among the guests were David's father, Raymond Roy, his brother, Joseph with his girl, and Carol's mother, Mrs. Irene Offerman, all of Kankakee.

For 3-year-old Michael Cain, a Dec. 27 birthday lost none of its shine, rather it took on the glow of a second Christmas, even though it was celebrated at a quiet family dinner by his parents and twin sisters, Diane and Denise.

The Richard Bruce family, 441 S. Gibbons, unanimously declared that the Christmas holiday was merrier this year because they were sharing it with Dick's mother, Mrs. Etta Cardwell, who came from her home in Chattanooga, Tenn., to spend a week with Peggy and Dick and their children, Janie, Margie, Beth, Jessie and Tag.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burke, 509 S. Prindle, who were married 16 years Jan. 1, and who plan on holding their customary celebration a little later. (A

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Mrs. Frank Jenko, 440 S. Prindle, who underwent surgery Wednesday in Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

Dennis Jenko marked his 16th birthday New Year's Eve, and celebrated Sunday by having dinner with his parents and sister, Barbara, at George Diamond's at Antioch.

Dec. 24 is Christmas Eve in every home, but in the Ralph Verley home, 436 S. Prindle, it is also the birthday of their daughter, Teresa. She started celebrating by having seven friends in for lunch, topped off with birthday cake and ice cream on the Saturday before, and resumed on the day itself when her parents and brother, Bill, wished her the best of everything at a family dinner.

THE VERLEYS returned last Sunday from a weekend trip to Iron Mountain, Mich., where they attended an anniversary mass New Year's Day to mark the golden wedding of Irene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ambrosia. The ceremony was followed by dinner for the family at the Knife and Fork Restaurant in Iron Mountain, and an all day open house at the Ambrosia home for the countless friends of the "bridal" couple.

Best wishes for a happy 16th birthday Dec. 27 were extended to Dale Dassonville, 428 S. Phelps, at a family dinner that day because he and his parents were getting ready for a weekend trip over New Year's to a ski lodge at Lauderdale Lake near Elkhorn, Wis. Only flaw in the short vacation was weather too warm for skiing. The Dassonvilles did get in some ice skating.

HOLIDAY BIRTHDAYS rate their own celebrations and 11-year-old Michael Spagnoli, 1815 E. Grove, marked his Dec. 25 birthday a week early. His parents, Dick and Elaine, took him and two friends, Gary Farina and Bobby Sutton of Skokie for supper at Pizzeria Due in the Loop, and to see the Christmas decorations on State Street, then wound up the evening by touring Old Town.

CHRISTMAS dinner at the Jack Cain home, 536 S. Waterman, was a festive feast because they were entertaining Jack's parents, the William Cains of West Salem, Wis., and Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Henn and her brother, Wayne and his fiancee, of Milwaukee, all of whom stayed over the weekend.

Still in a party mood, Barbara helped 7-year-old Cathy with plans to celebrate her Dec. 29 birthday by having friends in for birthday cake and ice cream and an afternoon of party games. Cathy's guests were Gail Runge, Carol Streng, Sandy Burke, Diane Spengler, Beth Larkin, Linda Larsen and her sister and brother, Laurie and Steven.

MR. AND Mrs. Gerald Schneider, 508 S. Prindle, were among the families who spent Christmas away from home. Assured that Santa Claus would know where to find them, Mark, Laura, and John were happy to accompany their parents to Sioux Falls, S. D., to spend a week with their grandmother, Mrs. Clarence Schneider, to be greeted by aunts and uncles, and to play with cousins they hadn't seen since last summer.

The family returned home in time to celebrate Laura's fifth birthday Dec. 31, by having her friends, Nancy Johnson, Debby May, Sandy Burke and Kelly Donovan, in for cake and ice cream, after which Laura's mother took them to the children's matinee at the movie house.

Scouts Plan Bottle Drive

Members of Boy Scout Troop 158 of Arlington Heights will be calling on homes in Scarsdale and Arlington Knolls area Saturday, Jan. 8, to pick up returnable bottles as a fund raising activity.

The troop meets regularly at Our Savior's Lutheran Church on No. Arlington Heights Road and will be asking homeowners for bottles on which deposits can be collected. Money thus raised will be used for troop activities.

Smoke Signals

By THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Arlington Heights Fire Department wishes to thank all village residents who contributed a total of $108.19 to the 16th annual muscular dystrophy campaign. Approximately 90 cannisters were placed in stores and offices throughout the village during November and December.

This year's collections were $20 above the collections of last year. A cashier's check for the total amount was sent to the Greater Chicago Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

A message from George Harris,
Your Prescription Pharmacist

READ "THE GREAT DISCOUNT DELUSION"

This book by Walter Henry Nelson is "must" reading for every consumer. It is a researched factual study showing discount dangers.

"WHAT'S WRONG WITH DISCOUNT FIRMS?"

"Plenty," wrote Harriet Van Horn in the New York Telegram. "The discounts are often faked. The merchandise may be factory rejects. For every 'bait' loss leader sold many more are marked up outrageously; some as much as 200%. The Better Business Bureaus report a striking increase in complaints." (These are nationally syndicated columnist Harriet Van Horn's words.)

WHY GAMBLE WITH HEALTH NEEDS?

Perhaps you are smart enough to occasionally outwit a discounter. Few are. But, is any possible saving worth the least doubt? Your pharmacy purchases are not "big ticket" prices like washing machines or automobiles.

WE HAVE NO LOSS LEADERS FOR BAIT

We charge only the fair price we need to enable us to run a good pharmacy. We do not have to charge more for less known products. We never discount service or dependability. If you note any stores which depend only on discount pricing for customers — Think!

Some residents traveled to be with relatives during the Christmas holidays while others greeted guests who came to visit.

On Sunday before Christmas, the Floyd Kingstons of North Beverly Lane headed for Harrisburg and a week's stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Endicott. They also visited relatives and friends in nearby Evansville.

Also heading downstate were the A. J. Tomasos of E. Clarendon who stopped at Streator to pick up the grandmother, Mrs. A. F. Ourada, before going on to St. Louis and the home of aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Skillstad. Joining them for the Christmas weekend was Mrs. William Eggers of Omaha, who with Mrs. Ourada were guests in the Tomaso home during New Year's weekend. The ladies planned to end their visit on Tuesday. On Tuesday before Christmas the Tomasos gave a holiday party for board members of the Arlington Greens Community Assoc.

ON DEC. 18, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jackson of E. Clarendon greeted brother, Ronald, and his branch of the Jackson tree of Oxnard, Calif. for a holiday visit. On the 21st, all were en route to Breckenridge, Minn. and the home of the senior A. W. Jacksons. More than just a holiday gathering of the clan, the senior Jacksons were celebrating their 40th anniversary Dec. 30. New Year's Day return home ended their second trip to Breckenridge in December for the Dale Jacksons. On Dec. 9 they attended the funeral of Mrs. Jackson's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Shelstad.

The Tony Buschers of E. Oakton welcomed their first grandchild, whom they saw for the first time on Sunday after Christmas when they visited the Donald A. Youngs in Chicago. Karen Ann was born Dec. 15.

Christmas weekend guests in the N. Dryden home of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Yetter were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morrissey, brothers, Steve and Tom, of Rochelle. For New Year's, the Yetters were weekend guests in the Morrissey home.

THE CHRISTMAS holiday was a happier one for Terry Marschmann of E. Clarendon who was able to get around with the leg cast he has worn since last July. The Arlington freshman was injured during a Little League game in which his team won the trophy. Joining her brother in orthopedic mishap was his sister, Sandy, whose broken arm was casted for seven weeks during the fall.

Nancy Radcliffe of N. Hickory celebrated her seventh birthday Dec. 28 at an afternoon party for Bobby Andrews, Nancy Saemrow, Bernadette Zaborowski, Jay Bonner, Patti Shannon, Marcia Kagay and sister, Janet. Janet, 5 in December, observed the occasion with an after-school party for Natalie Averill, Barbie Andrews, David Saemrow, Kevin Bonner, Bradley Larson, Eric Lundell and Jenny Westman, her cousin.

The Joseph Snells of N. Douglas gave a New Year's Eve party for the George Olsons, Milt Walbergs, James Romanos of Arlington and the Mike Needhams of Palatine.

A FLIGHT FROM O'Hare on Sunday evening ended the Christmas vacation for Sandy Johnson of E. Olive. She returned to Denison University in Granville, Ohio.

Sunday ended a weekend of skiing for the Don Tyrells who joined members of the Alluettes for a bus trip to the Ironwood, Mich. area. Pursuing their favorite winter sport, improved considerably by a recent and heavy snow, the group skied at Powder Horn and Indian Head.

New Year's Day guests in the Don Miller home on N. Hickory were the Robert Millers of Milwaukee, Eric Peterson family of Hebron, the Frank Millers of Morton Grove, grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Miller of Morton Grove, and Miss Patricia Peterson of Milwaukee. Also home for the holidays was Donald from Parsons College in Iowa.

Home for Christmas with the family on N. Hickory was Kathy Shannon from Western Illinois University. A train trip back to Macomb on Monday ended her second visit home during December.

HICKORY MEADOWS

The James Wendt family of E. Jules traveled to Dubuque on Christmas Eve for a week's visit with grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Frommelt, returning in time to spend New Year's at home.

Miss Carole Coppens of Harrington Park, N. J. arrived at O'Hare on Dec. 26 to begin a five-day visit with her friend and former schoolmate, Annette, in the Haney home on E. Marion. Her first visit to the Midwest, Miss Coppens did a bit of sightseeing and was among the high school students attending the party on Wednesday evening given by her hostess. A flight east on New Year's Eve ended Miss Coppen's visit.

HOUSEGUESTS IN the Ed Kreusch home on E. Jules during Christmas week were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. DeMarco of Mayfield, Ky. On Sunday the Kreusches entertained the Ray Beinlich family of Greendale, Wis. and the Frank Kreusch family of Wilshire Avenue. Home for all the holiday activity was Susan from Alverno College in Milwaukee.

Houseguests in the Walter Dobbs home on E. Olive during the Christmas holidays were his mother, Mrs. Albert Dobbs, and aunt, Mrs. Walter Franklin of St. Petersburg, Fla. The junior Mrs. Dobbs gave an afternoon tea Dec. 29 for her guests and neighborhood friends. Assisting at the serving were young Jimmy and Susan. A flight from O'Hare on Sunday ended the two-week visit for both Mrs. Franklin and Mrs. Dobbs. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

Kitty Thorstad, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Thorstad, 412 S. Phelps, enjoyed her Dec. 27 birthday because she invited several friends in for lunch that day. Guests at the birthday party were Mary Vernig, Nancy Knight, Nancy Johnson, Katie Weiss, Virginia White and Kitty's younger sisters, Barby and Patty. Luncheon dessert was birthday cake and ice cream, and after the last crumbs were cleaned up, the birthday girl's aunt, Mary Kelly of Skokie, took the partygoers to the movies.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shawhan, 532 S. Prindle, were hosts for the traditional family Christmas dinner. Among the guests were grandparents, Mrs. Nell Shawhan and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McPherson, as well as Ruth's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hintz of Des Plaines. The holiday mood was heightened by friends dropping in all during the day to extend Christmas greeting to the family.

MIXED WITH the holiday greetings were congratulations to the Shawhans on their 24th wedding anniversary Dec. 27, which they marked quietly, spending the evening with long time friends in Westgate.

Mr. and Mrs. David Roy were hosts at a family dinner Christmas Day at their home, 425 S. Prindle. Among the guests were David's father, Raymond Roy, his brother, Joseph with his girl, and Carol's mother, Mrs. Irene Offerman, all of Kankakee.

For 3-year-old Michael Cain, a Dec. 27 birthday lost none of its shine, rather it took on the glow of a second Christmas, even though it was celebrated at a quiet family dinner by his parents and twin sisters, Diane and Denise.

The Richard Bruce family, 441 S. Gibbons, unanimously declared that the Christmas holiday was merrier this year because they were sharing it with Dick's mother, Mrs. Etta Cardwell, who came from her home in Chattanooga, Tenn., to spend a week with Peggy and Dick and their children, Janie, Margie, Beth, Jessie and Tag.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burke, 509 S. Prindle, who were married 16 years Jan. 1, and who plan on holding their customary celebration a little later. (A

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Mrs. Frank Jenko, 440 S. Prindle, who underwent surgery Wednesday in Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

Dennis Jenko marked his 16th birthday New Year's Eve, and celebrated Sunday by having dinner with his parents and sister, Barbara, at George Diamond's at Antioch.

Dec. 24 is Christmas Eve in every home, but in the Ralph Verley home, 436 S. Prindle, it is also the birthday of their daughter, Teresa. She started celebrating by having seven friends in for lunch, topped off with birthday cake and ice cream on the Saturday before, and resumed on the day itself when her parents and brother, Bill, wished her the best of everything at a family dinner.

THE VERLEYS returned last Sunday from a weekend trip to Iron Mountain, Mich., where they attended an anniversary mass New Year's Day to mark the golden wedding of Irene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ambrosia. The ceremony was followed by dinner for the family at the Knife and Fork Restaurant in Iron Mountain, and an all day open house at the Ambrosia home for the countless friends of the "bridal" couple.

Best wishes for a happy 16th birthday Dec. 27 were extended to Dale Dassonville, 428 S. Phelps, at a family dinner that day because he and his parents were getting ready for a weekend trip over New Year's to a ski lodge at Lauderdale Lake near Elkhorn, Wis. Only flaw in the short vacation was weather too warm for skiing. The Dassonvilles did get in some ice skating.

HOLIDAY BIRTHDAYS rate their own celebrations and 11-year-old Michael Spagnoli, 1815 E. Grove, marked his Dec. 25 birthday a week early. His parents, Dick and Elaine, took him and two friends, Gary Farina and Bobby Sutton of Skokie for supper at Pizzeria Due in the Loop, and to see the Christmas decorations on State Street, then wound up the evening by touring Old Town.

CHRISTMAS dinner at the Jack Cain home, 536 S. Waterman, was a festive feast because they were entertaining Jack's parents, the William Cains of West Salem, Wis., and Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Henn and her brother, Wayne and his fiancee, of Milwaukee, all of whom stayed over the weekend.

Still in a party mood, Barbara helped 7-year-old Cathy with plans to celebrate her Dec. 29 birthday by having friends in for birthday cake and ice cream and an afternoon of party games. Cathy's guests were Gail Runge, Carol Streng, Sandy Burke, Diane Spengler, Beth Larkin, Linda Larsen and her sister and brother, Laurie and Steven.

MR. AND Mrs. Gerald Schneider, 508 S. Prindle, were among the families who spent Christmas away from home. Assured that Santa Claus would know where to find them, Mark, Laura, and John were happy to accompany their parents to Sioux Falls, S. D., to spend a week with their grandmother, Mrs. Clarence Schneider, to be greeted by aunts and uncles, and to play with cousins they hadn't seen since last summer.

The family returned home in time to celebrate Laura's fifth birthday Dec. 31, by having her friends, Nancy Johnson, Debby May, Sandy Burke and Kelly Donovan, in for cake and ice cream, after which Laura's mother took them to the children's matinee at the movie house.

Scouts Plan Bottle Drive

Members of Boy Scout Troop 158 of Arlington Heights will be calling on homes in Scarsdale and Arlington Knolls area Saturday, Jan. 8, to pick up returnable bottles as a fund raising activity.

The troop meets regularly at Our Savior's Lutheran Church on No. Arlington Heights Road and will be asking homeowners for bottles on which deposits can be collected. Money thus raised will be used for troop activities.

Smoke Signals

By THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Arlington Heights Fire Department wishes to thank all village residents who contributed a total of $108.19 to the 16th annual muscular dystrophy campaign. Approximately 90 cannisters were placed in stores and offices throughout the village during November and December.

This year's collections were $20 above the collections of last year. A cashier's check for the total amount was sent to the Greater Chicago Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RESPONSE

Dec. 31—4:47 p.m.—Fire call to Olive and Pine, rubbish fire near house under construction. No damage.
Jan. 1—10:30 p.m.—Inhalator call to 1313 E. Olive, Anna May Schroeder; patient recovered before arrival of squad.
Jan. 2—5:15 p.m.—Fire call to 632 S. Lincoln, Carl W. Dickenson, fire in fireplace caused smoke in house. Used smoke ejector to remove smoke. Minor smoke damage to house.
Jan. 4—12:11 a.m.—Inhalator call to 1252 N. Race, Thora Hacker, 66, of 3826 N. Troy, Chicago. Administered oxygen until removed to Northwest Community Hospital by ambulance.

A message from George Harris,
Your Prescription Pharmacist

READ "THE GREAT DISCOUNT DELUSION"
This book by Walter Henry Nelson is "must" reading for every consumer. It is a researched factual study showing discount dangers.

"WHAT'S WRONG WITH DISCOUNT FIRMS?"
"Plenty," wrote Harriet Van Horn in the New York Telegram. "The discounts are often faked. The merchandise may be factory rejects. For every 'bait' loss leader sold many more are marked up outrageously; some as much as 200%. The Better Business Bureaus report a striking increase in complaints." (These are nationally syndicated columnist Harriet Van Horn's words.)

WHY GAMBLE WITH HEALTH NEEDS?
Perhaps you are smart enough to occasionally outwit a discounter. Few are. But, is any possible saving worth the least doubt? Your pharmacy purchases are not "big ticket" prices like washing machines or automobiles.

WE HAVE NO LOSS LEADERS FOR BAIT
We charge only the fair price we need to enable us to run a good pharmacy. We do not have to charge more for less known products. We never discount service or dependability. If you note any stores which depend only on discount pricing for customers — Think!

Camp Fire Pioneer Recalls Deer Grove Hikes

'Girls Are Girls The Same As Ever'

by Joan Lorenson
Staff Writer

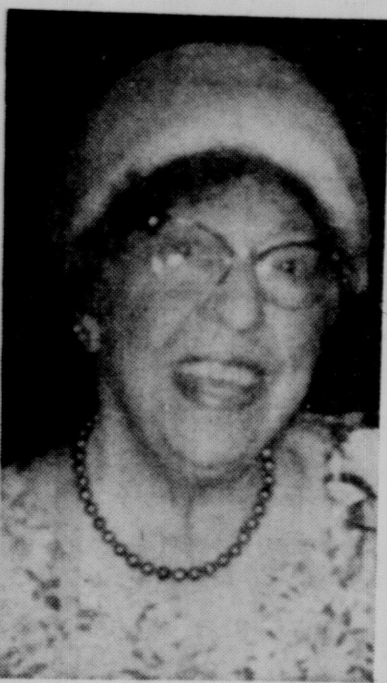
Eventually there may be a book written about the Camp Fire Girls of Mount Prospect.

The founder of the local chapter, Bertha Ehard, has part of a manuscript in typed form.

"Camp Fire Girls gave more to me than I gave to it," Miss Ehard believes. For years she used "the tag ends of leisure time" for Camp Fire Girls after returning from her secretarial job in Chicago.

Miss Ehard founded the first chapter in Mount Prospect in 1927 when her niece called to ask her if she'd be the guardian needed for the beginning group of five girls. "The girls told me all I'd have to do was read all the literature they'd gotten from the national organization . . . and I've been reading since," she laughed.

CAMP FIRE Girls had been begun in Maine in 1910 by Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick who conceived it as an organization open to all girls and with the goal of developing girls to be womanly. He and his wife developed it with its Indian symbols and meanings.



BERTHA EHARDT

Its eight tenets were: worship God, seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge, be trustworthy, hold onto health, glorify work, and be happy.

The Mount Prospect chapter took the name Potawatami: "people of the place of fire."

Miss Ehard recalled some of the group's first activities—planting a tree on the school property, gathering school supplies for Mexican children, taking hikes to Deer Grove, listening to opera on the radio.

HER MANUSCRIPT tells of the girls' own "hermit" and "witch" they had in Deer Grove. She recalled one occasion when the girls shoved picnic tables against the cabin door to protect them from intruders they heard in the forest at night.

As Miss Ehard recalled the incident, the girls ended up feeding their intruders — two young men who had lost their way and driven their car into a creek going from Wisconsin to Dubuque. Before the men got their car out of the creek bed, the girls had been hostess for them for breakfast and lunch.

Fare on an overnight of this kind might be baked beans, Boston bread, and apples. A father or friend of the girls usually made the fire, leaving a huge log that the girls could keep shoving in the fire to keep it going.

SEVERAL YEARS ago Miss Ehard abandoned her role as an active guardian but she remained chairman of the committee of awards. She noted some change in the girls' progression to higher rank. Now the girls are often examined in a group where previously they did a project on their own and reported it to the leader.

"Girls are girls the same as ever," Miss Ehard declared. She believes the suburban girl becomes as enthusiastic about the Camp Fire activities as the small town girls with whom she first worked. The organization gives them outdoor activities and fellowship with the finest leaders as well as homemaking skills, she said. She believes a cornerstone of the group is its stress on girls deciding what they want to do.

Miss Ehard has remained in contact with some of her original girls. Mrs. Rudolph Seidel, one of the original five, visits her weekly at Magnus Farm in Arlington Heights where Miss Ehard now resides. "Some of the girls have been my choicest friends," she said.

Besides her Camp Fire Girl activities, Miss Ehard found time to be treasurer of the Mount Prospect Library Board of which she was a member for 15 years. (A15

Vegetable Growing Classes Set

A school for vegetable growers from Cook and surrounding counties will be held from 9 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 11, at the Cook County Truck Gardeners Building, 2120 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

The school will feature panels discussing such topics as soil fumigation for disease control, weed control with chemicals, controlling vegetable diseases, use of mulches, mechanical harvest of vegetable crops, recent developments in insect control, soil fertility and irrigation.

The vegetable growers school is an annual event arranged by the Cook County Agricultural Extension Service, University of Illinois. Co-sponsors are the Cook County Farm Bureau, and the Cook County Truck Gardeners & Farmers Association.

Picked for Institute

Three area high school teachers have been selected to participate in the National Science Foundation 1965-66 Seventh In-Service Institute for High School Teachers at Illinois Institute of Technology.

They are Ralph Naylor, 109 Highland Blvd., Roselle, who teaches at Forest View High School; J. Ronald Teller, 635 Love St., Elk Grove Village who teaches at Maine South High School; and Sister Marie Quentin Young, 3000 Central Road, Rolling Meadows, who teaches at Sacred Heart of Mary High School.

THE PRIMARY objectives of the NSF-sponsored and IIT-conducted program is to generate higher levels of mathematics and science teaching in secondary schools, to develop increased subject matter mastery and to aid teachers in attaining additional levels of qualification.

Courses meet at IIT on Saturday throughout the academic year. Programs of study are offered in mathematics, chemistry and physics. Tuition is paid by the National Science Foundation with allowances given to help cover expenses for transportation and books. (A15

Aliens Are Reminded of Report Rule

John M. Lehmann, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, advised this week that the annual alien address report program is again under way.

He pointed out that the address reports are required by law and wilful failure to comply with these requirements may lead to serious consequences.

FORMS WITH which to make the reports are available at all Post Offices and Immigration Offices. It is an easy matter return it to the same office. return it to the same office.

Lehmann added that trained personnel will be on hand in all Immigration Offices to answer any questions the reporting alien may have regarding immigration and naturalization matters. (A15

Anti-Trust Group on Prowl for Price Fixers

Attorney General Given New Powers

by Dan Baumann
Staff Writer

An information-gathering program which could save county and local governmental units huge sums of taxpayer money has been started by the Illinois attorney generai's office.

The activity stems from the 1965 state anti-trust act drafted by Atty. Gen. William G. Clark and signed into law last July 21. The act is an attempt to fill a gap in antitrust coverage of state firms.

Earlier, firms dealing in interstate commerce were covered by federal antitrust laws. Firms dealing only inside the state were covered by an 1891 law which Clark said was rendered ineffective by a state Supreme Court decision in 1934.

WITHIN WEEKS of the passage of the new legislation, Clark set up a five-member antitrust division to begin enforcement. The staff is modest compared with size of other big-state antitrust divisions, and Clark willl seek an increase during the next biennium if the present staff proves inadequate.

He chose as division chief Robert J. Egan, who had acted as a special assistant in his consumer fraud bureau and as a legislative aide.

Investigations have begun in a number of areas of alleged price fixing against public bodies, and "a few" complaints have been received, Clark said.

Probably as significant has been the distribution state-wide of "identical bid report forms."

COPIES OF the form, which is patterned after a federal reporting form, have been sent to the state purchasing agent, to state agencies which conduct their own purchasing, to the Chicago corporation counsel and to state's attorneys in each of the 102 counties.

The state's attorneys, in turn, were asked to make the forms available to all governmental units within their jurisdiction. Individual agencies are urged to use the form to report all cases of identical bids they receive.

What might appear to be a fluke case of identical bidding on the local level could fit into a pattern of collusive bidding among firms over a wider area. Clark said his office already has begun to receive return forms.

"We're starting to know who is submitting identical bids and where it is going on."

CLARK WARNED a month ago that collusive bidding combinations may switch their operations from state to county and local purchasing.

The antitrust act, he noted, really has three purposes:

1) To protect public agencies against collusive bidding,

2) To use antitrust measures "as another means of investigating and ferreting out organized (syndicate) criminals, who are in legitimate businesses, trying to muscle out their competition," and

3) To make sure "a free flow of competition exists in the general business community."

THOUGH PROSECUTION of criminal elements is a matter for the state's attorneys, Clark said, the antitrust act gives his office information and tools to cooperate with the local prosecuting officers.

Under Clark, the attorney general's office has used the federal antitrust statute in several cases. Illinois was the first state to sue in federal courts for triple damage awards under the federal price-fixing provisions.

He collected almost $600,000 on behalf of 117 Illinois school districts in a suit against the suppliers of gymnasium bleachers.

CLARK FILED a federal suit on behalf of Illinois schools and libraries against suppliers of metal shelving, claiming $1.8 million in damages. And he has pending a $10.2 million suit against major suppliers of salt used for de-icing highways.

The attorney general said he expects "that business will welcome a fair, just and vigorous application of the act of 1965" and added, "Fair competition and the elimination of any criminal elements from legitimate business operations is in the best interests of business itself."

NI-Gas Warns Of Furnace Frauds

The advent of cold weather traditionally brings out hundreds of furnace repair gyp artists, warns Northern Illinois Gas Co.

High pressure "heating inspectors" prey on the unsuspecting housewife and annually cost homeowners hundreds of thousands of dollars, the utility reports.

NI-Gas says the phony inspectors usually find something wrong with the heating unit and ask permission to tear down the furnace.

Frequently the "inspectors" find the "unit is not worth replacing" once it is torn down. They then require a down payment, according to the gas company, and normally ask the housewife to sign a contract for a new furnace or various repairs, usually at exorbitant prices.

NI-GAS recommends that homeowners first of all do not let strangers into their homes without demanding adequate identification and always check the reliability of a salesman or inspector and the company before letting them tear down a furnace or signing a contract.

If a door-to-door heating salesman reports that carbon monoxide is present near a gas furnace, flue or chimney, homeowners should call Northern Illinois Gas Co. for an inspection.

The utility advises that homeowners have their heating systems inspected, cleaned and serviced in the spring or summer by a qualified, reputable local heating contractor who has a well-established heating business in the community.

PICTURE TUBE TIPS

by ED LANDWEHR

Keep sun light and strong light bulb rays out of your TV picture screen. The sun can dissipate the phosphorus on the face of the tube. And strong bulb rays cause you to drive the tube harder in order to get a good viewing picture.

Be sure the area around the TV set is well ventilated and, if it isn't, use a small electric fan to move the air.

Picture tubes are pretty rugged and shock proof to some extent, but constant vibration from a nearby motor or street vibrations can cause a TV picture to wear out quickly.

LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights handles a first line, latest type picture tube with full guarantees. Your viewing will probably be better than when your set was new. Phone CLearbrook 5-0700.

Knights Like Holiday Play . . .

DICK KINNEMAN

Prospect High School's impressive climb to the championship of the Pontiac holiday basketball tournament shouldn't have come as a great surprise to followers of Knight entries over the past seven years.

Few schools in Illinois can match the amazing record of success achieved by Prospect basketball teams in holiday tournament play. It's gotten to the point where you expect Knight outfits to bring home some glistening hardware from the Christmas activity.

Prospect has played 26 holiday tournament games in those seven years since entering varsity competition. They've won 22, an astounding .846 victory percentage. They've played in nine tournaments and have taken home six first place trophies. Added to those six titles are one second and one third — or eight times "in the money" in nine cracks.

The Knights now own seven straight holiday tourney victories, three last year at Joliet and four last week at Pontiac.

Dick Kinneman has been at the helm for five of those tournament titles and Warren Collier picked up one in his only season as head man.

This string of holiday successes was initiated in 1959 when Kinneman guided an all-junior outfit to three straight victories in the Fenton eight-team attraction.

Prospect swept to five straight wins in holiday play the following winter, knocking off Maine East and Geneva for the Geneva crown and then disposing of Mattoon, Kankakee, and St. Patrick of Kankakee in the Kankakee affair.

Those 1960 triumphs stamped Kinneman's aggregation, sparked by All-Stater George Pomey, as one of the powerhouses in Illinois ranks. They came out of tourney play with a 13-0 record and didn't lose a game until Wheaton scored a 62-60 upset in late January.

Prospect ran its holiday winning streak to nine with a 57-48 conquest of St. Pat's of Kankakee in a first round game at Kankakee in 1961, but this time the Knights skidded in their second bout and fell to East Aurora 54-46.

Tommy Thomas threw in 12 baskets and a free throw to spark Kinneman's club to a 64-39 win over Central of Clifton for third place in that 1961 Kankakee meet.

Prospect climbed up a notch at Kankakee the following winter (1962) by taking second. The Knights tripped up Taylorville and St. Patrick before falling to host Kankakee in the title contest, 49-35.

Kinneman also took his crew to St. Charles for a holiday spectacular that winter, and the Knights responded with one of the "biggest" victories in school annals.

After taking care of host St. Charles in the opener of the four-team affair, Prospect tangled with state-ranked Rockford Auburn — 11th in Illinois — in a game which most observers felt was a "cinch" for the touted Rockford crew.

But this was holiday time and Prospect was ready. Ron Koepke and Jim Hogarty came off the bench to spark the Knights to a stunning 40-39 victory with Ken Groh dropping in the decisive free throws with 39 seconds left.

The one holiday tourney Prospect enjoyed less than the others was in 1963 when Kinneman and company journeyed to Joliet. The Knights dropped a first round contest to Joliet Catholic, bounced back in consolation play with a win over Wheaton, but bowed out with a loss to Joliet Twp.

That 1963 tourney marked the first and only time Prospect has lost more than one game in any holiday activity.

Warren Collier took over as head man for the 1964-65 season and the Knights took the Joliet tourney title. They knocked off highly regarded Lincoln-Way in the opener and then eliminated Joliet Central and Wheaton.

The Knights weren't expected to make much noise at Joliet last year, and they weren't expected to sweep past four opponents last week at Pontiac.

But when holiday tourney time rolls around, no one bets against any Prospect High School basketball team.

You can't argue with the kind of success Knight entries have enjoyed over the past seven years.

Glenbrook South's Mike Reeves rolls along. Although no statistics are available, the 6-6 senior must rank as the leading scorer in Illinois prep ranks. Mike now is averaging 35.7 points for ten games. He had 51 in one holiday tourney game. Glenbrook South catches Maine West Saturday evening.

A 'Generous' Prep Coach . . .

Did you hear about the high school basketball game in Charleston, Ill., when one player dropped in five field goals for the other team?

Charleston held a lopsided 91-34 lead over visiting Oblong High School when Oblong coach Chuck Pawley called time out for a talk with guard Ron Allen.

When the game resumed, Allen dashed down to the Charleston basket and intentionally sank five straight field goals for the other team.

Charleston coach Merv Baker was as bewildered as everyone else. Did his boys have any plan for Oblong's unique strategy?

"Well, they just let him do it," Baker said.

"It wasn't any of my affair. I can't control that, can I? he asked. He said he pulled his regulars with 10 minutes to go in the contest.

Oblong coach Pawley was not available for comment.

Remember Frank Hollendonner, the 6-11 center who prepped at Chicago St. Patrick High School? Hollendonner, who scored 39 points in one visit to the Prospect fieldhouse, is the No. 2 center at Georgetown University, but he's behind another junior, 6-8 Steve Sullivan. Hollendonner paced St. Pat's to a Super - Sectional berth in 1962 and scored 39 points in the two Arlington Sectional tilts that year.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

Arlington surprised highly regarded Glenbard, 75-70, but dropped a 56-51 decision to Riverside-Brookfield in a ragged contest. . .Ron Ashley was high against Glenbard with nine baskets and two free throws for 20 points. . .John Sujack had 19 the following night. . .Arlington's wrestlers whipped neighboring Palatine, 24-19. . .Haseman Trucking won the Paddock Publications handicap bowling tournament with 2999 pins at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights.

Following Pontiac Tourney Triumph

Knights Seek Sixth Straight Cage Win From Niles West

By MICHAEL HESS

Over-confidence or a letdown may now challenge Prospect cagers more than can any opponent quintet. . .

Last week the Knights performed brilliantly in winning top honors in Pontiac's holiday tourney. But, that title could cause trouble.

This Friday the charges of coach Dick Kinneman host Niles West. Due to their just gained championship, there are two mental factors which could hold back the Knights against NW.

First of all Prospect might feel vastly superior to an Indians unit which carries a lowly 2-7 record. Such sub-standard competition might lull the Knights into not really caring about the approaching battle.

OF COURSE there is much for Kinneman's crew to feel such over-confidence about. At Pontiac they achieved the following standout marks:

The Knights won Pontiac's title with four victories against topnotch opposition. They currently hold a five game streak and a good 8-3 record.

In those triumphs Prospect shot 68, 55, 55 and 53 per cent from the floor. In the quartet of outings the champs canned 97 of 166 goal tries for an amazing percentage of 58.4. At the line they made 66.4 per cent by hitting on 77 of 110.

Defensively the Knights limited enemies to 55 points a game while making an average of 66.8 points each time out on offense. That Prospect point production includes a season high of 82 points in a single game. The Knights also outrebounded all opposition 134 to 96.

Nearly every kind of defense was thrown against the Knights. They faced a man for man, a pressing man for man, a zone, a zone press and special combinations of all four and yet overcame each.

EXCEPT FOR the tourney opener, Prospect had to rally in come-from-behind situations. The Knights responded with continually sparkling final quarters and snatched each win from possible defeat, a mark of true championship calibre.

"We were probably the underdog in every game we played," commented headman Kinneman. "Our winning was due mainly to an improvement by the whole team, especially

Forest View Hosts Maine South Five

by MICHAEL HESS

Who knows . . . ??!! That's the correct answer to give anyone asking about Forest View's basketball future.

Falcons cage forces have been very erratic of late, so much up and down that predicting what they'll do from game to game is virtually impossible.

Coming up for FV is a court test that won't allow any varying from fine play if victory is the goal. Tomorrow night coach Ken Arneson's team plays host to a tough unit from Maine South.

Forest View started '65-'66 action with three straight wins. Then came three straight defeats before another triumph. That 4-3 record brought FV as far as the Danville Holiday Tournament which was held last week.

THE FALCONS took a trio of victories at Danville before they were smashed in the finale by champion Schlarman 52 - 35. Those results left headman Arneson's quintet in second place for the tourney and 7-4 over-all.

Which way will FV go now? That depends on three different factors: shooting, health and defense.

Inconsistency is the best tag for the field goal accuracy Forest View has shown to date. FV's best mark from the floor was 39 per cent against Deerfield. Other than that the Falcons have been under 35 per cent and could cash in only 32 per cent in four outings at Danville.

Baumgardt still can't play four fast quarters and it will be another two to three weeks before he's back in shape according to Arneson. He will start against Maine.

Defensively FV has been tough enough to stop one enemy with only 47 points but loose enough to permit 79 points by another opponent. On offense the picture is a bit brighter as the Falcons have gone as high as 76 points but they've also fallen as low as only 35.

"WE HAVE shown improvement recently," commented cage director Arneson. "At Danville we were better in almost every area except shooting and there even our free throw accuracy fell off. We made only 54 per cent at the line."

Lions Play Doubleheader

To Travel Friday; Home Against Crusader Five

by Bob Frisk

Larry Nomellini has had more enjoyable holidays.

Just when the St. Viator basketball coach felt his club was ready to make some noise on the hardwood the Lions suffered two straight losses in the Chicagoland Prep League holiday tournament.

Now, on the eve of another conference schedule, Nomellini doesn't know what to expect from the new year.

DAN COLLINS
Steady Junior

St. Viator catches St. Ignatius on the road Friday and Holy Cross at home Saturday in the first of seven straight weekend doubleheaders in the Chicagoland Prep League.

"We played as bad as we could possibly play in the tournament," Nomellini pointed out. "We had our worst game of the year against St. Mel and only showed flashes against St. Joseph."

NOMELLINI IS contemplating some lineup changes although he may wait to see what develops Friday in the battle with St. Ignatius. His club stands 3-5 today but is saddled with three straight setbacks.

"Our shooting was horrible in the tourney," the Lion coach continued and the shot charts confirmed this statement. The Lions had 16 more shots than St. Joseph but fashioned a so-so .339 percentage in dropping a 69-63 decision.

The real disaster came in the second game against St. Mel. The Lions needed 23 more shots (83 over-all) to make the same number of baskets as St. Mel and suffered a 65-59 reversal.

At St. Ignatius

	ST. VIATOR		ST. IGNATIUS
6-4	Dumke	F	Stank'wicz	6-2
5-10	Collins	F	Rice	6-1
	OPEN	C	Griffin or	6-1
			Barrett	6-4
5-11	Hogan	G	Cogan	5-10
	OPEN	G	Bacinkas	5-11

At St. Viator

	ST. VIATOR		HOLY CROSS
6-4	Dumke	F	Gac	6-3
5-10	Collins	F	Giroux	6-3
	OPEN	C	O'Brien	6-5
5-11	Hogan	G	Sanchez	5-10
	OPEN	G	Jelen	5-10

WHAT'S remarkable about this club which has picked up three victories in eight games is that each starter is averaging in double figures with junior guard Frank Hogan the average leader at 16.2. Next in line are Paul Dumke (15.3), Paul Pomplun (14.9), Dan Collins (12.3), and John Loughman (11.0).

Collins was the one bright spot against St. Mel, according to Nomellini, as the 5-10 junior forward dialed seven baskets and three free throws for 17 points. "He's been as steady a player as we've had this year," the head man praised.

ST. VIATOR will be running into a club Friday evening that has won six games in eight tries but still ranks as a question-mark.

"We're loaded with injuries and I rarely know from game to game who will be ready," says St. Ignatius coach Jim Enright.

The "president" of the walking wounded at St. Ignatius is Dennis Stankiewicz, a slick 6-2 forward who averages around 25 points per game when he's able to go full blast.

"WE'RE ALWAYS in doubt about Stankiewicz," the head coach said. "His knee bothers him all the time and it's a matter of degree from week to week. He had this problem last year too and on these double weekends which are coming up he should be okay for at least the Friday game."

Tom Rice, a 6-1 forward, also has knee problems, but Rice should be in the starting alignment against St. Viator.

It's a toss-up at center for the Wolves with 6-1 senior John Griffin battling 6-4 junior Bill Barrett. Ed Cogan, a 5-10 junior, and Cas Bacinkas, a flashy 5-11 sophomore, are the starting guards with Jim Scanlon (5-11) ready in reserve.

St. Ignatius lost to Marian Catholic 74-64 in holiday tourney play but bounced back to topple Little Flower, 80-76. The Wolves' other loss this winter was to Crane Tech of Chicago, 66-58.

A FORMER St. Viator student will lead Holy Cross into the Lion gymnasium Saturday evening.

Joe Sanchez, a steady 5-10 guard, engineers the Crusader attack with sophomore Bobby Jelen (5-10). Sanchez played varsity baseball and basketball at St. Viator before transferring to Holy Cross.

Jim O'Brien, a 6-5 center, tops the Holy Cross attack with a 14.0 average although head man Don Halverson has four boys flirting with double figure marks. Mike Giroux (6-3) stands at 10.0 and Joe Gac (6-3) at 11.5. Sanchez is a shade under 10.0.

Holy Cross sports a mediocre 3-5 record but three of the five losses were by three or less points. The Crusaders whipped Immaculate Conception 72-61 in the Chicagoland holiday tourney before falling to St. Patrick, 81-69.

Halverson's crew tangles with St. Pat's again Friday in its conference lidlifter.

Wheeling Cagers to Host Deerfield Five

by MICHAEL HESS

Will success spoil Wheeling cagers???

'Cats forces reaped unaccustomed riches last week. They won two games in Fenton's holiday basketball tourney.

A 55-51 topping of the host Bisons was first for coach Mike Owens' quintet. Then came an overtime edging of Conant by a 58-54 count.

SCOTT BISCHOFF

Those triumphs gained Wheeling the tournament consolation crown. That's the initial title of any kind ever picked up by the Wildcats.

ALSO, THE PAIR of victories marked a tremendous improvement over last season. In '64-'65 Owens squad came out on top in only one of 20 games whereas they now have taken three of 10 in present campaign activities.

Can this rapid 'Cats pace be maintained, or will Wheeling Cagers spoil success???

One answer to that crucial question comes tomorrow (Friday). In an at-home battle Owens & Co. will welcome a Deerfield entry.

Opening against the Warriors will be five who have nailed down permanent starting births for the Wildcats. They are Scott Bischoff, Tom Neuckranz, Rex Peterson, Skip Grandt and Mark Newman.

Bischoff seems to be returning to early season scoring form. He has made 17, 20 and 13 points during his last three out-

Knights Like Holiday Play . . .

DICK KINNEMAN

Prospect High School's impressive climb to the championship of the Pontiac holiday basketball tournament shouldn't have come as a great surprise to followers of Knight entries over the past seven years.

Few schools in Illinois can match the amazing record of success achieved by Prospect basketball teams in holiday tournament play. It's gotten to the point where you expect Knight outfits to bring home some glistening hardware from the Christmas activity.

Prospect has played 26 holiday tournament games in those seven years since entering varsity competition. They've won 22, an astounding .846 victory percentage. They've played in nine tournaments and have taken home six first place trophies. Added to those six titles are one second and one third — or eight times "in the money" in nine cracks.

The Knights now own seven straight holiday tourney victories, three last year at Joliet and four last week at Pontiac.

Dick Kinneman has been at the helm for five of those tournament titles and Warren Collier picked up one in his only season as head man.

This string of holiday successes was initiated in 1959 when Kinneman guided an all-junior outfit to three straight victories in the Fenton eight-team attraction.

Prospect swept to five straight wins in holiday play the following winter, knocking off Maine East and Geneva for the Geneva crown and then disposing of Mattoon, Kankakee, and St. Patrick of Kankakee in the Kankakee affair.

Those 1960 triumphs stamped Kinneman's aggregation, sparked by All-Stater George Pomey, as one of the powerhouses in Illinois ranks. They came out of tourney play with a 13-0 record and didn't lose a game until Wheaton scored a 62-60 upset in late January.

Prospect ran its holiday winning streak to nine with a 57-48 conquest of St. Pat's of Kankakee in a first round game at Kankakee in 1961, but this time the Knights skidded in their second bout and fell to East Aurora 54-46.

Tommy Thomas threw in 12 baskets and a free throw to spark Kinneman's club to a 64-39 win over Central of Clifton for third place in that 1961 Kankakee meet.

Prospect climbed up a notch at Kankakee the following winter (1962) by taking second. The Knights tripped up Taylorville and St. Patrick before falling to host Kankakee in the title contest, 49-35.

Kinneman also took his crew to St. Charles for a holiday spectacular that winter, and the Knights responded with one of the "biggest" victories in school annals.

After taking care of host St. Charles in the opener of the four-team affair, Prospect tangled with state-ranked Rockford Auburn — 11th in Illinois — in a game which most observers felt was a "cinch" for the touted Rockford crew.

But this was holiday time and Prospect was ready. Ron Koepke and Jim Hogarty came off the bench to spark the Knights to a stunning 40-39 victory with Ken Groh dropping in the decisive free throws with 39 seconds left.

The one holiday tourney Prospect enjoyed less than the others was in 1963 when Kinneman and company journeyed to Joliet. The Knights dropped a first round contest to Joliet Catholic, bounced back in consolation play with a win over Wheaton, but bowed out with a loss to Joliet Twp.

That 1963 tourney marked the first and only time Prospect has lost more than one game in any holiday activity.

Warren Collier took over as head man for the 1964-65 season and the Knights took the Joliet tourney title. They knocked off highly regarded Lincoln-Way in the opener and then eliminated Joliet Central and Wheaton.

The Knights weren't expected to make much noise at Joliet last year, and they weren't expected to sweep past four opponents last week at Pontiac.

But when holiday tourney time rolls around, no one bets against any Prospect High School basketball team.

You can't argue with the kind of success Knight entries have enjoyed over the past seven years.

Glenbrook South's Mike Reeves rolls along. Although no statistics are available, the 6-6 senior must rank as the leading scorer in Illinois prep ranks. Mike now is averaging 35.7 points for ten games. He had 51 in one holiday tourney game. Glenbrook South catches Maine West Saturday evening.

A 'Generous' Prep Coach . . .

Did you hear about the high school basketball game in Charleston, Ill., when one player dropped in five field goals for the other team?

Charleston held a lopsided 91-34 lead over visiting Oblong High School when Oblong coach Chuck Pawley called time out for a talk with guard Ron Allen.

When the game resumed, Allen dashed down to the Charleston basket and intentionally sank five straight field goals for the other team.

Charleston coach Merv Baker was as bewildered as everyone else. Did his boys have any plan for Oblong's unique strategy?

"Well, they just let him do it," Baker said.

"It wasn't any of my affair. I can't control that, can I? he asked. He said he pulled his regulars with 10 minutes to go in the contest.

Oblong coach Pawley was not available for comment.

Remember Frank Hollendonner, the 6-11 center who prepped at Chicago St. Patrick High School? Hollendonner, who scored 39 points in one visit to the Prospect fieldhouse, is the No. 2 center at Georgetown University, but he's behind another junior, 6-8 Steve Sullivan. Hollendonner paced St. Pat's to a Super - Sectional berth in 1962 and scored 39 points in the two Arlington Sectional tilts that year.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

Arlington surprised highly regarded Glenbard, 75-70, but dropped a 56-51 decision to Riverside-Brookfield in a ragged contest. . .Ron Ashley was high against Glenbard with nine baskets and two free throws for 20 points. . .John Sujack had 19 the following night. . .Arlington's wrestlers whipped neighboring Palatine, 24-19. . .Haseman Trucking won the Paddock Publications handicap bowling tournament with 2999 pins at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights.

Following Pontiac Tourney Triumph

Knights Seek Sixth Straight Cage Win From Niles West

By MICHAEL HESS

Over-confidence or a letdown may now challenge Prospect cagers more than can any opponent quintet. . .

Last week the Knights performed brilliantly in winning top honors in Pontiac's holiday tourney. But, that title could cause trouble.

This Friday the charges of coach Dick Kinneman host Niles West. Due to their just gained championship, there are two mental factors which could hold back the Knights against NW.

First of all Prospect might feel vastly superior to an Indians unit which carries a lowly 2-7 record. Such sub-standard competition might lull the Knights into not really caring about the approaching battle.

OF COURSE there is much for Kinneman's crew to feel such over-confidence about. At Pontiac they achieved the following standout marks:

The Knights won Pontiac's title with four victories against topnotch opposition. They currently hold a five game streak and a good 8-3 record.

In those triumphs Prospect shot 68, 55, 55 and 53 per cent from the floor. In the quartet of outings the champs canned 97 of 166 goal tries for an amazing percentage of 58.4. At the line they made 66.4 per cent by hitting on 77 of 110.

Defensively the Knights limited enemies to 55 points a game while making an average of 66.8 points each time out on offense. That Prospect point production includes a season high of 82 points in a single game. The Knights also outrebounded all opposition 134 to 96.

Nearly every kind of defense was thrown against the Knights. They faced a man for man, a pressing man for man, a zone, a zone press and special combinations of all four and yet overcame each.

EXCEPT FOR the tourney opener, Prospect had to rally in come-from-behind situations. The Knights responded with continually sparkling final quarters and snatched each win from possible defeat, a mark of true championship calibre.

"We were probably the underdog in every game we played," commented headman Kinneman. "Our winning was due mainly to an improvement by the whole team, especially

North Chicago Rules Palatine Mat Tourney

The predictable and the not so predictable mixed last week in the 11th Palatine Invitational Wrestling Tournament. The result was a show that one of television's brain children might have called "Wrestle For Your Life."

North Chicago, the pre-tourney favorite, won it all, but not until putting down a surprising Aurora West challenge. The Warhawks and Blackhawks mixed in a battle that carried to the last four wrestlers in the field. In the end, it was the Gesky boys — David and Tony — who carried the day for Bob Therry's team, disposing of Aurora challengers in the 180-pound and heavyweight finals. In final team totals, North Chicago had 78, Aurora 75 points.

As surprising as the Aurora challenge was the effort of Merv Miller's Conant contingent. The Cougars, getting six men past the opening round, finished up with 45 points, good for a tie for third with another pre-tourney choice, Naperville. Conant even had an individual winner in Fred Krempl, who ruled the pack at 133 pounds.

ARLINGTON, hampered by the sidelining of standouts Bruce Conti (127) and Mark Frase (heavyweight), ended a bout where expected: fifth with 38 points. Julius Fliehler's crew put six men into the semi-finals, but only two survived, and they lost in the finals.

The defending champion, DeKalb, ended an unpredictable sixth with 35 points, though having one individual winner.

Of Palatine, it can be said the Pirates did the generous thing after all. The hosts found the wrestling mats led only to the doormat, as they finished last in the field of eight, just behind seventh place Maine East. John Ellis' boys—of whom four survived the first round—compiled 23 points.

NORTH CHICAGO, clearly stamping itself as a threat for the state crown this spring, followed its impressive triumph at the Waukegan invitational by taking five individual firsts to win the Palatine meeting.

The Warhawks got eight wrestlers past the first round, and five of them into the finals. All five won. Doug Gross triumphed at 103, beating DeKalb's John Cliffe in the first round by a 2-0 decision; Aurora's Paul Casurella 8-0 in the semi-finals; and Conant's Tom Borthwick 3-1 in the finals.

Unbeaten Fred McQueen became the first to inflict defeat on Conant's sophomore Bill Gluck this year, nipping him 2-0 in the semi-finals on the way to a 6-1 victory over Naperville's John Lies in the 120 finals. Winning at 127 for North Chicago was Morise Linder, who beat Conant's Bill Lee 4-0 in the semis and Maine's Bruce Garnett by the same score in the finals.

BUT THE BIG moments for North Chicago came in the last two matches. Warhawks were matched with Blackhawks in both cases, and the outcomes were to dictate the meet.

David Gesky, after taking a decision in the 180-pound first round and pinning Arlington's Verne Gongol in the semi-finals, met Aurora's Chuck Butts. It was over in 18 seconds, Gesky the winner on a pin.

Brother Tony, a big first round winner in the heavyweight ranks, pinned Palatine's John Reed in the semi-finals. That put him against Aurora's Bob Galbreath in the finals, and Gesky took it 8-1.

North Chicago also had two thirds and a fourth in the meet, one of the thirds going to Charlie Parker, an upset victim of Aurora's Jack Hughes in the 138 semi-finals.

AURORA PUT NINE boys into the semi-finals, six into the finals. Three of the six won: Jim Jackson beating Arlington's Jim Whitnell at 95; Hughes beating Maine's Phil Eaton 6-2 at 138; and Clyde Schmedeke decisioning DeKalb's Ron Mathers 2-0 at 154.

Krempl won his title for Conant by beating Aurora's Al Henn 7-3 in the 133 finals. On the way, Fred made it 5-2 over Maine's Ed Egelstonn in the first round and 7-0 over Arlington's Chip Douglas in the semi-finals.

Borthwick got to the finals for Conant by beating Arlington's Jay McDonnell 6-0 and Palatine's Brad Molinari 5-1 in the semi-finals. The Cougars' Mike Ferguson, who lost the 112 pound title match to Naperville's Jim Schield on a pin, beat DeKalb's Ed Siebrasse (8-2) and Aurora's Jerry Grossman (pin) along the way. Taking thirds for the Cougars were Gluck, who came back to win 6-5 over DeKalb's Rick Low at 120; and Dennis Skoneczka, who beat Aurora's Ron Keenan 8-0 after losing 5-4 to Arlington's Kirk Wolter in a 145-pound semi-final match. Wolter later lost in the finals to Naperville's Keith Atten.

WOLTER HAD beaten DeKalb's Dick London 5-0 in the first round to start his trip to the finals. The other Arlington finalist, Whitnell at 95, defeated DeKalb's Howard Newquist (17-2) and North Chicago's Mike Choy (7-0) on the way.

Arlington had three third place winners, as Chip Douglas won 2-0 over Greg Massier of DeKalb at 133, Don Lindmark beat Maine's John Comstock 9-7 at 154 and Mike Jones made it 6-5 over Maine's Dan Tokoph at 165. All had won first round matches and lost in the semi-finals.

The best Palatine received was a second place from Bob Salinas. Wrestling at 165, he vanquished Aurora's Tim Smith 7-5 and Arlington's Mike Jones 3-2. In the finals, he was beaten by DeKalb's lone victor, Ron Kyler.

Palatine had a pair of thirds. Reed came back from his defeat by Gesky to decision Claude DeRusha of Maine East 5-1 and Paul Dolik—wrestling at 180—rebounded from a loss to Aurora's Butts to whip Arlington's Gongol 5-0.

ings and now shows a 107 total for the year.

"HE GETS A lot of rebounds on the offensive boards," comments headman Owens of his 6-0 center. "Bischoff has been making many tip-in shots but he hasn't been getting good position under the defensive boards."

Mr. Dependable is what Neuckranz should be called. He made very few mistakes and turned in his usual steady performances against Fenton and Conant. He is his team's leading point producer. In double figures every game this season, Neuckranz has tallied 141 points.

In contrast to Neuckranz, Peterson and Newman have been much less than consistant.

Peterson, a driving playmaker, has shown totals of 18 for a high and three for a low in games thus far. He had six against Fenton and 16 against Conant. Peterson, in all contests, has 86 points.

Newman, in nine games, has registered 76 points, including 55 in his last five engagements. But, apparently he still is not producing at full potential.

"WE'RE STILL NOT getting the scoring from Newman that he's capable of giving us," Owens states. "If we could get 12 or 13 from him and keep Peterson at around 12 or 13 then we'd have the kind of scoring we need from our guards."

A slump has hurt most of Grandt's recent showings, but, with 12 points against Fenton, he may be on the road back. He has 75 points for the year and remains one of the toughest rebounders Wheeling has.

Top subs in recent Wildcats struggles have been Al Gibbon and Jerry Kerr. Gibbon is his team's sixth high scorer having hit 12 points in parts of six games. Valuable mainly for his floor play, Kerr has 10 points in nine outings.

"We've shown some improvement over play at the start of the season," comments coach Owens. "I'm pleased with our cutting down on mistakes and, of course, we have more experience which has helped."

Summed up the 'Cats cage director: "We're not being outclassed this year the way we were last. We're in most of our games now and when we are we always have a chance to win."

CHANCES TO win tomorrow may depend as much on Deerfield's health as it does on the quality of Wheeling's play.

"Injuries have hurt us more than anything else," says Warriors headman Lyle Frahm. "Having boys hurt means they can't practice which means we haven't put one unit on the floor that's used to playing together. That's caused many mistakes."

Deerfield carries a 4-5 record including a win and loss at Grayslake's holiday tourney into Wheeling. Trying to even that mark will be guards Jerry Carper and Kevin Morrison, center John Foster and forwards Dick McDermott and Tom Fuzzey. All have been sidelined at one time or another since the season began.

McDermott and Fuzzey, when both are well enough to play, have led the Warriors. An 18 point average belongs to McDermott for his eight outings while Fuzzey, in three games, has averaged 17 points.

Northwest 'Y' Has Judo Class

A 9-week introductory course in "Judo- The Gentle Way" will be offered at Northwest Suburban YMCA as part of its new skill school program.

The class begins Tuesday, Jan. 11, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Instruction in basic judo principles and techniques, including falling, throwing and self-defense, will be given to men 16 to 45 years old. The course is open to all, whether 'Y' members or not.

Those who successfully complete this initial course may join the YMCA Judo Club and continue their study in this sport.

Registration should be made by calling the 'Y' office at 296-3376.

Average Leader

Among men who have bowled 300 or more games in past BPAA All-Star Bowling Tournaments, Dick Weber of Florissant, Mo., leads the all-time average list. Weber has averaged 209.053 for 913 games in All-Star competition.

FLYING CHAMPION—That's Conant's Fred Krempl, though he doubtless doesn't care to be sent soaring here by Arlington's Chip Douglas. Krempl didn't allow much of this kind of mistreatment, as he beat Douglas 7-0 and went on to the 133-pound crown in the Palatine holiday wrestling tourney. The team title went to North Chicago.

For Third Place

St. Mel Tops Lion Quintet

Larry Nomellini summed it up as "our worst game of the year."

St. Mel of Chicago jumped out to an early lead and held on last week (Tuesday) to pull out a 65-59 victory over frigid St. Viator in a third place tourney battle at St. Joseph of Westchester.

St. Viator had dropped its opening game to St. Joseph, 69-63.

The Lions unloaded 83 shots against St. Mel but only 23 found the mark over four periods to account for the dismal performance.

"IT WAS THAT way in both games," Nomellini explained. "We only hit about 33 per cent in our first game although we had 16 more shots than St. Joseph."

St. Mel hit the Lions early in the third place test, building up a 12-6 cushion after one period and increasing that to 31-16 at the intermission.

Dan Collins, 5-10 junior forward, keyed a third period offensive revival for St. Viator but it was too late. Collins fired in seven baskets in the third stanza as the Lions cut the difference to five points, 46-41.

SENIOR FORWARD Paul Dumke paced an 18-point fourth quarter for St. Viator, but St. Mel still added one more point to its advantage.

The victorious Knights did an effective job shutting off St. Viator's high-scoring guard Frank Hogan, who had drilled 24 against St. Joseph the previous night. Hogan hit on only two baskets in 12 shots and finished with four points, his lowest total of the season.

Collins was high for the loser with 17 points although four regulars reached double figures. Dumke chipped in 14, Paul Pomplun 13, and John Loughman 11.

St. Joseph belted St. Francis of Wheaton, 81-61, for the preliminary round title, but the Chargers fell to Marian Catholic, 61-49, in the tourney semi-finals at St. Patrick.

DeLaSalle won the Chicagoland holiday title with a 63-45 victory over Marian.

Card Gymnasts At Home Friday

Arlington High School's gymnastics team, unbeaten in dual meets, will host Maine East Friday afternoon at 4:00 in the first West Suburban Conference meet of the 1965-66 season.

Jim Johannesen and Bert Schmitt will lead the Cardinal entry which has won four straight duals.

Arlington coach Tom Walthouse will be operating with trampoline standout Tom Riesing on the sidelines with an injury. The date of Riesing's return remains a question-mark.

St. Viator Soph Five Drops Two In Tournament

St. Viator's sophomore Lions dropped two straight games last week in the Glenbrook North Invitational soph basketball tournament.

Lake Forest belted the locals, 59-41, building up a 35-19 halftime lead, and Proviso East coasted, 56-28.

Pat Zeller was high for St. Viator in both games. He collected 14 against Lake Forest and eight against Proviso East.

Gary Berg chipped in with seven against Proviso as the Lions stayed in contention for the first half before wilting. (Sp improvement for Forest View has come in the area of turnovers. The Falcons averaged 13 miscues a game at Danville, a creditable accounting, and had just five in the championship game. "Our ball handling has been better all the way around," said Arneson.

Other steps up for FV have come in rebounding and in stiffer defensive work without an increase in fouls. "Because Maine scores well and likes to shoot we'll have to continue both when we meet them," Arneson offered.

Maine South has also been a picture of inconsistency. The Hawks dropped their first three games but then won four in a row. Last week they played two games at Rockford and received setbacks in each, losing to Rockford East 80-70 and West 52-50.

Pacing the MW efforts thus far have been Paul Wehman and Dave Strom. Wehman, a 6-3 forward, has averaged 18 points a game and picked up 29 and 18 in the Rockford encounters. A 15 point average belongs to 6-1 forward Strom.

THE HAWKS guards, Tom Beck and Rick Kilinski, have combined to tally 22 points in each game. Both are 6-0. At center 6-4 Jeff Reinke will get the nod though he has trouble getting buckets or grabbing rebounds.

"Rebounding has been one of our major problems," says Maine coach Bernie Brady. "Wehman, Strom and Reinke have done the best rebounding for us with Wehman getting the most. However, no one has taken down the number we need."

Forest View starters, along with Baumgardt, will be Pat Dunnigan, Jeff Grismer, Byron Borgardt and Buckey Jones.

Dunnigan was a standout at Danville. He averaged over 15 points a game in tourney play and was selected to the all-tourney team. For the season Dunnigan has put in 193 points, an average of 17.5 in each outing. Grismer is next high with 101 points, a 9.2 average.

Lions' Jayvees Rout Maryville

St. Viator raced out to a 10-2 lead in the first period and coasted to a 48-32 junior varsity basketball victory over Maryville Academy last week.

Balanced scoring paid off for the Lions who held a commanding 28-10 lead at the intermission.

Pat Zeller was high for the winners with 12 points. Gary Berg tossed in nine and Tim Moore and Ken Balinski six each.

Wildcat Soph Wrestlers Win

Wheeling's unbeaten sophomore wrestlers overpowered Arlington High School in recent mat action.

Coach Frank Miller's Wildcats registered four pins, one decision, and three forfeit victories in a 38-12 team triumph.

Scoring wins for Wheeling were Rich Schachner (95), Rich Anderson (103), Rick Abrams (112), Jim Boschamp (120), Thad Mikols (127), Steve Strom (165), Pat McGuire (180), and Ron Frediani (heavyweight).

Picking up Arlington's points were Jeff Damm (133), Kelly Reid (138), Lance Navik (145), and Doug Sanderson (154).

Cards' Reid 3rd

Arlington High School's Kelly Reid placed third at 138 pounds in the Waukegan Sophomore Invitational wrestling tournament last week. The Cardinals finished eighth in the eight-team alignment with host Waukegan ruling the team entries.

And Dukes Meet Lions . . .

Maine East to Host Card Quintet Friday

by BOB FRISK

Nothing has changed. York is the team to beat and LaGrange appears to be the only club capable of knocking off the unbeaten Dukes.

Holiday tournament play did nothing to change anyone's thinking about the 1965-66 West Suburban Conference basketball race.

While York was breezing to the DeKalb holiday championship, LaGrange was grabbing runnerup honors at Proviso West.

West Suburban entries swing back into league warfare Friday evening and the main attraction will be in LaGrange where the Lions catch pace-setting York in the first of their two cracks at the Dukes.

A York victory Friday could just about settle the issue in a season that still has two months remaining.

WHILE THE Dukes and Lions will occupy center stage in the initial activity of the new year, three other games will be held at West Suburban Conference schools, including Arlington High School's visit to Maine East.

Coach Ted Wissen's Cardinals, currently involved in a hectic scramble for first division berths in the West Suburban, will be seeking their third conference victory and eighth win of the 1965-66 season Friday in the bout at Maine East.

The Cards survived Kankakee holiday tourney warfare with two victories in three games, but Wissen saw room for improvement.

"IT WASN'T A good tourney for us even though we did win two games," Wissen said. "We've played much better basketball this season. Our first game, in particular, was very poor but the kids did work hard against Kankakee and Glenbard East."

Wissen indicated that senior forward Jim Jorgensen (6-4) was "as steady a player as we had at Kankakee," and Jorgensen may earn a starting shot against Maine East.

Dave Lockwood (6-1), who has been a regular forward, sprained his ankle at Kankakee and didn't suit up in the final two games. Lockwood also has been bothered with a bad back and now looms as a definite question-mark for the game with Maine East.

WISSEN IS kicking around the possibility of some additional lineup changes but will probably wait and see if the situation dictates. His club has won seven games in ten starts and stands 2-2 in the West Suburban.

Junior guard Steve Allen, who had reached double figures in seven straight outings before he was checked with five against Homewood - Flossmoor, holds the team scoring lead after ten games with 146 points, a 14.6 per game average.

Terry Townley was limited to 14 points in three Kankakee tourney contests and saw his average skid from 16.6 to 13.0.

MAINE EAST'S Blue Demons have been having their troubles again this winter, and head man Bruce Brothers can only hope that the new year will bring some surprises.

Maine had something to shout about in holiday toruney play as they fashioned their first win of the season, knocking off Cary Grove in the Niles North feature. But the Park Ridge crew also dropped two games at Niles and now sports a 1-9 record this year.

The Blue Demons are the only West Suburban club without a victory in league play, but they have been fairly consistent in the amount of punishment they have received in four contests. They've dropped decisions by 18, 13, 16, and 14 points.

CRAIG MACGREGOR, a 6-5 center, is the Demons' top scorer in West Suburban scuffling with 47 points in four games, and the senior stuffed in 30 against Glenbard West's rangy front line.

Greg Olsen is next in line with 39 points and letterman Mitch Adams has 32. Olsen's best night was a 17-point effort against LaGrange.

Arlington and Maine have played two common opponents on the West Suburban schedule.

The Cards lost to Glenbard West, 84-73, and York, 80-61. Maine East lost to Glenbard, 72-59, and York, 64-46.

Niles, Prospect

on defense. Offensively our big surprise was Tom Lundstedt. I thought he'd score but what he did was way above what was expected."

Lundstedt was indeed a dazzling performer.

The 6-3 junior forward sank 39, 23, 20 and 31 points to set a new tourney record of 113 markers. His 39 points was a new school standard. From the floor Lundstedt made 42 of 54 shots (a percentage of 77.7) while at the line he popped in 29 of 41 (for 70.7 per cent). He also pulled down 39 rebounds.

In back of Lundstedt there were six who did much to win the tourney title.

TOM BEARD, Dan Agard, Tony Kulasa and J. D. Thorne were the quartet of starters who joined Lundstedt in spearheading the triumph. They'll also open against Niles West. From the bench came two more who added greatly to the Knights laurels: Dave Kingman and Craig Wolf.

Commented Kinneman, "I do think that Kingman and Wolf came in and did a tremendous job for us. When we needed something extra they gave it to us."

With that kind of showing last week, certainly over-confidence is a definite possibility when Prospect meets Niles. Still another psychological outlook could hamper the Knights—a letdown.

Following so important a series of pressure-filled games it might be hard to get "up" for the likes of Niles West. That's especially true when the current NW status is considered.

At present Niles, along with its 2-7 mark, is riding a three game losing streak. The Indians have been felled by Forest View, Proviso West and West Chicago. The latter pair of setbacks came in Proviso's holiday tourney. Niles wins have come earlier against Wheeling and Maine West.

"WE KNEW when the season began that we were an inexperienced ball club," states NW coach Billy Schnurr. "Eight lettermen had graduated and we felt it would take a while before we would jell. But, so far we haven't reached that point yet and right now we're struggling."

Trying to get back on the right track is a Niles five headed by a pair of juniors and a senior.

The juniors are Mike Pepper and George Timmings, a forward and center respectively. They do most of the Indians rebounding. "They're good at getting floor position," says Schnurr, "and each has been averaging 10 or 11 rebounds a game."

Timmings is also the NW scoring leader. He has hit for just over nine points a game while Pepper averages over eight an outing. The senior of the leading trio, guard Dan Herschstick, gets eight points each time he plays and is the team floor leader.

Rounding out the starting quintet for Niles are forward Bob Nielson and guard Lyle Killey. Both are seniors. Nielson is a recent addition to the starting squad and has been coming on strong lately according to coach Schnurr.

SAID SCHNURR of the Knights: "Dick Kinneman always does a very good job with his clubs. Prospect looks as if it is getting good at just the right time. I doubt whether over-confidence will hurt them."

Commented Kinneman: "A letdown or over-confidence are both possible after a tournament and I've seen that happen to other teams. Our win at Pontiac should make us tougher but we'll have to be careful and guard against having too much confidence or not taking any opponent seriously enough."

North Chicago Rules Palatine Mat Tourney

The predictable and the not so predictable mixed last week in the 11th Palatine Invitational Wrestling Tournament. The result was a show that one of television's brain children might have called "Wrestle For Your Life."

North Chicago, the pre-tourney favorite, won it all, but not until putting down a surprising Aurora West challenge. The Warhawks and Blackhawks mixed in a battle that carried to the last four wrestlers in the field. In the end, it was the Gesky boys — David and Tony — who carried the day for Bob Therry's team, disposing of Aurora challengers in the 180-pound and heavyweight finals. In final team totals, North Chicago had 78, Aurora 75 points.

As surprising as the Aurora challenge was the effort of Merv Miller's Conant contingent. The Cougars, getting six men past the opening round, finished up with 45 points, good for a tie for third with another pre-tourney choice, Naperville. Conant even had an individual winner in Fred Krempl, who ruled the pack at 133 pounds.

ARLINGTON, hampered by the sidelining of standouts Bruce Conti (127) and Mark Frase (heavyweight), ended a bout where expected: fifth with 38 points. Julius Fliehler's crew put six men into the semi-finals, but only two survived, and they lost in the finals.

The defending champion, DeKalb, ended an unpredictable sixth with 35 points, though having one individual winner.

Of Palatine, it can be said the Pirates did the generous thing after all. The hosts found the wrestling mats led only to the doormat, as they finished last in the field of eight, just behind seventh place Maine East. John Ellis' boys—of whom four survived the first round—compiled 23 points.

NORTH CHICAGO, clearly stamping itself as a threat for the state crown this spring, followed its impressive triumph at the Waukegan invitational by taking five individual firsts to win the Palatine meeting.

The Warhawks got eight wrestlers past the first round, and five of them into the finals. All five won. Doug Gross triumphed at 103, beating DeKalb's John Cliffe in the first round by a 2-0 decision; Aurora's Paul Casurella 8-0 in the semi-finals; and Conant's Tom Borthwick 3-1 in the finals.

Unbeaten Fred McQueen became the first to inflict defeat on Conant's sophomore Bill Gluck this year, nipping him 2-0 in the semi-finals on the way to a 6-1 victory over Naperville's John Lies in the 120 finals. Winning at 127 for North Chicago was Morise Linder, who beat Conant's Bill Lee 4-0 in the semis and Maine's Bruce Garnett by the same score in the finals.

BUT THE BIG moments for North Chicago came in the last two matches. Warhawks were matched with Blackhawks in both cases, and the outcomes were to dictate the meet.

David Gesky, after taking a decision in the 180-pound first round and pinning Arlington's Verne Gongol in the semi-finals, met Aurora's Chuck Butts. It was over in 18 seconds, Gesky the winner on a pin.

Brother Tony, a big first round winner in the heavyweight ranks, pinned Palatine's John Reed in the semi-finals. That put him against Aurora's Bob Galbreath in the finals, and Gesky took it 8-1.

North Chicago also had two thirds and a fourth in the meet, one of the thirds going to Charlie Parker, an upset victim of Aurora's Jack Hughes in the 138 semi-finals.

AURORA PUT NINE boys into the semi-finals, six into the finals. Three of the six won: Jim Jackson beating Arlington's Jim Whitnell at 95; Hughes beating Maine's Phil Eaton 6-2 at 138; and Clyde Schmedeke decisioning DeKalb's Ron Mathers 2-0 at 154.

Krempl won his title for Conant by beating Aurora's Al Henn 7-3 in the 133 finals. On the way, Fred made it 5-2 over Maine's Ed Egelstonn in the first round and 7-0 over Arlington's Chip Douglas in the semi-finals.

Borthwick got to the finals for Conant by beating Arlington's Jay McDonnell 6-0 and Palatine's Brad Molinari 5-1 in the semi-finals. The Cougars' Mike Ferguson, who lost the 112 pound title match to Naperville's Jim Schield on a pin, beat DeKalb's Ed Siebrasse (8-2) and Aurora's Jerry Grossman (pin) along the way. Taking thirds for the Cougars were Gluck, who came back to win 6-5 over DeKalb's Rick Low at 120; and Dennis Skoneczka, who beat Aurora's Ron Keenan 8-0 after losing 5-4 to Arlington's Kirk Wolter in a 145-pound semi-final match. Wolter later lost in the finals to Naperville's Keith Atten.

WOLTER HAD beaten DeKalb's Dick London 5-0 in the first round to start his trip to the finals. The other Arlington finalist, Whitnell at 95, defeated DeKalb's Howard Newquist (17-2) and North Chicago's Mike Choy (7-0) on the way.

Arlington had three third place winners, as Chip Douglas won 2-0 over Greg Massier of DeKalb at 133, Don Lindmark beat Maine's John Comstock 9-7 at 154 and Mike Jones made it 6-5 over Maine's Dan Tokoph at 165. All had won first round matches and lost in the semi-finals.

The best Palatine received was a second place from Bob Salinas. Wrestling at 165, he vanquished Aurora's Tim Smith 7-5 and Arlington's Mike Jones 3-2. In the finals, he was beaten by DeKalb's lone victor, Ron Kyler.

Palatine had a pair of thirds. Reed came back from his defeat by Gesky to decision Claude DeRusha of Maine East 5-1 and Paul Dolik—wrestling at 180—rebounded from a loss to Aurora's Butts to whip Arlington's Gongol 5-0.

FLYING CHAMPION—That's Conant's Fred Krempl, though he doubtless doesn't care to be sent soaring here by Arlington's Chip Douglas. Krempl didn't allow much of this kind of mistreatment, as he beat Douglas 7-0 and went on to the 133-pound crown in the Palatine holiday wrestling tourney. The team title went to North Chicago.

ings and now shows a 107 total for the year.

"HE GETS A lot of rebounds on the offensive boards," comments headman Owens of his 6-0 center. "Bischoff has been making many tip-in shots but he hasn't been getting good position under the defensive boards."

Mr. Dependable is what Neuckranz should be called. He made very few mistakes and turned in his usual steady performances against Fenton and Conant. He is his team's leading point producer. In double figures every game this season, Neuckranz has tallied 141 points.

In contrast to Neuckranz, Peterson and Newman have been much less than consistant.

Peterson, a driving playmaker, has shown totals of 18 for a high and three for a low in games thus far. He had six against Fenton and 16 against Conant. Peterson, in all contests, has 86 points.

Newman, in nine games, has registered 76 points, including 55 in his last five engagements. But, apparently he still is not producing at full potential.

"WE'RE STILL NOT getting the scoring from Newman that he's capable of giving us," Owens states. "If we could get 12 or 13 from him and keep Peterson at around 12 or 13 then we'd have the kind of scoring we need from our guards."

A slump has hurt most of Grandt's recent showings, but, with 12 points against Fenton, he may be on the road back. He has 75 points for the year and remains one of the toughest rebounders Wheeling has.

Top subs in recent Wildcats struggles have been Al Gibbon and Jerry Kerr. Gibbon is his team's sixth high scorer having hit 12 points in parts of six games. Valuable mainly for his floor play, Kerr has 10 points in nine outings.

"We've shown some improvement over play at the start of the season," comments coach Owens. "I'm pleased with our cutting down on mistakes and, of course, we have more experience which has helped."

Summed up the 'Cats cage director: "We're not being outclassed this year the way we were last. We're in most of our games now and when we are we always have a chance to win."

CHANCES TO win tomorrow may depend as much on Deerfield's health as it does on the quality of Wheeling's play.

"Injuries have hurt us more than anything else," says Warriors headman Lyle Frahm. "Having boys hurt means they can't practice which means we haven't put one unit on the floor that's used to playing together. That's caused many mistakes."

Deerfield carries a 4-5 record including a win and loss at Grayslake's holiday tourney into Wheeling. Trying to even that mark will be guards Jerry Carper and Kevin Morrison, center John Foster and forwards Dick McDermott and Tom Fuzzey. All have been sidelined at one time or another since the season began.

McDermott and Fuzzey, when both are well enough to play, have led the Warriors. An 18 point average belongs to McDermott for his eight outings while Fuzzey, in three games, has averaged 17 points.

Northwest 'Y' Has Judo Class

A 9-week introductory course in "Judo- The Gentle Way" will be offered at Northwest Suburban YMCA as part of its new skill school program.

The class begins Tuesday, Jan. 11, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Instruction in basic judo principles and techniques, including falling, throwing and self-defense, will be given to men 16 to 45 years old. The course is open to all, whether 'Y' members or not.

Those who successfully complete this initial course may join the YMCA Judo Club and continue their study in this sport.

Registration should be made by calling the 'Y' office at 296-3376.

Average Leader

Among men who have bowled 300 or more games in past BPAA All-Star Bowling Tournaments, Dick Weber of Florissant, Mo., leads the all-time average list. Weber has averaged 209.053 for 913 games in All-Star competition.

For Third Place

St. Mel Tops Lion Quintet

Larry Nomellini summed it up as "our worst game of the year."

St. Mel of Chicago jumped out to an early lead and held on last week (Tuesday) to pull out a 65-59 victory over frigid St. Viator in a third place tourney battle at St. Joseph of Westchester.

St. Viator had dropped its opening game to St. Joseph, 69-63.

The Lions unloaded 83 shots against St. Mel but only 23 found the mark over four periods to account for the dismal performance.

"IT WAS THAT way in both games," Nomellini explained. "We only hit about 33 per cent in our first game although we had 16 more shots than St. Joseph."

St. Mel hit the Lions early in the third place test, building up a 12-6 cushion after one period and increasing that to 31-16 at the intermission.

Dan Collins, 5-10 junior forward, keyed a third period offensive revival for St. Viator but it was too late. Collins fired in seven baskets in the third stanza as the Lions cut the difference to five points, 46-41.

SENIOR FORWARD Paul Dumke paced an 18-point fourth quarter for St. Viator, but St. Mel still added one more point to its advantage.

The victorious Knights did an effective job shutting off St. Viator's high-scoring guard Frank Hogan, who had drilled 24 against St. Joseph the previous night. Hogan hit on only two baskets in 12 shots and finished with four points, his lowest total of the season.

Collins was high for the loser with 17 points although four regulars reached double figures. Dumke chipped in 14, Paul Pomplun 13, and John Loughman 11.

St. Joseph belted St. Francis of Wheaton, 81-61, for the preliminary round title, but the Chargers fell to Marian Catholic, 61-49, in the tourney semifinals at St. Patrick.

DeLaSalle won the Chicagoland holiday title with a 63-45 victory over Marian.

Card Gymnasts At Home Friday

Arlington High School's gymnastics team, unbeaten in dual meets, will host Maine East Friday afternoon at 4:00 in the first West Suburban Conference meet of the 1965-66 season.

Jim Johannesen and Bert Schmitt will lead the Cardinal entry which has won four straight duals.

Arlington coach Tom Walthouse will be operating with trampoline standout Tom Riesing on the sidelines with an injury. The date of Riesing's return remains a question-mark.

St. Viator Soph Five Drops Two In Tournament

St. Viator's sophomore Lions dropped two straight games last week in the Glenbrook North Invitational soph basketball tournament.

Lake Forest belted the locals, 59-41, building up a 35-19 halftime lead, and Proviso East coasted, 56-28.

Pat Zeller was high for St. Viator in both games. He collected 14 against Lake Forest and eight against Proviso East.

Gary Berg chipped in with seven against Proviso as the Lions stayed in contention for the first half before wilting. (Sp improvement for Forest View has come in the area of turnovers. The Falcons averaged 13 miscues a game at Danville, a creditable accounting, and had just five in the championship game. "Our ball handling has been better all the way around," said Arneson.

Hawks, Falcons

Other steps up for FV have come in rebounding and in stiffer defensive work without an increase in fouls. "Because Maine scores well and likes to shoot we'll have to continue both when we meet them," Arneson offered.

Maine South has also been a picture of inconsistency. The Hawks dropped their first three games but then won four in a row. Last week they played two games at Rockford and received setbacks in each, losing to Rockford East 80-70 and West 52-50.

Pacing the MW efforts thus far have been Paul Wehman and Dave Strom. Wehman, a 6-3 forward, has averaged 18 points a game and picked up 29 and 18 in the Rockford encounters. A 15 point average belongs to 6-1 forward Strom.

THE HAWKS guards, Tom Beck and Rick Kilinski, have combined to tally 22 points in each game. Both are 6-0. At center 6-4 Jeff Reinke will get the nod though he has trouble getting buckets or grabbing rebounds.

"Rebounding has been one of our major problems," says Maine coach Bernie Brady. "Wehman, Strom and Reinke have done the best rebounding for us with Wehman getting the most. However, no one has taken down the number we need."

Forest View starters, along with Baumgardt, will be Pat Dunnigan, Jeff Grismer, Byron Borgardt and Buckey Jones.

Dunnigan was a standout at Danville. He averaged over 15 points a game in tourney play and was selected to the all-tourney team. For the season Dunnigan has put in 193 points, an average of 17.5 in each outing. Grismer is next high with 101 points, a 9.2 average.

Lions' Jayvees Rout Maryville

St. Viator raced out to a 10-2 lead in the first period and coasted to a 48-32 junior varsity basketball victory over Maryville Academy last week.

Balanced scoring paid off for the Lions who held a commanding 28-10 lead at the intermission.

Pat Zeller was high for the winners with 12 points. Gary Berg tossed in nine and Tim Moore and Ken Balinski six each.

Wildcat Soph Wrestlers Win

Wheeling's unbeaten sophomore wrestlers overpowered Arlington High School in recent mat action.

Coach Frank Miller's Wildcats registered four pins, one decision, and three forfeit victories in a 38-12 team triumph.

Scoring wins for Wheeling were Rich Schachner (95), Rich Anderson (103), Rick Abrams (112), Jim Boschamp (120), Thad Mikols (127), Steve Strom (165), Pat McGuire (180), and Ron Frediani (heavyweight).

Picking up Arlington's points were Jeff Damm (133), Kelly Reid (138), Lance Navik (145), and Doug Sanderson (154).

Cards' Reid 3rd

Arlington High School's Kelly Reid placed third at 138 pounds in the Waukegan Sophomore Invitational wrestling tournament last week. The Cardinals finished eighth in the eight-team alignment with host Waukegan ruling the team entries.

And Dukes Meet Lions . . .

Maine East to Host Card Quintet Friday

by BOB FRISK

Nothing has changed. York is the team to beat and LaGrange appears to be the only club capable of knocking off the unbeaten Dukes.

Holiday tournament play did nothing to change anyone's thinking about the 1965-66 West Suburban Conference basketball race.

While York was breezing to the DeKalb holiday championship, LaGrange was grabbing runnerup honors at Proviso West.

West Suburban entries swing back into league warfare Friday evening and the main attraction will be in LaGrange where the Lions catch pace-setting York in the first of their two cracks at the Dukes.

A York victory Friday could just about settle the issue in a season that still has two months remaining.

WHILE THE Dukes and Lions will occupy center stage in the initial activity of the new year, three other games will be held at West Suburban Conference schools, including Arlington High School's visit to Maine East.

Coach Ted Wissen's Cardinals, currently involved in a hectic scramble for first division berths in the West Suburban, will be seeking their third conference victory and eighth win of the 1965-66 season Friday in the bout at Maine East.

The Cards survived Kankakee holiday tourney warfare with two victories in three games, but Wissen saw room for improvement.

"IT WASN'T A good tourney for us even though we did win two games," Wissen said. "We've played much better basketball this season. Our first game, in particular, was very poor but the kids did work hard against Kankakee and Glenbard East."

Wissen indicated that senior forward Jim Jorgensen (6-4) was "as steady a player as we had at Kankakee," and Jorgensen may earn a starting shot against Maine East.

Dave Lockwood (6-1), who has been a regular forward, sprained his ankle at Kankakee and didn't suit up in the final two games. Lockwood also has been bothered with a bad back and now looms as a definite question-mark for the game with Maine East.

WISSEN IS kicking around the possibility of some additional lineup changes but will probably wait and see if the situation dictates. His club has won seven games in ten starts and stands 2-2 in the West Suburban.

Junior guard Steve Allen, who had reached double figures in seven straight outings before he was checked with five against Homewood - Flossmoor, holds the team scoring lead after ten games with 146 points, a 14.6 per game average.

Terry Townley was limited to 14 points in three Kankakee tourney contests and saw his average skid from 16.6 to 13.0.

MAINE EAST'S Blue Demons have been having their troubles again this winter, and head man Bruce Brothers can only hope that the new year will bring some surprises.

Maine had something to shout about in holiday toruney play as they fashioned their first win of the season, knocking off Cary Grove in the Niles North feature. But the Park Ridge crew also dropped two games at Niles and now sports a 1-9 record this year.

The Blue Demons are the only West Suburban club without a victory in league play, but they have been fairly consistent in the amount of punishment they have received in four contests. They've dropped decisions by 18, 13, 16, and 14 points.

CRAIG MACGREGOR, a 6-5 center, is the Demons' top scorer in West Suburban scuffling with 47 points in four games, and the senior stuffed in 30 against Glenbard West's rangy front line.

Greg Olsen is next in line with 39 points and letterman Mitch Adams has 32. Olsen's best night was a 17-point effort against LaGrange.

Arlington and Maine have played two common opponents on the West Suburban schedule.

The Cards lost to Glenbard West, 84-73, and York, 80-61. Maine East lost to Glenbard, 72-59, and York, 64-46.

Niles, Prospect

on defense. Offensively our big surprise was Tom Lundstedt. I thought he'd score but what he did was way above what was expected."

Lundstedt was indeed a dazzling performer.

The 6-3 junior forward sank 39, 23, 20 and 31 points to set a new tourney record of 113 markers. His 39 points was a new school standard. From the floor Lundstedt made 42 of 54 shots (a percentage of 77.7) while at the line he popped in 29 of 41 (for 70.7 per cent). He also pulled down 39 rebounds.

In back of Lundstedt there were six who did much to win the tourney title.

TOM BEARD, Dan Agard, Tony Kulasa and J. D. Thorne were the quartet of starters who joined Lundstedt in spearheading the triumph. They'll also open against Niles West. From the bench came two more who added greatly to the Knights laurels: Dave Kingman and Craig Wolf.

Commented Kinneman, "I do think that Kingman and Wolf came in and did a tremendous job for us. When we needed something extra they gave it to us."

With that kind of showing last week, certainly over-confidence is a definite possibility when Prospect meets Niles. Still another psychological outlook could hamper the Knights—a letdown.

Following so important a series of pressure-filled games it might be hard to get "up" for the likes of Niles West. That's especially true when the current NW status is considered.

At present Niles, along with its 2-7 mark, is riding a three game losing streak. The Indians have been felled by Forest View, Proviso West and West Chicago. The latter pair of setbacks came in Proviso's holiday tourney. Niles wins have come earlier against Wheeling and Maine West.

"WE KNEW when the season began that we were an inexperienced ball club," states NW coach Billy Schnurr. "Eight lettermen had graduated and we felt it would take a while before we would jell. But, so far we haven't reached that point yet and right now we're struggling."

Trying to get back on the right track is a Niles five headed by a pair of juniors and a senior.

The juniors are Mike Pepper and George Timmings, a forward and center respectively. They do most of the Indians rebounding. "They're good at getting floor position," says Schnurr, "and each has been averaging 10 or 11 rebounds a game."

Timmings is also the NW scoring leader. He has hit for just over nine points a game while Pepper averages over eight an outing. The senior of the leading trio, guard Dan Herschstick, gets eight points each time he plays and is the team floor leader.

Rounding out the starting quintet for Niles are forward Bob Nielson and guard Lyle Killey. Both are seniors. Nielson is a recent addition to the starting squad and has been coming on strong lately according to coach Schnurr.

SAID SCHNURR of the Knights: "Dick Kinneman always does a very good job with his clubs. Prospect looks as if it is getting good at just the right time. I doubt whether over-confidence will hurt them."

Commented Kinneman: "A letdown or over-confidence are both possible after a tournament and I've seen that happen to other teams. Our win at Pontiac should make us tougher but we'll have to be careful and guard against having too much confidence or not taking any opponent seriously enough."

Knight Cagers Win Title in Pontiac Tourney

Top Three Quintets On Road to Finale

by MICHAEL HESS

Ambush is the major threat to any basketball entry seeking travel on a championship path in tournament competition.

For Prospect's quintet the trail to Pontiac tourney honors held three-pronged peril. A trio of enemies attacked along the way.

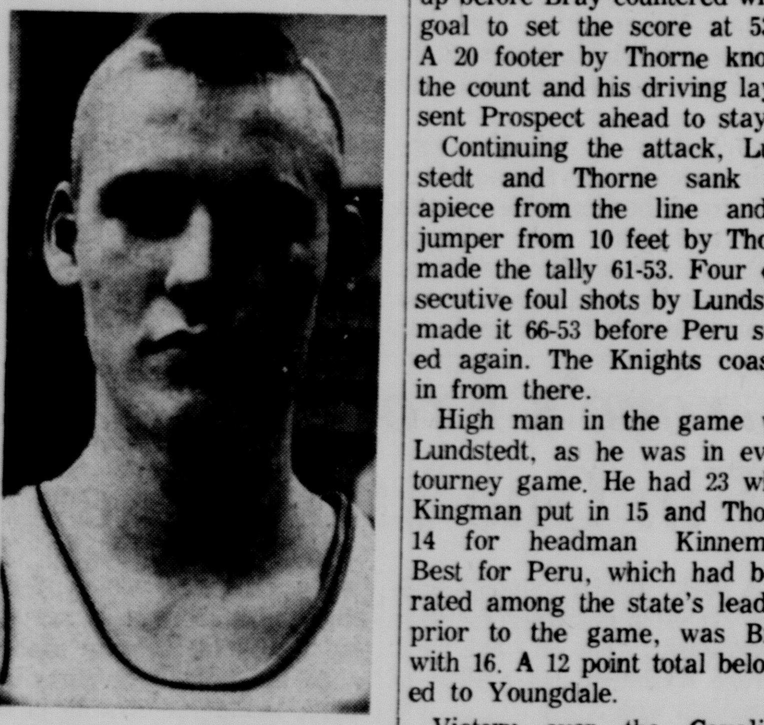
First to offer resistance was Granite City and the Knights knocked off GC 82-61. Then, by 73-58 and 51-43 tallies, the forces of coach Dick Kinneman swept aside challenges from LaSalle Peru and Waukegan.

Those victories put Prospect in the tournament title showdown against Springfield (see separate story). To get that far the Knights used a simple formula — start fast and finish faster.

IN EACH OF the three games Kinneman's five jumped off to an opening quarter lead. Middle period play found Prospect being held even or falling behind but closing bursts always resulted in triumph.

Pacing the Knights scorers was 6-3, 190 pound junior forward Tom Lundstedt. He averaged 27.3 points for the three outings on 29 of 40 attempts from the floor and 24 of 35 at the charity stripe. Lundstedt's rebounding was also a major factor in each contest.

Behind Lundstedt the word was "balance," as six others, Dave Kingman, J. D. Thorne, Dan Agard, Tony Kulasa, Tom Beard and Craig Wolf, added key efforts to Prospect's drive for the top.



TOM LUNDSTEDT
Record Smasher

In the tourney opener however, the story was all Lundstedt. Against Granite City he connected at a record breaking clip and the Knights went in front 20-16 after one period and 41-27 at the half. Lundstedt put in 28 points before the intermission.

Through the next eight minutes Prospect maintained its advantage and, in the final quarter, poured in 24 points to set the 82-61 score. The winners shot an amazing 68 per cent from the floor.

LUNDSTEDT FINISHED the contest with 39 points, on 14 field goals and 11 free throws, to establish a new school scoring mark. His total surpassed the old standard of 32 held jointly by George Pomey and Dick Palmer. Pomey made his 32 in 1960 and Palmer in 1961.

One other of the Knights made double figures when facing the GC Warriors. That was Thorne who had 10. Heading Granite City's scorers were Elmer Warthan, Jim Hentzel and Larry Ripka with 15, 14 and 13 respectively.

A torrid spurt to start their next game put the Knights ahead of LaSalle Peru 19-2 with 90 seconds left in period one. Lundstedt had eight and Beard five of those markers. Then the Cavaliers began to close the gap.

Buckets by Bruce Bray and John Youngdale cut Prospect's margin to 34-28 at the half. Bray had eight and Youngdale four in quarter two. That pair chipped in six and two each during quarter three as Peru's assault resulted in a 51-46 advantage.

The Knights came back with a blistering final period.

THORNE AND Lundstedt put in free throws and Wolf a lay-up before Bray countered with a goal to set the score at 53-51. A 20 footer by Thorne knotted the count and his driving lay-up sent Prospect ahead to stay.

Continuing the attack, Lundstedt and Thorne sank two apiece from the line and a jumper from 10 feet by Thorne made the tally 61-53. Four consecutive foul shots by Lundstedt made it 66-53 before Peru scored again. The Knights coasted in from there.

High man in the game was Lundstedt, as he was in every tourney game. He had 23 while Kingman put in 15 and Thorne 14 for headman Kinneman. Best for Peru, which had been rated among the state's leaders prior to the game, was Bray with 16. A 12 point total belonged to Youngdale.

Victory over the Cavaliers put Prospect into the semi-final game against Waukegan. The Bulldogs had lost just one battle going into the tourney and were undefeated in a tough Suburban League schedule.

Again the Knights started fast. They were on top 7-2 and 9-4 in the beginning period. Entering quarter two the margin was the same at 13-8. But, things quickly tightened up.

LANSTON HUGHES, a 5-11 senior guard, helped bring Waukegan back. Hughes flipped in 10 points in the second quarter and the Bulldogs held a 23-20 advantage one minute before the intermission. Prospect assumed a one point, 24-23 half time lead on two last second goals by sub Kingman.

Opponent Wins

Except for encounters with coach Dick Kinneman's quintet, Prospect tournament opponents gained nothing but victory.

Granite City won three straigh games after its loss to the Knights and took the tourney consolation title with a 68-63 whipping of Bloom.

Waukegan also was undefeated except for its setback by Prospect. The Bulldogs captured third place by stopping host Pontiac 67-32.

Kingman and Lundstedt did all Knights' scoring in period three. Both had five in that quarter which weren't enough as Hughes, Tom Koesser and Manuel DelaRosa combined to give Waukegan a 36-34 lead going into the final quarter.

Those last eight minutes opened with Kingman making a driving lay-up and Agard a 10 footer to send Prospect in front 38-36. The Bulldogs were back on top 39-38 after Maury Cole made one from 15 feet and Koesser popped in a foul shot. Kingman and Brian Ambrose traded goals and the margin remained the same.

Then the Knights made another closing and winning move.

Kingman sank two free throws to put Prospect ahead, Lundstedt drove for a lay-up and hit a six-footer and Kingman added another charity marker. That burst more than off-set a Waukegan two-pointer and made the Knights leaders at 47-43.

DURING THE last 40 seconds Lundstedt, who had 20 points in the game, dropped in two lay-ups to establish the final totals at 51-43. Kingman was next high in the game with 16 while nine were made by Agard. Hughes paced Waukegan's offense with 13 points.

Against both LaSalle Peru and Waukegan the Knights connected on 55 per cent of their field goal tries.

At Danville Cage Affair . . .

FV Five Takes Second

Territory surrounding Danville, Illinois adapts itself to fit the mood of any passer-by as those who follow Forest View must know full well.

Fans who journeyed to view the Falcons in Danville's holiday cage tourney had three trips over happy terrain. FV won a trio of games.

At the end however, the quaint old-fashioned towns en route must have become dingy, dull, sad "bergs." In its final Danville encounter Forest View was defeated.

Resulting from that 3-1 mark was a second place tourney finish for coach Ken Arneson's forces.

FV OPENED THE vacation action by slapping down Naperville 54-48 (reported last week) and then came a 61-52 decision against DuQuoin. Those victories put Forest View into the tourney semi-finals where they just edged past a rugged Farragut quintet 54-53.

In the championship battle the Falcons met Danville-Schlarman. Headman Arneson's team never really got off the ground against Schlarman and the Hilltoppers took the game and the crown by a 52-35 margin.

High scorer in the tournament for FV was forward Pat Dunnigan. The 6-2 senior totaled 62 points in the quartet of outings, a 15.5 average per game. Dunnigan also pulled down 34 rebounds at Danville.

Best of those in support of Dunnigan was Jeff Grismer. He had 35 points and 26 rebounds. Scoring by other regulars was evenly divided as Byron Borgardt and Jim Buckholz each had 28 points while center Jim Baumgardt hit 27 and got 27 rebounds.

In the second tourney battle it was Forest View balance versus DuQuoin's individual standout Al Crews.

CREWS, A 6-7 sophomore, was about the whole Indians offense through the first three quarters. He totaled 26 points and got all but four of those prior to that final period.

For FV, five players had to score to offset Crews' showing. Dunnigan, Baumgardt, Borgardt, Grismer and Buckholz all came through however, and the Falcons trailed by just one, 44-43, going into the last eight minutes. Then Forest View broke loose.

Using a pressing defense the Falcons ran up 18 final quarter markers to just eight for DuQuoin. Borgardt made the first break for FV with two driving lay-ups which came after he twice stole the ball. That put his team ahead and Forest View didn't trail again.

PAT DUNNIGAN
All-Tourney

High scorer in the game was Crews but Dunnigan, with 14, Baumgardt, with 11, and Borgardt, with 10, all hit double figures for the Falcons. They were backed by nine apiece from Grismer and Buckholz.

Behind Crews, fellow Indians Tom Saunches and Don Eisenhauer each tallied eight while Fred Foster topped all rebounders with 12. Dunnigan and Baumgardt pulled 11 and 10 respectively from the boards for FV.

Against Farragut there was a different story.

FOREST VIEW WAS paced by Dunnigan, who totaled 22, while the Admirals' Gene Collins and Lew Johnson led a balanced attack with 19 and 15 points. Not different however was the closeness of the contest which kept both teams even right down to the wire.

After one quarter the totals were knotted at 14 each but, with Dunnigan and Grismer making the buckets, FV assumed a 33-29 advantage at the half. Collins and Johnson, with firm support from Jim Ware, brought Farragut back to a 41-40 lead entering last period play.

Falcons and Admirals traded buckets for the next seven minuites.

Finally, with just six seconds showing on the clock, the score was tied again at 53-53. At that juncture Dunnigan was fouled and went to the line in a one and one situation. He sank his first try but missed the second and Farragut got possession.

The Admirals worked the ball up court by passing in and immediately calling time out. They called time out three times and, in just two seconds of playing time had the ball out of bounds in their own half court. The pass in went to the brilliant Collins.

COLLINS PIVOTED and drove for the basket but he was charged with an offensive foul. The refs said he had pushed the guarding Dunnigan with a forearm and the ball was awarded to the Falcons. Final seconds ticked away and FV had advanced to the finals.

Leading rebounder for Forest View against Farragut was Grismer with 10. Dunnigan had eight and Baumgardt seven. For the Admirals, Collins got 12 off the boards to take game rebounding honors.

Pick Dunnigan

Forest View's Pat Dunnigan was named to the all-tourney team as a result of his performance at Danville with the second place Falcons.

Others on the team were Dan Kuemmerle and Greg Davis from Schlarman, Gene Collins of Farragut, Al Crews of DuQuoin, Laurie Miller of Blue Island, Dave Handy of Watseka, Mike Casey of Urbana, and Doug Mathisen and Jim Davis of Danville.

In the championship meeting, held last Wednesday night, a combination of factors brought the one-sided defeat to Forest View. Poor shooting, physical weakness and topnotch play by the opposition all lent to the FV downfall.

As the game opened Schlarman raced in front 8-0 and the pattern of the game had been set. The Falcons had to fight from behind. After one quarter,

In Kankakee Tourney

Cardinal Five Cops Consolation Honors

Arlington spent another holiday season in Kankakee but didn't enjoy the visit as much as last winter.

The Cardinals did bring home another trophy and did capture two victories in three games—the same as 1964—but there were some marked differences in the two excursions.

For one thing, coach Ted Wissen's Cardinals didn't lose until the championship game in 1964. They dropped their first game at Kankakee last week.

Arlington also turned in some sharp basketball in '64. Wissen admits his charges "didn't play very well' in the latest Kankakee tournament.

"I just don't know what the problem was," Wissen said this week in looking back to the three engagements. "We did win two games and the boys worked hard after that first game, but they weren't sharp."

ARLINGTON rebounded from an opening setback to Homewood-Flossmoor to rock host Kankakee 54-41 and Glenbard East 55-50 for the consolation title.

That opener with Homewood is best forgotten as the Cards played their poorest game of the year in falling by 17 points, 64-47.

Flossmoor shot out to a 21-6 lead in the first period and coasted as Arlington experienced a cold night from the floor, hitting only 15 of 57 shots. The Vikings were on top 37-23 at halftime.

"THAT WAS our best first quarter of the season," Homewood coach George VanderWeyden said. He recalled that his boys often sputter slowly into action before stirring up a worthwhile offense.

"We had to neutralize their height," the Viking head man continued, "and we got good position on the boards. And our zone gave them problems."

Bruce Hubbard was the only Cardinal reading double figures, collecting ten points. High-scoring guards Steve Allen and Terry Townley, who had been combining for 34 points per game, were checked with 13.

ARLINGTON BOUNCED back to the following night in consolation play although operating without regular Dave Lockwood who was shelved with a bum ankle. Lockwood, who also has had back problems, only played two periods in three games at Kankakee.

The Cardinals pulled away from a halftime deadlock with a four-point cushion in the third quarter against host Kankakee and put the game out of reach with an explosive concluding stanza.

Jim Jorgensen, filling in for Lockwood, was the first-half leader for Arlington with six baskets, and Hubbard poured through eight points over the final two periods.

Arlington made 12 trips to the free throw line in the final eight minutes and cashed in nine times. Allen had five points and Hubbard and Jim Donchess chipped in four each in that final quarter.

Allen was high for Arlington with 14 points, six from the charity line.

JORGENSEN turned in another impressive effort Wednesday evening as he sparked the Cardinals to a 55-50 victory over Glenbard East in the battle for consolation honors.

The 6-4 senior dialed eight points in the final period as Arlington battled from one point behind to pull out the victory. Jorgensen hit four times from the free throw line in the pressure-packed windup.

Arlington held a 28-24 lead at the intermission and the points came on field goals only. Only three fouls were called in the first half.

Jim Roberts, high-scoring Ram who finished with 26 points, hit three baskets in each of the first three periods to lead his club into a 38-37 lead with eight minutes left.

That's when Jorgensen went to work to decide the issue.

Jorgensen was high for Arlington with 14 points. Hubbard added 13, eight in the opening half.

Allen and Pete Barker, coming off the bench, had nine each.

Tip Springfield to Take Championship

by MICHAEL HESS

"Barnburner" is a proper label for last Thursday's basketball game between Prospect and Springfield.

"Champions" is the correct Knights' tab because of that contest. They edged the Senators 61-58 for title honors in Pontiac's tournament.

"Comeback" was the method used for triumph by coach Dick Kinneman's forces. They were down 39-32 with just 12 minutes left in the struggle.

"Clutch" is the only term for the victor's performance. After falling behind by seven they made 8 of 11 from the floor and 9 of 11 at the line to pick up the winning points.

LEADING UP to that final tourney encounter Prospect had advanced by defeating Granite City, LaSalle Peru and Waukegan (see separate story). As he had been in those earlier battles, Tom Lundstedt was the Knights' leader against Springfield.

Lundstedt sank 13 of 14 field goal attempts and five of six free throws to help sink the Senators. He hit 11 of his 31 points in the crucial final quarter.

TONY KULASA
In The Clutch

In his four game tourney effort Lundstedt put in 42 of 54 goal tries and 29 of 41 from the charity stripe. His percentages of 77.7 from the floor and 70.7 at the line resulted in 113 points, breaking by two the Pontiac Holiday Tournament mark set last year by Dave Golden of Pekin.

Sharing closing game laurels with Lundstedt was guard Tony Kulasa. Kulasa, more a play than a point maker for Prospect, garnered 10 markers against the Senators. More importantly however, five of those points came in the last period and two of those in the last six seconds.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP game opened with a nip-and-tuck first half. Scoring totals were tied six times and the lead changed hands seven times before the intermission.

Those beginning quarters also featured a personal dual between Lundstedt and Springfield's 6-7 junior Dave Robisch. For periods one and two Lundstedt had 17 and Robisch 16 points but the Senators were in front 32-29 when third quarter play started.

Bill Martin was the first to tally in the second half. He banged in a lay-up for Springfield. Dave Kingman countered for the Knights with a jumper from 15 feet but Martin made a pair from the line and Jerry Stutler hit a free throw making the score 37-31.

Craig Wolf made one foul toss for Prospect but, with the clock showing 4:00, Mark Stoddart gave the Senators their largest margin 39-32 with a goal from eight feet. Then the Knights started their comeback.

Other Records

In addition to Lundstedt's individual point mark, two other tournament records were established last week at Pontiac.

Granite City's total in a 99-56 defeat of Bloomington broke the old single team standard of 91. In addition, the two team total of 162 in an 85-77 triumph for GC over Richwoods cracked the former mark of 155.

Lundstedt made a three point play bringing the count to 39-35 but Stoddart made another bucket and the score was 41-37. Kulasa chimed in at that point with a three point play and Prospect's J. D. Thorne flipped one in from 15 feet to bring the Knights within one at 41-40.

THERE WAS ONE minute remaining in quarter three when Springfield began to stall for the final shot. They held the ball until just three seconds were left and then Martin jumped for two points and a 43-40 advantage as final period play started.

Dan Agard combined with Lundstedt to tie the score at 43 each to open the fourth quarter. Agard put in a foul toss and Lundstedt a goal from seven feet. But, Robisch made two free throws to put his team in front once again. Thanks to some outstanding defensive work by the Knights' Tom Beard, Robisch, who finished with 19, got just one more point in the game.

With the totals at 45-43, Kulasa made three from the foul line and Lundstedt a tip-in to send Prospect on top for good. Jurkins and Lundstedt traded lay-ups and then Wolf drove the length of the court for another in-close shot and the Knights held a 52-47 margin.

At the four minute mark Stoddart made a goal but that was countered by Lundstedt's two-pointer and a pair of free throws from Beard. The score was 56-49 and Prospect began to stall.

Until there were just 90 seconds left the score remained the same. Headman Kinneman's stalling tactics had worked to that juncture.

THEN JURKINS made a goal for Springfield and Stutler drove for a lay-up and the margin was close again at 56-53. Jurkins and Lundstedt traded buckets from underneath to set 58-55 totals. A free toss from Lundstedt brought a field goal answer from the Senators' Martin and the gap was only two points, 59-57, with 19 seconds left.

Prospect stalled for 13 seconds before Kulasa was fouled. In a one and one situation he made both attempts making the score 61-57 and wrapping up the decision for the Knights. Robisch popped in Springfield's last point on a free throw with one second remaining but the outcome had been decided.

Knight Cagers Win Title in Pontiac Tourney

Top Three Quintets On Road to Finale

by MICHAEL HESS

Ambush is the major threat to any basketball entry seeking travel on a championship path in tournament competition.

For Prospect's quintet the trail to Pontiac tourney honors held three-pronged peril. A trio of enemies attacked along the way.

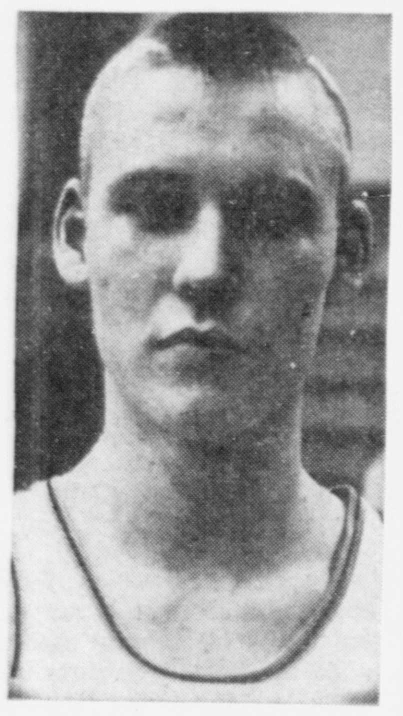
First to offer resistance was Granite City and the Knights knocked off GC 82-61. Then, by 73-58 and 51-43 tallies, the forces of coach Dick Kinneman swept aside challenges from LaSalle Peru and Waukegan.

Those victories put Prospect in the tournament title showdown against Springfield (see separate story). To get that far the Knights used a simple formula — start fast and finish faster.

IN EACH OF the three games Kinneman's five jumped off to an opening quarter lead. Middle period play found Prospect being held even or falling behind but closing bursts always resulted in triumph.

Pacing the Knights scorers was 6-3, 190 pound junior forward Tom Lundstedt. He averaged 27.3 points for the three outings on 29 of 40 attempts from the floor and 24 of 35 at the charity stripe. Lundstedt's rebounding was also a major factor in each contest.

Behind Lundstedt the word was "balance," as six others, Dave Kingman, J. D. Thorne, Dan Agard, Tony Kulasa, Tom Beard and Craig Wolf, added key efforts to Prospect's drive for the top.



TOM LUNDSTEDT
Record Smasher

In the tourney opener however, the story was all Lundstedt. Against Granite City he connected at a record breaking clip and the Knights went in front 20-16 after one period and 41-27 at the half. Lundstedt put in 28 points before the intermission.

Through the next eight minutes Prospect maintained its advantage and, in the final quarter, poured in 24 points to set the 82-61 score. The winners shot an amazing 68 per cent from the floor.

LUNDSTEDT FINISHED the contest with 39 points, on 14 field goals and 11 free throws, to establish a new school scoring mark. His total surpassed the old standard of 32 held jointly by George Pomey and Dick Palmer. Pomey made his 32 in 1960 and Palmer in 1961.

One other of the Knights made double figures when facing the GC Warriors. That was Thorne who had 10. Heading Granite City's scorers were Elmer Warthan, Jim Hentzel and Larry Ripka with 15, 14 and 13 respectively.

A torrid spurt to start their next game put the Knights ahead of LaSalle Peru 19-2 with 90 seconds left in period one. Lundstedt had eight and Beard five of those markers. Then the Cavaliers began to close the gap.

Buckets by Bruce Bray and John Youngdale cut Prospect's margin to 34-28 at the half. Bray had eight and Youngdale four in quarter two. That pair chipped in six and two each during quarter three as Peru's assault resulted in a 51-46 advantage.

The Knights came back with a blistering final period.

THORNE AND Lundstedt put in free throws and Wolf a lay-up before Bray countered with a goal to set the score at 53-51. A 20 footer by Thorne knotted the count and his driving lay-up sent Prospect ahead to stay.

Continuing the attack, Lundstedt and Thorne sank two apiece from the line and a jumper from 10 feet by Thorne made the tally 61-53. Four consecutive foul shots by Lundstedt made it 66-53 before Peru scored again. The Knights coasted in from there.

High man in the game was Lundstedt, as he was in every tourney game. He had 23 while Kingman put in 15 and Thorne 14 for headman Kinneman. Best for Peru, which had been rated among the state's leaders prior to the game, was Bray with 16. A 12 point total belonged to Youngdale.

Victory over the Cavaliers put Prospect into the semi-final game against Waukegan. The Bulldogs had lost just one battle going into the tourney and were undefeated in a tough Suburban League schedule.

Again the Knights started fast. They were on top 7-2 and 9-4 in the beginning period. Entering quarter two the margin was the same at 13-8. But, things quickly tightened up.

LANSTON HUGHES, a 5-11 senior guard, helped bring Waukegan back. Hughes flipped in 10 points in the second quarter and the Bulldogs held a 23-20 advantage one minute before the intermission. Prospect assumed a one point, 24-23 halftime lead on two last second goals by sub Kingman.

Kingman and Lundstedt did all Knights' scoring in period three. Both had five in that quarter which weren't enough as Hughes, Tom Koesser and Manuel DelaRosa combined to give Waukegan a 36-34 lead going into the final quarter.

Those last eight minutes opened with Kingman making a driving lay-up and Agard a 10 footer to send Prospect in front 38-36. The Bulldogs were back on top 39-38 after Maury Cole made one from 15 feet and Koesser popped in a foul shot. Kingman and Brian Ambrose traded goals and the margin remained the same.

Then the Knights made another closing and winning move.

Kingman sank two free throws to put Prospect ahead, Lundstedt drove for a lay-up and hit a six-footer and Kingman added another charity marker. That burst more than off-set a Waukegan two-pointer and made the Knights leaders at 47-43.

DURING THE last 40 seconds Lundstedt, who had 20 points in the game, dropped in two lay-ups to establish the final totals at 51-43. Kingman was next high in the game with 16 while nine were made by Agard. Hughes paced Waukegan's offense with 13 points.

Against both LaSalle Peru and Waukegan the Knights connected on 55 per cent of their field goal tries.

Opponent Wins

Except for encounters with coach Dick Kinneman's quintet, Prospect tournament opponents gained nothing but victory.

Granite City won three straigh games after its loss to the Knights and took the tourney consolation title with a 68-63 whipping of Bloom.

Waukegan also was undefeated except for its setback by Prospect. The Bulldogs captured third place by stopping host Pontiac 67-32.

In the championship battle the Falcons met Danville-Schlarman. Headman Arneson's team never really got off the ground against Schlarman and the Hilltoppers took the game and the crown by a 52-35 margin.

High scorer in the tournament for FV was forward Pat Dunnigan. The 6-2 senior totaled 62 points in the quartet of outings, a 15.5 average per game. Dunnigan also pulled down 34 rebounds at Danville.

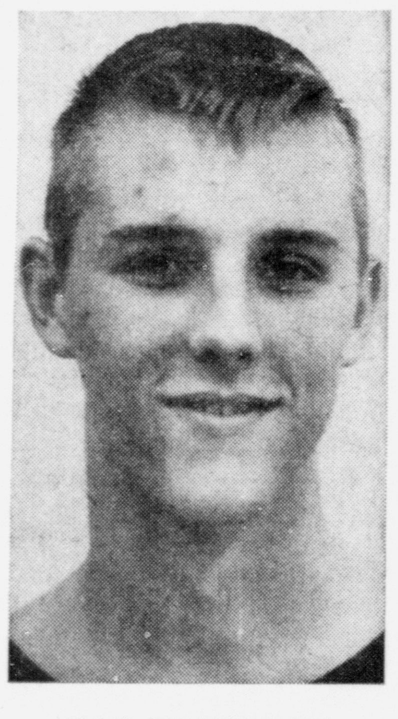
Best of those in support of Dunnigan was Jeff Grismer. He had 35 points and 26 rebounds. Scoring by other regulars was evenly divided as Byron Borgardt and Jim Buckholz each had 28 points while center Jim Baumgardt hit 27 and got 27 rebounds.

In the second tourney battle it was Forest View balance versus DuQuoin's individual standout Al Crews.

CREWS, A 6-7 sophomore, was about the whole Indians offense through the first three quarters. He totaled 26 points and got all but four of those prior to that final period.

For FV, five players had to score to offset Crews' showing. Dunnigan, Baumgardt, Borgardt, Grismer and Buckholz all came through however, and the Falcons trailed by just one, 44-43, going into the last eight minutes. Then Forest View broke loose.

Using a pressing defense the Falcons ran up 18 final quarter markers to just eight for DuQuoin. Borgardt made the first break for FV with two driving lay-ups which came after he twice stole the ball. That put his team ahead and Forest View didn't trail again.



PAT DUNNIGAN
All-Tourney

High scorer in the game was Crews but Dunnigan, with 14, Baumgardt, with 11, and Borgardt, with 10, all hit double figures for the Falcons. They were backed by nine apiece from Grismer and Buckholz.

Behind Crews, fellow Indians Tom Saunches and Don Eisenhauer each tallied eight while Fred Foster topped all rebounders with 12. Dunnigan and Baumgardt pulled 11 and 10 respectively from the boards for FV.

Against Farragut there was a different story.

FOREST VIEW WAS paced by Dunnigan, who totaled 22, while the Admirals' Gene Collins and Lew Johnson led a balanced attack with 19 and 15 points. Not different however was the closeness of the contest which kept both teams even right down to the wire.

After one quarter the totals were knotted at 14 each but, with Dunnigan and Grismer making the buckets, FV assumed a 33-29 advantage at the half. Collins and Johnson, with firm support from Jim Ware, brought Farragut back to a 41-40 lead entering last period play.

Falcons and Admirals traded buckets for the next seven minutes.

Finally, with just six seconds showing on the clock, the score was tied again at 53-53. At that juncture Dunnigan was fouled and went to the line in a one and one situation. He sank his first try but missed the second and Farragut got possession.

The Admirals worked the ball up court by passing in and immediately calling time out. They called time out three times and, in just two seconds of playing time had the ball out of bounds in their own half court. The pass in went to the brilliant Collins.

COLLINS PIVOTED and drove for the basket but he was charged with an offensive foul. The refs said he had pushed the guarding Dunnigan with a forearm and the ball was awarded to the Falcons. Final seconds ticked away and FV had advanced to the finals.

Leading rebounder for Forest View against Farragut was Grismer with 10. Dunnigan had eight and Baumgardt seven. For the Admirals, Collins got 12 off the boards to take game rebounding honors.

Pick Dunnigan

Forest View's Pat Dunnigan was named to the all-tourney team as a result of his performance at Danville with the second place Falcons.

Others on the team were Dan Kuemmerle and Greg Davis from Schlarman, Gene Collins of Farragut, Al Crews of DuQuoin, Laurie Miller of Blue Island, Dave Handy of Watseka, Mike Casey of Urbana, and Doug Mathisen and Jim Davis of Danville.

In the championship meeting, held last Wednesday night, a combination of factors brought the one-sided defeat to Forest View. Poor shooting, physical weakness and topnotch play by the opposition all lent to the FV downfall.

As the game opened Schlarman raced in front 8-0 and the pattern of the game had been set. The Falcons had to fight from behind. After one quarter,

Cardinal Five Cops Consolation Honors

Arlington spent another holiday season in Kankakee but didn't enjoy the visit as much as last winter.

The Cardinals did bring home another trophy and did capture two victories in three games—the same as 1964—but there were some marked differences in the two excursions.

For one thing, coach Ted Wissen's Cardinals didn't lose until the championship game in 1964. They dropped their first game at Kankakee last week.

Arlington also turned in some sharp basketball in '64. Wissen admits his charges "didn't play very well' in the latest Kankakee tournament.

"I just don't know what the problem was," Wissen said this week in looking back to the three engagements. "We did win two games and the boys worked hard after that first game, but they weren't sharp."

ARLINGTON rebounded from an opening setback to Homewood-Flossmoor to rock host Kankakee 54-41 and Glenbard East 55-50 for the consolation title.

That opener with Homewood is best forgotten as the Cards played their poorest game of the year in falling by 17 points, 64-47.

Flossmoor shot out to a 21-6 lead in the first period and coasted as Arlington experienced a cold night from the floor, hitting only 15 of 57 shots. The Vikings were on top 37-23 at halftime.

"THAT WAS our best first quarter of the season," Homewood coach George VanderWeyden said. He recalled that his boys often sputter slowly into action before stirring up a worthwhile offense.

"We had to neutralize their height," the Viking head man continued, "and we got good position on the boards. And our zone gave them problems."

Bruce Hubbard was the only Cardinal reading double figures, collecting ten points. High-scoring guards Steve Allen and Terry Townley, who had been combining for 34 points per game, were checked with 13.

ARLINGTON BOUNCED back to the following night in consolation play although operating without regular Dave Lockwood who was shelved with a bum ankle. Lockwood, who also has had back problems, only played two periods in three games at Kankakee.

The Cardinals pulled away from a halftime deadlock with a four-point cushion in the third quarter against host Kankakee and put the game out of reach with an explosive concluding stanza.

Jim Jorgensen, filling in for Lockwood, was the first-half leader for Arlington with six baskets, and Hubbard poured through eight points over the final two periods.

Arlington made 12 trips to the free throw line in the final eight minutes and cashed in nine times. Allen had five points and Hubbard and Jim Donchess chipped in four each in that final quarter.

Allen was high for Arlington with 14 points, six from the charity line.

JORGENSEN turned in another impressive effort Wednesday evening as he sparked the Cardinals to a 55-50 victory over Glenbard East in the battle for consolation honors.

The 6-4 senior dialed eight points in the final period as Arlington battled from one point behind to pull out the victory. Jorgensen hit four times from the free throw line in the pressure-packed windup.

Arlington held a 28-24 lead at the intermission and the points came on field goals only. Only three fouls were called in the first half.

Jim Roberts, high-scoring Ram who finished with 26 points, hit three baskets in each of the first three periods to lead his club into a 38-37 lead with eight minutes left.

That's when Jorgensen went to work to decide the issue.

Jorgensen was high for Arlington with 14 points. Hubbard added 13, eight in the opening half.

Allen and Pete Barker, coming off the bench, had nine each.

Tip Springfield to Take Championship

by MICHAEL HESS

"Barnburner" is a proper label for last Thursday's basketball game between Prospect and Springfield.

"Champions" is the correct Knights' tab because of that contest. They edged the Senators 61-58 for title honors in Pontiac's tournament.

"Comeback" was the method used for triumph by coach Dick Kinneman's forces. They were down 39-32 with just 12 minutes left in the struggle.

"Clutch" is the only term for the victor's performance. After falling behind by seven they made 8 of 11 from the floor and 9 of 11 at the line to pick up the winning points.

LEADING UP to that final tourney encounter Prospect had advanced by defeating Granite City, LaSalle Peru and Waukegan (see separate story). As he had been in those earlier battles, Tom Lundstedt was the Knights' leader against Springfield.

Lundstedt sank 13 of 14 field goal attempts and five of six free throws to help sink the Senators. He hit 11 of his 31 points in the crucial final quarter.

In his four game tourney effort Lundstedt put in 42 of 54 goal tries and 29 of 41 from the charity stripe. His percentages of 77.7 from the floor and 70.7 at the line resulted in 113 points, breaking by two the Pontiac Holiday Tournament mark set last year by Dave Golden of Pekin.

Sharing closing game laurels with Lundstedt was guard Tony Kulasa. Kulasa, more a play than a point maker for Prospect, garnered 10 markers against the Senators. More importantly however, five of those points came in the last period and two of those in the last six seconds.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP game opened with a nip-and-tuck first half. Scoring totals were tied six times and the lead changed hands seven times before the intermission.

Those beginning quarters also featured a personal dual between Lundstedt and Springfield's 6-7 junior Dave Robisch. For periods one and two Lundstedt had 17 and Robisch 16 points but the Senators were in front 32-29 when third quarter play started.

Bill Martin was the first to tally in the second half. He banged in a lay-up for Springfield. Dave Kingman countered for the Knights with a jumper from 15 feet but Martin made a pair from the line and Jerry Stutler hit a free throw making the score 37-31.

Craig Wolf made one foul toss for Prospect but, with the clock showing 4:00, Mark Stoddart gave the Senators their largest margin 39-32 with a goal from eight feet. Then the Knights started their comeback.

Other Records

In addition to Lundstedt's individual point mark, two other tournament records were established last week at Pontiac.

Granite City's total in a 99-56 defeat of Bloomington broke the old single team standard of 91. In addition, the two team total of 162 in an 85-77 triumph for GC over Richwoods cracked the former mark of 155.

Lundstedt made a three point play bringing the count to 39-35 but Stoddart made another bucket and the score was 41-37. Kulasa chimed in at that point with a three point play and Prospect's J. D. Thorne flipped one in from 15 feet to bring the Knights within one at 41-40.

THERE WAS ONE minute remaining in quarter three when Springfield began to stall for the final shot. They held the ball until just three seconds were left and then Martin jumped for two points and a 43-40 advantage as final period play started.

Dan Agard combined with Lundstedt to tie the score at 43 each to open the fourth quarter. Agard put in a foul toss and Lundstedt a goal from seven feet. But, Robisch made two free throws to put his team in front once again. Thanks to some outstanding defensive work by the Knights' Tom Beard, Robisch, who finished with 19, got just one more point in the game.

With the totals at 45-43, Kulasa made three from the foul line and Lundstedt a tip-in to send Prospect on top for good. Jurkins and Lundstedt traded lay-ups and then Wolf drove the length of the court for another in-close shot and the Knights held a 52-47 margin.

At the four minute mark Stoddart made a goal but that was countered by Lundstedt's two-pointer and a pair of free throws from Beard. The score was 56-49 and Prospect began to stall.

Until there were just 90 seconds left the score remained the same. Headman Kinneman's stalling tactics had worked to that juncture.

TONY KULASA
In The Clutch

THEN JURKINS made a goal for Springfield and Stutler drove for a lay-up and the margin was close again at 56-53. Jurkins and Lundstedt traded buckets from underneath to set 58-55 totals. A free toss from Lundstedt brought a field goal answer from the Senators' Martin and the gap was only two points, 59-57, with 19 seconds left.

Prospect stalled for 13 seconds before Kulasa was fouled. In a one and one situation he made both attempts making the score 61-57 and wrapping up the decision for the Knights. Robisch popped in Springfield's last point on a free throw with one second remaining but the outcome had been decided.

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

Traveling South . . .

A lot of folks are heading for the southern climes and an abundance of places to stay which admit dogs, and health measures to protect your pet, now make it possible for your dog to vacation with you instead of staying behind.

If you want the latest edition of "Touring With Towser," a directory which lists over 7200 hotels and motels which accept dogs, along with a lot of travel tips, send 25 cents to cover first class mailing costs to Gaines, P. O. Box 1007, Kankakee, Ill. 60901.

Although most dogs will drink water wherever they find it, when starting on a long trip, it's a good idea to take along an insulated jug of your home drinking water for your dog. When you stop for meals or to exercise the dog give him a drink and as he gets used to the long drive the change in drinking water will not upset him after the original supply runs out.

Remember particularly to leave the windows partly open when he is left in the car and always park in a shady spot, never in the direct sun. Some folks forget about how warm it can get in the sun when they have been up in winter snows and start off to the south.

Keep an eye out for ticks when you get down south. The warm weather brings the pests out in all their glory. Regular use of an insecticide wash or powder will prevent ticks. If you find one that is stubborn and will not come out with such washing or dusting, it may have to be removed with tweezers. If so, make sure you get all of it.

Westminster closes early . . .

For those who are going to the Westminster show, you may or may not know that entries closed on Dec. 8, 68 days before the show, scheduled for Feb. 14-15, at Madison Square Garden, New York. The total unaudited entry was 2,583 dogs.

Leading entries were 198 Poodles, 109 Dachshunds, 70 Shetland Sheepdogs, 68 Collies and 64 Irish Setters. What makes it rather interesting is that this was the earliest closing in the history of the show. The basic limit is 2,500 dogs, each of which must be a previous blue ribbon winner to be eligible to enter this show.

New Year's resolutions . . .

If you made some resolutions for the year, let's hope you included a few about the family dog. Number one might be to pay closer attention to his general care and health.

A good brushing every few days will not only pay off in a healthy looking coat for your dog, but will enable you to check him over to see that he has picked up no fleas or other such pests. If he has, take steps to eliminate them.

Review his eating habits and make sure he is getting a well-balanced diet. Also, is he "accepted" by the folks next door? This means, in short, is he behaved and when let out to exercise, does not become the local bum?

Barks & Bays . . .

The appellate court of Illinois ruled that a dog cannot be expected to know the difference between customers and thieves. Glad to know this—it explains why some dogs will sleep right through a robbery. They have a right to do so—the court says so.

Forest View Cagers Take 2nd at Danville

during which FV sank just one of 13 goal attempts, the Hilltoppers had taken a 15-5 lead.

Two minutes into period two the tally had shifted to 21-7. The Falcons then put in eight consecutive points without an answering point from Schlarman and the score was 21-15. Then came the turning point of the contest.

FOR THE NEXT four minutes FV used a standout defensive effort to contain Schlarman with just one point. Also during that time Forest View got many good, close shots at the bucket. However, the Falcons just could not connect and the totals remained 22-15.

Finally Don Kuemmerle scored for the Hilltoppers. That broke the spell and Schlarman was in front 25-15 at the half. Kuemmerle continued his scoring during third and fourth quarter play to help his team increase its advantage.

Kuemmerle made four buckets in period three and hit five more points in the closing moments. He ended as the high scorer in the game with 26 points and he was the difference between winning and losing for the Hilltoppers.

For Forest View the second half scoring punch, what little FV had, was provided by Borgardt and Dunnigan. Borgardt hit five of his quintet's nine points in quarter three and Dunnigan made five of the Falcons 11 in quarter four. Grismer was high in the game for FV. He had 11.

Missing from Forest View's offense in the second half was big man Baumgardt. Because of his earlier injuries and due to the fact that it was his second game of the day, he just couldn't keep up physically. Baumgardt was not in shape yet and without his scoring and rebounding the Falcons didn't have a chance.

ALSO HURTING in the final quarters was poor shooting which had hampered FV throughout the tourney. The Falcons put in only two of 21 during the last eight minutes and for the game shot a miserable 18 per cent.

Forest View never got closer than nine points to the winning Schlarman outfit after the intermission. There was never any more doubt of the outcome and thus FV had to settle for second in the tourney.

In four tournament games the Falcons made just 32 per cent of their shots from the floor and 54 per cent from the free throw line. In rebounds the Falcons managed a slim 119-114 edge in the four games.

"RECLINING FIGURES" is what you might call this if it were an art form in marble. But it's wrestling form, performed in serious earnest by Arlington's Kirk Wolter and Conant's Dennis Skoneczka in last week's Palatine holiday wrestling tournament. They met in the 145 pound semi-finals, and Wolter won 5-4. He then lost in the championship round, but Skoneczka won in a third place match.

For Fenton Consolation Title

Wheeling Tips Conant With Stall Technique

by KEN KNOX

Toward most destinations, there is a high road and a low road.

In basketball, the high road is the more spectacular route, the journey of long field goals launched from distant points on the floor, of snappy and speedy ball-handling, of single-minded determination to score fast and plentifully to win.

The low road is the less exciting — but not always less risky — route of cautious ball control, of working for the easy shots close to the goal, even of actually stalling the play of the game.

Wheeling adhered mostly to the low road last Thursday evening, and it paid off. Mike Owens' Wildcats — linking up with Mid-Suburban League foe Conant — beat Rol Berg's Cougars by a step to the destination: the consolation championship of the Fenton Holiday Tournament. The final, in extra time, was 58-54.

EIGHT POINTS were scored in the last six minutes and 12 seconds of that meeting, all of them in a three-minute overtime period, and all but two of them Wheeling's. The 'Cats, who leaned heavily on the free throw, the rebound shot and the layup to keep them even in the game, went into a lethal stall at 3:12 of period four.

The Cougars, who had broken through a Lake Zurich stall the night before to get into the game with Wheeling, seemed at first reluctant and then unable to sabotage the Wildcats' delaying tactics. The stall which consisted chiefly of passing the ball among Rex Peterson, Skip Grandt, Tom Neuckranz, Mark Newmann and Scott Bischoff — actually proved too effective even for Wheeling's liking.

It began when Conant's John Glasshof — putting forth his best individual performance of the season — tied the game at 52-52. The Wildcats, after an evening of flirting with the lead and putting down Conant comebacks, tried to play for the good shot after that. They were still trying for it at the buzzer, when the score was still 52-52.

CONANT COULD get only one shot at the hoop in that time, a missed effort by Glasshof. But Wheeling did no better and the tourney game went into overtime.

Conant got the tip, missed a shot, and Wheeling went into the stall again. Nothing changed on the scoreboard until 40 seconds were left. Then Neuckranz hit a short jump shot, forcing Conant to try for a quick equalizer.

The Cougars missed two opportunities, one from the floor and one from the free throw line, and then were caught out of position as Bischoff laid one in at :10. Glasshof came back with a layup for Conant, but Wheeling immediately iced the game.

BISCHOFF, FOULED in a scramble for the ball, put the game out of reach at 0:02. While Conant fretted hopefully that it would get one last shot, Bischoff dropped in two free throws to set the final margin.

The Cougars may have kicked themselves afterward, for they had the early initiative in the game. Conant hit its first two shots from the floor and controlled the first quarter 16-11 by pressing on offense and defense. Wheeling, which could tally hardly a point from the outside, stayed as close as it did by shooting from under the basket.

The 'Cats, leaning on Grandt and Bischoff, first took a lead at 5:00 of the second period. A three-point play, with Grandt hitting a layup and a foul shot, made it 23-22. Grandt was five for five at the free throw line in that period, and Peterson — Wheeling's high man for the night — had nine of his 16 points.

THE COUGARS, hampered some by early foul trouble for forward Dave Sander and guard Walt Riley, could only stay even after that. The Conant cause was stung even more at the end of the third period when Sander — still recuperating from a chipped ankle — went out for good with a twisted knee.

It was mostly Glasshof who kept Conant in contention, as he hit 11 shots from the floor and four from the free throw line for a game high of 26 points. But he ended up pretty much traveling the high road by himself. The Wildcats spread their scoring around, and — more importantly for them — made the slow and steady route the right one.

'Cats Topple Fenton, 55-51

Wheeling shook off an early jolt and snapped a six-game losing streak last week (Tuesday) with a consolation round conquest of host Fenton in the Fenton Holiday basketball tournament.

Coach Mike Owens' Wildcats trailed by 12 points with 1:25 remaining in the first half when they made their move en route to a 55-51 victory.

With the triumph Wheeling moved into the consolation championship game opposite Conant of Hoffman Estates. The Wildcats took care of Conant in overtime for the consolation crown.

Wheeling trailed 26-14 with 1:25 showing on the clock in the first half against Fenton but cut the Bison advantage to five points, 28-23, at the intermission.

The 'Cat surge continued in the second half and they gained a lead they never relinquished, 40-39, at the end of three periods. Wheeling added three points to its lead over the concluding eight minutes.

Owens' outfit outscrapped the host Bisons on the boards and turned several missed free throws into field goals. Scott Bischoff was the key man in this department as he fired in six goals off missed free throws.

Bischoff was high for Wheeling with 20 points, adding four baskets to eight field goals. Tom Neuckranz contributed 13 and Mark Newman 11.

Both clubs experienced cold nights at the free throw line, showing identical 13-for-30 marks, but it was Wheeling's ability to cash in on the rebounds that spelled the difference.

Lion Frosh Post Split

St. Viator recorded a split last week in the Glenbrook North Invitational frosh basketball tournament.

The young Lions nipped Lake Forest in the opener, 34-33, but suffered a 60-36 loss to a rugged Proviso East crew.

St. Viator pulled into a seven-point lead in the third period against Lake Forest but had to hold on for the victory in a wild windup.

Dave Erfort was high for the winners with 12 points. John Brawley contributed 10.

Proviso East jumped on top, 31-15, at halftime in the second game and had little trouble the rest of the way.

Greg Doyle paced the Lions with 12 points, and Erfort and Brawley collected eight each.

St. Joseph Tops Lion Mat Squads

A forfeit victory at heavyweight gave St. Viator's varsity wrestlers their only points last week in action with St. Joseph of Westchester.

Denny Frotson picked up the win for the Lions by forfeit in a 35-5 setback.

St. Joseph also won the frosh-soph meet but had more difficulty before emerging with a 28-23 win.

Scoring wins for coach John Zid's Lions were Dan Doherty by pin at 95 pounds, Jim Howard by pin at 112, Rod Ayers by decision at 120, Carr by decision at 133, and Mike Harth by pin at heavyweight.

Mike Mulcahy was involved in a draw at 127 pounds.

Where The Money Is

Dick Weber of Florissant, Mo., leads all past PBAA All-Star Tournament contestants in money winnings from the tournament with a total of $60,545. Don Carter of St. Louis is second with $26,890.

'Cats Matmen Get 3rd Place

Wheeling wrestlers finished a strong third in last week's tournament at Glenbrook South.

The 'Cats gained a total of 56 points in the meet. That was just three behind second place Barrington which had 59. Willowbrook took the tourney title with 77 points.

To gain their total the Wildcats matmen picked up one first, two seconds, four thirds and a lone fourth. The single top spot for coach Art Kraft's forces went to Rich Haddock at 154 pounds.

THERE WERE eight teams in the tourney. Completing the field were Maine South, fourth at 52 points, Glenbrook North, the host Titans and Niles North tied for fifth at 43 points, and Wheaton North last with 39 points.

Action for Wheeling wrestlers in the meet went as follows:

95 pounds—Chuck Nute lost two 95 pound matches for the 'Cats. He was defeated on a 6-2 decision and pinned in 5:32.

103 pounds—A pair of setbacks was also handed to Wheeling's Ray Weidner at 103. He was beaten on 7-3 and 8-4 decisions.

112 pounds—A pin loss in 2:56 and a losing 5-2 decision were given to the Wildcats 112 pound entry. That was Dennis Kneip.

120 pounds—Wheeling finally broke into the scoring column at 120. Karl Meisenheimer took third place at the weight with a 6-6 referee's decision which was followed by a 5-2 decision defeat. Meisenheimer took his next match with a pin in 3:45. He is now 6-2 in bouts this season.

127 pounds—At 127 Al Eisenstein ended in the second place slot for Wheeling. He began with a 3-0 win and followed with another decision victory. That was by a 6-1 count. In the finals Eisenstein suffered his initial setback of the year 7-1. Al's individual record is now 6-1-1.

133 pounds—Gerry Hawkinson opened 'Cats competition at 133 with a 7-2 decision win. He then lost 3-2 and was pinned in 3:10 to get fourth place at the weight.

138 pounds—A third at 138 went to Wheeling's Mike Fluegel. He started by winning 5-0 but then was defeated by an identical 5-0 count. To clinch third Fluegel gained a 7-6 decision.

145 pounds—Matt Porzel, a sophomore, was defeated twice at this weight. He was shut out 5-0 and then edged 3-2 on a pair of decisions.

154 pounds—Haddock's title came here. He began by registering an 8-6 decision and followed with a 6-2 decision. In his title encounter Haddock almost doubled the tally on his opponent and won 11-6. His record for the year is now 7-2.

165 pounds—A 7-2 decision triumph got the 'Cats Paul Berwanger off to a good start at this weight. He was blanked in his next bout 2-0 but came back to score a pin win in 3:35 and wrap up third place for coach Kraft's squad.

180 pounds—Another number three spot was taken for Wheeling at 180. Ted Armstrong won 3-2, lost 9-2 and then gained third on a 3-1 decision. Armstrong now carries a 6-2-1 record for the year.

Heavyweight—The Wildcats' Ray Pace performed well here and racked up the second second for Wheeling. He began with a pin victory in 5:33 and followed by taking a decision 10-4. Then he met Glenbrook South's Brice Erb in the finale and was defeated 7-0. Erb is undefeated this year and has a 10-0 record.

Grove's Frosh Five Win One at Tourney

A rocky road or smooth sailing are often combined for cage tournament entries and Elk Grove freshmen had a little of both last week.

The Grove frosh were entered in the Hinsdale South Basketball tournament. EG came away with one win and two losses in the holiday affair.

ELK GROVE opened the tourney by meeting Downers Grove North. Downers topped EG 65-34. Then a comeback victory for Grove over Downers Grove South, 35-38, was followed by a tournament ending 72-37 setback at the hands of Glenbard West.

Against Downers North the Grove five fell behind 18-5 after one period and was never close. "Our boys were just outplayed and we were never in contention," commented EG coach Ken Grams. High scorer for the losers was Gary Pleickhardt with 15 points. Joe Kalisz had 13 for the Grove.

In the victory over Downers South the Grove was down by 10 with less than five minutes to play. Fighting from behind, EG finally caught Downers South when, with 18 seconds remaining, Kalisz hit a jump shot to make the tally 36-35. Art Rodriquez made two foul shots before it was over to set the final EG total.

Kalisz led his team in the victory. He combined seven field goals with six foul shots to put in 20 points. Ray Davidson was next for the Grove with six points while Pleickhardt had five.

WHEN FACING Glenbard the forces of coach Grams were sunk by hot shooting. GW connected on a blistering 60 per cent of its floor attempts. The Grove stayed close for one quarter but a 21-8 deficit in period two spelled defeat.

KALISZ WAS again the high point man for EG. He had 17 points. Davidson was next with seven and Pleickhardthad five. seven and Pleickhardt had five. tournament," stated headman Grams. "He scored 50 points in the three games and was one of the tourney's leading scorers. He played good, steady basketball."

To Growing Collection

St. Viator Tankers Add Another Trophy

They'll have to build a special trophy case just for swimming at St. Viator High School.

Coach Charley Mondi's Lions added another impressive trophy to their growing collection last Thursday at Harrison Park when they topped the St. Ignatius Swimming Relays.

The powerful St. Viator entry, sparked by Rene Tague who earned the most valuable honors, collected 122 points over ten events for a comfortable 38-point margin over runnerup Holy Cross.

St. Ignatius (62), St. George (60), St. Joseph (52), and Notre Dame (48) rounded out the six-team alignment.

ST. VIATOR dominated the tank headliner by taking eight firsts in the ten events with a disqualification costing them a ninth victory.

Tague worked on three of those victorious relay teams, supplying strong legs on the open medley, open freestyle, and 400 freestyle.

Rene worked with Mike Gibler, Rick Kalinowski, and Joe Herrity on the open medley unit which clicked off a snappy 1:53.5.

TAGUE, KEVIN Shea, Rick Withrow, and Bill Richardson represented St. Viator in the open freestyle and showed a 1:38.8 for another first. The same quartet came back with a 3:47.8 and first place honors in the 400 freestyle.

Also scoring firsts for Mondi's powerhouse were the following relay teams:

Frosh Medley Relay — Mark Abate, Bob Bolash, Bill McCaffrey, Ed Vallely in 2:09.6.

Soph Medley Relay — John McMahon, Mike Madden, Fred Schmidt, Pat Moran in 2:01.2.

Frosh Free Relay — Ed Vallely, Marty Wendell, Bill McCaffrey, and Al Konabaz in 1:49.5.

Soph Free Relay — Gary Fern, Pat Moran, Mike Brown, and Fred Schmidt in 1:47.5.

Backstroke Relay — Tim Wallace, Bill McCaffrey, John McMahon, and Mike Gibler in 2:00.4.

St. Viator also landed a second in the breastroke relay with a unit of Bob Bolash, Mike Madden, Rick Kalinowski, and Jim Spears. They were four seconds behind the winning St. Ignatius entry.

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

Traveling South . . .

A lot of folks are heading for the southern climes and an abundance of places to stay which admit dogs, and health measures to protect your pet, now make it possible for your dog to vacation with you instead of staying behind.

If you want the latest edition of "Touring With Towser," a directory which lists over 7200 hotels and motels which accept dogs, along with a lot of travel tips, send 25 cents to cover first class mailing costs to Gaines, P. O. Box 1007, Kankakee, Ill. 60901.

Although most dogs will drink water wherever they find it, when starting on a long trip, it's a good idea to take along an insulated jug of your home drinking water for your dog. When you stop for meals or to exercise the dog give him a drink and as he gets used to the long drive the change in drinking water will not upset him after the original supply runs out.

Remember particularly to leave the windows partly open when he is left in the car and always park in a shady spot, never in the direct sun. Some folks forget about how warm it can get in the sun when they have been up in winter snows and start off to the south.

Keep an eye out for ticks when you get down south. The warm weather brings the pests out in all their glory. Regular use of an insecticide wash or powder will prevent ticks. If you find one that is stubborn and will not come out with such washing or dusting, it may have to be removed with tweezers. If so, make sure you get all of it.

Westminster closes early . . .

For those who are going to the Westminster show, you may or may not know that entries closed on Dec. 8, 68 days before the show, scheduled for Feb. 14-15, at Madison Square Garden, New York. The total unaudited entry was 2,583 dogs.

Leading entries were 198 Poodles, 109 Dachshunds, 70 Shetland Sheepdogs, 68 Collies and 64 Irish Setters. What makes it rather interesting is that this was the earliest closing in the history of the show. The basic limit is 2,500 dogs, each of which must be a previous blue ribbon winner to be eligible to enter this show.

New Year's resolutions . . .

If you made some resolutions for the year, let's hope you included a few about the family dog. Number one might be to pay closer attention to his general care and health.

A good brushing every few days will not only pay off in a healthy looking coat for your dog, but will enable you to check him over to see that he has picked up no fleas or other such pests. If he has, take steps to eliminate them.

Review his eating habits and make sure he is getting a well-balanced diet. Also, is he "accepted" by the folks next door? This means, in short, is he behaved and when let out to exercise, does not become the local bum?

Barks & Bays . . .

The appellate court of Illinois ruled that a dog cannot be expected to know the difference between customers and thieves. Glad to know this—it explains why some dogs will sleep right through a robbery. They have a right to do so—the court says so.

Forest View Cagers Take 2nd at Danville

during which FV sank just one of 13 goal attempts, the Hilltoppers had taken a 15-5 lead.

Two minutes into period two the tally had shifted to 21-7. The Falcons then put in eight consecutive points without an answering point from Schlarman and the score was 21-15. Then came the turning point of the contest.

FOR THE NEXT four minutes FV used a standout defensive effort to contain Schlarman with just one point. Also during that time Forest View got many good, close shots at the bucket. However, the Falcons just could not connect and the totals remained 22-15.

Finally Don Kuemmerle scored for the Hilltoppers. That broke the spell and Schlarman was in front 25-15 at the half. Kuemmerle continued his scoring during third and fourth quarter play to help his team increase its advantage.

Kuemmerle made four buckets in period three and hit five more points in the closing moments. He ended as the high scorer in the game with 26 points and he was the difference between winning and losing for the Hilltoppers.

For Forest View the second half scoring punch, what little FV had, was provided by Borgardt and Dunnigan. Borgardt hit five of his quintet's nine points in quarter three and Dunnigan made five of the Falcons 11 in quarter four. Grismer was high in the game for FV. He had 11.

Missing from Forest View's offense in the second half was big man Baumgardt. Because of his earlier injuries and due to the fact that it was his second game of the day, he just couldn't keep up physically. Baumgardt was not in shape yet and without his scoring and rebounding the Falcons didn't have a chance.

ALSO HURTING in the final quarters was poor shooting which had hampered FV throughout the tourney. The Falcons put in only two of 21 during the last eight minutes and for the game shot a miserable 18 per cent.

Forest View never got closer than nine points to the winning Schlarman outfit after the intermission. There was never any more doubt of the outcome and thus FV had to settle for second in the tourney.

In four tournament games the Falcons made just 32 per cent of their shots from the floor and 54 per cent from the free throw line. In rebounds the Falcons managed a slim 119-114 edge in the four games.

"RECLINING FIGURES" is what you might call this if it were an art form in marble. But it's wrestling form, performed in serious earnest by Arlington's Kirk Wolter and Conant's Dennis Skoneczka in last week's Palatine holiday wrestling tournament. They met in the 145 pound semi-finals, and Wolter won 5-4. He then lost in the championship round, but Skoneczka won in a third place match.

Wheeling Tips Conant With Stall Technique

by KEN KNOX

Toward most destinations, there is a high road and a low road.

In basketball, the high road is the more spectacular route, the journey of long field goals launched from distant points on the floor, of snappy and speedy ball-handling, of single-minded determination to score fast and plentifully to win.

The low road is the less exciting — but not always less risky — route of cautious ball control, of working for the easy shots close to the goal, even of actually stalling the play of the game.

Wheeling adhered mostly to the low road last Thursday evening, and it paid off. Mike Owens' Wildcats — linking up with Mid-Suburban League foe Conant — beat Rol Berg's Cougars by a step to the destination: the consolation championship of the Fenton Holiday Tournament. The final, in extra time, was 58-54.

EIGHT POINTS were scored in the last six minutes and 12 seconds of that meeting, all of them in a three-minute overtime period, and all but two of them Wheeling's. The 'Cats, who leaned heavily on the free throw, the rebound shot and the layup to keep them even in the game, went into a lethal stall at 3:12 of period four.

The Cougars, who had broken through a Lake Zurich stall the night before to get into the game with Wheeling, seemed at first reluctant and then unable to sabotage the Wildcats' delaying tactics. The stall which consisted chiefly of passing the ball among Rex Peterson, Skip Grandt, Tom Neuckranz, Mark Newmann and Scott Bischoff — actually proved too effective even for Wheeling's liking.

It began when Conant's John Glasshof — putting forth his best individual performance of the season — tied the game at 52-52. The Wildcats, after an evening of flirting with the lead and putting down Conant comebacks, tried to play for the good shot after that. They were still trying for it at the buzzer, when the score was still 52-52.

CONANT COULD get only one shot at the hoop in that time, a missed effort by Glasshof. But Wheeling did no better and the tourney game went into overtime.

Conant got the tip, missed a shot, and Wheeling went into the stall again. Nothing changed on the scoreboard until 40 seconds were left. Then Neuckranz hit a short jump shot, forcing Conant to try for a quick equalizer.

The Cougars missed two opportunities, one from the floor and one from the free throw line, and then were caught out of position as Bischoff laid one in at :10. Glasshof came back with a layup for Conant, but Wheeling immediately iced the game.

BISCHOFF, FOULED in a scramble for the ball, put the game out of reach at 0:02. While Conant fretted hopefully that it would get one last shot, Bischoff dropped in two free throws to set the final margin.

The Cougars may have kicked themselves afterward, for they had the early initiative in the game. Conant hit its first two shots from the floor and controlled the first quarter 16-11 by pressing on offense and defense. Wheeling, which could tally hardly a point from the outside, stayed as close as it did by shooting from under the basket.

The 'Cats, leaning on Grandt and Bischoff, first took a lead at 5:00 of the second period. A three-point play, with Grandt hitting a layup and a foul shot, made it 23-22. Grandt was five for five at the free throw line in that period, and Peterson — Wheeling's high man for the night — had nine of his 16 points.

THE COUGARS, hampered some by early foul trouble for forward Dave Sander and guard Walt Riley, could only stay even after that. The Conant cause was stung even more at the end of the third period when Sander — still recuperating from a chipped ankle — went out for good with a twisted knee.

It was mostly Glasshof who kept Conant in contention, as he hit 11 shots from the floor and four from the free throw line for a game high of 26 points. But he ended up pretty much traveling the high road by himself. The Wildcats spread their scoring around, and — more importantly for them — made the slow and steady route the right one.

'Cats Topple Fenton, 55-51

Wheeling shook off an early jolt and snapped a six-game losing streak last week (Tuesday) with a consolation round conquest of host Fenton in the Fenton Holiday basketball tournament.

Coach Mike Owens' Wildcats trailed by 12 points with 1:25 remaining in the first half when they made their move en route to a 55-51 victory.

With the triumph Wheeling moved into the consolation championship game opposite Conant of Hoffman Estates. The Wildcats took care of Conant in overtime for the consolation crown.

Wheeling trailed 26-14 with 1:25 showing on the clock in the first half against Fenton but cut the Bison advantage to five points, 28-23, at the intermission.

The 'Cat surge continued in the second half and they gained a lead they never relinquished, 40-39, at the end of three periods. Wheeling added three points to its lead over the concluding eight minutes.

Owens' outfit outscrapped the host Bisons on the boards and turned several missed free throws into field goals. Scott Bischoff was the key man in this department as he fired in six goals off missed free throws.

Bischoff was high for Wheeling with 20 points, adding four baskets to eight field goals. Tom Neuckranz contributed 13 and Mark Newman 11.

Both clubs experienced cold nights at the free throw line, showing identical 13-for-30 marks, but it was Wheeling's ability to cash in on the rebounds that spelled the difference.

Lion Frosh Post Split

St. Viator recorded a split last week in the Glenbrook North Invitational frosh basketball tournament.

The young Lions nipped Lake Forest in the opener, 34-33, but suffered a 60-36 loss to a rugged Proviso East crew.

St. Viator pulled into a seven-point lead in the third period against Lake Forest but had to hold on for the victory in a wild windup.

Dave Erfort was high for the winners with 12 points. John Brawley contributed 10.

Proviso East jumped on top, 31-15, at halftime in the second game and had little trouble the rest of the way.

Greg Doyle paced the Lions with 12 points, and Erfort and Brawley collected eight each.

St. Joseph Tops Lion Mat Squads

A forfeit victory at heavyweight gave St. Viator's varsity wrestlers their only points last week in action with St. Joseph of Westchester.

Denny Frotson picked up the win for the Lions by forfeit in a 35-5 setback.

St. Joseph also won the frosh-soph meet but had more difficulty before emerging with a 28-23 win.

Scoring wins for coach John Zid's Lions were Dan Doherty by pin at 95 pounds, Jim Howard by pin at 112, Rod Ayers by decision at 120, Carr by decision at 133, and Mike Harth by pin at heavyweight.

Mike Mulcahy was involved in a draw at 127 pounds.

Where The Money Is

Dick Weber of Florissant, Mo., leads all past PBAA All-Star Tournament contestants in money winnings from the tournament with a total of $60,545. Don Carter of St. Louis is second with $26,890.

'Cats Matmen Get 3rd Place

Wheeling wrestlers finished a strong third in last week's tournament at Glenbrook South.

The 'Cats gained a total of 56 points in the meet. That was just three behind second place Barrington which had 59. Willowbrook took the tourney title with 77 points.

To gain their total the Wildcats matmen picked up one first, two seconds, four thirds and a lone fourth. The single top spot for coach Art Kraft's forces went to Rich Haddock at 154 pounds.

THERE WERE eight teams in the tourney. Completing the field were Maine South, fourth at 52 points, Glenbrook North, the host Titans and Niles North tied for fifth at 43 points, and Wheaton North last with 39 points.

Action for Wheeling wrestlers in the meet went as follows:

95 pounds—Chuck Nute lost two 95 pound matches for the 'Cats. He was defeated on a 6-2 decision and pinned in 5:32.

103 pounds—A pair of setbacks was also handed to Wheeling's Ray Weidner at 103. He was beaten on 7-3 and 8-4 decisions.

112 pounds—A pin loss in 2:56 and a losing 5-2 decision were given to the Wildcats 112 pound entry. That was Dennis Kneip.

120 pounds—Wheeling finally broke into the scoring column at 120. Karl Meisenheimer took third place at the weight with a 6-6 referee's decision which was followed by a 5-2 decision defeat. Meisenheimer took his next match with a pin in 3:45. He is now 6-2 in bouts this season.

127 pounds—At 127 Al Eisenstein ended in the second place slot for Wheeling. He began with a 3-0 win and followed with another decision victory. That was by a 6-1 count. In the finals Eisenstein suffered his initial setback of the year 7-1. Al's individual record is now 6-1-1.

133 pounds—Gerry Hawkinson opened 'Cats competition at 133 with a 7-2 decision win. He then lost 3-2 and was pinned in 3:10 to get fourth place at the weight.

138 pounds—A third at 138 went to Wheeling's Mike Fluegel. He started by winning 5-0 but then was defeated by an identical 5-0 count. To clinch third Fluegel gained a 7-6 decision.

145 pounds—Matt Porzel, a sophomore, was defeated twice at this weight. He was shut out 5-0 and then edged 3-2 on a pair of decisions.

154 pounds—Haddock's title came here. He began by registering an 8-6 decision and followed with a 6-2 decision. In his title encounter Haddock almost doubled the tally on his opponent and won 11-6. His record for the year is now 7-2.

165 pounds—A 7-2 decision triumph got the 'Cats Paul Berwanger off to a good start at this weight. He was blanked in his next bout 2-0 but came back to score a pin win in 3:35 and wrap up third place for coach Kraft's squad.

180 pounds—Another number three spot was taken for Wheeling at 180. Ted Armstrong won 3-2, lost 9-2 and then gained third on a 3-1 decision. Armstrong now carries a 6-2-1 record for the year.

Heavyweight—The Wildcats' Ray Pace performed well here and racked up the second second for Wheeling. He began with a pin victory in 5:33 and followed by taking a decision 10-4. Then he met Glenbrook South's Brice Erb in the finale and was defeated 7-0. Erb is undefeated this year and has a 10-0 record.

Grove's Frosh Five Win One at Tourney

A rocky road or smooth sailing are often combined for cage tournament entries and Elk Grove freshmen had a little of both last week.

The Grove frosh were entered in the Hinsdale South Basketball tournament. EG came away with one win and two losses in the holiday affair.

ELK GROVE opened the tourney by meeting Downers Grove North. Downers topped EG 65-34. Then a comeback victory for Grove over Downers Grove South, 35-38, was followed by a tournament ending 72-37 setback at the hands of Glenbard West.

Against Downers North the Grove five fell behind 18-5 after one period and was never close. "Our boys were just outplayed and we were never in contention," commented EG coach Ken Grams. High scorer for the losers was Gary Pleickhardt with 15 points. Joe Kalisz had 13 for the Grove.

In the victory over Downers South the Grove was down by 10 with less than five minutes to play. Fighting from behind, EG finally caught Downers South when, with 18 seconds remaining, Kalisz hit a jump shot to make the tally 36-35. Art Rodriquez made two foul shots before it was over to set the final EG total.

Kalisz led his team in the victory. He combined seven field goals with six foul shots to put in 20 points. Ray Davidson was next for the Grove with six points while Pleickhardt had five.

WHEN FACING Glenbard the forces of coach Grams were sunk by hot shooting. GW connected on a blistering 60 per cent of its floor attempts. The Grove stayed close for one quarter but a 21-8 deficit in period two spelled defeat.

KALISZ WAS again the high point man for EG. He had 17 points. Davidson was next with seven and Pleickhardthad five. seven and Pleickhardt had five. tournament," stated headman Grams. "He scored 50 points in the three games and was one of the tourney's leading scorers. He played good, steady basketball."

To Growing Collection

St. Viator Tankers Add Another Trophy

They'll have to build a special trophy case just for swimming at St. Viator High School.

Coach Charley Mondi's Lions added another impressive trophy to their growing collection last Thursday at Harrison Park when they topped the St. Ignatius Swimming Relays.

The powerful St. Viator entry, sparked by Rene Tague who earned the most valuable honors, collected 122 points over ten events for a comfortable 38-point margin over runnerup Holy Cross.

St. Ignatius (62), St. George (60), St. Joseph (52), and Notre Dame (48) rounded out the six-team alignment.

ST. VIATOR dominated the tank headliner by taking eight firsts in the ten events with a disqualification costing them a ninth victory.

Tague worked on three of those victorious relay teams, supplying strong legs on the open medley, open freestyle, and 400 freestyle.

Rene worked with Mike Gibler, Rick Kalinowski, and Joe Herrity on the open medley unit which clicked off a snappy 1:53.5.

TAGUE, KEVIN Shea, Rick Withrow, and Bill Richardson represented St. Viator in the open freestyle and showed a 1:38.8 for another first. The same quartet came back with a 3:47.8 and first place honors in the 400 freestyle.

Also scoring firsts for Mondi's powerhouse were the following relay teams:

Frosh Medley Relay — Mark Abate, Bob Bolash, Bill McCaffrey, Ed Vallely in 2:09.6.

Soph Medley Relay — John McMahon, Mike Madden, Fred Schmidt, Pat Moran in 2:01.2.

Frosh Free Relay — Ed Vallely, Marty Wendell, Bill McCaffrey, and Al Konabaz in 1:49.5.

Soph Free Relay — Gary Fern, Pat Moran, Mike Brown, and Fred Schmidt in 1:47.5.

Backstroke Relay — Tim Wallace, Bill McCaffrey, John McMahon, and Mike Gibler in 2:00.4.

St. Viator also landed a second in the breastroke relay with a unit of Bob Bolash, Mike Madden, Rick Kalinowski, and Jim Spears. They were four seconds behind the winning St. Ignatius entry.

Card Wrestlers Take Quadrangular Honors

Maine West boasted the most champions but Arlington and Glenbard East still finished 1-2 last week in the Lake Park wrestling quadrangular.

The Warriors of the Mid-Suburban Conference landed four individual titles in the mat headliner, but team balance paid off in the four-team event.

Arlington, coached by Julius Fliehler, flashed to three firsts, four seconds, and three thirds in compiling 82 points, a two-point advantage over runnerup Glenbard. The Rams showed three firsts, two seconds, and seven thirds.

Maine West (72) and Lake Park (66) rounded out the field. The Lancers picked up two individual crowns.

ONE OF THOSE Lake Park titles came at 95 pounds where talented Billy Kielar disposed of Glenbard's Muschong 3-1 in the championship bout. Kielar had eliminated Arlington's Jim Whitnell in a first round match, 4-3, scoring on a reversal in the final 18 seconds of an overtime.

Whitnell came back with a third place, rocking Maine West's Grutzius 9-1.

Glenbard East's Reynell captured the 103-pound title with a 2-1 victory over Arlington's John McDonnell. McDonnell had opened with a 2-0 victory over Christensen of Maine West, and the Warrior grappler went on to third place.

GLENBARD EAST'S Stewart ruled the 112-pound entries with an 8-0 conquest of Lake Park's Keith Cline. Cline drew a bye in his opener, and a bye gave Arlington's Ray Smith third place.

Team champion Arlington claimed its first individual crown at 120 pounds as Tom MacCarthy whipped Glenbard East's Gunn, 2-0. MacCarthy opened with a 4-0 win over Scott Samelson of Lake Park.

Glenbard East's Scalzo topped the 127-pound field and third place went to Arlington's Mike Mills with a 4-2 victory over Lake Park's Iwicki.

LAKE PARK'S Brian Quig took 133-pound laurels with an escape in the closing seconds netting him a 1-0 victory over Arlington's Chip Douglas.

Hansch of Maine West topped Lake Park's John Hausen 3-0 for the 138-pound crown, and Arlington's Kirk Wolter came through with a pin for the 145-pound championship. Wolter drew an opening bye but disposed of Lake Park's Steve Paluck in 2:51 in the title tussle.

Steve Ryden, Maine West's all-conference football halfback, and Don Lindmark, Arlington's fine football lineman, squared off for the 154-pound title with Ryden emerging with a 2-0 victory. Steve had eliminated Lake Park's Bill Hausen in a first round match, 2-1.

MIKE JONES of Arlington blanked Jim Kautz of Maine West, a quarterback in the fall, by a 1-0 count at 165 pounds. Jones eliminated Lake Park's Bob Westerlund 6-3 in a first round battle.

The 180-pound title went to Schuepper of Maine West with a 6-2 victory over Scott of Lake Park, and Ray Leonardson of the Des Plaines school took heavyweight honors with a 3-0 victory over Arlington's Ron Thompson.

Thompson had opened with a pin in 3:13 over Glenbard East's West.

Knights Win Soph Tourney

Paddock area schools finished 1-2 last week in the annual Maine East Sophomore Wrestling Tournament.

Prospect High captured team honors with 74 points, but Forest View was right behind with 72. Maine East (70) and Wheeling (62) rounded out the first division.

Other teams in the mat alignment were Palatine (50), Maine South (35), Arlington (26), and Niles East (0).

Prospect and Wheeling each showed three individual champions in the event which ran Wednesday and Thursday.

GARY McMORROW (95 pounds), Bob Link (138), and Gary Cobe (145) brought home the first place awards for the Knights, and Thad Mikols (127), Dan Stavros (154), and Pat McGuire (165) gave Wheeling its titles.

Palatine picked up two crowns with Mike Lewis at 103 and Pat Donahue at 180. Donahue remained unbeaten for the campaign in eight bouts and now stands 19-1 for two seasons. He allowed only one point at Maine East.

Bob Savage of Forest View won the heavyweight division.

FOREST VIEW landed five runnerup slots with Tom Mann at 95, Mark Beatty (103), Brian Wolff (112), Bob Rohner (127), and Mike Casey (138).

Other Paddock area boys claiming second place positions were Mike Herod (120) and Jeff Schneider (180) of Prospect, Kelly Reid (145) of Arlington, and Ron Frediani (heavyweight) of Wheeling.

Third place awards went to Jim Lynch (95), Charles Goodman (145), Leon Molway (165), and Bob Prochnow (heavyweight) of Palatine; George Taylor (120) of Forest View; Bob Dabbert (133) of Arlington; Terry Holshauser (127) and Don Burkhart (154) of Prospect; and Steve Strom of Wheeling (180).

Winter Carnival Rescheduled for Friday, Jan. 14

The Mount Prospect Skating Club Winter Carnival Speed Skating program, scheduled for a Jan. 2 showing at the Lions Park Ice Rink, was postponed for the first time in its history.

Club officials were immediately notified by Illinois Skating Association President Stanton Shumann that Friday, Jan. 14, was the new date assigned for the presentation of the program.

Skating events will begin at 7 p.m. provided that the weather man changes the "June in January" theme of this winter season.

Racing activity is anticipated for the coming weekend with the twice-postponed North Shore Open scheduled for Friday evening at Meadowhill Park in Northbrook. The Tri-State Open is expected to take place in Lombard the next afternoon.

On Sunday afternoon in Glen Ellyn, the Illinois State outdoor championships are planned on Lake Ellyn. Since speed skaters are an optimistic group, it is hoped that all three events will take place as scheduled.

MARY CUNNINGHAM is the leading Mount Prospect Skating Club scorer in the girls division. She competes in the Junior Girls class and scored consistently in all indoor events. Her sister Jean skates in the Midget Girls class. Both gals will skate in the Mount Prospect Winter Carnival, now rescheduled for Friday evening, Jan. 14, at the Lions Park Rink in Mount Prospect.

Maintaining the physical fitness, necessary to endure the rigors of speed skating competition, has been one of the major difficulties for the skaters during the present season. Up to this time there has been no skating rink available in the Northwest Suburban area.

Even with the Winter Carnival postponement, the evening program will still be a top rated program. Excellent lighting facilities at the Lions Park rink will make spectator viewing interesting. Racing will begin at 7 p.m. and final events in all classes will start at 8 p.m.

This is the only home appearance of the Mount Prospect Skating Club during this season. All points earned in this competition qualifies skaters for the National Speed Skating Championships which are held in conjunction with the St. Paul Winter Carnival on Jan. 29 and 30.

Prospect Sophs

Prospect's sophomore cagers didn't have much luck at last week's tournament in St. Charles. They lost two out of three games and failed to repeat their title efforts of 1964.

No further details of the Knights soph basketball efforts at St. Charles were available at press time.

For This Saturday

Men's Entry Deadline Set

Tournament headquarters is buzzing these days as league secretaries file entries for the three Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap bowling tournaments.

Approximately 100 leagues had already reserved tourney slots by Monday with a busy week expected as the men's divisions strive to meet the Saturday deadline.

Entries for the Paddock men's tournament must be filed at Paddock Publications by Saturday, Jan. 8.

Fifty-one men's leagues had reported in Monday with tourney promoters expecting between 105 and 110 for the two-day spectacular at Hoffman Lanes on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 22-23.

FORTY-TWO women's teams had reserved slots by Monday, and tourney manager Marian Phillips reported that the 3:10 squad on Sunday, Jan. 30, had been filled.

Slowest to respond to the tourney red tape were the mixed leagues although this is the first year for a mixed leagues tournament.

The deadline for entries for the women and mixed leagues is Saturday, Jan. 15.

The men will be the first to roll this year with their tournament slated in two weeks at Hoffman Lanes.

A squad will roll at 1:30 Saturday, Jan. 22, and at 12:30, 2:55, 5:20, and 7:45 on Sunday, Jan. 23.

The mixed leagues will be in action at Striking Lanes in Mount Prospect on Saturday, Jan. 29, with squads rolling at 3, 5:40, and 8:20.

The gals' tourney is Sunday, Jan. 30, at Striking with four squads: 12:30, 3:10, 5:50, and 8:30.

Questions on the Paddock tournaments should be directed to Marian Phillips, tournament manager, at CLearbrook 3-1520 during the business day.

THE BRASS RAIL is king for the first round of the Paddock Classic Traveling League. The Railers wrapped it up two weeks ago, besting Karlsen Pharmacy 5-2 to emerge as champions of a particularly furious league struggle. The victors, who will meet Bill Cook Buick on position night at Jeffery Lanes this Saturday, are Ted Zimmerman, John Giovannelli, and Warren Olson, back row; and Don Oberg and Warren Walter, the captain, front row. Brass Rail's Pride: Eating And Bowling

(This is the sixth in a series of articles on the sponsors in the Paddock Classic Bowling leagues for men and women.)

Perhaps they should call it "The Golden Rail."

For The Brass Rail—the restaurant—and The Brass Rail—the bowling team sponsored by the restaurant—have both been bathed in a gilded glitter in recent months.

Business at the restaurant, to hear Catering Manager Howard Clancy tell it, has been little short of splendid. And the bowling team, which a year ago was sinking toward the depths in the Paddock Classic Traveling League, has just clinched the PCTL's first round crown.

It's the third year of marriage between the restaurant and the team, and it's clearly the happiest. The restaurant has been doing so well that it is now in the process of revamping, and the team has done so well because it has already been revamped. All new faces carried the Brass Rail banner in the PCTL during this season's first round.

THE BRASS Rail, a stunning eating place reflecting the flavor of English Renaissance architecture, is a dominant feature of the Sheraton-O'Hare Motor Hotel at 6810 N. Mannheim Road, Des Plaines. One of 27 Brass Rails from New York to New Orleans to San Francisco, it opened for business in July of 1963. That business has been heavy and rewarding since.

The work day at The Brass Rail, Clancy reported, is a 20-hour affair. The restaurant begins preparing food for the public at 6 a.m. and doesn't cease until 2 a.m. You can eat there any of the seven days of the week, and if you go on a holiday — Christmas, New Year's Day, Thanksgiving, Mother's Day — there are family-oriented servings.

"There are no specialties," said Clancy. "All food is our specialty."

But that doesn't mean The Brass Rail won't make special arrangements for groups of from 25 to 1,000 persons. Particular menus will be prepared to order for a group, and there's even a special feed awaiting bowling banquets.

THEY CALL it the "Bowling Dinner Special," and it starts with Seafood Cocktail on a succulent journey through Roast Sirloin of Beef au jus, Baked Idaho Potato, String Beans Almondine, Tossed Mixed Green Salad, Sherbet and a beverage.

Each week there are at least a couple of large functions to handle, and there's a constant flow of hungry travelers—mostly local residents—singly and in small groups. It keeps the Brass Rail's dining room, cocktail lounge and banquet hall bustling, so much so that the 1,500 capacity of the present facilities is going to be swelled.

Additions will include a new banquet hall and a coffee shop, with a combined capacity for 1,200 persons. The coffee shop alone will provide service to 150 at a time.

THE NEW look in the make-up of The Brass Rail team includes Ted Zimmerman, Don Oberg, Warren Walter, Warren Olson and John Giovannelli. Those five, with occasional substitutions, combined for a stretch drive that began in November and continued until the Railers clinched first round honors. They bowl out of River Rand Bowl in Des Plaines.

The team boasts fine balance in its scoring, with Zimmerman ranking second in the league with a 198 average. He had a high game of 247 and a high series of 661 in the first round. The others are in a solid bunch at the middle of the league: Oberg, a 190 average; Walter, the team captain, a 189 average and highest traveling series of the round, a 719; Olson, a 187 average; and Giovannelli, a 186 average.

Ahead for the team is the final formality of the first round, position night at Jeffery Lanes this Saturday with Bill Cook Buick the opponent. And there'll be the roll-off against the second round champion next spring, unless, of course, the Railers win round two as well.

They could, because they — like the restaurant that backs them—are a winning combination.

Card Wrestlers Take Quadrangular Honors

Maine West boasted the most champions but Arlington and Glenbard East still finished 1-2 last week in the Lake Park wrestling quadrangular.

The Warriors of the Mid-Suburban Conference landed four individual titles in the mat headliner, but team balance paid off in the four-team event.

Arlington, coached by Julius Fliehler, flashed to three firsts, four seconds, and three thirds in compiling 82 points, a two-point advantage over runnerup Glenbard. The Rams showed three firsts, two seconds, and seven thirds.

Maine West (72) and Lake Park (66) rounded out the field. The Lancers picked up two individual crowns.

ONE OF THOSE Lake Park titles came at 95 pounds where talented Billy Kielar disposed of Glenbard's Muschong 3-1 in the championship bout. Kielar had eliminated Arlington's Jim Whitnell in a first round match, 4-3, scoring on a reversal in the final 18 seconds of an overtime.

Whitnell came back with a third place, rocking Maine West's Grutzius 9-1.

Glenbard East's Reynell captured the 103-pound title with a 2-1 victory over Arlington's John McDonnell. McDonnell had opened with a 2-0 victory over Christensen of Maine West, and the Warrior grappler went on to third place.

GLENBARD EAST'S Stewart ruled the 112-pound entries with an 8-0 conquest of Lake Park's Keith Cline. Cline drew a bye in his opener, and a bye gave Arlington's Ray Smith third place.

Team champion Arlington claimed its first individual crown at 120 pounds as Tom MacCarthy whipped Glenbard East's Gunn, 2-0. MacCarthy opened with a 4-0 win over Scott Samelson of Lake Park.

Glenbard East's Scalzo topped the 127-pound field and third place went to Arlington's Mike Mills with a 4-2 victory over Lake Park's Iwicki.

LAKE PARK'S Brian Quig took 133-pound laurels with an escape in the closing seconds netting him a 1-0 victory over Arlington's Chip Douglas.

Hansch of Maine West topped Lake Park's John Hausen 3-0 for the 138-pound crown, and Arlington's Kirk Wolter came through with a pin for the 145-pound championship. Wolter drew an opening bye but disposed of Lake Park's Steve Paluck in 2:51 in the title tussle.

Steve Ryden, Maine West's all-conference football halfback, and Don Lindmark, Arlington's fine football lineman, squared off for the 154-pound title with Ryden emerging with a 2-0 victory. Steve had eliminated Lake Park's Bill Hausen in a first round match, 2-1.

MIKE JONES of Arlington blanked Jim Kautz of Maine West, a quarterback in the fall, by a 1-0 count at 165 pounds. Jones eliminated Lake Park's Bob Westerlund 6-3 in a first round battle.

The 180-pound title went to Schuepper of Maine West with a 6-2 victory over Scott of Lake Park, and Ray Leonardson of the Des Plaines school took heavyweight honors with a 3-0 victory over Arlington's Ron Thompson.

Thompson had opened with a pin in 3:13 over Glenbard East's West.

Knights Win Soph Tourney

Paddock area schools finished 1-2 last week in the annual Maine East Sophomore Wrestling Tournament.

Prospect High captured team honors with 74 points, but Forest View was right behind with 72. Maine East (70) and Wheeling (62) rounded out the first division.

Other teams in the mat alignment were Palatine (50), Maine South (35), Arlington (26), and Niles East (0).

Prospect and Wheeling each showed three individual champions in the event which ran Wednesday and Thursday.

GARY McMORROW (95 pounds), Bob Link (138), and Gary Cobe (145) brought home the first place awards for the Knights, and Thad Mikols (127), Dan Stavros (154), and Pat McGuire (165) gave Wheeling its titles.

Palatine picked up two crowns with Mike Lewis at 103 and Pat Donahue at 180. Donahue remained unbeaten for the campaign in eight bouts and now stands 19-1 for two seasons. He allowed only one point at Maine East.

Bob Savage of Forest View won the heavyweight division.

FOREST VIEW landed five runnerup slots with Tom Mann at 95, Mark Beatty (103), Brian Wolff (112), Bob Rohner (127), and Mike Casey (138).

Other Paddock area boys claiming second place positions were Mike Herod (120) and Jeff Schneider (180) of Prospect, Kelly Reid (145) of Arlington, and Ron Frediani (heavyweight) of Wheeling.

Third place awards went to Jim Lynch (95), Charles Goodman (145), Leon Molway (165), and Bob Prochnow (heavyweight) of Palatine; George Taylor (120) of Forest View; Bob Dabbert (133) of Arlington; Terry Holshauser (127) and Don Burkhart (154) of Prospect; and Steve Strom of Wheeling (180).

Winter Carnival Rescheduled for Friday, Jan. 14

The Mount Prospect Skating Club Winter Carnival Speed Skating program, scheduled for a Jan. 2 showing at the Lions Park Ice Rink, was postponed for the first time in its history.

Club officials were immediately notified by Illinois Skating Association President Stanton Shumann that Friday, Jan. 14, was the new date assigned for the presentation of the program.

Skating events will begin at 7 p.m. provided that the weather man changes the "June in January" theme of this winter season.

Racing activity is anticipated for the coming weekend with the twice-postponed North Shore Open scheduled for Friday evening at Meadowhill Park in Northbrook. The Tri-State Open is expected to take place in Lombard the next afternoon.

On Sunday afternoon in Glen Ellyn, the Illinois State outdoor championships are planned on Lake Ellyn. Since speed skaters are an optimistic group, it is hoped that all three events will take place as scheduled.

MARY CUNNINGHAM is the leading Mount Prospect Skating Club scorer in the girls division. She competes in the Junior Girls class and scored consistently in all indoor events. Her sister Jean skates in the Midget Girls class. Both gals will skate in the Mount Prospect Winter Carnival, now rescheduled for Friday evening, Jan. 14, at the Lions Park Rink in Mount Prospect.

Maintaining the physical fitness, necessary to endure the rigors of speed skating competition, has been one of the major difficulties for the skaters during the present season. Up to this time there has been no skating rink available in the Northwest Suburban area.

Even with the Winter Carnival postponement, the evening program will still be a top rated program. Excellent lighting facilities at the Lions Park rink will make spectator viewing interesting. Racing will begin at 7 p.m. and final events in all classes will start at 8 p.m.

This is the only home appearance of the Mount Prospect Skating Club during this season. All points earned in this competition qualifies skaters for the National Speed Skating Championships which are held in conjunction with the St. Paul Winter Carnival on Jan. 29 and 30.

Prospect Sophs

Prospect's sophomore cagers didn't have much luck at last week's tournament in St. Charles. They lost two out of three games and failed to repeat their title efforts of 1964.

No further details of the Knights soph basketball efforts at St. Charles were available at press time.

For This Saturday

Men's Entry Deadline Set

Tournament headquarters is buzzing these days as league secretaries file entries for the three Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap bowling tournaments.

Approximately 100 leagues had already reserved tourney slots by Monday with a busy week expected as the men's divisions strive to meet the Saturday deadline.

Entries for the Paddock men's tournament must be filed at Paddock Publications by Saturday, Jan. 8.

Fifty-one men's leagues had reported in Monday with tourney promoters expecting between 105 and 110 for the two-day spectacular at Hoffman Lanes on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 22-23.

FORTY-TWO women's teams had reserved slots by Monday, and tourney manager Marian Phillips reported that the 3:10 squad on Sunday, Jan. 30, had been filled.

Slowest to respond to the tourney red tape were the mixed leagues although this is the first year for a mixed leagues tournament.

The deadline for entries for the women and mixed leagues is Saturday, Jan. 15.

The men will be the first to roll this year with their tournament slated in two weeks at Hoffman Lanes.

A squad will roll at 1:30 Saturday, Jan. 22, and at 12:30, 2:55, 5:20, and 7:45 on Sunday, Jan. 23.

The mixed leagues will be in action at Striking Lanes in Mount Prospect on Saturday, Jan. 29, with squads rolling at 3, 5:40, and 8:20.

The gals' tourney is Sunday, Jan. 30, at Striking with four squads: 12:30, 3:10, 5:50, and 8:30.

Questions on the Paddock tournaments should be directed to Marian Phillips, tournament manager, at CLearbrook 3-1520 during the business day.

THE BRASS RAIL is king for the first round of the Paddock Classic Traveling League. The Railers wrapped it up two weeks ago, besting Karlsen Pharmacy 5-2 to emerge as champions of a particularly furious league struggle. The victors, who will meet Bill Cook Buick on position night at Jeffery Lanes this Saturday, are Ted Zimmerman, John Giovannelli, and Warren Olson, back row; and Don Oberg and Warren Walter, the captain, front row. Meet The Sponsor: 6

Brass Rail's Pride: Eating And Bowling

(This is the sixth in a series of articles on the sponsors in the Paddock Classic Bowling leagues for men and women.)

Perhaps they should call it "The Golden Rail."

For The Brass Rail—the restaurant—and The Brass Rail—the bowling team sponsored by the restaurant—have both been bathed in a gilded glitter in recent months.

Business at the restaurant, to hear Catering Manager Howard Clancy tell it, has been little short of splendid. And the bowling team, which a year ago was sinking toward the depths in the Paddock Classic Traveling League, has just clinched the PCTL's first round crown.

It's the third year of marriage between the restaurant and the team, and it's clearly the happiest. The restaurant has been doing so well that it is now in the process of revamping, and the team has done so well because it has already been revamped. All new faces carried the Brass Rail banner in the PCTL during this season's first round.

THE BRASS Rail, a stunning eating place reflecting the flavor of English Renaissance architecture, is a dominant feature of the Sheraton-O'Hare Motor Hotel at 6810 N. Mannheim Road, Des Plaines. One of 27 Brass Rails from New York to New Orleans to San Francisco, it opened for business in July of 1963. That business has been heavy and rewarding since.

The work day at The Brass Rail, Clancy reported, is a 20-hour affair. The restaurant begins preparing food for the public at 6 a.m. and doesn't cease until 2 a.m. You can eat there any of the seven days of the week, and if you go on a holiday — Christmas, New Year's Day, Thanksgiving, Mother's Day — there are family-oriented servings.

"There are no specialties," said Clancy. "All food is our specialty."

But that doesn't mean The Brass Rail won't make special arrangements for groups of from 25 to 1,000 persons. Particular menus will be prepared to order for a group, and there's even a special feed awaiting bowling banquets.

THEY CALL it the "Bowling Dinner Special," and it starts with Seafood Cocktail on a succulent journey through Roast Sirloin of Beef au jus, Baked Idaho Potato, String Beans Almondine, Tossed Mixed Green Salad, Sherbet and a beverage.

Each week there are at least a couple of large functions to handle, and there's a constant flow of hungry travelers—mostly local residents—singly and in small groups. It keeps the Brass Rail's dining room, cocktail lounge and banquet hall bustling, so much so that the 1,500 capacity of the present facilities is going to be swelled.

Additions will include a new banquet hall and a coffee shop, with a combined capacity for 1,200 persons. The coffee shop alone will provide service to 150 at a time.

THE NEW look in the make-up of The Brass Rail team includes Ted Zimmerman, Don Oberg, Warren Walter, Warren Olson and John Giovannelli. Those five, with occasional substitutions, combined for a stretch drive that began in November and continued until the Railers clinched first round honors. They bowl out of River Rand Bowl in Des Plaines.

The team boasts fine balance in its scoring, with Zimmerman ranking second in the league with a 198 average. He had a high game of 247 and a high series of 661 in the first round. The others are in a solid bunch at the middle of the league: Oberg, a 190 average; Walter, the team captain, a 189 average and highest traveling series of the round, a 719; Olson, a 187 average; and Giovannelli, a 186 average.

Ahead for the team is the final formality of the first round, position night at Jeffery Lanes this Saturday with Bill Cook Buick the opponent. And there'll be the roll-off against the second round champion next spring, unless, of course, the Railers win round two as well.

They could, because they — like the restaurant that backs them—are a winning combination.

Boy Wins Rose Bowl Vacation

Chicago's football fever was especially emphasized by Maurice L. Rothschilds-American Airlines all-expense-paid trip for two Rose Bowl contest in each of Rothschild's nine stores throughout the area.

Randhurst winner was Mike Garofola, 12, of Mount Prospect. He and his companions left O'Hare on American Airlines Dec. 30 for a 4-day trip to Los Angeles and Pasadena. The trip included tickets for both the parade and Rose Bowl game as well as a visit to Disneyland and a 3-day stay at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

The youngsters registered in the contest beginning in September, when Rothschild's new Mustang Shop for Men and Boys was added to each store. (Rh

Hostelers Recall Grand Teton, Europe Trips

USING A SWISS MOUNTAIN HORN, Rick Blomquist of Arlington Heights points to a map of Europe indicating his journey last summer as a member of an American Youth Hostels (AYH) group. Rick visited England, The Netherlands, Germany and Switzerland, mostly by bicycle, during his two-month trip abroad. (Staff Photo)

Thirty-seven low-cost trips in the U.S., Europe and the Far East during the summer of 1966—via bike, train, plane, steamship and station wagon—will be available to members of American Youth Hostels, Inc.

AYH is a non-profit corporation dedicated to furthering international understanding through outdoor activities and educational travel. So called hostelers can actually see the world on a budget, by staying in Youth Hostels located in 34 countries.

A typical 1966 "continental vagabout" through England, France, Germany, Denmark, The Netherlands and Belgium costs only $840 for eight weeks of adventurous travel, mostly by bicycle. For $185 you can take a "plain and fancy ramble" through historic Philadelphia, the charming Penn Dutch Country, Gettysburg, Washington, D. C., Harper's Ferry and other cities.

AYH national headquarters are at 14 W. 8th St., New York, but the Metropolitan Chicago chapter, which has some 3,000 members, is at 2210 N. Clark St., Chicago.

Dr. Paul Dudley White is honorary president of AYH, and Stewart L. Udall, Secretary of the Interior, is on the board of directors.

JEROME CURTO JR. of Arlington Heights is a former two-term president of the Metropolitan Chicago Council, and is presently a board member.

Curto, who grew up in Chicago, said his first contact with AYH was some eight or nine years ago when he "timidly went to the Chicago office" to learn how to climb a mountain. He had seen a news story in a Chicago paper about a planned trip to the Grand Teton country.

"I always had this wild notion of climbing a mountain," Curto said. After filling out application forms for AYH membership, Curto had to be examined by a doctor to insure he was "sound of body."

The cost was $90 for the two week trip. Curto drove and was reimbursed by the Chicago council.

"Outside of the service, this was my first touch of camping out," Curto said. "After arriving at Grand Teton National Park, our group spent the first day in school with a professional mountain climber."

THE FIRST NIGHT on the climb was spent in base camp at the 10,000 foot mark. "We tried to sleep, but with your feet going up hill and your head slanting downhill, it's pretty hard," Curto explained.

When the climbers arrived at the peak, 13,666 feet high, they found the view breathtaking, with visibility of about "100 miles." The summit was about 20 feet square, Curto said, and everyone signed in the register book.

"This was a great thrill for me and my introduction to AYH. I've made many more trips, and even learned how to ski," Curto said. He's now a ski instructor with the group.

Later, on a one day hike at Starved Rock, Curto met the girl who later became his wife. They now reside at 1522 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights.

RICHARD L. Blomquist, 17, of 1318 Leona Terrace, Arlington Heights, is another AYHer. Rick, a student at Arlington High School, spent most of last summer cycling through England, The Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland and other European countries.

Rick, who had been thinking seriously about a vacation in Europe, also discovered American Youth Hostels, Inc., through the newspapers. After writing for literature on planned hosteling abroad, Rick discovered he had saved enough money to begin planning.

First he had to get a U. S. passport, vaccination certificate and his AYH youth pass, then it was off to New York on June 20, where he and the group of 130 AYHers assembled for the flight to London.

After three days in London, the group broke up into parties of 10 and 11 persons for month-long tours of the continent. Rick's party crossed over to The Netherlands and entrained to Amsterdam where the actual cycling trip began.

FROM THERE IT was on to Cologne, Germany, by bicycle. Everything was carried in leather bags piled on the rear fender of the bike. Rick figured at one time he was "biking" about 250 pounds, including the 25 pound cycle and Rick himself, who weighs in at about 130 pounds.

A steamer then transported the group, including the bicycles, down the Rhine River to Lorch. After a train ride to Lahr, the cycling began again, this time with the Matterhorn in the Alps and Switzerland as their destination.

Rick found out that cycling wasn't "so rough," and had little trouble keeping up with the rest of the party. He figures he pedaled nearly 500 miles during the month-long tour, and all this without any prior conditioning, except for a one-day cycle trip to Illinois State Park "just to see if I could do it."

ONLY THREE DAYS of bad weather were encountered, Rick said, with one of these occurring on the way down from the Alps. They had to walk their bikes, and then took a train down because of the weather.

The tour ended on July 22 in Geneva, Switzerland, and then Rick was on his own until Aug. 18, when the entire group was due to reassemble in Paris for the flight home.

Rick spent his last month in Europe visiting his mother's relatives in Norway. He also toured parts of Denmark, Sweden, Belgium and France before the grand tour ended.

"Cycling is so popular in Europe that regular bicycle paths are put in along side paved roads, just like we put in sidewalks," Rick said. "There's always a place for riding, and you never have to worry about cars sneaking up on you."

RICK'S GROUP ate their lunch along the road during the day, and at night stayed in hostels. In London, the King George VI Memorial Hostel served as a hotel for the AYH group. The King George is about 900 years old, Rick said, and has been rebuilt after being burned down several times. Other ancient castles served as hostels for the individual parties.

An AYH hostel can also be a camp, college dorm, a sailing ship, converted building, or a specially constructed building. Resident houseparents are in charge of each hostel.

Rick is already looking forward to another AYH trip abroad, but plans to work this summer to earn funds for the trip.

Membership costs in the Metropolitan Chicago Council of AYH are: adults, $8; senior youths (18 to 20), $7; youth, $5; family pass $10; and lifetime passes, $100.

AYH membership passes entitle members to accommodations at any American, European, or Far East hostel, and registration for 1966 trips abroad or in the Americas is now being accepted. (A15

JERRY CURTO of Arlington Heights had this view of the Grand Teton Range several years ago, before climbing the Grand Teton itself as a member of an AYH mountain climbing group. Curto later became a two-time president of the Chicago Council of American Youth Hostels, Inc., which provides people with a chance to travel in the U. S. and abroad, economically and off the beaten tourist path. Council headquarters is at 2210 N. Clark St., Chicago.

"This was a great thrill for me and my introduction to AYH. I've made many more trips, and even learned how to ski," Curto said. He's now a ski instructor with the group.

Later, on a one day hike at Starved Rock, Curto met the girl who later became his wife. They now reside at 1522 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights.

RICHARD L. Blomquist, 17, of 1318 Leona Terrace, Arlington Heights, is another AYHer. Rick, a student at Arlington High School, spent most of last summer cycling through England, The Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland and other European countries.

Rick, who had been thinking seriously about a vacation in Europe, also discovered American Youth Hostels, Inc., through the newspapers. After writing for literature on planned hosteling abroad, Rick discovered he had saved enough money to begin planning.

First he had to get a U. S. passport, vaccination certificate and his AYH youth pass, then it was off to New York on June 20, where he and the group of 130 AYHers assembled for the flight to London.

After three days in London, the group broke up into parties of 10 and 11 persons for month-long tours of the continent. Rick's party crossed over to The Netherlands and entrained to Amsterdam where the actual cycling trip began.

FROM THERE IT was on to Cologne, Germany, by bicycle. Everything was carried in leather bags piled on the rear fender of the bike. Rick figured at one time he was "biking" about 250 pounds, including the 25 pound cycle and Rick himself, who weighs in at about 130 pounds.

A steamer then transported the group, including the bicycles, down the Rhine River to Lorch. After a train ride to Lahr, the cycling began again, this time with the Matterhorn in the Alps and Switzerland as their destination.

Rick found out that cycling wasn't "so rough," and had little trouble keeping up with the rest of the party. He figures he pedaled nearly 500 miles during the month-long tour, and all this without any prior conditioning, except for a one-day cycle trip to Illinois State Park "just to see if I could do it."

ONLY THREE DAYS of bad weather were encountered, Rick said, with one of these occurring on the way down from the Alps. They had to walk their bikes, and then took a train down because of the weather.

The tour ended on July 22 in Geneva, Switzerland, and then Rick was on his own until Aug. 18, when the entire group was due to reassemble in Paris for the flight home.

Rick spent his last month in Europe visiting his mother's relatives in Norway. He also toured parts of Denmark, Sweden, Belgium and France before the grand tour ended.

"Cycling is so popular in Europe that regular bicycle paths are put in along side paved roads, just like we put in sidewalks," Rick said. "There's always a place for riding, and you never have to worry about cars sneaking up on you."

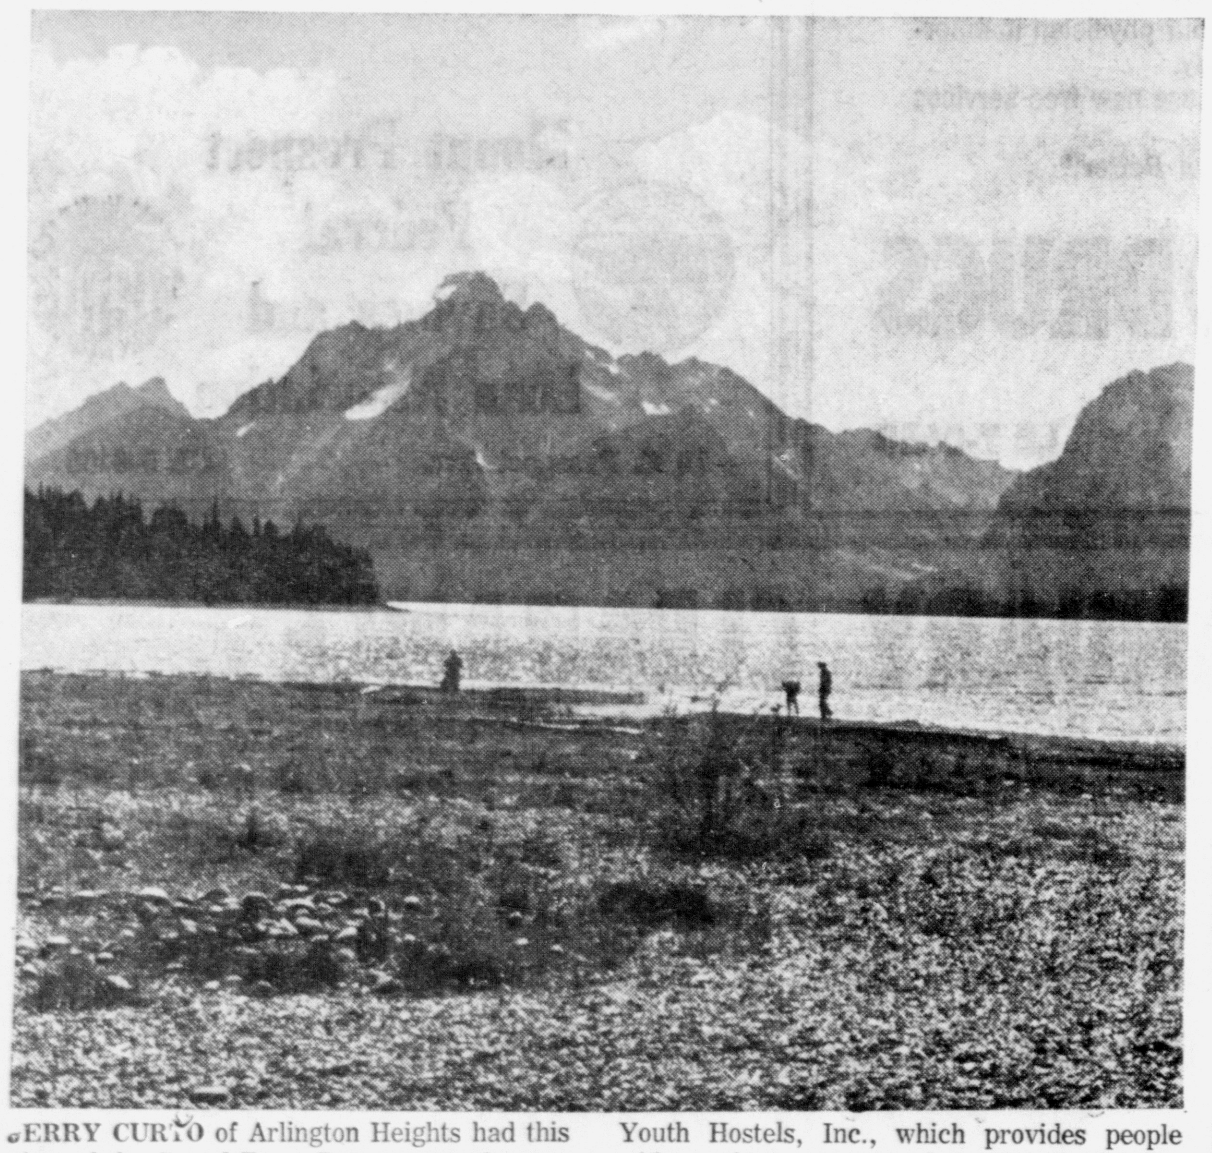
RICK'S GROUP ate their lunch along the road during the day, and at night stayed in hostels. In London, the King George VI Memorial Hostel served as a hotel for the AYH group. The King George is about 900 years old, Rick said, and has been rebuilt after being burned down several times. Other ancient castles served as hostels for the individual parties.

An AYH hostel can also be a camp, college dorm, a sailing ship, converted building, or a specially constructed building. Resident houseparents are in charge of each hostel.

Rick is already looking forward to another AYH trip abroad, but plans to work this summer to earn funds for the trip.

Membership costs in the Metropolitan Chicago Council of AYH are: adults, $8; senior youths (18 to 20), $7; youth, $5; family pass $10; and lifetime passes, $100.

AYH membership passes entitle members to accommodations at any American, European, or Far East hostel, and registration for 1966 trips abroad or in the Americas is now being accepted. (A15



JERRY CURTO of Arlington Heights had this view of the Grand Teton Range several years ago, before climbing the Grand Teton itself as a member of an AYH mountain climbing group. Curto later became a two-time president of the Chicago Council of American Youth Hostels, Inc., which provides people with a chance to travel in the U. S. and abroad, economically and off the beaten tourist path. Council headquarters is at 2210 N. Clark St., Chicago.

Parents of Viet Marine Visit Wounded in Hospital

An Arlington Heights couple whose son was stationed in Viet Nam have begun a series of weekly pilgrimages to Great Lakes Naval Hospital to visit men recovering from injuries suffered in that country.

The couple is Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Pabst, 1 S. Ridge Ave. Their son, Marine Pfc. Michael P. Pabst, was awarded the bronze star for heroism in action in April. He has been rotated to Okinawa.

Mrs. Pabst said she and her husband visit the naval hospital every Sunday, occasionally with other relatives. At Christmas, a group of her neighbors baked cookies for the Pabsts to take.

SHE BEGAN THE visits when she heard her son's corporal, Kenneth Joseph of Lansing, Mich., was hurt while on patrol and recuperating at Great Lakes. Now she and her husband visit a number of men.

"When we get there, we each take a different ward to see as many men as we can."

Most of the men in the two wards, she said, are Marines or Army airborne troops injured in Viet Nam. Many have leg and foot injuries.

They can use candies, home-baked goods, cigars and cigarettes, Mrs. Pabst said, and if anyone wants to supply such items the Pabsts will be happy to take them along.

SEVERAL corporations keep them stocked with small items, and the Red Cross and Navy arrange entertainment, she said.

But "the big thing for them is to have someone to talk to." The Pabsts visit and help men get reacquainted with buddies by wheeling them to other wards.

She said people are free to visit the hospital for such purposes.

"And we have found it is good for us, too. We have made a lot of nice friends."

THE PABSTS learned just before Christmas that the war apparently is over for their son. Now stationed in Okinawa, he is expected home on furlough March 1.

"The news was the next best thing to having him home for Christmas. (A

COLUMBUS OPENS THE NEW WORLD; OUR JOURNEY TO GREATNESS BEGINS

We are pleased to bring you the distinguished series—"Greatest Events In American History"—which begins today with Installment 1.

In each succeeding week, this series will trace the story of our land and show how and why we have become the greatest nation on earth.

It actually all began long before Columbus. The rich natural resources were here; and others, like Leif Ericson, had explored here.

But Columbus' discovery opened up this land, made other nations aware of it, brought developers here, and started the new world on the road to greatness.

On Aug. 3, 1492 Columbus set sail from Spain. On Oct. 12 he sighted one of the Bahama Islands.

Now the new world was ready for settlement—and, democracy.

How democracy got its start here will be shown next week. Watch for Installment 2 then.

Salvation Army Carries Its War to Suburbs

Domestic Woes Are Chief Enemy

by Eugene Nojek
Staff Writer

For Northwest suburbanites, the Salvation Army's familiar bell ringers were pealing not so much for support of its distribution of food baskets to the indigent as for funds to sustain the effort of its suburban branch, the Community Counseling Center at 1767 Oakton St., Des Plaines.

Though a Salvation Army thrust into this pocket of prosperity seems incongruous, the reason is expressed by Mary Young, consultant to the Army's Family Service Division:

"People in suburban areas who are comparatively well off materially have human needs also. They may have no physical needs but they have emotional problems in the domestic area."

IT IS TO deal with such domestic problems — marital conflict, difficult relationships between parents and children, emotional upsets, alcoholism and unmarried motherhood — that the Army's Family Service Division set up its suburban branch in Des Plaines in March, 1965. The center serves Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and unincorporated areas of School District 63.

Staffing the center are professional social workers employed by the Salvation Army. Mrs. Margaret Lisinski, a district supervisor who has been on the staff of the Family Service Division for several years, directs the center.

G. Walter Coles, also on the Family Service Division Staff, is a part time caseworker. New caseworker added to the staff is Robert Kemp, who had been a school social or worker at West Leyden High School in Northlake for six years. All have graduate degrees from accredited schools of social work and are experienced in working with problems of family life.

Who comes to the Community Counseling Center and how does it help them?

WORKERS AT THE center emphasize that people who come for help are from all parts of the community, not from just one segment. Some of them have seen an advertisement about the center or heard about it from someone else. According to Robert Kemp, however, most cases are referrals from professional sources: school principals or social workers, clergymen, general physicians or divorce attorneys.

At the center, case workers first determine whether a person is eligible for its services. "Eligibility is not rigid, but we do urge certain people to get help from different places," Kemp stated.

As outlined by Mrs. Lisinski, the variety of services which the center offers to families, children, teen-agers and young or old adults emphasize counseling rather than treatment.

—The center offers premarital counseling and counseling to married couples who are having trouble getting along. Appointments are usually set up with the couple together at first, and later on an individual basis for one hour a week. Caseworkers talk to them and help them see their problem through the eyes of a neutral observer.

—THEY COUNSEL parents who are having troubles with their children. In such cases, Mrs. Lisinski said, "the problem is usually not with the child but with the way the parents relate to the child and the way they relate to each other. If they disagree on how to raise a child, it confuses the child and he does what he pleases." The center sets up appointments for both parents to come in, but does not see the child if it is very young.

—They help unwed mothers. Firstly, they make arrangements for a girl's entrance into a maternity hospital for prenatal and medical care; and secondly, if the girl wishes they make appointments to see her once a week to help her understand why she became pregnant and what emotional problems led to it.

Further, the social worker at the center helps her to resolve her feelings toward her child and to decide whether she will keep it or have it adopted. If she chooses the latter, they make arrangements with a licensed child placement agency.

—They arrange for homemaker service. Homemakers are women selected, trained and supervised by the Family Service Division. They are placed by the Community Counseling Center in homes where the mother is ill and there is no relative or friend who can assume the responsibility of keeping house for a limited period of time to help the family live normally. Homemakers also help other people, ill or elderly, who don't need a nurse in their homes but can't completely care for themselves.

HOMEMAKERS DO most things a housewife does: light housework, caring for children, shopping and planning and preparing meals. "But they do more than just housework," said Mrs. Lisinski. "They are understanding women who like to work with people and have an interest in family life and try to help. They aid sick persons by encouraging them to use their maximum capacity."

—In other areas, the center gives help in problems with the aged, with the aged and their adult children, and with individual adjustment problems like alcoholism and emotional breakdowns.

While the Community Counseling Center's services are for people with emotional problems, the social workers there are not to be confused with psychiatrists. Miss Young draws the distinction by pointing out that psychiatrists accept persons who are so deeply disturbed that they can't function. They need prolonged help on a one-to-one basis with the psychiatrist who tries to change their personality in a deep sense.

AT THE CENTER, she said, "social caseworkers deal with persons who have problems which they can discuss and recognize. They deal with people whose personalities are intact but who are troubled, people who feel problems which they can handle with the help of a neutral person who understands human behavior and can talk it over."

Kemp describes their work as a kind of applied psychiatry, psychology and sociology. His training "emphasizes helping people to develop their relationships with other persons. We interview persons, draw them out, and develop a rapport with them in such a way that they will accept suggestions and advice."

In the eight-month period following its opening in March until Otcober, the center handled 295 cases, Mrs. Lisinski stated. Of these, 187 cases have been serviced by the center and closed, while some of the remaining are long-term cases still being handled.

For its services, the center charges fees on a sliding scale. The fees depend on the number of persons in a family and its income. Kemp explained that when one member of a family comes in with a problem, the caseworkers also see the other members he is associated with. Hence fees are charged on a family basis.

Because of the sliding scale, low income families may pay nothing for the service while others may pay the full cost. Kemp added that nobody is turned away because of an inability to pay.

FAMILY COUNSELING services are, of course, not new. The phone book listing of them in Chicago's north suburbs reads with the regularity of a catalogue of municipal offices: Family Counseling of Park Ridge, Family Counseling Service of Evanston, Family Service Center of Glenview, Family Service of Glencoe, Family Service of Winnetka-Northfield.

The novelty of Community Counseling Center is that it is the only one set up and run by the Salvation Army's Family Service Division. The need for such a counseling service had long been apparent. Miss Young said that the Family Service Division in Chicago had been getting 20 per cent of its cases from the suburbs. A high concentration of these were from the northwest suburbs.

The impulse which led to the establishment of the center came from community groups like PTA's, school social workers, doctors and church people, who sought advice from the Welfare Council of Chicago. The council in turn, referred them to the Family Service Division whose consultant, Miss Young, organized the center in Des Plaines.

Financial support for the initial year came from the Salvation Army and a foundation. According to Miss Young, the local Community Chests will begin supporting it this year and it is hoped that within three to five years the center will be supported entirely by the communities it serves through the Community Chest and fees.

TO REPRESENT the communities being served, assist in fund raising, work with the staff in determining policies, interpret the center to the surrounding communities and report the community needs to the center, an advisory council was formed in 1964. Included in the advisory council are many from the community who originally asked the Salvation Army to set up the center.

Area members are Mrs. Robert Cheney, 406 W. Kirchoff; Mrs. Charles L. Toot, 901 N. Princeton and John L. Frieburg Jr., 1303 E. Eastman, all of Arlington Heights; Gertrude Pastryk, 701 W. Gregory St., Rev. Edwin I. Stevens, 100 E. Shabonee Terrace and James E. Wax, 111 S. Louis, all of Mount Prospect; and Dr. Bruce Eckersberg, 320 N. Smith, Palatine. (A15

MRS. MARGARET LISINSKI, director of the Community Counseling Center, conducts a private interview. Through such interviews, caseworkers at the center try to get acquainted with the person's problem and develop a rapport with him so that he will accept suggestions and advice. People who need psychiatric help are usually so disturbed that they don't even recognize their problem, whereas a person who comes to the center understands his problem well enough to talk about it.

WHAT IS A CHECK?

A check is simply a written order directed to a bank to pay a stated sum of money to the person named in the check. If you write and sign a check, you are the "drawer," the bank that is to pay the money is the "drawee," and the person named to receive the money is the "payee." If you sign your name on the back of the check you are the "endorser."

Some Checks Are Like Cash

Some checks are almost the same as money, and if one is lost it can be cashed by anyone who finds it. For example, a check payable to "Cash," or endorsed by the person to whom it is made payable, and nothing else, is almost equivalent to cash. It can be passed from person to person without endorsement, and it is comparatively easy for an unauthorized person to cash such a check.

That is why it is wise to draw checks to "Cash" only when you are ready to use them, and to wait until you are prepared to cash checks you receive before you endorse them. For example, if a check is made payable to you and you want to send it by mail to John Jones, write on the back of the check "Pay to John Jones" and then sign your name beneath. By doing this, the check cannot be validly transferred unless Jones' signature is endorsed on the check.

It is always the safest procedure to draw and endorse checks to a named person. If you want to deposit in your bank account a check made payable to you, write "For Deposit Only" above your signature. Having done this, you can safely mail the check to your bank, and the money can be credited only to your account.

Certified Checks

This type of check is often used in business transactions, so so that both parties are certain the check is good. When a check is presented for certification, the bank looks at the drawer's account to be sure there are sufficient funds in the account to cover the check. Then, enough money is set aside from the account in a special fund for the payment of that particular check.

The Illinois law of checks is one of many business and financial procedures contained in the Uniform Commercial Code. The Code is a series of modernized laws, enacted in Illinois in 1962, that defines the rights and duties of individuals in the complex business world of today.

"The Law Serves You" is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under law. (A-15

Shriners Election Wednesday

All Shriners who reside in the northwest suburban area have been invited to attend the annual meeting and election of officers on Wednesday, Jan. 12, at 6:30 p.m.

The meeting will take place at the Chanteclair, 2300 N. Narragansett Avenue, Chicago, according to Herbert Peterson, president.

Comprised of about 500 members, the club is one of the largest and most active Shrine clubs under the jurisdiction of Medinah Shrine Temple.

$226,876 Collected By Courts

Fines totaling $226,876 were collected during November in the five suburban districts of the Circuit Court of Cook County.

Sums received are turned back to the municipalities by the Circuit Court.

November's total collection represented an increase over the $217,245 received during the month of October. Grand total for the five districts so far in 1965 is $2,106,966.

Most of the fines were the result of traffic offenses. (B10

Wheeling High Awaits Its First Fire Ball Saturday

It's Fire Ball time at Wheeling High School!

From the snow sculpturing Saturday morning to the coronation of the queen that night, the day of Jan. 8 promises to be filled with a competitive spirit and a great deal of excitement for W.H.S. students.

There will be competition between clubs and organizations for the snow sculpture trophies and competition between the classes for Christmas tree collection.

SNOW SCULPTURE judging will take place at 2 p.m. Judges are John Sears of the W.H.S. art department and Village Presidents Ted Scanlon of Wheeling, William Farrington of Buffalo Grove, Daniel Congreve of Mount Prospect, John Woods of Arlington Heights, and William Valient, president of the Prospect Heights Improvement Association.

Snow sculpture entries at this writing are German Club, French Club, Spanish Club, and the senior class.

Collection of discarded Christmas trees will be on a class competition basis. A tally of trees will be taken at 3 p.m. The class president whose class totals the largest number of trees will light the bonfire and crown the queen.

Queen of the Fire Ball will be crowned at the intermission of the mixer which is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

FINALISTS FOR the queen's title are seniors Sharon Donlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Donlin, 1526 E. Lillian, Arlington Heights; and Donna Pancamo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony D. Pancamo, 15 Marquette Road, Wheeling.

Junior finalists are Laura Bertrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bertrand, 294 Edgewood Drive, Wheeling; Linda Rank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rank, 902 Hemlock Lane, Mount Prospect; Sandy Stavros, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Stavros, R.R. 3, Box 21, Palatine; and Linda Urban, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Urban, 1714 Wintergreen, Prospect Heights.

The queen's crown was donated by Busse Flowers and Gifts Inc., of Mount Prospect. Attendants will carry nosegay bouquets.

Her highness will be selected by votes cast by those attending the dance. Each ticket of admission will provide its holder with one vote.

SELECTED TO provide musical entertainment at the dance are "Gary and the Knight Lites." The group has appeared at McCormick Place with Peter and Gordon and Manfrid Mann.

The members of the band do radio and TV commercials, teen hops, college dances and proms at Northwestern and DePaul universities. Their latest record, "I Don't Need Your Help," has just been released on the USA label.

The bonfire ceremonies will be free to Wheeling students and open to the public. Wheeling and Prospect Heights area residents are also encouraged to bring their discarded Christmas trees to the area west of W.H.S. during the day Saturday.

THE ALL-SCHOOL mixer will have an admittance charge of 50 cents. The event is sponsored by the Spokesman newspaper staff. Serving as general chairman is Jeanne LaBandt, who is also editor of the newspaper. Jeanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LaBandt, 304 N. Lancaster Ave., Prospect Heights.

Other committee chairmen are Bob Stilwell, band and entertainment; Kathie Barnes, decorations; Ron Poppenhagen, tickets; Jim Towery, publicity and tree collection; Emma Visee, refreshments; Keith Letsche, arrangements; and Maryann Keeney and Connie Andrew, snow sculpture. (Y

Group for Widowed Seeks New Members

St. Gregory chapter of Naim Conference, a society of widowed Catholic men and women, has been formed and is seeking membership from the communities of Mount Prospect, Elk Grove, Arlington Heights, Palatine and Barrington.

President of the new chapter is Kenneth Meyers of Arlington Heights. Spiritual moderator is the Rev. Paul Gilgallon, C.S.V., of the faculty of St. Viator High School.

Meetings are held the second Friday of each month starting Jan. 14, at the Beverly Restaurant, Kensington Road at Beverly in Arlington Heights at 8:30 p.m.

Speaker for the first meeting will be Ross A. Miller of the legal firm of Smith, Dax, Miller and Hecker. His topic, "Legal Decisions for the Widowed," will be followed by a discussion period.

NAIM CONFERENCE which already includes more than 20 chapters and 800 members in the Chicago area conducts educational and spiritual programs to aid men and women in adjustment to the widowed state. Personal interviews, discussion groups, religious functions and lectures by authorities on aspects of widowhood, in addition to various social activities, comprise the program.

Interested persons may obtain further information by contacting Meyers or by attending the first meeting. (B10

4 Named Chairmen For Dimes March

Four area residents have been appointed as March of Dimes chairmen for the drives in their respective communities.

Named as general chairmen are Patrick Durante, 331 S. Home, Itasca, and Richard Venere, 390 N. Central, Wood Dale.

Appointed as Mothers' March of Dimes chairmen are Mrs. Norman Bittner, 205 S. Dunton Avenue, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Thomas A. Pruyn, 520 E. Washington Street, Itasca.

THE GENERAL chairmen will direct the community organization in the January drive for funds to open the door of health and hope to the victims of more than 600 types of birth defects.

The Mothers' March chairmen will recruit marchers for the annual residential appeal. The march will take place Jan. 25 as a climax to the month-long drive for funds to fight the more than 1,000 types of birth defects which yearly disable more children than any other disease condition. (A15

Domestic Woes Are Chief Enemy

by Eugene Nojek
Staff Writer

For Northwest suburbanites, the Salvation Army's familiar bell ringers were pealing not so much for support of its distribution of food baskets to the indigent as for funds to sustain the effort of its suburban branch, the Community Counseling Center at 1767 Oakton St., Des Plaines.

Though a Salvation Army thrust into this pocket of prosperity seems incongruous, the reason is expressed by Mary Young, consultant to the Army's Family Service Division:

"People in suburban areas who are comparatively well off materially have human needs also. They may have no physical needs but they have emotional problems in the domestic area."

IT IS TO deal with such domestic problems — marital conflict, difficult relationships between parents and children, emotional upsets, alcoholism and unmarried motherhood — that the Army's Family Service Division set up its suburban branch in Des Plaines in March, 1965. The center serves Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and unincorporated areas of School District 63.

Staffing the center are professional social workers employed by the Salvation Army. Mrs. Margaret Lisinski, a district supervisor who has been on the staff of the Family Service Division for several years, directs the center.

G. Walter Coles, also on the Family Service Division Staff, is a part time caseworker. New caseworker added to the staff is Robert Kemp, who had been a school social or worker at West Leyden High School in Northlake for six years. All have graduate degrees from accredited schools of social work and are experienced in working with problems of family life.

Who comes to the Community Counseling Center and how does it help them?

WORKERS AT THE center emphasize that people who come for help are from all parts of the community, not from just one segment. Some of them have seen an advertisement about the center or heard about it from someone else. According to Robert Kemp, however, most cases are referrals from professional sources: school principals or social workers, clergymen, general physicians or divorce attorneys.

At the center, case workers first determine whether a person is eligible for its services. "Eligibility is not rigid, but we do urge certain people to get help from different places," Kemp stated.

As outlined by Mrs. Lisinski, the variety of services which the center offers to families, children, teen-agers and young or old adults emphasize counseling rather than treatment.

—The center offers premarital counseling and counseling to married couples who are having trouble getting along. Appointments are usually set up with the couple together at first, and later on an individual basis for one hour a week. Caseworkers talk to them and help them see their problem through the eyes of a neutral observer.

—THEY COUNSEL parents who are having troubles with their children. In such cases, Mrs. Lisinski said, "the problem is usually not with the child but with the way the parents relate to the child and the way they relate to each other. If they disagree on how to raise a child, it confuses the child and he does what he pleases." The center sets up appointments for both parents to come in, but does not see the child if it is very young.

—They help unwed mothers. Firstly, they make arrangements for a girl's entrance into a maternity hospital for prenatal and medical care; and secondly, if the girl wishes they make appointments to see her once a week to help her understand why she became pregnant and what emotional problems led to it.

Further, the social worker at the center helps her to resolve her feelings toward her child and to decide whether she will keep it or have it adopted. If she chooses the latter, they make arrangements with a licensed child placement agency.

—They arrange for homemaker service. Homemakers are women selected, trained and supervised by the Family Service Division. They are placed by the Community Counseling Center in homes where the mother is ill and there is no relative or friend who can assume the responsibility of keeping house for a limited period of time to help the family live normally. Homemakers also help other people, ill or elderly, who don't need a nurse in their homes but can't completely care for themselves.

HOMEMAKERS DO most things a housewife does: light housework, caring for children, shopping and planning and preparing meals. "But they do more than just housework," said Mrs. Lisinski. "They are understanding women who like to work with people and have an interest in family life and try to help. They aid sick persons by encouraging them to use their maximum capacity."

—In other areas, the center gives help in problems with the aged, with the aged and their adult children, and with individual adjustment problems like alcoholism and emotional breakdowns.

While the Community Counseling Center's services are for people with emotional problems, the social workers there are not to be confused with psychiatrists. Miss Young draws the distinction by pointing out that psychiatrists accept persons who are so deeply disturbed that they can't function. They need prolonged help on a one-to-one basis with the psychiatrist who tries to change their personality in a deep sense.

AT THE CENTER, she said, "social caseworkers deal with persons who have problems which they can discuss and recognize. They deal with people whose personalities are intact but who are troubled, people who feel problems which they can handle with the help of a neutral person who understands human behavior and can talk it over."

Kemp describes their work as a kind of applied psychiatry, psychology and sociology. His training "emphasizes helping people to develop their relationships with other persons. We interview persons, draw them out, and develop a rapport with them in such a way that they will accept suggestions and advice."

In the eight-month period following its opening in March until Otcober, the center handled 295 cases, Mrs. Lisinski stated. Of these, 187 cases have been serviced by the center and closed, while some of the remaining are long-term cases still being handled.

For its services, the center charges fees on a sliding scale. The fees depend on the number of persons in a family and its income. Kemp explained that when one member of a family comes in with a problem, the caseworkers also see the other members he is associated with. Hence fees are charged on a family basis.

Because of the sliding scale, low income families may pay nothing for the service while others may pay the full cost. Kemp added that nobody is turned away because of an inability to pay.

FAMILY COUNSELING services are, of course, not new. The phone book listing of them in Chicago's north suburbs reads with the regularity of a catalogue of municipal offices: Family Counseling of Park Ridge, Family Counseling Service of Evanston, Family Service Center of Glenview, Family Service of Glencoe, Family Service of Winnetka-Northfield.

The novelty of Community Counseling Center is that it is the only one set up and run by the Salvation Army's Family Service Division. The need for such a counseling service had long been apparent. Miss Young said that the Family Service Division in Chicago had been getting 20 per cent of its cases from the suburbs. A high concentration of these were from the northwest suburbs.

The impulse which led to the establishment of the center came from community groups like PTA's, school social workers, doctors and church people, who sought advice from the Welfare Council of Chicago. The council in turn, referred them to the Family Service Division whose consultant, Miss Young, organized the center in Des Plaines.

Financial support for the initial year came from the Salvation Army and a foundation. According to Miss Young, the local Community Chests will begin supporting it this year and it is hoped that within three to five years the center will be supported entirely by the communities it serves through the Community Chest and fees.

TO REPRESENT the communities being served, assist in fund raising, work with the staff in determining policies, interpret the center to the surrounding communities and report the community needs to the center, an advisory council was formed in 1964. Included in the advisory council are many from the community who originally asked the Salvation Army to set up the center.

A MESSAGE TO CLASSIFIED USERS

Before you call an ad-visor to place your

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS AD

consider this:

You are about to invest money for an ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results:

1. DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS

Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. DON'T OMIT THE PHONE NUMBER

Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. DON'T USE BLIND BOX NUMBERS

Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED

Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. DON'T LEAVE HOME ON THE DAYS YOU ADVERTISE

Many good prospects will not call the second time if your phone is unanswered.

6. DON'T OMIT IMPORTANT WORDS TO SAVE MONEY

Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and amount to much less in the long run.

7 DON'T OVERLOOK OUR LOWER RATE FOR CONSECUTIVE INSERTIONS

You'll get the biggest parade of readers at the lowest price. Your Needs Satisfied thru Paddock Publications Classified.

consider this:

You are about to invest money for an ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results:

1. DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS

Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. DON'T OMIT THE PHONE NUMBER

Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. DON'T USE BLIND BOX NUMBERS

Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED

Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. DON'T LEAVE HOME ON THE DAYS YOU ADVERTISE

Many good prospects will not call the second time if your phone is unanswered.

6. DON'T OMIT IMPORTANT WORDS TO SAVE MONEY

Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and amount to much less in the long run.

County Hospital Proud Of Research Achievements

When a medical research institution recounts its accomplishments at the end of an old year — in this case 1965 — it is really counting the blessings of good health, not only for the coming year but for years to come, according to Dr. Samuel J. Hoffman, director of Hektoen Institute for Medical Research of the Cook County Hospital.

"In 1965, Hektoen made many significant strides against such familiar enemies of mankind as mental retardation, heart, liver and kidney disease, and I think that this has given the people of Chicago and Cook County an extra measure of blessings to count as we move into the new year," Dr. Hoffman said in a statement reviewing the Institute's activities.

"Hektoen's greatly expanded laboratory facilities," he noted, "have given us a remarkable opportunity to study some of the special areas of patient needs at Cook County Hospital, as well as enabling us to expand our continuing programs of scientific investigation and teaching."

DR. HOFFMAN listed several significant developments and areas of research that showed particular promise:

1. Researchers found a drug which is extremely effective in the treatment of lead poisoning, the often fatal disease which commonly causes mental retardation and blindness. The drug, penicillamine, has shown a marked improvement over others in the treatment of some 200 children. Especially prone to the disease are youngsters who swallow particles of paint containing lead.

2. Development of a highly improved operation for the treatment of hydrocephalus, a disease of the newborn. One in every 700 to 1,000 babies is born with the disease which, when not treated, leads to a grotesquely deformed head, severe mental retardation, and blindness.

3. Application of new techniques in the treatment of heart disease. Recent developments include the implantation of electrical pace-makers in patients with complete heart block, the most serious type of failure of the heart's own "electrical" system.

4. INVESTIGATION of the role of infection as a cause of death in newborn infants.

5. Diagnosis of disease as determined by antibody responses.

6. Studies at Hektoen found that the adrenal glands significantly influence the operation of the thyroid gland. Doctors have been able to relieve symptoms of hyperthyroid by cutting down adrenal activity.

7. A new approach to the treatment of shock by which mortality has been dramatically reduced.

"RESEARCH IS also moving ahead in such basic areas as leukemia, virus diseases, congenital heart disease, and cancer," Dr. Hoffman said. "I am confident that with continued and dedicated research we will be counting an ever increasing number of blessings in the year ahead."

Hektoen was organized as a not-for-profit research facility in 1943. A staff of 170 medical research scientists and 180 laboratory technicians are actively engaged in many areas of research at the center.

Emphysema on the Increase, TB Institute Head Reports

John D. is 52.

He finds it hard to breathe.

For the past few winters he has had a cold that hangs on after the normal time. He coughs a lot.

John D. smokes too much. "A pack and a half a day" he says.

For a while, he thought he had asthma.

He couldn't breath in the morning. At night he had trouble breathing.

After taking a walk at a normal pace, he'd have trouble breathing.

Now every breath requires a major effort.

John D. has emphysema. It is incurable.

A DISEASE that creeps up on you, that killed 15,000 Americans in 1963, that doctors don't know the cause of and haven't found the cure for — these are the distressing features of emphysema.

"Emphysema is on the increase," according to Dr. Julius Novak, medical director of the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County.

"In the last 10 years, deaths from this disease have increased six times over," he said.

The usual victim is between 50 and 70 years old, a heavy smoker, a man, and probably a person who lives in an area of air pollution, Dr. Novak said.

WHAT IS emphysema?

"The word emphysema is from the Greek word meaning 'inflation,' " he said. "It's a disease which causes the lungs to become greatly enlarged."

What happens, he said, "is that the lung becomes overstretched and at the same time, the lung becomes less efficient in exchanging oxygen for carbon dioxide.

"In other words, breathing becomes harder," he said.

THERE IS NO single, effective treatment for emphysema now, Dr. Novak stated, but "different treatments, including 'wonder drugs' help different patients at different times. Under a doctor's care, most patients can get some relief from their attacks of breathlessness."

He said the Tuberculosis Institute and official agencies are turning more time and attention to the study of emphysema.

"The Institute is concerned with emphysema because it would not make good sense to finally eradicate tuberculosis and leave these other insidious respiratory diseases which can weaken lungs and make them susceptible again to TB," Dr. Novak said.

HE EMPHASIZED six points of health if you have emphysema:

1. Emphysema is serious. It can hurt your lungs and your heart. You can't treat it yourself. See your doctor.

2. Don't smoke. Continued smoking makes emphysema worse.

3. Some emphysema cases report stomach trouble. If you have digestive difficulties, see your doctor for relief.

4. Keep fit. Set up a good health routine — and stick to it.

5. Avoid polluted air. Don't expose yourself unnecessarily to dust or fumes if you can avoid them.

6. At the start of a cold or other respiratory infection —see your doctor.

County Hospital Proud Of Research Achievements

When a medical research institution recounts its accomplishments at the end of an old year — in this case 1965 — it is really counting the blessings of good health, not only for the coming year but for years to come, according to Dr. Samuel J. Hoffman, director of Hektoen Institute for Medical Research of the Cook County Hospital.

"In 1965, Hektoen made many significant strides against such familiar enemies of mankind as mental retardation, heart, liver and kidney disease, and I think that this has given the people of Chicago and Cook County an extra measure of blessings to count as we move into the new year," Dr. Hoffman said in a statement reviewing the Institute's activities.

"Hektoen's greatly expanded laboratory facilities," he noted, "have given us a remarkable opportunity to study some of the special areas of patient needs at Cook County Hospital, as well as enabling us to expand our continuing programs of scientific investigation and teaching."

DR. HOFFMAN listed several significant developments and areas of research that showed particular promise:

1. Researchers found a drug which is extremely effective in the treatment of lead poisoning, the often fatal disease which commonly causes mental retardation and blindness. The drug, penicillamine, has shown a marked improvement over others in the treatment of some 200 children. Especially prone to the disease are youngsters who swallow particles of paint containing lead.

2. Development of a highly improved operation for the treatment of hydrocephalus, a disease of the newborn. One in every 700 to 1,000 babies is born with the disease which, when not treated, leads to a grotesquely deformed head, severe mental retardation, and blindness.

3. Application of new techniques in the treatment of heart disease. Recent developments include the implantation of electrical pace-makers in patients with complete heart block, the most serious type of failure of the heart's own "electrical" system.

4. INVESTIGATION of the role of infection as a cause of death in newborn infants.

5. Diagnosis of disease as determined by antibody responses.

6. Studies at Hektoen found that the adrenal glands significantly influence the operation of the thyroid gland. Doctors have been able to relieve symptoms of hyperthyroid by cutting down adrenal activity.

7. A new approach to the treatment of shock by which mortality has been dramatically reduced.

"RESEARCH IS also moving ahead in such basic areas as leukemia, virus diseases, congenital heart disease, and cancer," Dr. Hoffman said. "I am confident that with continued and dedicated research we will be counting an ever increasing number of blessings in the year ahead."

Hektoen was organized as a not-for-profit research facility in 1943. A staff of 170 medical research scientists and 180 laboratory technicians are actively engaged in many areas of research at the center. (B10

Emphysema on the Increase, TB Institute Head Reports

John D. is 52.

He finds it hard to breathe.

For the past few winters he has had a cold that hangs on after the normal time. He coughs a lot.

John D. smokes too much. "A pack and a half a day" he says.

For a while, he thought he had asthma.

He couldn't breath in the morning. At night he had trouble breathing.

After taking a walk at a normal pace, he'd have trouble breathing.

Now every breath requires a major effort.

John D. has emphysema. It is incurable.

A DISEASE that creeps up on you, that killed 15,000 Americans in 1963, that doctors don't know the cause of and haven't found the cure for — these are the distressing features of emphysema.

"Emphysema is on the increase," according to Dr. Julius Novak, medical director of the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County.

"In the last 10 years, deaths from this disease have increased six times over," he said.

The usual victim is between 50 and 70 years old, a heavy smoker, a man, and probably a person who lives in an area of air pollution, Dr. Novak said.

WHAT IS emphysema?

"The word emphysema is from the Greek word meaning 'inflation,' " he said. "It's a disease which causes the lungs to become greatly enlarged."

What happens, he said, "is that the lung becomes overstretched and at the same time, the lung becomes less efficient in exchanging oxygen for carbon dioxide.

"In other words, breathing becomes harder," he said.

THERE IS NO single, effective treatment for emphysema now, Dr. Novak stated, but "different treatments, including 'wonder drugs' help different patients at different times. Under a doctor's care, most patients can get some relief from their attacks of breathlessness."

He said the Tuberculosis Institute and official agencies are turning more time and attention to the study of emphysema.

"The Institute is concerned with emphysema because it would not make good sense to finally eradicate tuberculosis and leave these other insidious respiratory diseases which can weaken lungs and make them susceptible again to TB," Dr. Novak said.

HE EMPHASIZED six points of health if you have emphysema:

1. Emphysema is serious. It can hurt your lungs and your heart. You can't treat it yourself. See your doctor.

2. Don't smoke. Continued smoking makes emphysema worse.

3. Some emphysema cases report stomach trouble. If you have digestive difficulties, see your doctor for relief.

4. Keep fit. Set up a good health routine — and stick to it.

5. Avoid polluted air. Don't expose yourself unnecessarily to dust or fumes if you can avoid them.

6. At the start of a cold or other respiratory infection —see your doctor.

Roselle Girl Is Crowned Illinois' Junior Miss

Wins Scholarship, Trip to Alabama

Kathryn Benysh of Roselle was judged the state's ideal high school senior girl Thursday, Dec. 30, following the week-long Illinois' Junior Miss Pageant at the Drury Lane Theatre, Evergreen Park.

The new Illinois' Junior Miss was selected from 11 outstanding finalists, who, in turn, represented more than 9,000 high school girls who participated in the seventh annual Pageant.

Decatur's Junior Miss, Patricia Gallagher, was selected first runner-up. Other runners - up were Margaret Grant, Park Ridge; Kathleen McCarthy, Rockford, and Cathy Compere, Lake Forest - Lake Bluff.

THE TITLE earns Kathy a $2,500 college scholarship, which she will use at Northwestern University, and a trip to Mobile, Ala., March 20-26, where she will represent Illinois in America's Junior Miss Pageant. Other awards were an Instamatic 304 camera from Eastman-Kodak Co. and a set of matched luggage from the Chevrolet Division, General Motors Corp.

The Illinois Pageant is sponsored by Chicago's American and Chevrolet and administered by Illinois' Junior Miss Pageant and Scholarship Foundation, Inc., Arlington Heights.

Kathy, a 5-foot 5-inch brownette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Benysh, 636 Goodrich, Roselle, and a senior student at Lake Park High School in Medinah. She is an A student with particular interest in foreign languages.

Kathy qualified for the state Pageant by winning the Roselle title during community competition in late October sponsored by Paddock Publications, Inc.

OTHER FINALISTS were Linda Mangos, River Forest; Robin Swain of Des Plaines, representing Palatine; Sharon Burns, Eergreen Park; Debby Meier, Kankakee County; Carol Stenek, Blue Island, and Vickie Miyashita of Hoffman Estates, representing Elk Grove Village.

Each of the 34 contestants was judged on mental alertness, creative and performing ability, poise and appearance, youth fitness and scholastic achievement.

Morgan Park's Junior Miss, Virginia Michet, was presented with a silver tray after winning an allied party-planning activity, and JoAnne Gazarek, Roseland, was selected as the most popular contestant by the other Junior Misses.

JUDGES FOR the finals were Margaret Jean Fish, Illinois' Junior Miss of 1964; Eldon Brown, Parents' magazine; Grant Nelson, Walston and Co.; Webbs Norman, Park District of Oak Park; Norman Nowicki, WGN-TV, and Scott Schmidt, Chicato's American.

Paddock Publications sponsored six contestants in the Illinois Pageant, including the winner. Gesides the other finalists, Robin Swain and Vickie Miyashita, Paddock Junior Miss entries were Pat Roig of Arlington Heights, representing Wheeling; Kathy Hagan, Arlington Heights, representing Mount Prospect, and Jan Kirchner, Arlington Heights. (A15

THE MOMENT 34 high school senior girls have been waiting for arrives. Jack Hilton, executive secretary of the Illinois' Junior Miss Pageant and Scholarship Foundation and master of ceremonies for the 1966 state Pageant, has just announced the winner, Roselle's Junior Miss, Kathryn Benysh, during the final ceremonies at Drury Lane Theatre. Standing behind Kathy are the four runners-up. Along with the title, the Lake Park High School student won a $2,500 scholarship and the chance to compete in America's Junior Miss Pageant. (A-15

Illinois' Junior Miss Takes Crown in Stride

Roselle Teen Is Winner

BY PAT ADAM
Staff Writer

A 17-year-old girl who's just won the title of Illinois' Junior Miss might be expected to remain on Cloud 9 for a few days.

Not Roselle's Kathy Benysh. Monday it was class as usual, then home by 4 o'clock for an interview with a Paddock Publications reporter.

She was seated, poised but relaxed, on the sofa when the reporter arrived, and, probably without realizing it, almost immediately began to reveal the traits that won her the right to represent all Illinois high school senior girls at America's Junior Miss Pageant next March.

NEATLY ATTIRED in Oxford gray sweater and skirt, Kathy greeted the reporter graciously, inquired if she might bring her some refreshment.

What did she find most exciting about the five-day pageant conducted during the Christmas holidays at lush Drury Lane Theatre in Evergreen Park?

"Meting so many new girls!" the Lake Park senior answered without hesitating.

She was delighted to discover one of the contestants, Danuta Zukowski, Jefferson Park's Junior Miss, had been her kindergarten classmate at Chicago's Farnsworth Grade School. That was just before the Benysh family moved to Roselle, where they have a ranch style home in a wooded area on the outskirts of the village.

A TOP student all through her school years, Kathy will be valedictorian of her class if she maintains her straight "A" average. Proficient in Spanish, French and Russian, she plans to major in languages at Northwestern University where she will make good use of the $2,500 scholarship that goes with her Junior Miss title.

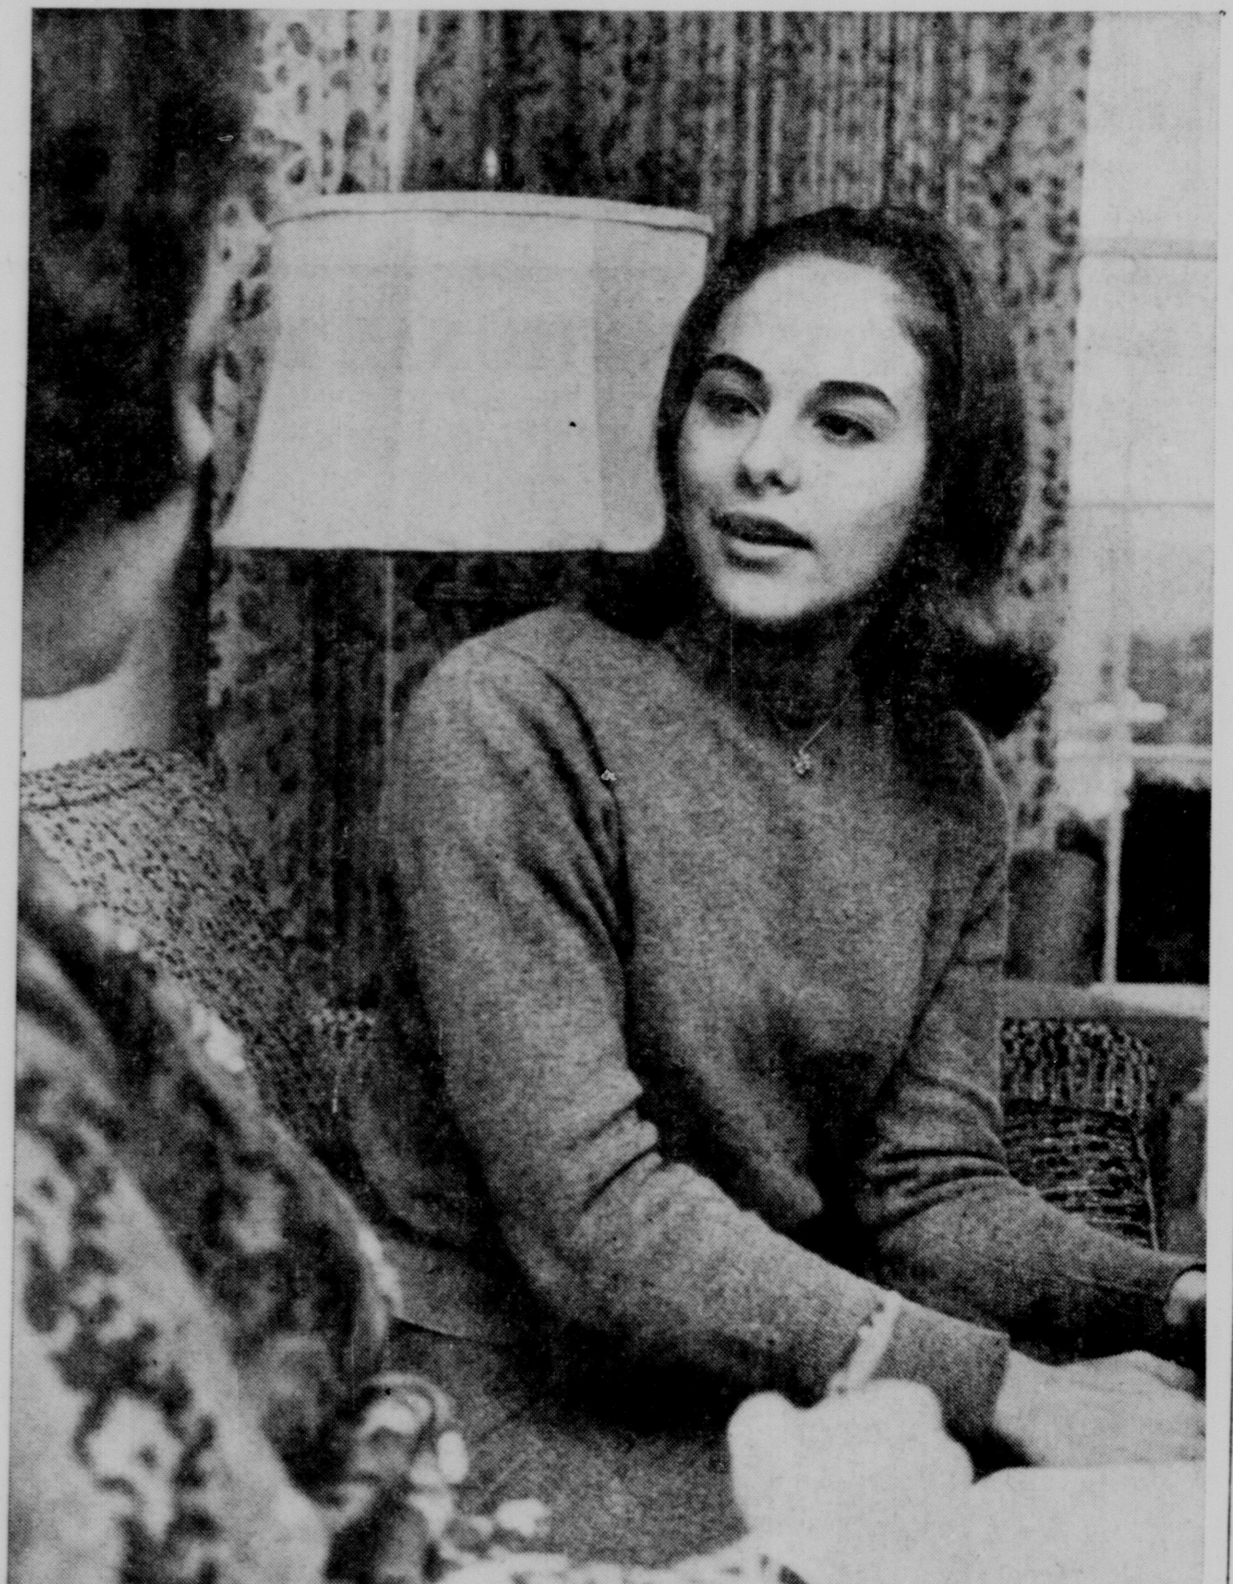
While she expects to be prepared to teach, she would like to enter government service, maybe as a translator, or even the Peace Corps.

Kathy looks forward to more than book learning when she gets on campus.

"There is so much to learn in college," she believes. "The chance to be on one's own, to learn to take other persons into consideration."

HOWEVER, SHE has already experienced concern for others. During the summer Kathy worked at the Elaine Boyd Creche, a home for retarded children, feeding the youngsters, bathing them, cleaning their rooms, supervising their play and even engaging in some physical therapy.

She also has taught children of migrant workers in the vacation Bible school at her church, Trinity Lutheran in Roselle.



"I'M LOOKING forward to being on my own," Kathy Benysh, chosen last week as 1966 Illinois' Junior Miss, tells Pat Adam, Paddock Publications reporter, as they discuss the Roselle high school senior's expectations of college. Kathy, a student at Lake Park, won a $2,500 scholarship which she will use at Northwestern University. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Benysh and has a sister, Debbie, 14, a freshman at Lake Park. (Staff photo)

"I read the children Bible stories in Spanish," she recalled, "and some of them were so surprised. They are used to Spanish at home, but they didn't expect it at Bible school."

Kathy's participation in Girls' Athletic Association and gymnastics at Lake Park and her skill in water and snow skiing helped prepare her for the youth fitness category in which the 34 Junior Miss candidates were judged. Dressed in dark blue bermuda shorts and white blouses, they demonstrated their fitness with a choreography routine.

THEY ALSO were judged on poise and appearance. For this the girls wore white evening gowns and performed a routine that demonstrated their gracefulness and ease in formal dress.

In addition to her sports and scholastic activities at Lake Park, Kathy is secretary to the student council and a cheer leader. And with all this she still finds time for a special boy friend.

"We don't go steady, but we don't date anybody else," she explained, laughing.

A favorite date would be a trip to the Loop to Old Town or McCormick Place, but the more frequent relaxation is a party in someone's home, a movie or dancing at a teenage club.

Kathy, like most teenage girls, expects to marry some day, but her college education comes first.

"I WANT my B.A.," she said emphatically. "A girl should be prepared."

Right now, her thoughts are on a much closer event, America's Junior Miss Pageant at Mobile, Ala., in March. To prepare for that she will need to continue practicing on her guitar as all candidates must give a talent performance, and Kathy's is folk singing.

This pageant will be a little different, however, than the local and state contests which she won.

"I now represent all Illinois and not just myself, and I want to do the best possible job I can," she said.

Forest View Teacher Elected to IEA Board

The chairman of the foreign language department at Forest View High School in Arlington Heights (District 214) was elected last week to the Illinois Education Association board of directors.

Mrs. Marjorie Olson, a Latin teacher, was elected at Thursday's session of the 112th annual meeting of the IEA in Chicago.

HER VICTORY was attributed primarily to strong campaigning by the northwest suburban division, which was just organized last year and is thus newest in the IEA. Campaign chairman was William Harner, testing consultant for Arlington Heights District 25 and president-elect of the division. Mrs. Olson is immediate past-president of the division, having been the first elected, and is now on the division's executive committee.

To win the post on the board of directors, she defeated two candidates proposed by the IEA nominating committee — Ernest E. Poe, assistant superintendent of the Wheaton elementary schools, and William Floyd, superintendent of Savannah schools.

Twenty-six educators from the area represented the 2,800 teachers of the northwest suburban division, according to Ethan Janove, principal of Brentwood School in Elk Grove District 59 and public relations chairman for the division.

AMONG MAJOR actions taken, the IEA voted to accept the report of a two-year study commission which worked to update the constitution. The representation and number of divisions — the area's interest here is strong because Downstate groups have dominated the IEA in spite of the heavy growth in the metropolitan area.

MARJORIE OLSON

Because dues are paid on a graduated scale based on income, higher-paid Chicago area teachers previously have paid about half the IEA expenses, even though alloted just about one-fourth the representation.

The IEA voted also to raise annual dues, with the upper limit increased from $18 to $25.

In other actions, the IEA also voted: to endorse U.S. Administration policy on Viet Nam; and to encourage "educational programs which will undergird the spirit of freedom and independence in the nation; which will respect each person's freedom of religion; and which will resist the forces which would seek to impose their own values, including religious values, on other persons." Sex Education Board To Hold First Meet

The nine-member Illinois Sex Education Advisory Board will hold its first meeting at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) in Springfield.

The board was established in House Bill 1633—passed by the 74th General Assembly—which established a Division of Sex Education in the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The law specifies that representatives of the Illinois Youth Commission, Department of Public Aid, Department of Public Health, Department of Mental Health and Department of Children and Family Services, and four additional members appointed by Superintendent Page comprise the committee.

MEMBERS APPOINTED by Ray Page, State Superintendent of public instruction, are Norman S. Green, superintendent of Aurora East Administration Center, Franklin R. Fitch, M.D., Illinois Social Hygiene League, Chicago; Dr. Howard S. Hoyman, professor of health education, University of Illinois, and the Very Rev. Msgr. Raymond J. Wahl, J. D. Roselle Girl Is Crowned Illinois' Junior Miss

Wins Scholarship, Trip to Alabama

Kathryn Benysh of Roselle was judged the state's ideal high school senior girl Thursday, Dec. 30, following the week-long Illinois' Junior Miss Pageant at the Drury Lane Theatre, Evergreen Park.

The new Illinois' Junior Miss was selected from 11 outstanding finalists, who, in turn, represented more than 9,000 high school girls who participated in the seventh annual Pageant.

Decatur's Junior Miss, Patricia Gallagher, was selected first runner-up. Other runners - up were Margaret Grant, Park Ridge; Kathleen McCarthy, Rockford, and Cathy Compere, Lake Forest - Lake Bluff.

THE TITLE earns Kathy a $2,500 college scholarship, which she will use at Northwestern University, and a trip to Mobile, Ala., March 20-26, where she will represent Illinois in America's Junior Miss Pageant. Other awards were an Instamatic 304 camera from Eastman-Kodak Co. and a set of matched luggage from the Chevrolet Division, General Motors Corp.

The Illinois Pageant is sponsored by Chicago's American and Chevrolet and administered by Illinois' Junior Miss Pageant and Scholarship Foundation, Inc., Arlington Heights.

Kathy, a 5-foot 5-inch brownette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Benysh, 636 Goodrich, Roselle, and a senior student at Lake Park High School in Medinah. She is an A student with particular interest in foreign languages.

Kathy qualified for the state Pageant by winning the Roselle title during community competition in late October sponsored by Paddock Publications, Inc.

OTHER FINALISTS were Linda Mangos, River Forest; Robin Swain of Des Plaines, representing Palatine; Sharon Burns, Eergreen Park; Debby Meier, Kankakee County; Carol Stenek, Blue Island, and Vickie Miyashita of Hoffman Estates, representing Elk Grove Village.

Each of the 34 contestants was judged on mental alertness, creative and performing ability, poise and appearance, youth fitness and scholastic achievement.

Morgan Park's Junior Miss, Virginia Michet, was presented with a silver tray after winning an allied party-planning activity, and JoAnne Gazarek, Roseland, was selected as the most popular contestant by the other Junior Misses.

JUDGES FOR the finals were Margaret Jean Fish, Illinois' Junior Miss of 1964; Eldon Brown, Parents' magazine; Grant Nelson, Walston and Co.; Webbs Norman, Park District of Oak Park; Norman Nowicki, WGN-TV, and Scott Schmidt, Chicato's American.

Paddock Publications sponsored six contestants in the Illinois Pageant, including the winner. Gesides the other finalists, Robin Swain and Vickie Miyashita, Paddock Junior Miss entries were Pat Roig of Arlington Heights, representing Wheeling; Kathy Hagan, Arlington Heights, representing Mount Prospect, and Jan Kirchner, Arlington Heights. THE MOMENT 34 high school senior girls have been waiting for arrives. Jack Hilton, executive secretary of the Illinois' Junior Miss Pageant and Scholarship Foundation and master of ceremonies for the 1966 state Pageant, has just announced the winner, Roselle's Junior Miss, Kathryn Benysh, during the final ceremonies at Drury Lane Theatre. Standing behind Kathy are the four runners-up. Along with the title, the Lake Park High School student won a $2,500 scholarship and the chance to compete in America's Junior Miss Pageant. (A-15

Illinois' Junior Miss Takes Crown in Stride

Roselle Teen Is Winner

BY PAT ADAM
Staff Writer

A 17-year-old girl who's just won the title of Illinois' Junior Miss might be expected to remain on Cloud 9 for a few days.

Not Roselle's Kathy Benysh. Monday it was class as usual, then home by 4 o'clock for an interview with a Paddock Publications reporter.

She was seated, poised but relaxed, on the sofa when the reporter arrived, and, probably without realizing it, almost immediately began to reveal the traits that won her the right to represent all Illinois high school senior girls at America's Junior Miss Pageant next March.

NEATLY ATTIRED in Oxford gray sweater and skirt, Kathy greeted the reporter graciously, inquired if she might bring her some refreshment.

What did she find most exciting about the five-day pageant conducted during the Christmas holidays at lush Drury Lane Theatre in Evergreen Park?

"Meting so many new girls!" the Lake Park senior answered without hesitating.

She was delighted to discover one of the contestants, Danuta Zukowski, Jefferson Park's Junior Miss, had been her kindergarten classmate at Chicago's Farnsworth Grade School. That was just before the Benysh family moved to Roselle, where they have a ranch style home in a wooded area on the outskirts of the village.

A TOP student all through her school years, Kathy will be valedictorian of her class if she maintains her straight "A" average. Proficient in Spanish, French and Russian, she plans to major in languages at Northwestern University where she will make good use of the $2,500 scholarship that goes with her Junior Miss title.

While she expects to be prepared to teach, she would like to enter government service, maybe as a translator, or even the Peace Corps.

Kathy looks forward to more than book learning when she gets on campus.

"There is so much to learn in college," she believes. "The chance to be on one's own, to learn to take other persons into consideration."

HOWEVER, SHE has already experienced concern for others. During the summer Kathy worked at the Elaine Boyd Creche, a home for retarded children, feeding the youngsters, bathing them, cleaning their rooms, supervising their play and even engaging in some physical therapy.

She also has taught children of migrant workers in the vacation Bible school at her church, Trinity Lutheran in Roselle.

"I read the children Bible stories in Spanish," she recalled, "and some of them were so surprised. They are used to Spanish at home, but they didn't expect it at Bible school."

Kathy's participation in Girls' Athletic Association and gymnastics at Lake Park and her skill in water and snow skiing helped prepare her for the youth fitness category in which the 34 Junior Miss candidates were judged. Dressed in dark blue bermuda shorts and white blouses, they demonstrated their fitness with a choreography routine.

THEY ALSO were judged on poise and appearance. For this the girls wore white evening gowns and performed a routine that demonstrated their gracefulness and ease in formal dress.

In addition to her sports and scholastic activities at Lake Park, Kathy is secretary to the student council and a cheer leader. And with all this she still finds time for a special boy friend.

"We don't go steady, but we don't date anybody else," she explained, laughing.

A favorite date would be a trip to the Loop to Old Town or McCormick Place, but the more frequent relaxation is a party in someone's home, a movie or dancing at a teenage club.

Kathy, like most teenage girls, expects to marry some day, but her college education comes first.

"I WANT my B.A.," she said emphatically. "A girl should be prepared."

Right now, her thoughts are on a much closer event, America's Junior Miss Pageant at Mobile, Ala., in March. To prepare for that she will need to continue practicing on her guitar as all candidates must give a talent performance, and Kathy's is folk singing.

This pageant will be a little different, however, than the local and state contests which she won.

"I now represent all Illinois and not just myself, and I want to do the best possible job I can," she said.

"I'M LOOKING forward to being on my own," Kathy Benysh, chosen last week as 1966 Illinois' Junior Miss, tells Pat Adam, Paddock Publications reporter, as they discuss the Roselle high school senior's expectations of college. Kathy, a student at Lake Park, won a $2,500 scholarship which she will use at Northwestern University. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Benysh and has a sister, Debbie, 14, a freshman at Lake Park. (Staff photo)

Forest View Teacher Elected to IEA Board

The chairman of the foreign language department at Forest View High School in Arlington Heights (District 214) was elected last week to the Illinois Education Association board of directors.

Mrs. Marjorie Olson, a Latin teacher, was elected at Thursday's session of the 112th annual meeting of the IEA in Chicago.

HER VICTORY was attributed primarily to strong campaigning by the northwest suburban division, which was just organized last year and is thus newest in the IEA. Campaign chairman was William Harner, testing consultant for Arlington Heights District 25 and president-elect of the division. Mrs. Olson is immediate past-president of the division, having been the first elected, and is now on the division's executive committee.

To win the post on the board of directors, she defeated two candidates proposed by the IEA nominating committee — Ernest E. Poe, assistant superintendent of the Wheaton elementary schools, and William Floyd, superintendent of Savannah schools.

Twenty-six educators from the area represented the 2,800 teachers of the northwest suburban division, according to Ethan Janove, principal of Brentwood School in Elk Grove District 59 and public relations chairman for the division.

AMONG MAJOR actions taken, the IEA voted to accept the report of a two-year study commission which worked to update the constitution. The representation and number of divisions — the area's interest here is strong because Downstate groups have dominated the IEA in spite of the heavy growth in the metropolitan area.

MARJORIE OLSON

Because dues are paid on a graduated scale based on income, higher-paid Chicago area teachers previously have paid about half the IEA expenses, even though alloted just about one-fourth the representation.

The IEA voted also to raise annual dues, with the upper limit increased from $18 to $25.

In other actions, the IEA also voted: to endorse U.S. Administration policy on Viet Nam; and to encourage "educational programs which will undergird the spirit of freedom and independence in the nation; which will respect each person's freedom of religion; and which will resist the forces which would seek to impose their own values, including religious values, on other persons." Area Leaders Invited To Water Conference

Area residents will travel to the Chicago Natural History Museum next Wednesday, Jan. 12, for a water planning conference that will include the first in-depth critique of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission water survey report.

The conference is sponsored by the Illinois League of Women Voters, the Cook County Council of the LWV, and the Chicago League of Women Voters.

Local leaguers have issued invitations to nearly 100 suburban government officials and community leaders interested in conservation, land development and industrial growth.

THE CONFERENCE'S afternoon session, which will begin at 1 p.m., will focus on Chicago metropolitan area water problems. The NIPC water survey report will be analyzed at that session by Dr. Gilbert White, internationally-known water resources authority and a professor at the University of Chicago.

Following Dr. White's talk, NIPC Director Matthew Rockwell will speak on the intricacies of metropolitan intergovernmental cooperation in water management.

The national and state water picture will be emphasized at the conference's morning session, beginning at 9:30 a.m. Speakers will include Mrs. Arthur E. Whittemore of Hingham, Mass., former national LWV water resources chairman; William C. Ackermann, chief of the state Water Survey, and Gene Graves, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development.

Two carloads of local League of Women Voters members will make the trip. Those attending will include Mrs. Frank Moore of Arlington Heights, president of the local LWV, and Mrs. Louis Nye of Arlington Heights, local water resources study chairman for the league.

Medicare Pamphlets To Be Given

A Wheeling Township Regular Democratic Organization drive for "Medicare and You" will start door-to-door on Jan. 12.

Medicare is a program of federal health insurance for people 65 or over established by Congress in 1965, by Social Security amendments. This program will start on July 1, 1966. It will help people 65 or over pay hospital and doctors' bills.

THE MEDICARE program is in 2 parts.

1. Basic hospital insurance. Pays part of your bills if you are in a hospital or skilled nursing home or need home health visits after hospitalization or need out-patient diagnostic service.

2. Supplementary medical insurance. Pays part of your physicians' and surgeons' bills, as well as other items not covered by the basic hospital insurance.

Precinct Captains will deliver to homes a pamphlet on "Medicare and You." (ACM

Troop Busy with Outdoor Projects

Boy Scout Troop 98, sponsored by the Winston Park School PTA, is in the midst of its outdoor activities.

The troop started out the fall season in participation at the Skilloree camp-out held at Kettle Moraine, Wis. on Oct. 8 through 10. The Scouts demonstrated their skills in various competitions such as signalling and map-reading.

The troop was represented by 26 Scouts and leaders out of over 200 Scouts and Scouters from Signal Hill District present for the event.

The second camp-out was held Nov. 13 and 14 at Camp Lakota, six miles the other side of Woodstock on U.S. 14.

Scoutmaster Harry Peckham processed Scouts on their advancement requirements while others practiced their out-door cooking skills.

Life-Scout George Mulvey supervised the all-day job of roasting a nine-pound turkey while Mike Brooke and Buddy Weigelman supervised the other Scouts in tracking and trailing.

The third camp-out was held Dec. 4 and 5 at Camp Alphonse, which is located at the southwest edge of Deer Grove Forest Preserve on Dundee Road.

While Life-Scout Mike Brooke took several Scouts on a five-mile cross country hike through the forest preserve to satisfy hiking requirements for advancement, others worked on projects around the camp, such as making plans for the erection of a signal tower at the area in the future.

A rope making demonstration was given on a machine won by Scout leaders Harry Peckham and Willis Mulvey and Committee Chairman Marsh Brooke at the Dec. 2 Round Table leaders' meeting at Sanborn School in Palatine as a door-prize for having the most leaders present at the meeting.

All the Scouts had a turn at helping make 3/8 inch manila rope from ordinary binder's twine.

The Signal Hill district's winter Klondike camp-out is planned for the same area the first weekend in February and will include deep-snow oriented activities to be announced later by the district. (P

New Deadline Set For Lake Fencing

Deadline for installation of a flume and fencing of the Rossiter Lake near Palatine Road and Wilke Road has been changed from Feb. 8 to May 1.

Lyle H. Rossiter, trustee for the 15-acre site, was granted the deadline extention by the Village of Palatine because of construction delays caused by bad weather.

The lake, the first of the retention basins to be built in Palatine, is to have a flume connecting it with Salt Creek.

Land fill from the lake was used for construction of the Route 53 interchange.

FENCING WAS delayed because the state will not fence its portion of the lake boundary until spring and it seemed futile to fence only one of the lake's three sides.

The lake now has only a few feet of water in it which has naturally accumulated from rainfalls. It will not be filled until connected with the creek.

Although the banks are relatively steep, Village Mgr. Robert Hollander said they should not pose a hazard.

The area by the lake is a field and used often by children to play. (P

Foliage Essential

Fifty pounds of foliage are required for a silkworm to produce one pound of silk.

Vacation Program Attracts 130 Kids

Approximately 130 children attended the vacation recreation program at Paddock and Jane Addams Schools Dec. 27 through 30.

The program, which was conducted by the Palatine Park District, consisted of basketball, dodgeball, a movie, pool, and other activities.

Tournaments were held in four areas at Jane Addams School.

In the checkers playoff, Lawrence Gackouski won first place and Pat Fitzgerald was second.

MATT FITZGERALD finished first in the nok-hockey tournament with his brother Pat in second place. Mike Marshino captured third place.

In bumper pool, David Schoettler won first honors with Matt Fitzgerald finishing in the runner-up spot.

The free-throw shooting contest was won by Brad Sailors, who made 13 of 25 attempts. Richard Walis finished second, and third place went to Mike Heins. (P

On Jan. 2, the Kingsboroughs' dinner guests were the Richard Gnapp family of Brookfield and the Jess Black family of Des Plaines.

Charles and Roberta Livingston, Hatlen Avenue, entertained the George Clark family Christmas Eve.

The Donald Daniels family spent New Year's Eve at a house party at the Tom Kaufmann home in Mundelein. They had New Year's dinner with Don's brother and family, the William Daniels in Lake Bluff.

MONDAY THE Dave Andersons, Kim Avenue, went to Chicago to visit Virginia's sister and family, the Ted Zielens, and Wednesday they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Dvelicharz of Des Plaines.

The holidays were spent in a happy whirl for the Carl Baardsens, Estates Drive. Dec. 29 Kathie met childhood friends, Charlene Scheingbeck and Millicent Field of Des Plaines and their children at the Thunderbird Bowling lane. In the evening Gordon and Millicent Field visited the Baardsens and their sons, Scott and Craig, joined Karen, Carlene and Kristen in caroling.

New Year's Eve the Baardsens had the Joseph Paylo family of Chicago as houseguests.

Sunday the Baardsens were dinner guests of Kathie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nystrom in Chicago, making a holiday visit to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. White and ending the day as dinner guests of the Dennis Kalbas family in Chicago.

ELK RIDGE VILLA

The Jim Becks, Robert Drive, had a New Year's Eve party for 30 friends.

A get well wish goes to Cindy Beck who started the new year with chicken pox.

Cheryl Brazeau, Birch Drive, had an eighth birthday party Dec. 29. Guestw were Luann Goebbert, Gail Garlisch, Kathy Klinger, Cheryl Larsen, Hope Straufert, Debbie Oberg, Karen Mueller, Brenda Hagenall, Juanita Goebbert and cousin, Shirley Brazeau. They enjoyed having a pinata to break.

Congratulations are being received by Elaine and Harry Dahl on the birth, Dec. 31, of another son, Robert Michael. Larry spent some time with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Usdrowski in Chicago.

Troop Busy with Outdoor Projects

Boy Scout Troop 98, sponsored by the Winston Park School PTA, is in the midst of its outdoor activities.

The troop started out the fall season in participation at the Skilloree camp-out held at Kettle Moraine, Wis. on Oct. 8 through 10. The Scouts demonstrated their skills in various competitions such as signalling and map-reading.

The troop was represented by 26 Scouts and leaders out of over 200 Scouts and Scouters from Signal Hill District present for the event.

The second camp-out was held Nov. 13 and 14 at Camp Lakota, six miles the other side of Woodstock on U.S. 14.

Scoutmaster Harry Peckham processed Scouts on their advancement requirements while others practiced their out-door cooking skills.

Life-Scout George Mulvey supervised the all-day job of roasting a nine-pound turkey while Mike Brooke and Buddy Weigelman supervised the other Scouts in tracking and trailing.

The third camp-out was held Dec. 4 and 5 at Camp Alphonse, which is located at the southwest edge of Deer Grove Forest Preserve on Dundee Road.

While Life-Scout Mike Brooke took several Scouts on a five-mile cross country hike through the forest preserve to satisfy hiking requirements for advancement, others worked on projects around the camp, such as making plans for the erection of a signal tower at the area in the future.

A rope making demonstration was given on a machine won by Scout leaders Harry Peckham and Willis Mulvey and Committee Chairman Marsh Brooke at the Dec. 2 Round Table leaders' meeting at Sanborn School in Palatine as a door-prize for having the most leaders present at the meeting.

All the Scouts had a turn at helping make 3/8 inch manila rope from ordinary binder's twine.

The Signal Hill district's winter Klondike camp-out is planned for the same area the first weekend in February and will include deep-snow oriented activities to be announced later by the district. (P

Vacation Program Attracts 130 Kids

Approximately 130 children attended the vacation recreation program at Paddock and Jane Addams School's Dec. 27 through 30.

The program, which was conducted by the Palatine Park District, consisted of basketball, dodgeball, a movie, pool, and other activities.

Tournaments were held in four areas at Jane Addams School.

In the checkers playoff, Lawrence Gackouski won first place and Pat Fitzgerald was second.

MATT FITZGERALD finished first in the nok-hockey tournament with his brother Pat in second place. Mike Marshino captured third place.

In bumper pool, David Schoettler won first honors with Matt Fitzgerald finishing in the runner-up spot.

The free-throw shooting contest was won by Brad Sailors, who made 13 of 25 attempts. Richard Walis finished second, and third place went to Mike Heins. (P

New Deadline Set For Lake Fencing

Deadline for installation of a flume and fencing of the Rossiter Lake near Palatine Road and Wilke Road has been changed from Feb. 8 to May 1.

Lyle H. Rossiter, trustee for the 15-acre site, was granted the deadline extention by the Village of Palatine because of construction delays caused by bad weather.

The lake, the first of the retention basins to be built in Palatine, is to have a flume connecting it with Salt Creek.

Land fill from the lake was used for construction of the Route 53 interchange.

FENCING WAS delayed because the state will not fence its portion of the lake boundary until spring and it seemed futile to fence only one of the lake's three sides.

The lake now has only a few feet of water in it which has naturally accumulated from rainfalls. It will not be filled until connected with the creek.

Although the banks are relatively steep, Village Mgr. Robert Hollander said they should not pose a hazard.

The area by the lake is a field and used often by children to play. (P

Area Leaders Invited To Water Conference

Area residents will travel to the Chicago Natural History Museum next Wednesday, Jan. 12, for a water planning conference that will include the first in-depth critique of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission water survey report.

The conference is sponsored by the Illinois League of Women Voters, the Cook County Council of the LWV, and the Chicago League of Women Voters.

Local leaguers have issued invitations to nearly 100 suburban government officials and community leaders interested in conservation, land development and industrial growth.

THE CONFERENCE'S afternoon session, which will begin at 1 p.m., will focus on Chicago metropolitan area water problems. The NIPC water survey report will be analyzed at that session by Dr. Gilbert White, internationally-known water resources authority and a professor at the University of Chicago.

Following Dr. White's talk, NIPC Director Matthew Rockwell will speak on the intricacies of metropolitan intergovernmental cooperation in water management.

The national and state water picture will be emphasized at the conference's morning session, beginning at 9:30 a.m. Speakers will include Mrs. Arthur E. Whittemore of Hingham, Mass., former national LWV water resources chairman; William C. Ackermann, chief of the state Water Survey, and Gene Graves, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development.

Two carloads of local League of Women Voters members will make the trip. Those attending will include Mrs. Frank Moore of Arlington Heights, president of the local LWV, and Mrs. Louis Nye of Arlington Heights, local water resources study chairman for the league.

Medicare Pamphlets To Be Given

A Wheeling Township Regular Democratic Organization drive for "Medicare and You" will start door-to-door on Jan. 12.

Medicare is a program of federal health insurance for people 65 or over established by Congress in 1965, by Social Security amendments. This program will start on July 1, 1966. It will help people 65 or over pay hospital and doctors' bills.

THE MEDICARE program is in 2 parts.

1. Basic hospital insurance. Pays part of your bills if you are in a hospital or skilled nursing home or need home health visits after hospitalization or need out-patient diagnostic service.

2. Supplementary medical insurance. Pays part of your physicians' and surgeons' bills, as well as other items not covered by the basic hospital insurance.

Precinct Captains will deliver to homes a pamphlet on "Medicare and You." (ACM

Officers Installed By Singing Group

Officers for 1966 were installed Monday, Dec. 27, by the Arlington Heights Chapter, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc. (SPEBSQSA).

Installing officer, from international headquarters in Kenosha, Wis., was Charles A. Snyder, manager of special events. Installed were:

Kenneth Stevens, president; Ernie Robb, vice president for membership; Ed Hoover, vice president for program (all three of Arlington Heights) Vern Bertrand of Wheeling, secretary; Milt Decker of Cary, treasurer, and board members Barney Erickson and Don Frantz, Arlington Heights, Bill Sprenger and Jack Whedon, Elk Grove Village, Art Tonneson, Mount Prospect, and past president Tom Watts, Glenview.

Ex-Resident. Drowns in Florida River

A former Arlington Heights resident was reported dead in a swimming accident Sunday at Brooksville, Fla.

She is Mrs. Marie V. Hoolihan, 48, the former Marie Schultz. Authorities said her husband, John J. Hoolihan, 74, of Charlotte, N.C., was swimming in the Withlacoochee River when he ran into trouble. Mrs. Hoolihan went to help and both drowned.

They had been married Dec. 28. (A

Eastwood Events

A moving van found its destination last Monday as it brought furniture from an apartment in Evanston to 419 Hickory Ave. With this move, Eastwood welcomes Jud and Peggy Ross to their first experience as home owners. Jud works for Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., and Peggy is awaiting the arrival of the stork who plans to visit their family for the first time.

Christmas was an espeically happy time for Elmer and Martha Hewelt who reside at 815 E. Euclid as their son, David, was home for the holidays. David is an airman apprentice stationed at Alshy Naval Air Base in Memphis, Tenn. The Hewelts, who are new in Eastwood, also have a daughter, Mrs. Dolores Brandsellner who, with her husband, lives in Skokie. The Hewelts moved here from Chicago. Dec. 21 found Martha serving a Christmas luncheon to her neighbor, Joan Klussman and Joan's daughters, Nancy and Kelly, as well as their friend, Rebecca Raferty.

Bob and JoDell Jochims, and their children, Mary Jo, Chuckie, and Susie of 415 N. Hickory spent Christmas day visiting Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Jochims in Milwaukee.

John and Joan Klussmann and their daughters, 901 E. Euclid, dined with friends on Christmas Day at the Grove Inn. Dec. 30 found John and Joan attending a holiday party at the home of friends in Chicago.

Dec. 29 Esther Gamenthaler was hostess for a Christmas coffee for all her neighbors in her home at 503 N. Hickory. The dessert table featured a broken glass cake which sparkled under the family's old-fashioned decorated Christmas tree. Home for the Christmas holidays was Alan Gamenthaler, a sophomore at Michigan Technological University in Houghton.

DON AND Marietta Dereby of 416 N. Hickory chose Dec. 30 as the date to entertain a few neighbors with a champagne punch party. The guest list included Bob and JoDell Jochims, Hal and Mava Maertz, and Albrecht and Yvonne Koch. Conversation proved most entertaining as Eastwood's new resident, Hal, explained about his former life as a U.P.I. reporter. It seems interesting to note, that Hal, while covering President Kennedy's campaigning, had occasion to play gin rummy with the President who was then a senator.

Dec. 19 was the date the families living in N. Hickory Avenue's newest homes chose as as their annual Christmas tree viewing day. Starting at the Arthur Hassell home at 315 N. Hickory, the neighbors not only saw each other's trees but also enjoyed tasty treats at each home. The participating merrymakers, were the Al Lolls, the Lloyd Meyers, the Saidikowskis, the Tom Housers, the Carlos Thuts, the Flynns, the Robert Petzolds, and the Herbert Kennedys.

The past weeks have found Pat Meyer of 307 N. Hickory busy nursing two of her four daughters, Christi and Becki. Christmas Eve found Lloyd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, also of Arlington Heights, guests at the Eastwood home. On Dec. 29, Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoepfner, drove from their home in Peoria to spend three days with their granddaughters and enjoy a late Christmas celebration.

On Dec. 30, Marian Heniken served luncheon to her cousin, Eleanor and her husband, James Maher, who live on Somerset Lane in Arlington Heights. The Mahers recently moved to Arlington Heights from Glenview.

Hal and Mava Maertz began the new year by entertaining their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Montaba and son, Mark, of S. Chestnut Street, in their home at 502 N. Hickory.

The new year found Albrecht Koch literally older as he had celebrated his birthday on Dec. 29. With sons, Peter and Frank, they welcomed the new year at the home of Yvonne's parents in Evanston. Jan. 2 they were guests in the home of the W. H. Salles of Oak Park. (A

Engineering Assistant Is Named

Appointment of George B. Anderson, 29, as assistant director of engineering was announced this week by Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson.

Anderson, 1005 W. Isabella, Mount Prospect, began work Monday. He was formerly a resident civil engineer for the state highway department's District 10 which covers this area.

HE FILLS A vacancy created when Charles Tower was appointed to head the village engineering department. The department is still a man short, owing to the resignation of staff engineer James Crowley, who had handled traffic control planning.

Also resigning in December was Kent Bristol, administrative assistant to the village manager. Bristol, the first person to hold that job, was with the village about 18 months. He is now employed by the Michigan Municipal League, Ann Arbor. (A

Panel Talks Slated by PTA Council

Arlington Heights Council PTA will meet next Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., at Dryden School.

A panel presentation entitled "How Can a Council Help Without Hindering?" will be moderated by Mrs. Victor Graham, council president. Panel members will be: Mrs. Frank Currier, Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh, Mrs. Robert Letzel, and Mrs. Robert Oakley, past president, Northwest Suburban Council.

School education and scholarship tips will be given by Mrs. Dale Galloway and Mrs. Harold Wenzel.

CERTIFICATES will be awarded to those people who have completed the leadership training course.

The executive board has selected Mrs. Anthony Tomaso to serve as chairman of the nominating committee. Four delegates and two alternates will be elected at this meeting. It is necessary to obtain prior consent of the nominees for this committee.

The meeting is open to the public. (A

Knitting Class Has Vacancies

Vacancies remain in the knitting class of the Arlington Heights Park District.

The session for beginner and advanced knitters has been minimized to a comprehensive four lessons. However, ladies who are interested in joining a small class for the remainder of the session may still do so. The fee has been adjusted to $6 for a period of three two-hour lessons. The first class was held this week.

REGISTRATIONS are being taken at the park district office, CL 3-0620.

Women who attend are asked to bring 10 inch length, size 10½ needles and a small amount of worsted knitting yarn. If necessary, beginner supplies may be purchased on the night of the meeting, held at Pioneer Park.

For all-inclusive instructions and assistance in knitting problems, the class will be held on Monday, January 10 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. (A

The participating merrymakers, were the Al Lolls, the Lloyd Meyers, the Saidikowskis, the Tom Housers, the Carlos Thuts, the Flynns, the Robert Petzolds, and the Herbert Kennedys.

The past weeks have found Pat Meyer of 307 N. Hickory busy nursing two of her four daughters, Christi and Becki. Christmas Eve found Lloyd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, also of Arlington Heights, guests at the Eastwood home. On Dec. 29, Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoepfner, drove from their home in Peoria to spend three days with their granddaughters and enjoy a late Christmas celebration.

On Dec. 30, Marian Heniken served luncheon to her cousin, Eleanor and her husband, James Maher, who live on Somerset Lane in Arlington Heights. The Mahers recently moved to Arlington Heights from Glenview.

Hal and Mava Maertz began the new year by entertaining their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Montaba and son, Mark, of S. Chestnut Street, in their home at 502 N. Hickory.

The new year found Albrecht Koch literally older as he had celebrated his birthday on Dec. 29. With sons, Peter and Frank, they welcomed the new year at the home of Yvonne's parents in Evanston. Jan. 2 they were guests in the home of the W. H. Salles of Oak Park. (A

Engineering Assistant Is Named

Appointment of George B. Anderson, 29, as assistant director of engineering was announced this week by Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson.

Anderson, 1005 W. Isabella, Mount Prospect, began work Monday. He was formerly a resident civil engineer for the state highway department's District 10 which covers this area.

HE FILLS A vacancy created when Charles Tower was appointed to head the village engineering department. The department is still a man short, owing to the resignation of staff engineer James Crowley, who had handled traffic control planning.

Also resigning in December was Kent Bristol, administrative assistant to the village manager. Bristol, the first person to hold that job, was with the village about 18 months. He is now employed by the Michigan Municipal League, Ann Arbor. (A

Arlington Heights Council PTA will meet next Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., at Dryden School.

A panel presentation entitled "How Can a Council Help Without Hindering?" will be moderated by Mrs. Victor Graham, council president. Panel members will be: Mrs. Frank Currier, Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh, Mrs. Robert Letzel, and Mrs. Robert Oakley, past president, Northwest Suburban Council.

School education and scholarship tips will be given by Mrs. Dale Galloway and Mrs. Harold Wenzel.

CERTIFICATES will be awarded to those people who have completed the leadership training course.

The executive board has selected Mrs. Anthony Tomaso to serve as chairman of the nominating committee. Four delegates and two alternates will be elected at this meeting. It is necessary to obtain prior consent of the nominees for this committee.

The meeting is open to the public. (A

Knitting Class Has Vacancies

Vacancies remain in the knitting class of the Arlington Heights Park District.

The session for beginner and advanced knitters has been minimized to a comprehensive four lessons. However, ladies who are interested in joining a small class for the remainder of the session may still do so. The fee has been adjusted to $6 for a period of three two-hour lessons. The first class was held this week.

REGISTRATIONS are being taken at the park district office, CL 3-0620.

Women who attend are asked to bring 10 inch length, size 10½ needles and a small amount of worsted knitting yarn. If necessary, beginner supplies may be purchased on the night of the meeting, held at Pioneer Park.

For all-inclusive instructions and assistance in knitting problems, the class will be held on Monday, January 10 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. (A

Ramlin Rose Plan Includes Recreation

In Ramlin Rose North, a 70-acre apartment community located in Rolling Meadows on Route 53 just north of the Northwest Tollway, the recreational facilities are part of the overall plan and will be centered around a large swimming pool and community clubhouse for residents and their guests.

The clubhouse of the recreation center is intended exclusively for the use of residents and their guests. Its exterior styling will complement the appearance of the community, which will have widely separated apartment buildings and extensive parkway areas.

THE CLUBHOUSE will have space for showers and locker rooms, play areas, informal snack areas and facilities for neighborhood club activities.

The swimming pool will be full-size, with lighting and hygienic servicing equipment. Poolside aprons and immediately surrounding walkways will be varied in design to reflect the community's balance of greenery and residential building variety. Tennis courts are also planned for residents.

The pool and community center will be located in one corner of the development, away from the several groups of residential buildings. Small park areas will also be interspersed among apartment units and will include enclosed play areas for small children.

FURNISHED model apartments at Ramlin Rose North are open to inspection daily from noon to dusk and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on weekends. Rentals are being taken for the 302 units in the first group of nine buildings.

Apartments of one, two or three bedroom design are offered. Second floor apartments feature a large balcony outside the sliding doors of the living room.

Each unit has laundry room facilities and its own storage locker. Year around maintenance is provided for grounds and all apartment exteriors. Off-street parking space is assigned for each unit. (15BB

Cartwright Named To Rail Freight Job

W. Edward Cartwright of Roselle has been appointed assistant general foreign freight agent by The Milwaukee Road. He will have headquarters in Chicago.

Cartwright started with the Road in 1942 at Seattle and transferred to the traffic department in 1948. He was made city freight agent there in 1951.

In 1960, Cartwright was transferred to Chicago as district supervisor of rail-highway sales and then became chief clerk to the vice president-traffic in 1961. He became foreign freight agent in 1962 and continued in that capacity until his present appointment.

Cartwright lives at 106 Paige Drive, Roselle. (5BB

Illinois Shares Export Bonanza

Businessmen in Illinois are enjoying increasingly profitable roles in America's burgeoning export sales of manufactured products.

The value of exports of products manufactured by Illinois business has soared to a total of $1,056,900,000, according to latest United States Department of Commerce statistics. This represents an increase of 14 per cent over previous totals.

Among leading money-making exports for Illinois, according to a U.S. Department of Commerce survey, are machinery except electrical, for a value of $586.4 million; food products, $99.6 million; electrical machinery, $95.8 million; transportation equipment, $75.1 million; and chemicals and allied products, $40.7 million.

THE STUDY ("Survey of the Origin of Exports of Manufactured Products 1963," released in June of this year) also showed export value totals for fabricated metal products, $36.3 million; instruments, $35.8 million; primary metal industries, $13.9 million; and rubber and plastics products, $9.3 million.

In the area of steel rolling and finishing, the survey showed, Illinois exported some $10.8 million worth of these products. Gains were achieved in the exports of metal products made from steel.

As the nation strengthens its position as a net exporter of steel used in manufactured products, it continues to import quantities of steel vital to the production of many of its products sold at home and abroad. (15BB

Yule Trees Are for The Birds?

"When holiday celebrations are past and you're about to discard your Christmas tree, consider erecting it in your backyard for the birds," urges Walter Vogl, head of wild bird and conservation department for Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co.

"The tree, which will remain green for many weeks, will afford good protection for wild birds," Vogl, a director in Illinois Audubon Society, explained.

"Some folks collect neighbors' trees and line them up as a very good windbreak and natural snow fence for their own advantage," he continued. "It is well to drive in stakes for this reason before ground freezes very hard."

VOGL ALSO made following suggestions for feeding birds.

—Feed chick or fine grit when ground is covered with snow or ice. Birds need sand or gravel to digest food and cannot obtain this when ground is coverd. Do not mix with feed.

—Provide open water if possible. Birds like it and will bathe even in frigid temperatures. Bird bath warmers are available.

—Suet is relished by chickadees, woodpeckers, nut hatches, jays and others. Table scraps are good to use but residues should be cleaned up daily.

Feed a good bird feed with plenty of sunflower seeds. Avoid low quality feeds which may be wasted.

A publication on "Feeding Birds" is available free by writing to Vogl at 997 Lee St., Des Plaines 60016. (15BB

THIS HOME WILL PLEASE YOU as it pleases us! Here are just a few of its fine features: Central air-conditioning, wall to wall carpeting. Westinghouse kitchen, patio, family room w/fireplace. 2½-car attached garage. 3 twin-size bedrooms, 2½ ceramic baths, spacious living room & dining room w/drapes of warm soft colors. Imagine all this for only $33,900

THE CONCORD, a 2-story, contemporary styled dwelling has been designed by 3-H Homes, to meet the specific requirements of very large families in the moderate income group. The 6-bedroom, 4-bath residence provides a total of 3,152 sq. ft. of space and is priced at $31,490. The model is on display in Berkley Square, Arlington Heights Road, ½ mile north of Rand Road, Arlington Heights.

Concord Home Has 6 Bedrooms

In the planning of the Concord, the two-story home designed by 3-H Homes for large size, moderate income families, sleeping space was the primary consideration. After statistical studies, six bedrooms were planned. All are housed on the upper level, including a large master suite.

The master bedroom features a walk-in closet, private bath and space for a sleeping room, sitting room arrangement to serve as a private domain for harried parents. The upper story has three baths.

THE SECOND major consideration in the Concord design was a large kitchen with ample cooking, serving and eating facilities. This was accomplished by a "U" shaped Formica counter arrangement setting off a breakfast room, with sliding glass patio doors to bring in the sunshine and add a decorative touch. Not only are handcrafted wooden kitchen cabinets provided, but also an old-fashioned pantry with room to spare. The cooking area has a counter-level range with hood and a stainless steel bowl sink.

Another factor in the plan was "play-space" for both children and adults. The result is a sunken paneled family room, convenient to the kitchen. Sliding glass patio doors provide entry from the back yard and another doorway leads to the attached two-car garage. The family-room also has its own powder room.

AT THE ENTRANCE of the Concord is a spacious foyer with a guest closet, graceful staircase leading to the bedrooms, archway into the living room, and hallway into the kitchen. The parlor measures almost 21 feet by 15 feet and flows, L-shaped, into a separate dining area.

The exterior of the Concord features face brick veneer, Masonite siding, double hung wooden windows and louvered shutters.

Truck Driver Honored for Safety Record

Otis Pearsall, 7500 N. Elmhurst Road, Bensenville, was among 37 truck drivers in the Chicago terminal of Bruce Motor Freight, Inc., who received special recognition for safe driving.

Pearsall was honored for 21 years of accident-free driving.

Safety award pins and shoulder patches were presented to the drivers for accident-free records during the award year ended Sept. 30.

The company's over-the-road traffic accidents during the award year resulted in an accident ratio of .57 per 100,000 miles. Non-traffic accidents, such as those occurring on private property, totaled .03 per 100,000 miles. (5BB

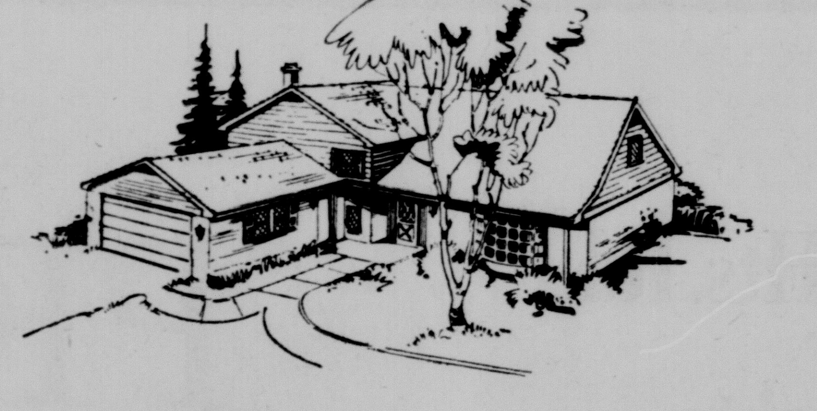
If we had more space in this home, we wouldn't know what to do with it.

Neither would you.



This architectural plan is a Cape Cod adaptation, featuring 3 bedrooms—plus a giant 25'6" x 15'0" dormitory (great hobby room or play room, etc.!)... 2½ bathrooms, family room, separate living and dining rooms, attached 2-car garage, etc., etc. It is priced at $34,800. Excellent conventional financing available. Other models, too!—a 4-bedroom ranch home... and a 4-bedroom split-level.

We call this luxurious home simply—"architectural plan number 6446." Perhaps that's not saying enough. However, we assume that by now you've come to recognize the distinctive features and quality construction that always go into Regent Park's homes. We're guessing, too, that with its location in an ideal section of Arlington Heights, this home already speaks for itself. So we'll stop now... and hope you stop by—soon!

Regent Park in Arlington Heights

To see Regent Park's models, take Rand Road (Rt. 12) or Elmhurst Rd. (Rt. 83) to Kensington (Foundry Rd.) at Randhurst Shopping Center, then west ½-mile on Kensington. Regent Park is adjacent to Kensington Grade School and Prospect High School in Arlington Heights. Open daily 11 A.M. 'til dark.

—Provide open water if possible. Birds like it and will bathe even in frigid temperatures. Bird bath warmers are available.

—Suet is relished by chickadees, woodpeckers, nut hatches, jays and others. Table scraps are good to use but residues should be cleaned up daily.

Feed a good bird feed with plenty of sunflower seeds. Avoid low quality feeds which may be wasted.

A publication on "Feeding Birds" is available free by writing to Vogl at 997 Lee St., Des Plaines 60016. (15BB

YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF & your family to see this well-maintained 3-bedroom ranch home on ½ acre corner, just minutes from schools. The kitchen has a large breakfast room, dishwasher & disposal, wall to wall carpeting in the living room, and a nice large patio off the dining room, 1½-car attached garage, gas heat, & low, low taxes. $18,990

DREAMS & BUDGETS will come true in this unusual 2-bedroom ranch home, quietly nestled on court in true suburban atmosphere, yet just a short walk to grade school & shopping. Inviting, warm paneled family room, attached garage, & many fine features worth seeing. $15,900

SOONER OR LATER you will want a larger home with all modern conveniences. Look twice at this charming 3-bedroom, 1½ bath, "sparkling" ranch, in exclusive community. 1½-car garage, patio, built-ins, dishwasher & disposal, full basement & only 5 years old. Low taxes—immediate occupancy. $23,400

DIFFERENT — DELIGHTFUL & DESIGNED for the very "modern" family who enjoy entertaining. See this lovely 2-bedroom, 2 bath, ranch with a big beautiful walnut paneled family room with marble fireplace, & built-in bar. The natural beauty of the cathedral ceiling & fireplace in the living room creates a sense of space & "homey" atmosphere. All this for only $28,900

THIS HOME WILL PLEASE YOU as it pleases us! Here are just a few of its fine features: Central air-conditioning, wall to wall carpeting. Westinghouse kitchen, patio, family room w/fireplace. 2½-car attached garage. 3 twin-size bedrooms, 2½ ceramic baths, spacious living room & dining room w/drapes of warm soft colors. Imagine all this for only $33,900

THE CONCORD, a 2-story, contemporary styled dwelling has been designed by 3-H Homes, to meet the specific requirements of very large families in the moderate income group. The 6-bedroom, 4-bath residence provides a total of 3,152 sq. ft. of space and is priced at $31,490. The model is on display in Berkley Square, Arlington Heights Road, ½ mile north of Rand Road, Arlington Heights.

Concord Home Has 6 Bedrooms

In the planning of the Concord, the two-story home designed by 3-H Homes for large size, moderate income families, sleeping space was the primary consideration. After statistical studies, six bedrooms were planned. All are housed on the upper level, including a large master suite.

The master bedroom features a walk-in closet, private bath and space for a sleeping room, sitting room arrangement to serve as a private domain for harried parents. The upper story has three baths.

THE SECOND major consideration in the Concord design was a large kitchen with ample cooking, serving and eating facilities. This was accomplished by a "U" shaped Formica counter arrangement setting off a breakfast room, with sliding glass patio doors to bring in the sunshine and add a decorative touch. Not only are handcrafted wooden kitchen cabinets provided, but also an old-fashioned pantry with room to spare. The cooking area has a counter-level range with hood and a stainless steel bowl sink.

Another factor in the plan was "play-space" for both children and adults. The result is a sunken paneled family room, convenient to the kitchen. Sliding glass patio doors provide entry from the back yard and another doorway leads to the attached two-car garage. The family-room also has its own powder room.

AT THE ENTRANCE of the Concord is a spacious foyer with a guest closet, graceful staircase leading to the bedrooms, archway into the living room, and hallway into the kitchen. The parlor measures almost 21 feet by 15 feet and flows, L-shaped, into a separate dining area.

The exterior of the Concord features face brick veneer, Masonite siding, double hung wooden windows and louvered shutters.

Truck Driver Honored for Safety Record

Otis Pearsall, 7500 N. Elmhurst Road, Bensenville, was among 37 truck drivers in the Chicago terminal of Bruce Motor Freight, Inc., who received special recognition for safe driving.

Pearsall was honored for 21 years of accident-free driving.

Safety award pins and shoulder patches were presented to the drivers for accident-free records during the award year ended Sept. 30.

The company's over-the-road traffic accidents during the award year resulted in an accident ratio of .57 per 100,000 miles. Non-traffic accidents, such as those occurring on private property, totaled .03 per 100,000 miles. (5BB

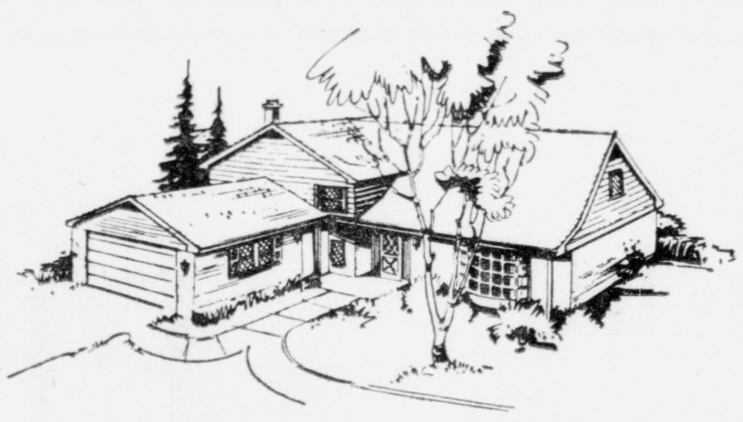
If we had more space in this home, we wouldn't know what to do with it.

Neither would you.



This architectural plan is a Cape Cod adaptation, featuring 3 bedrooms—plus a giant 25'6" x 15'0" dormitory (great hobby room or play room, etc.!) . . . 2½ bathrooms, family room, separate living and dining rooms, attached 2-car garage, etc., etc. It is priced at $34,800. Excellent conventional financing available. Other models, too!—a 4-bedroom ranch home . . . and a 4-bedroom split-level.

We call this luxurious home simply—"architectural plan number 6446." Perhaps that's not saying enough. However, we assume that by now you've come to recognize the distinctive features and quality construction that always go into Regent Park's homes. We're guessing, too, that with its location in an ideal section of Arlington Heights, this home already speaks for itself. So we'll stop now . . . and hope you stop by—soon!

Regent Park in Arlington Heights

To see Regent Park's models, take Rand Road (Rt. 12) or Elmhurst Rd. (Rt. 83) to Kensington (Foundry Rd.) at Randhurst Shopping Center, then west ½-mile on Kensington. Regent Park is adjacent to Kensington Grade School and Prospect High School in Arlington Heights. Open daily 11 A.M. 'til dark.

Excise Cuts Aid Telephone Users

Illinois Bell customers will realize an estimated savings of $49 million in 1966, with the first step in the elimination of the federal excise tax on telephone service effective on Jan. 1. It is the largest telephone bill reduction in the history of the company.

On Jan. 1, the tax was cut from 10 per cent to three per cent. On Jan. 1 of 1967 and 1968, further reductions of one per cent each will become effective and the tax will be eliminated in 1969. The full amount of each reduction is being passed on to customers as it becomes effective.

Last June 19, another rate reduction introduced "night rates" for station-to-station calls within Illinois all day Sunday and from 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m., Monday through Saturday. Low "evening rates," previously in effect from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Saturday, were extended to apply all day Saturday.

In the more convenient, easier-to-read telephone directory for the Palatine area, a new local section was added to the front of the directory, ahead of the yellow pages. It was designed to make it easier for customers to find the numbers for local area calls. The usual regional white pages were relocated at the back of the directory, following the yellow pages. Both the local and the regional white pages were printed in larger type than had been used in previous telephone directories.

Ground was broken last September for Western Electric's large office building in Rolling Meadows, and completion is expected by early 1967. About 1,500 people will work there.

The building will serve as headquarters and engineering center for the central region of Western Electric. The region provides supply, engineering and installation services to Bell Telephone companies in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Touch-Tone telephoning became available May 17 to Palatine and Inverness telephone users. This new way of calling—using pushbuttons instead of a dial—is being introduced gradually, by communities, because it requires major changes at each of the telephone central offices. (10BB

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by Richard H. DeLano, Associate Farm Advisor

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

Orange flames in a fire place are delightful but an occasional burst of color in the flame adds zest. Such a colorful touch is just the thing for parties or other festive gatherings.

Such color in the fireplace flame can easily be created by color treating the fuels with various chemicals.

Evergreen cones, small blocks of wood or kindling, wood chips and sawdust, are good subjects for such color treating. Even one-inch diameter rolls of tightly wrapped newspapers or magazines, tied at both ends can be soaked in chemical solutions and dried, so they will give off flames of various colors when they are burned in a fireplace. However, a hot fire is needed if tightly wrapped newspapers or magazines are to be burned.

THE FOLLOWING chemicals produce the colors indicated, Copper sulfate—green, Calcium chloride—orange, Copper chloride—blue, Lithium chloride—carmine, Potassium chloride—purple.

Do not use chemicals containing chlorates or nitrates, or potassium permanganate. For safe practice keep chemicals away from children and pets. Better still, obtain only sufficient amounts for one treatment and avoid storage. Also if possible do the job out-of-doors or out of a confined area.

Wear rubber gloves and be careful not to spill chemicals or solutions. Dissolve the chemicals in a wooden pail or earthen crock, since such chemicals will ultimately rust out metal containers. A discraded five-gallon paint bucket serves admirably as a one shot treating vat. Mix in it no more than a couple gallons of solution at a time. No need to cleanse it thoroughly for a change of chemicals.

The ratio is one pound of chemical to one gallon of water, using one chemical per batch. The pine cones, kindling or other materials to be treated may be placed in a mesh or porous bag, and submerged in the solution. A stone can weight the material down in the solution.

After a day or so of soaking the treatment is complete. Lift out and drain over the container and spread the treated materials out to dry. If materials are allowed to dry on newspapers. the newspapers themselves, when dry, may be rolled and wrapped tightly to burn colorfully in a fireplace. Confine burning of treated materials to a well-ventilated fireplace.

Treated cones and wooden blocks make good after Christmas gifts, and bags to contain them can be made out of dyed mosquito netting. (15BB

Terry L. Loveless, 3409 N. Betty Drive, Arlington Heights, recently graduated from a special two-week course in industrial instrumentation held at the Leeds & Northrup Co. Training Center in Philadelphia.

Loveless is an instrument Technician at Martins Metals Division of Martin Marietta.

He was one of a number of engineers from all parts of the United States who took the course. The instruction included studies in gas analysis equipment and temperature measuring instruments of which Leeds & Northrup is a leading manufacturer. (10BB

2 Speak at Graphic Arts Conference

Rudy Otepka, president, and Richard Olerich, vice president, of Web Press Engineering of Addison, were speakers during the Web Instrumentation and Controls Conference sponsored by the Graphic Arts Technical Foundation in Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 14 to 16.

Otepka and Olerich were two of 10 authorities on web printing to take part in this conference.

Over 155 graphic arts industry representatives from 22 states in the U.S., Canada and Western Europe attended the conference, designed to review and discuss the most recent techniques, instruments and instrument systems available to the web printer. (5BB

Land Purchase Tops List Of 1965 Park Achievements

Purchase of new park land is cited as a major achievement of the Arlington Heights Park District in 1965 by Park Board Pres. John C. Edwards. A start on developing the new parks is cited as a major goal of 1966.

Here is Edwards' report:

During the past year:

1. The assessed valuation of the park district increased to over $128,500,000 through new construction and annexation.

2. The park district conducted its regularly scheduled activities for children and adults with special activities such as easter egg hunts, bike hikes, band concerts, Teen Theater, etc.

3. In January, park district residents approved a land purchase referendum of $465,000 for purchase of two major and five neighborhood park sites totaling approximately 61 acres.

4. During the year title has been obtained or contracts have been made to purchase approximately 45 acres, including major and neighborhood parks. Also approximately 30 acres of land is being negotiated for with local developers for dedication as park sites.

5. THROUGH cooperation with local School Districts 25 and 59, combined park and school sites were established at Greenbrier and Surrey Ridge. Negotiations are continuing with School Districts 23 and 214 for similar sites.

6. A contract was awarded to Dean & Novak, Inc., landscape architects, to prepare development plans for the new park sites with priority assigned to the two major sites located in Surrey Ridge and Greenbrier areas.

7. Application has been made to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for federal grants amounting to $233,237. This money, if approved, will be used to reduce the bond issue and relieve future taxes.

8. In April E. E. Ormsbee was re-elected for his third term as park commissioner.

9. The park district has worked in co-operation with the Village Theatre group to help them get their theater built on land provided by the park district. The board has also met with members of the village ACTION committee to explore avenues of co-operation in developing a village cultural center.

10. THE PARK board worked in co-operation with the village board, village plan commission, village engineering department and the Ivy Hill subdivision developers to lay out a successful plan for developing and maintaining open park land with recreation facilities along MacDonald Creek. This could effect development of the entire creek watershed area within the village.

11. A new summer day camp program was successfully put into effect for retarded children. The program was developed in co-operation with the Clearbrook School for Retarded Children.

12. A new program of ski instruction and ski trips to Fox Trail was added to the activities offered for children and adults.

13. A new night program supervisor has been added at Recreation Park to conduct planned recreational programs for teens and for junior high youngsters.

IN 1966, we shall:

1. Pursue planned development of newly acquired park sites with prime objective of increased swimming facilities at two major park sites and recreational program at all sites.

2. Develop and expand to other major park sites the night time supervised recreational program currently being started at Recreation Park.

3. Pursue plans to acquire the 100 acres of Nike site recently declared surplus land by the federal government and co-operate with local developers to acquire land dedicated for recreational facilities.

4. Pursue and complete annexation of lands north and south in the Village of Arlington Heights but not yet annexed to the park district so the two municipal bodies will have nearly coterminous boundaries. (A

Elevator Inspection Is Slated

The Arlington Heights Village Board has indicated it will adopt comprehensive elevator standards and a fee schedule for elevator inspection.

The board Monday passed a resolution placing three copies of the elevator standards on file in the Municipal Building. By law, they must be on file 15 days before they can be adopted. The standards are a uniform code known as the "American Standard Safety Code for Elevators, Dumbwaiters, Escalators and Moving Walks."

ADOPTION of the code and inspection fees reflects the growing interest in high rise construction in the village and in elevator apartment buildings.

Besides setting standards for elevator construction, the code would require inspections during construction, before acceptance, and routine semi-annual inspections. (A

Artist Finds Painting of Murals Rewarding

Grecian Theme Is Current Favorite

by PAT ADAM
Suburban Living Editor

Artist Shirley Hogberg "hung" her first work in the Art Institute of Chicago when she was only an eighth grader.

Encouraged by a teacher, Shirley, now the mother of three youngsters and a full-time artist for Paddock Publications, took up art seriously and majored in it during high school.

After graduation she worked for Butler Brothers as a commercial artist and continued her serious study at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts where her major interest was interior decorating. Later she studied life art at the American Academy of Art.

Uncertain just what direction she wanted to go in the art field Shirley left Butler Brothers and free lanced for some years, doing both oil paintings and murals. The murals turned out to be a happy choice for they have brought her both monetary and personal rewards.

SINCE SHE started painting murals in homes about 15 years ago while residing in Rolling Meadows, Shirley estimates she has done about 300. Her work may be seen in homes as far away as in Northbrook and in the nearer communities of Palatine, Arlington Heights and Des Plaines.

"It pays to advertise," she's learned, as many of her customers have come to her through newspaper ads, but satisfied clients also have produced new customers for her as well as being repeaters themselves.

About 60 per cent of those for whom she has painted a mural have requested her to return and create a second one in their homes, she said.

ONCE AN initial contact is made, Shirley visits the interested couple in their home though a few have come to see her instead. She likes to talk with both husband and wife to be sure each is satisfied with her suggestions. She may make sketches on the spot or take the customer's ideas home and put them into sketch form within a few days after the first consultation. Usually she makes a minimum of three.

The colors of the mural she will key to the customer's color scheme, but on occasion when a scheme is not yet chosen, she may counsel her customers on home decor.

It even may be necessary to do library research, she explained, to be sure a design is authentic or symbols correct before she creates the preliminary sketch.

WORKING ALMOST steadily from 8 o'clock in the morning till 4 or 5 in the afternoon, with only a short break for lunch, Shirley tries to complete painting the mural in a single day. She maintains this pace to take advantage of natural light and works by artificial light only if necessary.

Before she ever starts actually painting, she chalks in the design or scene, measuring with precision, particularly if there is perspective involved. This operation may require anywhere from one to two hours. Then she stops to give her customers a final chance to make desired changes, though this seldom happens, she said.

"Unless a person knows so definitely what she wants that she continues to advise me even as I work, customers tend to trust my judgment," Shirley commented.

LIVING ROOM murals are the most popular with the kitchen or dining area the next most frequently chosen spot for a painting, she said. Currently a Grecian motif is the one most preferred because it blends well with many decors, she explained. Parisian scenes are the second most popular.

During the 15 years she has been creating murals, Shirley has developed her own technique, which she keeps a secret. It results in a mural that is washable and that won't fade, and it enables her to control the deepness of color tone.

Shirley smiled as she recalled that the first mural she ever painted, a tree branch, took her three days to finish. Now she can complete even a complicated one, such as the Spanish moss tree mural she did recently, in just eight or nine hours, and that required working from a scaffold. The only exception is the scene she is painting on an 18-foot wall in her own home; she started it Dec. 4 and the mural is still unfinished.

REQUESTS FOR murals come to her fairly steadily from the end of September to July, she said, and the peak begins in February when most people are winter-weary and need a painting to perk up their spirits, lasting through June. There is usually a lull from July through the end of September, she added.

Those who commission her to paint them a home mural represent a variety of kinds of people, she said. Many want to bring a certain graciousness into their living. Some are young couples who prefer to invest in what they feel are the "big and important" things in a home, leaving dishes and other possessions till later to acquire. All want a unique touch to their home, and this they get with her murals for she never paints the same one twice.

"Creating something new each time represents a real challenge," she said.

THIS IS one of the rewards of her work. She also is pleased with the recognition it has brought her among fellow artists.

Besides painting murals and working as advertising artist for Paddock, Shirley belongs to the Des Plaines Art Guild and exhibits her work at local art fairs and other places. Currently she has some of her art on display at Lutheran General Hospital.

Pancake Supper

The Ladies Guild of Immanuel United Church of Christ, located on Church Road north of Grand Avenue, Bensenville, will hold its annual pancake supper Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m.

For information call Mrs. R. Merkel, TE 2-5479, or Mrs. G. Bartz, PO 6-6531.

Diaper Set Makes Headlines for 1966

"It's like a miracle," said Mrs. Joseph Krusa of Addison as she excitedly recited statistics on the birth of the first Paddock area baby reported in the new year.

Joseph Laurent Krusa arrived in Frank Cuneo Memorial Hospital, Chicago, at 12:16 a.m. on Jan. 1. Not only is he the first new year baby reported here, but he is the Krusas' first child after 7½ years of marriage. That is reason for special joy in the Krusa home at 111 Byron St., and the proud father has become a celebrity at Murnana Paper Co., Northlake, where he is a sales representative.

The baby, who weighed 6 pounds 15 ounces, is a grandson for the Joseph Kosydars of Mount Prospect and the Frank Krusas of Chicago.

EARLY NEW YEAR arrivals in area hospitals include Heidi Elise Jensen, who was born at 3:36 a.m. to the Jay Jensens of 1023 Beverly Drive, Wheeling, in Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines. She is the second baby of the new year at that hospital, but she is first for a local family. The Jensens also have a son, 7-year-old Christopher.

Grandparents of the 7 pound ½ ounce girl are the William Klines of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Edna Jensen of Chicago.

A PALATINE couple are parents of the fifth baby of the new year at Lutheran General Hospital, Kenneth Michael Gabrys arriving there at 8:43 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gabrys live at 2707 Rohlwing Road, and the newcomer is their first child. He weighed 7 pounds 5½ ounces at birth.

Grandparents are all area residents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gabrys of Elk Grove Village and Charles Zullo of Mount Prospect. There is also a great-grandmother in this area, Mrs. Ella Gabrys of Rolling Meadows.

THE FIRST 1966 birth in Northwest Community Hospital was recorded New Year's Day afternoon at 4:39. Edward Robert Perry is his name, and he is the third son for the Roger Perrys of 524 E. Thacker, Hoffman Estates. Brothers of the 8 pound 11 ounce baby are James, 11, and Steven, 9.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kuhfal of Streamwood and James Perry of Franklin Park.

OUT OF THE 12 babies born on New Year's Day in Elmhurst Memorial Hospital, two were from the north DuPage area. Both are Medinah families, and the first, a girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald LaPorte, 22W069 Glendale Terr., is as yet unnamed.

She arrived at 3:24 in the afternoon and is a sister for Jay, 14; Lyndel, 13, and Cindee, 7. Grandparents of the 6 pound 8 ounce girl are Mrs. Otto Behrens of Skokie, Mrs. Evelyn Hanson of Rothschild, Wis., and Arthur LaPorte of Scofield, Wis.

The second Medinah baby arrived at 7:27 p.m. Jan. 1 and was another girl, Tina Adell Capuzzi. She is the first-born for Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore J. Capuzzi of 7N380 Medinah Road and a granddaughter for Mr. and Mrs. Julius Jusinskas of Elmhurst. Tina weighed 7 pounds 7 ounces.

Cold Weather Poses Threat of Frostbite

Brisk winter weather may be fine for skiing and sledding, but it always poses the threat of frostbite.

Most of us have experienced that common "pins and needles" sensation that accompanies exposure to cold, especially when sitting at football games played in freezing temperatures.

But if this sensation—one of the first symptoms of frostbite—goes unheeded too long, your blood eventually will thicken and flow more slowly; ice crystals may actually form in your tissue, and your body functions, such as respiratory and metabolic rates, may slow down until they stop altogether. The result? Thromboses (clotting of blood) and possibly even death.

EVEN IF frostbite is treated before it reaches the fatal stage, it can cause severe pain, leave you hypersensitive to cold for the rest of your life and perhaps even lead to amputations.

Frostbite, like burns, is classified by its degree of severity.

First degree frostbite, like first degree burns, only affects the skin's surface. In this stage, the "pins and needles" sensation often changes to numbness, with the color of the skin changing from pink to white. Although the condition may not necessitate medical attention, it should be treated immediately by thawing out the affected area gradually at room temperature.

HOWEVER, SECOND degree frostbite, usually marked by a grayish-yellow skin tone and blisters, may seriously hamper the blood circulation and injure underlying tissue.

Third degree frostbite, of course, is the most serious for it may permanently damage underlying tissues, invite gangrene and necessitate amputation.

Strangely enough, some people are more prone to frostbite than others, especially the very young and old, and those with vascular diseases or metabolic disorders (such as anemia, nutritional deficiencies and hypothyroidism). Anyone, however, may become a victim.

UNFORTUNATELY many frostbite victims aren't even aware of their condition. Why? Because what pain they initially feel quickly subsides.

Contrary to popular notion, the worst thing you can do to "relieve" frostbite is to rub the affected area with snow. This is a dangerous practice which could lead to gangrene. The opposite extreme, application of hot water bottles or heating lamps, can also prove dangerous.

To protect yourself against frostbite, prevent it! Dress properly in warm clothing; keep clothing dry from outside moisture and from perspiration; avoid tight clothing or garters that may restrict circulation, and avoid standing or sitting in extreme cold.

Annual Snow Ball Dance is Jan. 15th

by PAT ADAM

Saturday, Jan. 15, has been set for the fifth annual Snow Ball Dance. Sponsored by the Parents of the Blind, Inc., the affair will be held in the Flick-Reedy Hall, York Road, Bensenville.

Chairmen of the dance are Mr. and Mrs. William R. Guendling of Elk Grove Village. Serving on their committee are the junior R. Cooleys of Rolling Meadows and the H. Howlands of Prospect Heights.

The evening will include dancing to the music of a 10-piece band, the Rhythm Club, Inc. from Park Ridge, prizes and refreshments. Proceeds will provide nursery school and summer camp for the visually handicapped.

TICKETS OR information pertaining to financial gifts may be obtained by calling Mr. Guendling, president of the sponsoring group, at 437-0386.

Purpose of the parents group is to help parents acquire information and techniques necessary to train their children to live in a seeing world; to aid in securing and improving such facilities for training and educating blind or visually handicapped children; to promote the acceptance of the blind by the general public; and to promote functions for the benefit of these children.

Card Party To Brighten Post-Holiday

To brighten the after the holidays scene and prevent that first of the year let-down, Mount Prospect Woman's Club has scheduled its annual January dessert and card party for Tuesday, Jan. 18, at 1 p.m. at the Mount Prospect Country Club. A variety of pastries will be served by the committee then cards will take over for the rest of the afternoon.

Mrs. R. E. Boylan and Mrs. C. W. Plunkett are co-chairmen for the event. Assisting them will be Mrs. W. J. Bartlett, Mrs. Robert Petersen, Mrs. F. J. Liebrich and Mrs. Owen Elsley. Tickets may be obtained from any committee member.

The club's Veteran's Service Department will meet Monday, Jan. 10, at 1 p.m. in the Maple Room of the Mount Prospect Country Club to sew for hospitalized veterans. These veterans have a great need for scuffies and anyone wishing to assist in this work is invited. Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. C. H. Cooper and Mrs. G. F. Bochum.

Annual Meeting For Garden Club

The Pavillon, 805 Sunset Ridge Road, Northbrook, will be the winter scene of the annual meeting of District II of The Garden Club of Illinois next Monday.

Luncheon will be served at 1 p.m., followed by the program on flower design to be presented by several nationally accredited amateur flower show judges.

Luncheon reservations should go to Mrs. Gilbert Carleton, 900 Oxford Road, Deerfield.

Study Group Agenda Is Frost Poems

Robert Frost and his poetry will be studied by the literature study group of Arlington Heights Woman's Club in January. Hostess for the 1:15 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 11, meeting will be Mrs. James Drake, 411 N. Beverly.

On the program will be a sound film showing Frost, a 4-time Pulitzer prize winner for poetry, discussing his life and work with Bela Kornitzer, a Hungarian-born author. At his farm home in Vermont, the late poet recalls a wide range of personal experiences that furnished the background for his works. Frost also reads some of his poems.

Mrs. Harold Lussow will read some of Frost's poems as well as selections from the published poems written by one of the club members, Mrs. Harold Rose. Mrs. Laddie Poduska, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph Svoboda, Mrs. George Rose and Mrs. Stanley Curtin.

'Handling Your Husband,' Topic For Area Group

"How to Handle your Husband" will be the topic of Dr. Thad Xelowski Jr. when he speaks Wednesday, Jan. 12, to members of Northwest Branch of the Chicago Medical Assistants Association. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the meeting room of the Bank of Rolling Meadows.

The speaker is a graduate of Loyola University and also the University of Notre Dame. He teaches at Maine Township High School and is a member of the Augustana Hospital Pre-Marital Conference.

Associates Greet 'Graduates' Jan. 12

"Graduates" of Arlington Heights Newcomers Club will be welcomed into the Associate Newcomers Club of Arlington Heights when the group meets for a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday, Jan. 12, in Old Orchard Country Club. All former members of Newcomers and those who have belonged to Newcomers for the past three years are invited to the luncheon and to join the Associates.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Sid Wiltshire at CL 5-8533 or Mrs. Roy Kamin, CL 5-9059.

MRS. DEAN Sanderson, 1807 N. Kaspar, Arlington Heights, was installed as president of the Associates at the December meeting. Installed as vice president was Mrs. John Cornell. New secretaries are Mrs. Richard Wood and Mrs. Richard Byrnes, and treasurer is Mrs. Ray Fritz. The women were installed by Mrs. Robert Chadderdon.

Mrs. Sanderson announced her committee chairmen as follows: Mrs. M. Chupich, membership; Mrs. Robert Rohde, activities; Mrs. Al Simonsen, special activities; and Mrs. Wiltshire and Mrs. Kamin, luncheon.

Artist Finds Painting of Murals Rewarding

Grecian Theme Is Current Favorite

by PAT ADAM
Suburban Living Editor

Artist Shirley Hogberg "hung" her first work in the Art Institute of Chicago when she was only an eighth grader.

Encouraged by a teacher, Shirley, now the mother of three youngsters and a full-time artist for Paddock Publications, took up art seriously and majored in it during high school.

After graduation she worked for Butler Brothers as a commercial artist and continued her serious study at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts where her major interest was interior decorating. Later she studied life art at the American Academy of Art.

Uncertain just what direction she wanted to go in the art field Shirley left Butler Brothers and free lanced for some years, doing both oil paintings and murals. The murals turned out to be a happy choice for they have brought her both monetary and personal rewards.

SINCE SHE started painting murals in homes about 15 years ago while residing in Rolling Meadows, Shirley estimates she has done about 300. Her work may be seen in homes as far away as in Northbrook and in the nearer communities of Palatine, Arlington Heights and Des Plaines.

"It pays to advertise," she's learned, as many of her customers have come to her through newspaper ads, but satisfied clients also have produced new customers for her as well as being repeaters themselves.

About 60 per cent of those for whom she has painted a mural have requested her to return and create a second one in their homes, she said.

ONCE AN initial contact is made, Shirley visits the interested couple in their home though a few have come to see her instead. She likes to talk with both husband and wife to be sure each is satisfied with her suggestions. She may make sketches on the spot or take the customer's ideas home and put them into sketch form within a few days after the first consultation. Usually she makes a minimum of three.

The colors of the mural she will key to the customer's color scheme, but on occasion when a scheme is not yet chosen, she may counsel her customers on home decor.

It even may be necessary to do library research, she explained, to be sure a design is authentic or symbols correct before she creates the preliminary sketch.

WORKING ALMOST steadily from 8 o'clock in the morning till 4 or 5 in the afternoon, with only a short break for lunch, Shirley tries to complete painting the mural in a single day. She maintains this pace to take advantage of natural light and works by artificial light only if necessary.

Before she ever starts actually painting, she chalks in the design or scene, measuring with precision, particularly if there is perspective involved. This operation may require anywhere from one to two hours. Then she stops to give her customers a final chance to make desired changes, though this seldom happens, she said.

"Unless a person knows so definitely what she wants that she continues to advise me even as I work, customers tend to trust my judgment," Shirley commented.

LIVING ROOM murals are the most popular with the kitchen or dining area the next most frequently chosen spot for a painting, she said. Currently a Grecian motif is the one most preferred because it blends well with many decors, she explained. Parisian scenes are the second most popular.

During the 15 years she has been creating murals, Shirley has developed her own technique, which she keeps a secret. It results in a mural that is washable and that won't fade, and it enables her to control the deepness of color tone.

Shirley smiled as she recalled that the first mural she ever painted, a tree branch, took her three days to finish. Now she can complete even a complicated one, such as the Spanish moss tree mural she did recently, in just eight or nine hours, and that required working from a scaffold. The only exception is the scene she is painting on an 18-foot wall in her own home; she started it Dec. 4 and the mural is still unfinished.

REQUESTS FOR murals come to her fairly steadily from the end of September to July, she said, and the peak begins in February when most people are winter-weary and need a painting to perk up their spirits, lasting through June. There is usually a lull from July through the end of September, she added.

Those who commission her to paint them a home mural represent a variety of kinds of people, she said. Many want to bring a certain graciousness into their living. Some are young couples who prefer to invest in what they feel are the "big and important" things in a home, leaving dishes and other possessions till later to acquire. All want a unique touch to their home, and this they get with her murals for she never paints the same one twice.

"Creating something new each time represents a real challenge," she said.

THIS IS one of the rewards of her work. She also is pleased with the recognition it has brought her among fellow artists.

Besides painting murals and working as advertising artist for Paddock, Shirley belongs to the Des Plaines Art Guild and exhibits her work at local art fairs and other places. Currently she has some of her art on display at Lutheran General Hospital.

Pancake Supper

The Ladies Guild of Immanuel United Church of Christ, located on Church Road north of Grand Avenue, Bensenville, will hold its annual pancake supper Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m.

For information call Mrs. R. Merkel, TE 2-5479, or Mrs. G. Bartz, PO 6-6531.

Cold Weather Poses Threat of Frostbite

Brisk winter weather may be fine for skiing and sledding, but it always poses the threat of frostbite.

Most of us have experienced that common "pins and needles" sensation that accompanies exposure to cold, especially when sitting at football games played in freezing temperatures.

But if this sensation—one of the first symptoms of frostbite—goes unheeded too long, your blood eventually will thicken and flow more slowly; ice crystals may actually form in your tissue, and your body functions, such as respiratory and metabolic rates, may slow down until they stop altogether. The result? Thromboses (clotting of blood) and possibly even death.

EVEN IF frostbite is treated before it reaches the fatal stage, it can cause severe pain, leave you hypersensitive to cold for the rest of your life and perhaps even lead to amputations.

Frostbite, like burns, is classified by its degree of severity.

First degree frostbite, like first degree burns, only affects the skin's surface. In this stage, the "pins and needles" sensation often changes to numbness, with the color of the skin changing from pink to white. Although the condition may not necessitate medical attention, it should be treated immediately by thawing out the affected area gradually at room temperature.

HOWEVER, SECOND degree frostbite, usually marked by a grayish-yellow skin tone and blisters, may seriously hamper the blood circulation and injure underlying tissue.

Third degree frostbite, of course, is the most serious for it may permanently damage underlying tissues, invite gangrene and necessitate amputation.

Strangely enough, some people are more prone to frostbite than others, especially the very young and old, and those with vascular diseases or metabolic disorders (such as anemia, nutritional deficiencies and hypothyroidism). Anyone, however, may become a victim.

UNFORTUNATELY many frostbite victims aren't even aware of their condition. Why? Because what pain they initially feel quickly subsides.

Contrary to popular notion, the worst thing you can do to "relieve" frostbite is to rub the affected area with snow. This is a dangerous practice which could lead to gangrene. The opposite extreme, application of hot water bottles or heating lamps, can also prove dangerous.

To protect yourself against frostbite, prevent it! Dress properly in warm clothing; keep clothing dry from outside moisture and from perspiration; avoid tight clothing or garters that may restrict circulation, and avoid standing or sitting in extreme cold.

Diaper Set Makes Headlines for 1966

"It's like a miracle," said Mrs. Joseph Krusa of Addison as she excitedly recited statistics on the birth of the first Paddock area baby reported in the new year.

Joseph Laurent Krusa arrived in Frank Cuneo Memorial Hospital, Chicago, at 12:16 a.m. on Jan. 1. Not only is he the first new year baby reported here, but he is the Krusas' first child after 7½ years of marriage. That is reason for special joy in the Krusa home at 111 Byron St., and the proud father has become a celebrity at Murnana Paper Co., Northlake, where he is a sales representative.

The baby, who weighed 6 pounds 15 ounces, is a grandson for the Joseph Kosydars of Mount Prospect and the Frank Krusas of Chicago.

EARLY NEW YEAR arrivals in area hospitals include Heidi Elise Jensen, who was born at 3:36 a.m. to the Jay Jensens of 1023 Beverly Drive, Wheeling, in Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines. She is the second baby of the new year at that hospital, but she is first for a local family. The Jensens also have a son, 7-year-old Christopher.

Grandparents of the 7 pound ½ ounce girl are the William Klines of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Edna Jensen of Chicago.

A PALATINE couple are parents of the fifth baby of the new year at Lutheran General Hospital, Kenneth Michael Gabrys arriving there at 8:43 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gabrys live at 2707 Rohlwing Road, and the newcomer is their first child. He weighed 7 pounds 5½ ounces at birth.

Grandparents are all area residents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gabrys of Elk Grove Village and Charles Zullo of Mount Prospect. There is also a great-grandmother in this area, Mrs. Ella Gabrys of Rolling Meadows.

THE FIRST 1966 birth in Northwest Community Hospital was recorded New Year's Day afternoon at 4:39. Edward Robert Perry is his name, and he is the third son for the Roger Perrys of 524 E. Thacker, Hoffman Estates. Brothers of the 8 pound 11 ounce baby are James, 11, and Steven, 9.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kuhfal of Streamwood and James Perry of Franklin Park.

OUT OF THE 12 babies born on New Year's Day in Elmhurst Memorial Hospital, two were from the north DuPage area. Both are Medinah families, and the first, a girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald LaPorte, 22W069 Glendale Terr., is as yet unnamed.

She arrived at 3:24 in the afternoon and is a sister for Jay, 14; Lyndel, 13, and Cindee, 7. Grandparents of the 6 pound 8 ounce girl are Mrs. Otto Behrens of Skokie, Mrs. Evelyn Hanson of Rothschild, Wis., and Arthur LaPorte of Scofield, Wis.

The second Medinah baby arrived at 7:27 p.m. Jan. 1 and was another girl, Tina Adell Capuzzi. She is the first-born for Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore J. Capuzzi of 7N380 Medinah Road and a granddaughter for Mr. and Mrs. Julius Jusinskas of Elmhurst. Tina weighed 7 pounds 7 ounces.

Annual Snow Ball Dance is Jan. 15th

by PAT ADAM

Saturday, Jan. 15, has been set for the fifth annual Snow Ball Dance. Sponsored by the Parents of the Blind, Inc., the affair will be held in the Flick-Reedy Hall, York Road, Bensenville.

Chairmen of the dance are Mr. and Mrs. William R. Guendling of Elk Grove Village. Serving on their committee are the junior R. Cooleys of Rolling Meadows and the H. Howlands of Prospect Heights.

The evening will include dancing to the music of a 10-piece band, the Rhythm Club, Inc. from Park Ridge, prizes and refreshments. Proceeds will provide nursery school and summer camp for the visually handicapped.

TICKETS OR information pertaining to financial gifts may be obtained by calling Mr. Guendling, president of the sponsoring group, at 437-0386.

Purpose of the parents group is to help parents acquire information and techniques necessary to train their children to live in a seeing world; to aid in securing and improving such facilities for training and educating blind or visually handicapped children; to promote the acceptance of the blind by the general public; and to promote functions for the benefit of these children.

Card Party To Brighten Post-Holiday

To brighten the after the holidays scene and prevent that first of the year let-down, Mount Prospect Woman's Club has scheduled its annual January dessert and card party for Tuesday, Jan. 18, at 1 p.m. at the Mount Prospect Country Club. A variety of pastries will be served by the committee then cards will take over for the rest of the afternoon.

Mrs. R. E. Boylan and Mrs. C. W. Plunkett are co-chairmen for the event. Assisting them will be Mrs. W. J. Bartlett, Mrs. Robert Petersen, Mrs. F. J. Liebrich and Mrs. Owen Elsley. Tickets may be obtained from any committee member.

The club's Veteran's Service Department will meet Monday, Jan. 10, at 1 p.m. in the Maple Room of the Mount Prospect Country Club to sew for hospitalized veterans. These veterans have a great need for scuffies and anyone wishing to assist in this work is invited. Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. C. H. Cooper and Mrs. G. F. Bochum.

Annual Meeting For Garden Club

The Pavillon, 805 Sunset Ridge Road, Northbrook, will be the winter scene of the annual meeting of District II of The Garden Club of Illinois next Monday.

Luncheon will be served at 1 p.m., followed by the program on flower design to be presented by several nationally accredited amateur flower show judges.

Luncheon reservations should go to Mrs. Gilbert Carleton, 900 Oxford Road, Deerfield.

Study Group Agenda Is Frost Poems

Robert Frost and his poetry will be studied by the literature study group of Arlington Heights Woman's Club in January. Hostess for the 1:15 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 11, meeting will be Mrs. James Drake, 411 N. Beverly.

On the program will be a sound film showing Frost, a 4-time Pulitzer prize winner for poetry, discussing his life and work with Bela Kornitzer, a Hungarian-born author. At his farm home in Vermont, the late poet recalls a wide range of personal experiences that furnished the background for his works. Frost also reads some of his poems.

Mrs. Harold Lussow will read some of Frost's poems as well as selections from the published poems written by one of the club members, Mrs. Harold Rose. Mrs. Laddie Poduska, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph Svoboda, Mrs. George Rose and Mrs. Stanley Curtin.

You Can Make That Ironing Chore Easier

Ironing is probably the most disliked homemaking chore in all the land. We grin and bear it. What else can we do? The day of the hired girl is gone, for most of us, and clothes must be ironed if they are to look nice.

At least that's the way it used to be. Now, however, fabric manufacturers, home economists and others are doing everything they can to devise ways of banishing that irksome chore from the homemaker's schedule. Here are a few things you can do to avoid ironing. You'll probably think of more, if you put your mind to it.

First of all, buy wash-and-wear garments whenever you can. Many of the first products called "wash and wear" did not live up to their promise, it is true. But more recent developments in fiber manufacture, garment construction and finishes have solved many of the earlier problems. And with the introduction of "permanent press," in which the press is actually baked in, even touch-up ironing is often unnecessary.

OF COURSE, YOU must handle these garments properly during laundering. The wash-and-wear setting on your automatic dryer will flex out most of the wear wrinkles, but be sure to remove the clothes from the dryer and put them on hangers as soon as the dryer stops. Some dryers have signals, such as a bell, to indicate when these items should be removed. If allowed to remain in the dryer after it shuts off, the heat will set new wrinkles.

A fabric softener, added to the final rinse water, is a big help in easing the ironing load, too. Because it makes fabrics softer and minimizes wrinkling, many items can be folded and put away without any ironing. When ironing is necessary, it is accomplished more easily and quickly because the iron glides over the soft fabrics.

Another way to avoid ironing is to avoid overdrying or baking out the natural moisture of fabrics. An electronic control is a big help. This type of control has a sensing device that "feels" when the clothes are dry and shuts off the dryer automatically. As a result, many items—sheets, towels, children's playclothes and men's T-shirts — can be smoothed by hand, folded and put away without lifting an iron.

A WASHABLE slipcover, if removed from the dryer while still slightly damp, can be put back on the chair where it will press itself. Ruffles, flounces and pleats can be hand-smoothed and "set" with the aid of a few snap clothespins placed on the hem.

Finger pressing is handy for other items, too. Ribbons, seams and bias binding are often the only parts of a garment that need ironing. If you smooth these out by hand the minute the garment is taken from the dryer, even that bit or ironing can be avoided.

Puffed sleeves, always popular for little girls' dresses, and now showing up in some high-fashion garments for women, are difficult to maneuver with an iron. Try rotating the dampened sleeve over a hot light bulb. The wrinkles will disappear quickly without a crease to spoil the puffy effect. (S

Months' Rest Spurs Newcomers' Group

After a month of inactivity, Arlington Heights Newcomers Club is ready to resume with a full January program.

The monthly luncheon, with a "June in January" theme, will be held Wednesday, Jan. 12, in Old Orchard Country Club beginning at noon. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Paul Griffin, 358-1306 or Mrs. Lyle Victor, 392-8043 by Monday, Jan. 10.

A "Junk and Jewel" sale will be held at the evening meeting Wednesday, Jan. 19, in Pioneer Park Field House at 8 p.m., with proceeds going to the Clearbrook School for Retarded Children. Bridge, pinochle and canasta will follow the meeting and sale.

THE HOME AND Garden Group will hold its meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 26, in the North Room of Pioneer Park Field House. Mrs. Joseph Braun, chairman, has planned a program on "Wood Refinishing." The public is invited.

Newcomers with less than 18 months residency in the Arlington Heights area are invited to attend a luncheon or an evening meeting. Further information may be obtained by calling the membership chairman, Mrs. Walter Donahue, 392-9198. (S

Sorority Activities

PANHELLENIC

"Two hundred" was the magic number for the Panhellenic Christmas Coffee. Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights thronged with that number of collegiate sorority women and their mothers Wednesday morning during the vacation holidays.

Northwest Suburban Panhellenic members, hostesses for the large gathering, plan a repeat performance next year. Every northwest suburb and every National Panhellenic Conference sorority was represented, and the girls were alive with excitement at reunions with high school and sorority friends.

Northwest Suburban Panhellenic will begin the new year's activities with a meeting at 10 a.m., Thursday, Jan. 13. Old Orchard Country Club will be the scene as representatives to discuss the annual information tea held in the spring for college bound high school seniors.

DG-KKG

Northwest Suburban Chapter of Delta Gamma will host a luncheon and buzz session with Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae on Jan. 10 at 1 p.m. Mrs. William Narup and Mrs. John Frieburg, presidents of Delta Gamma and Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae groups, will join members of their respective groups for the combined meeting.

A panel discussion on common interests and controversial issues on campus is planned with an informal session to follow.

Assisting the hostess, Mrs. O. F. Lyman, 626 Mayfair Road, Arlington Heights, will be Mrs. Charles Gelhaar, Mrs. Harry Jenkins and Mrs. G. William Paine.

SIGMA KAPPA

Sigma Kappa alumna evening group will gather for a game fest at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 12, in the home of Mrs. Ronald Ehrke, 1106 N. Patton, Arlington Heights. Members are asked to bring a favorite game or bridge rule book. Newcomers are welcome.

Mrs. Ehrke, Cl 3-6745, or Mrs. Richard G. Cubberly, 825-4770, may be called for further details. (S

Pinocchio Players Slate Second Play of Season

The Pinocchio Players Guild is returning to Arlington Heights Saturday, Jan. 22, to present the second children's play of the season, 'Sinbad and the Genie.' The play, under the sponsorship of the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club, will be given in St. Viator's High School Auditorium, Arlington Heights, at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Especially prepared for Guild presentation, the play is a combination of several of the classic Sinbad stories. It deals with the adventures of Sinbad in trying to help a cowardly and comic djinn regain the safety of his magic lamp. During the course of this, they meet Azura, the evil spirit of the east, who plans to use the magic lamp to aid in capturing the beautiful daughter of the Caliph. Written particularly to interest the 6-12 year olds, the play is full of action and color.

TAKING the principal part of Azura, the wicked spirit, will be Rosemary Thurber Sauers, who also designed the sets. Frederick Sauers will create the role of the djinn and William Damkoehler, winner of a Columbia Broadcasting System acting scholarship, will be Sinbad. The role of the Caliph's daughter will be portrayed by Mary Michel, winner of the Illinois State Speech contest and recently seen at the Harper Theatre in Chicago. Marie Brady, founder of the Guild and a Chicago character actress, takes the part of Feroza, chaperon of the Princess.

Tickets for the performances may be obtained from any Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club member by calling on the northside, 392-3873, southside, 392-3726, eastside, CL 9-1209 and westside, CL 3-6984. Proceeds from the play help to support the many club philanthropies. (S

You Can Make That Ironing Chore Easier

Ironing is probably the most disliked homemaking chore in all the land. We grin and bear it. What else can we do? The day of the hired girl is gone, for most of us, and clothes must be ironed if they are to look nice.

At least that's the way it used to be. Now, however, fabric manufacturers, home economists and others are doing everything they can to devise ways of banishing that irksome chore from the homemaker's schedule. Here are a few things you can do to avoid ironing. You'll probably think of more, if you put your mind to it.

First of all, buy wash-and-wear garments whenever you can. Many of the first products called "wash and wear" did not live up to their promise, it is true. But more recent developments in fiber manufacture, garment construction and finishes have solved many of the earlier problems. And with the introduction of "permanent press," in which the press is actually baked in, even touch-up ironing is often unnecessary.

OF COURSE, YOU must handle these garments properly during laundering. The wash-and-wear setting on your automatic dryer will flex out most of the wear wrinkles, but be sure to remove the clothes from the dryer and put them on hangers as soon as the dryer stops. Some dryers have signals, such as a bell, to indicate when these items should be removed. If allowed to remain in the dryer after it shuts off, the heat will set new wrinkles.

A fabric softener, added to the final rinse water, is a big help in easing the ironing load, too. Because it makes fabrics softer and minimizes wrinkling, many items can be folded and put away without any ironing. When ironing is necessary, it is accomplished more easily and quickly because the iron glides over the soft fabrics.

Another way to avoid ironing is to avoid overdrying or baking out the natural moisture of fabrics. An electronic control is a big help. This type of control has a sensing device that "feels" when the clothes are dry and shuts off the dryer automatically. As a result, many items—sheets, towels, children's playclothes and men's T-shirts — can be smoothed by hand, folded and put away without lifting an iron.

A WASHABLE slipcover, if removed from the dryer while still slightly damp, can be put back on the chair where it will press itself. Ruffles, flounces and pleats can be hand-smoothed and "set" with the aid of a few snap clothespins placed on the hem.

Finger pressing is handy for other items, too. Ribbons, seams and bias binding are often the only parts of a garment that need ironing. If you smooth these out by hand the minute the garment is taken from the dryer, even that bit or ironing can be avoided.

Puffed sleeves, always popular for little girls' dresses, and now showing up in some high-fashion garments for women, are difficult to maneuver with an iron. Try rotating the dampened sleeve over a hot light bulb. The wrinkles will disappear quickly without a crease to spoil the puffy effect. (S

PANHELLENIC

"Two hundred" was the magic number for the Panhellenic Christmas Coffee. Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights thronged with that number of collegiate sorority women and their mothers Wednesday morning during the vacation holidays.

Northwest Suburban Panhellenic members, hostesses for the large gathering, plan a repeat performance next year. Every northwest suburb and every National Panhellenic Conference sorority was represented, and the girls were alive with excitement at reunions with high school and sorority friends.

Northwest Suburban Panhellenic will begin the new year's activities with a meeting at 10 a.m., Thursday, Jan. 13. Old Orchard Country Club will be the scene as representatives to discuss the annual information tea held in the spring for college bound high school seniors.

DG-KKG

Northwest Suburban Chapter of Delta Gamma will host a luncheon and buzz session with Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae on Jan. 10 at 1 p.m. Mrs. William Narup and Mrs. John Frieburg, presidents of Delta Gamma and Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae groups, will join members of their respective groups for the combined meeting.

A panel discussion on common interests and controversial issues on campus is planned with an informal session to follow.

Assisting the hostess, Mrs. O. F. Lyman, 626 Mayfair Road, Arlington Heights, will be Mrs. Charles Gelhaar, Mrs. Harry Jenkins and Mrs. G. William Paine.

SIGMA KAPPA

Sigma Kappa alumna evening group will gather for a game fest at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 12, in the home of Mrs. Ronald Ehrke, 1106 N. Patton, Arlington Heights. Members are asked to bring a favorite game or bridge rule book. Newcomers are welcome.

Mrs. Ehrke, Cl 3-6745, or Mrs. Richard G. Cubberly, 825-4770, may be called for further details. (S

Starting at the top is Joan Wickman, University of Wisconsin; third row, Linda Mabbs, Northwestern, and Lynette Schmidt, State University of Iowa; second row, Elizabeth Distler, William and Mary, and Judy Paul, Washington; bottom, Linda Seales, Ohio Wesleyan, and Claudia Hansen, Tulsa.

Pinocchio Players Slate Second Play of Season

The Pinocchio Players Guild is returning to Arlington Heights Saturday, Jan. 22, to present the second children's play of the season, 'Sinbad and the Genie.' The play, under the sponsorship of the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club, will be given in St. Viator's High School Auditorium, Arlington Heights, at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Especially prepared for Guild presentation, the play is a combination of several of the classic Sinbad stories. It deals with the adventures of Sinbad in trying to help a cowardly and comic djinn regain the safety of his magic lamp. During the course of this, they meet Azura, the evil spirit of the east, who plans to use the magic lamp to aid in capturing the beautiful daughter of the Caliph. Written particularly to interest the 6-12 year olds, the play is full of action and color.

TAKING the principal part of Azura, the wicked spirit, will be Rosemary Thurber Sauers, who also designed the sets. Frederick Sauers will create the role of the djinn and William Damkoehler, winner of a Columbia Broadcasting System acting scholarship, will be Sinbad. The role of the Caliph's daughter will be portrayed by Mary Michel, winner of the Illinois State Speech contest and recently seen at the Harper Theatre in Chicago. Marie Brady, founder of the Guild and a Chicago character actress, takes the part of Feroza, chaperon of the Princess.

Tickets for the performances may be obtained from any Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club member by calling on the northside, 392-3873, southside, 392-3726, eastside, CL 9-1209 and westside, CL 3-6984. Proceeds from the play help to support the many club philanthropies. (S

Maternity Center Team Holds Lunch Jan. 5

MODELING TOP HAT to assist her mother, Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, and Mrs. John Glueckert in designing Abraham Lincoln hat silhouettes, is petite Lynn Hoffman. The silhouettes will be used as decorations for the forthcoming benefit planned by the northwest area team of the Chicago Maternity Center.

Mrs. William Cook of Arlington Heights and Mrs. George N. Tuttle of Mount Prospect, co-chairmen of the Chicago Maternity Center's Northwest area charity team, were hostesses for the 30 team members at luncheon in Mrs. Cook's home Wednesday, Jan. 5.

Final plans were made for the Thirteenth Annual Cocktail Dance and Dinner sponsored by this group for the benefit of The Chicago Maternity Center. The dance will be held in Itasca Country Club Saturday, Feb. 12. George Fanelli's orchestra will provide music for dancing from 4:30 to 8 p.m.

Special guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Ross K. Hoy of Lake Forest and Mrs. George J. Burrows of Chicago, co-chairmen of the women's division of the Maternity Center's 1966 fund raising campaign, and Miss Helen Hoffman, the Center's executive director. Highlights of the afternoon were the showing of a movie film depicting a typical day's activities at the Maternity Center, and Miss Hoffman's report of the past year's accomplishments.

She reported that "last year the Maternity Center was instrumental in assuring the safe birth in their own homes, at minimum expense, of about 2,200 babies. In so doing, the Center has also trained some 200 medical students and doctors, and several hundred nurses in modern practical obstetrics."

ORGANIZED MORE than 70 years ago, the Maternity Center has become famous for the work of its doctors and nurses who attend needy mothers at childbirth in their homes. This Center also offers clinic care for the expectant mother and for the mother and baby after delivery. In addition, medical students and nurses receive training and research projects are conducted.

The local fund raising team expects the benefit dance they have planned to make a worthy contribution toward raising the Center's 1966 budget of $358,697, part of which is met by the Community Fund of Chicago, Inc.

Team members working with Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Tuttle on the benefit dance include: Mrs. G. T. Beard, Mrs. Betty H. Black, Mrs. Vernon Boman, Mrs. Nat T. Burfeind, Mrs. William Chambers, Mrs. S. P. Chase Jr., Mrs. Joseph Clemens, Mrs. H. Christensen, Mrs. Ole Christensen, Mrs. Harry Colburn, Mrs. Thomas Curry, Mrs. James L. Drake, Mrs. John S. Flaherty.

Also Mrs. John Glueckert, Mrs. F. W. Hamilton, Mrs. William Heise, Mrs. J. F. Hendricks, Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, Mrs. James Howard, Mrs. Victor Kostuck, Mrs. Carl Palmer, Mrs. J. D. Patterson, Mrs. S. L. Sage, Mrs. Joseph Schneller, Mrs. Frank Seery, Mrs. William Townsend, Mrs. A. Wiegand and Mrs. C. J. Zettek Jr. (S

Astrologist to Entertain Elk Grove Juniors Jan. 12

"Astrology is the original science...it serves as a philosophy by giving us an x-ray of the individual" commented Miss Katherine de Jersey, Chicago astrologer, who will entertain Elk Grove Village Junior Woman's Club at their Reciprocity and Guest Night Wednesday, Jan. 12 at Salt Creek School.

Miss de Jersey advises clients in all walks of life, including celebrities such as Arthur Treacher, Monique Van Vooren and Phyllis Diller. She travels extensively to speak before clubs and organizations and appears frequently on radio and television. Recently she has appeared on the Jim Conway, Pamela Mason, Larry Attebery and Mike Douglas shows, and will be a guest on Channel 7's Gypsy Rose Lee Show in January.

"Follow Your Lucky Stars" will be the subject of her Woman's Club program.

This meeting is the one opportunity of the club year for members to bring guests, and members of other District Clubs in the area have also been invited. "The purpose of Reciprocity Night is to give members of other clubs an insight into the business and spirit of the meetings of their neighbor clubs," said Mrs. Harold Thompson, program chairman, as she encouraged all club members to bring friends to this "don't miss" meeting at 8:15 p.m. (S

Wayside Club To Hear Village Officials Jan. 13

To ring in the New Year, Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Woman's Club of Arlingron Heights will have village officials as guests on the program for its Jan. 13 meeting to be held in Pioneer Park at 8:30 p.m. Village Pres. John Woods and Village Mgr. Leonard Hanson will be accompanied by Jack Walsh, village trustee, as speakers.

The subject to be discussed will be "Why Revitalization of the Central Business District?" Hanson stated that this is one of the most pressing problems with which Arlington Heights is confronted. Considerable time, effort and money have been spent in this regard, he commented.

A three-dimensional model, which is a visual presentation of how the plans conceive the area to look in the future, will be displayed at the meeting. Walsh is chairman of the revitalization of the Central Business District.

Other board of trustee members will also be invited to attend this meeting. (S

Carol Rubach Married In Birmingham, Mich.

MRS. LOUIS D'AGOSTINO

Miss Carol Ann Rubach, daughter of the William C. Rubachs, 212 S. Derbyshire, Arlington Heights, returned to Birmingham, Mich., where the family resided until moving here, for her Dec. 28 marriage to Louis Peter D'Agostino.

Both the bride and the groom, son of Mrs. Anthony D'Agostino of Birmingham, were graduated from the University of Michigan. Mr. D'Agostino also earned his master's degree from the University of Detroit and is now doing further graduate work at Michigan State University in Lansing where his bride is employed as a social worker by the Michigan Civil Sevice Commission.

THE WEDDING, double ring, took place at 7:30 p.m. in Holy Name Church, and Mr. Rubach gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore an ivory satin gown with lace bodie, styled with a scalloped neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Her elbow-length veil was held in place with a petal headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds with ivy.

Attending her as maid of honor was her sister, Marilyn Rubach of Arlington Heights. Another sister, Jane Rubach, was a bridesmaid along with two friends from Ferndale, Mich., Jane Bolton and Mary K. Beamer. Their gowns were fashioned with green velvet bodices and cream colored crepe skirts, and they carried carnation bouquets.

ATTENDING the groom as best man was Marc Oberschulte of Franklin, Mich. Ushers were Gordon West of Birmingham, Phillip Vestevich of Southfield, Mich., and Carl Hribar of Grosse Pointe, Mich.

The reception was held at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills, Mich. where Mrs. Rubach received in a blue and green brocade coat and dress ensemble with white orchid corsage and Mrs. D'Agostino in a pearl white suit with green cymbidium corsage. (S

Hours Before Dinner Most Dangerous for Youngsters

When you cook your family's next evening meal, beware. The hours before dinner can be a pressure cooker of danger to your youngsters.

That's when the "late afternoon syndrome" of home accidents strikes. Researchers say the hours from 4 to 6 p.m. are the time of day when accidents are more likely to occur in the home, especially to pre-school children.

According to the information and education department of Aetna Life and Casualty Co., everyday home accidents kill 6,000 youngsters each year and injure a million more.

ONE OF THE situations involves the hungry child. A hungry youngster will try to eat anything, including poisons. The best advice to prevent such an accident is to forget the clock and feed the child when he is hungry. If he is especially hungry during the dangerous hours before the evening meal, give him a snack, even if means delaying your dinner. This step could prevent a needless accident.

Another common cause of home accidents involving children is fatigue. A tired child is more accident prone and a tired mother is less capable of preventing accidents. Forget rigid nap schedules. When fatigue sets in, take naps.

The over-active child is more likely to be involved in an accident. Continuing close supervision is the best safety measure for the quick-moving youngster.

WHEN MOTHER is "out of sorts," because she is ill or pregnant, an accident may be in the offing. In such cases, mother should perform only essential duties and rest as much as possible.

Another of the major situations in which accidents occur is when families are on vacation. Children often need closer supervision than usual when in a strange environment away from home.

Children's accidents rise when babysitters neglect their responsibilities. Be sure yours is reliable.

ACCIDENTS ARE also high in families in which parents argue frequently, especially in front of children. The youngsters are upset by their parents' quarrels. Try to keep arguments to a minimum and then out of hearing of the children.

An eighth accident-producing situation is that of the rapidly developing child. Never underestimate a child's abilities. Parents whose children have been hurt in accidents frequently say, "He never did that before." Anticipate your toddler's ability to climb, walk and "get into things."

In cooperation with Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston, Aetna has produced a public service motion picture about these sources of danger. Organizations interested in home safety may obtain the film, "The Toddler's Hours of Hazard," on a free loan basis by writing the information department of Aetna, Hartford, Conn.

Parents' Group Sets 'Wine Nite'

An introduction to the uses of wine will be presented by a representative of Christian Brothers for the Monday, Jan. 10, meeting of the Parents' Council of Sacred Heart of Mary High School. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the school, Rolling Meadows.

The program will include films of wine making in California, and the speaker will give suggestions as to which wine is best served with different foods.

Borden Cheese Co will furnish a variety of cheeses for guests to sample along with the wine.

Peperomia Ideal As Indoor Plant

For sprightly, brightly green plants that will tolerate indoor warmth for fall and winter, a collection of peperomias is ideal. They like careful watering, so porous clay pots, which naturally allow excess moisture to escape, are preferred containers for these small, richly green foliage plants. (S

Maternity Center Team Holds Lunch Jan. 5

MODELING TOP HAT to assist her mother, Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, and Mrs. John Glueckert in designing Abraham Lincoln hat silhouettes, is petite Lynn Hoffman. The silhouettes will be used as decorations for the forthcoming benefit planned by the northwest area team of the Chicago Maternity Center.

Mrs. William Cook of Arlington Heights and Mrs. George N. Tuttle of Mount Prospect, co-chairmen of the Chicago Maternity Center's Northwest area charity team, were hostesses for the 30 team members at luncheon in Mrs. Cook's home Wednesday, Jan. 5.

Final plans were made for the Thirteenth Annual Cocktail Dance and Dinner sponsored by this group for the benefit of The Chicago Maternity Center. The dance will be held in Itasca Country Club Saturday, Feb. 12. George Fanelli's orchestra will provide music for dancing from 4:30 to 8 p.m.

Special guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Ross K. Hoy of Lake Forest and Mrs. George J. Burrows of Chicago, co-chairmen of the women's division of the Maternity Center's 1966 fund raising campaign, and Miss Helen Hoffman, the Center's executive director. Highlights of the afternoon were the showing of a movie film depicting a typical day's activities at the Maternity Center, and Miss Hoffman's report of the past year's accomplishments.

She reported that "last year the Maternity Center was instrumental in assuring the safe birth in their own homes, at minimum expense, of about 2,200 babies. In so doing, the Center has also trained some 200 medical students and doctors, and several hundred nurses in modern practical obstetrics."

ORGANIZED MORE than 70 years ago, the Maternity Center has become famous for the work of its doctors and nurses who attend needy mothers at childbirth in their homes. This Center also offers clinic care for the expectant mother and for the mother and baby after delivery. In addition, medical students and nurses receive training and research projects are conducted.

The local fund raising team expects the benefit dance they have planned to make a worthy contribution toward raising the Center's 1966 budget of $358,697, part of which is met by the Community Fund of Chicago, Inc.

Team members working with Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Tuttle on the benefit dance include: Mrs. G. T. Beard, Mrs. Betty H. Black, Mrs. Vernon Boman, Mrs. Nat T. Burfeind, Mrs. William Chambers, Mrs. S. P. Chase Jr., Mrs. Joseph Clemens, Mrs. H. Christensen, Mrs. Ole Christensen, Mrs. Harry Colburn, Mrs. Thomas Curry, Mrs. James L. Drake, Mrs. John S. Flaherty.

Also Mrs. John Glueckert, Mrs. F. W. Hamilton, Mrs. William Heise, Mrs. J. F. Hendricks, Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, Mrs. James Howard, Mrs. Victor Kostuck, Mrs. Carl Palmer, Mrs. J. D. Patterson, Mrs. S. L. Sage, Mrs. Joseph Schneller, Mrs. Frank Seery, Mrs. William Townsend, Mrs. A. Wiegand and Mrs. C. J. Zettek Jr. (S

Astrologist to Entertain Elk Grove Juniors Jan. 12

"Astrology is the original science...it serves as a philosophy by giving us an x-ray of the individual" commented Miss Katherine de Jersey, Chicago astrologer, who will entertain Elk Grove Village Junior Woman's Club at their Reciprocity and Guest Night Wednesday, Jan. 12 at Salt Creek School.

Miss de Jersey advises clients in all walks of life, including celebrities such as Arthur Treacher, Monique Van Vooren and Phyllis Diller. She travels extensively to speak before clubs and organizations and appears frequently on radio and television. Recently she has appeared on the Jim Conway, Pamela Mason, Larry Attebery and Mike Douglas shows, and will be a guest on Channel 7's Gypsy Rose Lee Show in January.

"Follow Your Lucky Stars" will be the subject of her Woman's Club program.

This meeting is the one opportunity of the club year for members to bring guests, and members of other District Clubs in the area have also been invited. "The purpose of Reciprocity Night is to give members of other clubs an insight into the business and spirit of the meetings of their neighbor clubs," said Mrs. Harold Thompson, program chairman, as she encouraged all club members to bring friends to this "don't miss" meeting at 8:15 p.m. (S

An eighth accident-producing situation is that of the rapidly developing child. Never underestimate a child's abilities. Parents whose children have been hurt in accidents frequently say, "He never did that before." Anticipate your toddler's ability to climb, walk and "get into things."

In cooperation with Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston, Aetna has produced a public service motion picture about these sources of danger. Organizations interested in home safety may obtain the film, "The Toddler's Hours of Hazard," on a free loan basis by writing the information department of Aetna, Hartford, Conn.

Parents' Group Sets 'Wine Nite'

An introduction to the uses of wine will be presented by a representative of Christian Brothers for the Monday, Jan. 10, meeting of the Parents' Council of Sacred Heart of Mary High School. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the school, Rolling Meadows.

The program will include films of wine making in California, and the speaker will give suggestions as to which wine is best served with different foods.

Borden Cheese Co will furnish a variety of cheeses for guests to sample along with the wine.

Peperomia Ideal As Indoor Plant

For sprightly, brightly green plants that will tolerate indoor warmth for fall and winter, a collection of peperomias is ideal. They like careful watering, so porous clay pots, which naturally allow excess moisture to escape, are preferred containers for these small, richly green foliage plants. (S

Treat Your Family to These German Dishes

Tongue Cooked in Sweet-Sour Gravy

By LOIS SEILER

Have you often thought of trying recipes from other countries but never quite gotten round to it? The new year may be just the time to be resolute and carry through this idea. It will add interest to your menu and expose your children to the culinary customs of people around the world.

We suggest you start with Mrs. Klaus Jaffke's authentic German recipes. She acquired all of the recipes from her mother, and some date back a few generations.

Perhaps the appearance of beef tongue is not esthetically appealing to you, but prepared according to Mrs. Jaffke's recipe it is a real taste treat.

She cooks the tongue with several herbs and spices for about two hours (or 45 minutes in a pressure cooker.) The skin is removed, fat and bones cut away, and the meat is cut into slices. It is then simmered in a rich sweet-sour gravy for another hour or until tender.

"The meat is so tender it can be cut with a fork, and has a delicious, spicy flavor," said Mrs. Jaffke.

She serves this appealing tongue with spaetzle and a bean salad.

"THE SPAETZLE is a Bavarian recipe for noodles," explained Dayle Jaffke. "They are easiest to prepare with a spaetzle maker," she said, "but can be made without one."

A sticky dough is pressed through the spaetzle maker to form round noodles which drop right into the boiling water in which they are cooked.

The spaetzle also make an appealing accompaniment for this good cook's Liver Dumplings.

These consist of finely-ground liver combined with flour, egg, parsley and bread crumbs. Cooked in boiling water, the nourishing dumplings are served topped with browned bread crumbs. Along with the spaetzle, sauerkraut sweetened with brown sugar makes an excellent accompaniment.

"THE RECIPE for my favorite potato salad dates back to my grandmother, and perhaps even further," Mrs. Jaffke explained. "It is unlike the well-known German potato salad made with bacon."

"This salad combines cooked, sliced potatoes with an interesting dressing made of finely-mashed hard boiled eggs, onion, vinegar, sugar and salt. It has a zesty, sweet-sour flavor that goes well with any number of standard American-type foods."

For variation, Mrs. Jaffke suggests adding thinly-sliced cucumber or the finely minced yellow core from a large head of endive.

In addition to her culinary interests, Mrs. Jaffke enjoys singing in the choir of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Prospect Heights.

The Jaffke family lives at 97 W. Manchester in Wheeling. They have two children, Kenneth, 8, a third grader, and Karen, 11 months old.

Whipping Cream

To keep your whipped cream from becoming watery, use confectioners' sugar instead of granulated sugar as a sweetener. The finely powdered sugar does not "break down" or dissolve as does the granulated sugar. (SH

SWEET-SOUR TONGUE simmered in a savory gravy served with spaetzle as an accompaniment makes a big hit with Kenneth Jaffke, 8 years old. His mother, Mrs. Klaus Jaffke of Wheeling, makes this dinner using authentic German recipes. It is a hearty, nourishing meal for the cold winter months.

SWEET-SOUR TONGUE

1 large beef or calf tongue
1 large whole onion
12 whole allspice
12 whole black peppers
12 whole cloves
6 bay leaves
2 level teaspoons salt

Place the tongue in a very large kettle with enough water to cover. Add remaining ingredients and cook until skin on tongue peels off easily, about 2 hours or 45 minutes in a pressure cooker.

When finished cooking, reserve water, remove skin and cut away fat and small pieces of bone from tongue. Cut into slices 2 inches thick.

Prepare the following gravy:

¼ pound butter
5 rounded tablespoons flour
Strained tongue water
Vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar

Melt the butter in a frying pan. Add the flour and cook until flour is golden. Remove from heat and add strained tongue juice, a little at a time, stirring constantly. Add vinegar and enough sugar to taste.

When smooth and creamy, place slices of tongue in sauce and simmer them about one hour or longer until tongue is very tender. Serves 4 to 5.

SPAETZLE

2 cups flour, unsifted
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking powder

Mix ingredients together. Add enough water to make a spreading dough. This is quite sticky.

Press the dough through a spaetzle maker into a large pot of boiling water. (If you do not have a spaetzle maker, the dough can be spread out on a bread board, cut into narrow strips and rolled off the board into the boiling water.)

The spaetzle will sink to the bottom. When it rises to the top, let it cook for five minutes. Remove with a sieve, dip into a bowl of hot water to remove some of the starch, let any excess water run off and serve in a warm serving dish. Serves 4 to 5.

LIVER DUMPLINGS

½ pound beef liver, ground fine
1 egg
3 heaping tablespoons flour
5 or 6 sprigs parsley, diced
Bread crumbs
Salt to taste

Mix all of the ingredients together, using enough bread crumbs to make the mixture the consistency of loose hamburger mix.

Drop heaping tablespoons of the liver mixture into boiling salted water. The dumplings will sink to the bottom. When they rise to the top, reduce heat to medium and cook for a half hour.

Remove from the water and top with bread crumbs browned in butter. Serves 4 to 5.

POTATO SALAD

5 pounds medium-size red potatoes
6 hard-boiled eggs, mashed fine
1 large yellow onion, diced
¾ to 1 cup vegetable oil
1 cup vinegar, white or cider
1/3 cup sugar
4 teaspoons salt

Cook potatoes, cool, peel and cut into slices ¼ inch thick.

Combine the mashed egg and onion and add the remaining ingredients. Mix well and pour over potatoes. Mix into salad well. Let set for half hour. Mix once more before serving. Serve at room temperature. Serves 8 to 10.

For variation, add 1 cucumber which has been sliced thin, sprinkled with salt and let set for a half hour to draw out the water. Drain well and add to salad.

For another variation, use the yellow core from 1 large bead of endive, minced fine.

Do's and Don'ts

What's the proper way to roast meat? There are two important do's: use rack for the meat and let it cook at constant low temperature. When heat penetrates the meat slowly, this usually gives it more palatability.

There are three important don'ts: do not add water; do not cover, and do not baste.(SH

Tender Muffins

Do you want tender, tunnelless muffins? Follow the important rule — add liquid and mix the dry ingredients until just moistened. Muffin batter should never be smooth. (SH

Chowder a Hearty Main Dish

Hearty milk chowders are wonderful main dishes for fall and winter meals. They offer the opportunity to use leftovers and inexpensive foods, yet are so substantial they can be a meal in themselves. The Milk Foundation of Chicago suggests fruit or gelatin salad, hard rolls and crisp cookies to serve with this Milk Chowder with Vegetables.

MILK CHOWDER WITH VEGETABLES

3 tablespoons butter
¼ cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper.
1 (1-pound) can tomatoes
Dash of baking soda
1 (1-pound) can cream-style corn
1 (10-ounce) package frozen lima beans
Parsley

Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Add chopped onion and celery, saute until onion is soft but not brown. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk while stirring. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Heat tomatoes with dash of soda. Prepare lima beans according to package directions. Add tomatoes, cooked lima beans and cream-style corn to milk mixture. Heat thoroughly, but do not boil. Serve with sprigs of parsley as garnish. Serves 6 to 8.

TURKEY CHOWDER

2 onions, chopped finely
3 carrots, thinly sliced
¼ pound butter
3 potatoes, diced raw
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
dash nutmeg
1 whole clove
1 tablespoon sugar
1 package frozen baby lima beans, cooked
4 cups cubed cooked turkey
3 tablespoons sherry
4 cups milk
Grated Parmesan cheese

Saute onions and carrots in butter melted in large covered saucepan, about 30 minutes. Add potatoes, water, spices and sugar. Cook for another 30 minutes. Add cooked lima beans, turkey and milk. Bring to steaming point, but do not boil. Stir in sherry, if desired. Serve hot, sprinkled with cheese. Serves 6 to 8.

TUNA CHOWDER

½ cup chopped onion
½ cup sliced celery
¼ cup butter
3 cups diced raw potatoes
2 cups water
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon herbs blend
⅛ teaspoon pepper.
2 (7-ounce) cans tuna, drained and flaked
Chopped parsley
Lemon juice

Melt butter and add onion and celery; saute onion until soft and lightly browned. Add potatoes and water. Simmer until potatoes are tender, about 15 minutes. Blend flour into ½ cup of milk. Add to remaining milk and stir into the potato mixture. Add salt, herbs, and pepper. Cook until chowder is smooth and slightly thickened. Add tuna and allow to heat, but do not boil. Garnish with chopped parsley. Serve with a few drops of lemon juice for each serving. Serves 6 to 8. (Substitute 1 (1-pound) can of salmon for the tuna fish, if you wish.) (S

Week's Best Food Buys

The new year is starting with a slow retail movement. Prices hold for now. At least another three per cent gain in the family food budget for 1966 should be anticipated.

Reasons for the expected higher budget are several. There is a short supply of red meats, with pork especially short. Fryers are in supply build-up with exports good. The turkey supply will be scarce until September. Eggs are in low supply the first half of the year. Labor costs for fresh fruit and vegetables are soaring.

Current bargins are mostly in beef. Forequarter cuts are discounted. Blade cut chuck is selling for 39 cents a pound, generally 59. One to five-rib roasts are featured at 89 cents a pound.

GENERALLY Chicago area food values are:

Meats: blade cut and round bone chuck roasts, ground beef, stew beef, end cut pork chops, chop suey meats, picnics.

Poultry: fryers.

Produce: oranges, grapefruit, bananas, celery, green onions, radishes, potatoes, onions, cabbage, greens, endive, escarole.

Save Heating Dollars; Follow This Advice

As winter begins to move in, in earnest, the Oil Heat Council of Greater Chicago passes along a number of tips to help homeowners get the most heating comfort from the fewest dollars, regardless of the type of heating system is use.

1. Before retiring for the night, set the thermostat about 7 degrees below the daytime setting. Over a heating season, this will save a considerable amount of fuel. This night set-back should be consistent if savings are to be achieved.

2. Turn the thermostat down during the day when nobody is home.

3. Close off the radiators or registers in rooms that are being aired. Do the same with unused rooms. Be sure to close the door, of course.

4. Be certain your attic is closed off. Remember, heated air rises.

5. When you open the bedroom windows at night, close the door of the room, to keep the rest of the house warm.

6. Have your heating system checked once a year to be sure it is operating at peak efficiency.

7. Do not locate furniture, rugs, draperies, etc. where they cover or block the flow of heat from radiators, convectors or diffusers. Such objects interfere with heat circulation and distribution.

8. Repair or replace leaky hot water faucets. When using hot water, turn the cold water on first, then slowly open the hot faucet until the desired temperature is reached. This will save considerable amounts of hot water.

9. Appropriate weatherstripping and caulking of joints and seams at windows and doors, etc., can save much fuel. Storm windows and doors and adequate insulation are fuel cost cutters, too.

10. On warm air heating systems, replace the air filters at least once every year and clean filters frequently. This will prevent reduction in the amount of heated air delivered to the rooms.

11. If you have a hot water or steam heating system, check to be sure the water in the boiler is clean and free of dirt or grease. Radiators should be checked from time to time and vented, so that air collected in them will not prevent hot water from flowing freely. (S

Mix Is Basis For Unusual Cake Recipe

A yellow cake mix is the basis for this easily prepared but unusual pumpkin cake. Cinnamon, cardamon and ground cloves add zest to its flavor.

If you have a gas range with a temperature-controlled burner, you can bake this pumpkin cake on the top of the stove, but it's equally as good baked in a regular oven. The recipe comes from Northern Illinois Gas Co.

PUMPKIN CAKE

1 large package yellow cake mix
2 teaspoons cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cardamon
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
1-1/3 cup milk
3 eggs
1 cup canned pumpkin

Empty contents of packaged cake mix in bowl. Add spices. Then gradually beat in milk and eggs. Add pumpkin and mix well. Pour batter in 10-inch heavy skillet with a tight-fitting lid. Bake on the temperature controlled burner at 250 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Serve warm with rum sauce or whipped cream. For oven baking, use two eight-inch cake pans, set oven temperature at 375 degrees F. and bake for 25 minutes.

RUM SAUCE

Combine two tablespoons cornstarch and ½ cup sugar. Add two cups water and cook on medium flame until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, stir in two table spoons butter, ½ cup rum or 1 tablespoon rum flavoring and yellow food coloring. Pour over warm cake. (SH

Pair Beans, Fruit For Tasty Casserole

Oftentimes it's just a twist of ingenuity that lifts ordinary dishes into appealing new treats. Such is the case with Beans 'n Orange Twist Casseroles.

These individual entrees start with a familiar lunch and supper stand-by — canned pork and beans with tomato sauce. You add ham, celery, onion, cranberry sauce, and seasonings to make the new mouth-watering treat. Sprightly orange twists atop the casseroles give them their name.

BEANS 'N ORANGE TWIST CASSEROLES

1 cup ham cut in strips
¼ cup diagonally sliced celery
¼ cup chopped onion
1 small clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cans (1 pound each) pork & beans with tomato sauce
¼ cup canned whole cranberry sauce
¼ to ½ teaspoon orange rind
Generous dash ground cloves
4 slices orange, twisted

In saucepan, brown ham and cook celery, onion, and garlic in butter until celery is tender. Add beans, cranberry sauce, orange rind and cloves. Pour into 4 individual casseroles or ramekins. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 20 minutes. Arrange orange slices on top for last 5 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Here's another easy-do bean dish. This time the "basic ingredient" is beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce heated atop the range with bacon, green pepper, onion, mixed vegetables, and seasonings.

VEGETABLE-BEAN SKILLET

2 slices bacon
¼ cup green pepper strips
¼ cup chopped onion
1 small clove garlic, minced
¼ teaspoon oregano, crushed
1 can (1 pound) beans & ground beef in barbecue sauce
1 package (10 ounces) mixed vegetables, cooked and drained
⅛ teaspoon grated lemon rind

In skillet, cook bacon; remove and crumble. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Cook green pepper, onion, garlic, and oregano in drippings until green pepper is tender. Add beans, vegetables, and lemon rind. Heat; stir now and then. Garnish with bacon. Makes 4 servings. (S

Suburban Living

Especially for Women

Here Are Tips on Rebuilding Kitchen

Remodeled kitchens are among the features most wanted by homemakers who live in older houses, and no wonder. Around 75 per cent of existing kitchens are poorly planned. They're hard to work in and hard to keep clean.

If you're thinking of remodeling, here are some tips from the Illinois Association of Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Contractors.

1. The sink shoull be the focal point. The double-bowl kind costs a little more, but it triples your convenience.

2. WORK COUNTERS should be installed on both sides of the sink, with the range beyond it on one side, the refrigerator on the other This arrangement saves the cook many steps, since she can turn to either appliance without having to walk past the other.

3. Many older kitchens are poorly lighted and ventilated. Mechanical ventilation will remove both odors and greasy humidity that tends to stain walls. If you can't get enough natural illumination via windows because of their size or location, use brighter colors and adequate lighting.

4. Don't be guided by appearance alone. Make sure that the surface finishes of the cabinets and appliances you buy are easy to keep clean.

5. AVOID THIS common boner — cabinets that stop short of the floor or ceiling. They waste space that could be used for storage, and they make your cleaning job harder.

6. Another common boner is installing the countertops at a height to suit the "average" woman, who is described as 5 feet 4. If you're taller or shorter, counters installed at the right height for you will save you many a backache.

7. Every modern kitchen should come equipped with a food waste disposer and dishwasher. If you feel you can't afford them right away, ask the plumbing contractor to provide space and piping connections for them. They can be installed later, when your pocketbook is more pliant. (S

Casserole Combines Bacon and Squash

Homemakers report they like casserole cookery. It gives them meat, vegetables and sometimes fruit, all in one, table ready at the same time.

Casseroles aren't just a "putting together" of the leftovers in the refrigerator. They're often carefully planned combinations of specially purchased foods. This is a delicious one starring Canadian-style bacon, frozen squash and fresh cranberries.

Canadian-style bacon is the boneless loin of pork, cured and smoked. It is a favored meat for casseroles because of its delicious flavor, ease in preparation and serving.

CANADIAN-STYLE BACON—SQUASH CASSEROLE

6 slices Canadian-style bacon, cut ½-inch thick
2 packages (12 ounces each) frozen cooked squash, thawed
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¾ cup fresh cranberries, coarsely chopped
¼ cup coarsely chopped pecans

Grease a 1½-quart casserole. Combine squash, sugars, cinnamon, cranberries and pecans. Pour mixture into casserole. Top with bacon slices. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Six servings.

Sandwich Satisfies On Chilly Evenings

Spending an evening by the fireside? Or coming in from a snappy session at skiing, ice skating or sleigh riding?

Whichever the occasion, a meaty snack type sandwich offers good appetite satisfaction when served with a mug of hot chocolate, tea or freshly brewed coffee.

There's distinctive flavor in combination of deviled ham with cream cheese and apricot preserves. These can be put together 6 to 8 hours in advance of serving.

HAM GEMS

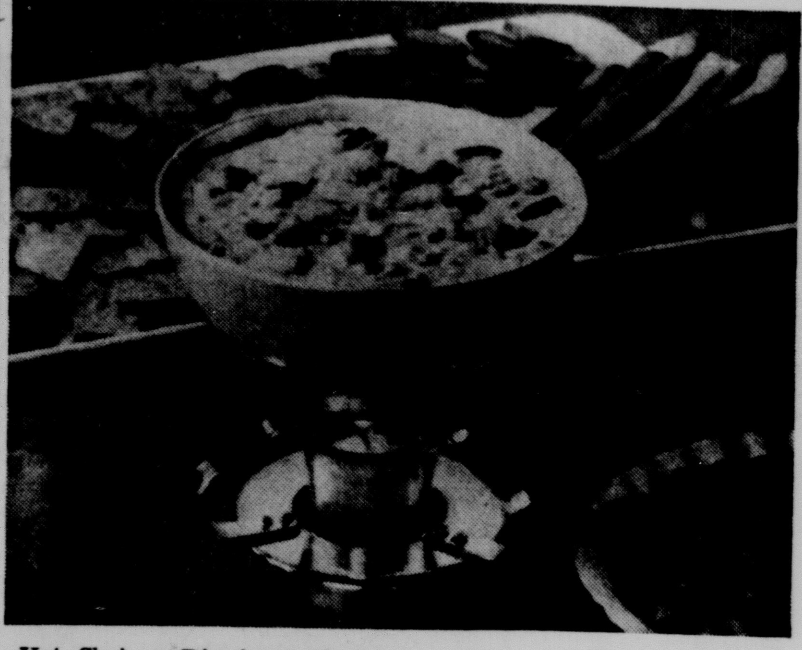
2 cans (2¼ ounces each) deviled ham
Salad dressing
8 slices white bread
4 lettuce leaves
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1 tablespoon milk
4 slices whole wheat bread
Butter or margarine
¼ cup apricot preserves

Spread salad dressing evenly on one side of 4 white bread slices. Spread deviled ham over salad dressing. Top with lettuce leaves. Combine cream cheese and milk. Spread on one side of whole wheat bread slices. Place plain side down on lettuce leaf. Spread butter or margarine on one side of remaining white bread slices. Spread apricot preserves over butter or margarine, using 1 tablespoon preserves per bread slice. Place on top of cream cheese, preserve side down. Cut each sandwich into thirds or quarters. Yield: 4 triple deck sandwiches.

Group Climbers As Room Divider

Groups of climbing plants, with their roots healthfully supported in sturdy clay pots and their stems kept upright by bamboo or bark sticks, make ideal room dividers because several varieties can be kept together, since they enjoy the same growing conditions. A few of the popular "climbers" include Philodendron imbe, Philodendron hastatum, Philodendron panduriforme and Pothos scindapsus and Syngoniums. (S

Hot Shrimp Dip a Sure Party Pleaser



Hot Shrimp Dip is good any time of year. It is a delicious blend of cottage cheese, rich sour cream and salad dressing. A fleck of garlic salt and a dash of soy sauce add a bit of zip. Succulent mushrooms and colorful shrimp complete this party-pleaser.

Salt sticks, crackers and party rye bread are suggested as acoompaniments. Also good as dunks are raw vegetable sticks such as celery and carrots and cauliflower buds.

HOT SHRIMP DIP
(Makes 3 Cups)

1 can (5 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained and chopped
2 tablespoons butter
1½ cups (12 oz.) cottage cheese
¼ cup sour cream
¼ cup salad dressing
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon soy sauce
1 can (5 oz.) shrimp, drained and chopped

Cook mushrooms in butter until lightly browned. Stir in cottage cheese, sour cream, salad dressing, salt, garlic salt and soy sauce. Heat over low heat until hot. Add shrimp and heat. Serve with bread sticks, rye wafers and Melba toast rounds.

Be an Office Angel; Follow These Tips

Today's busy executive expects much more from his "right-hand gal" than just a competent stenotypist. Whether you're on your first secretarial job — or if you're already an experienced secretary — these five tips from office procedures experts at Olivetti Underwood Corp. may help you improve your rating as an "office angel."

1. BE ACCURATE. Double and triple check if necessary. Your boss must rely on what you say and do. You can't afford fumbles.

2. ORGANIZE your work. Arrange your desk so you can avoid time - wasting "paper-shuffling." Try to take action on each letter or memo as it reaches you.

3. POLISH your telephone techniques. When you answer the phone, you actually become a public relations influence for and before calling, it's often a good idea to jot down the points you want to cover and to summarize them before hanging up. A simple procedure — but it eliminates misunderstandings.

4. GROOM yourself for success. If you want to meet people and take an active part in company affairs, your appearance must do your boss and company proud. Avoid telltale signs of carelessness such as a shiny nose and chipped nail polish.

5. KNOW HOW to deal with co-workers. Winning co-workers to your side is easy if you remember to use the same tact you employ in dealing with the public. Never let a favor go unthanked. Praise freely and criticize sparingly. You, in turn, will get the kind of recognition you crave: you'll be typecast as a key employe! (S

THE GOLDEN YEARS

YOU'RE FACING BIG CHANGES WHEN MEDICARE GETS HERE

Medicare, whether you like it or not, whether it's right or wrong, will probably be one of the major developments of your life. No matter how old you are.

Medicare will ease some suffering and save some lives of those over age 65, to be sure. But it will go beyond this, to affect the fortunes of people between age 40 and 55, of merchants, of 18-year-olds, and of those in charge of savings accounts at the bank.

Because the illness and threatened illness of Granpa and Grandma have dammed up a veritable flood of money all these years, and with the coming of Medicare next July the dam is going to let go.

EXAMPLE NO. 1 — William Smith, married and the father of three children, is contributing $40 a month for the medical needs of his aging parents. Whatever it is that ails the parents may well be cured if they can get treatment by competent doctors and reasonable hospital care, which will be provided by Medicare but which until now nobody could afford. In any case, this treatment and care can start in July and will be virtually free except for a fee of $3 a month. So, however things go, the son should be freed of his $40 a month burden.

So Smith and his wife will reclaim enough of their income to make installment purchases of a refrigerator and a sofa or of a second-hand car. They will be relieved of the constant threat that the $40 could have jumped to $80 at any time. They will be done with one of the serious cocklebururs of marriage, which is "Why are we giving so much money to YOUR parents and so little to mine?"

EXAMPLE NO. 2 — Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, both having retired parents with meager savings and both frightened by the fantastic costs that would fall on them if the parents developed serious illness, are paying health insurance premiums for both sets of parents. Medicare will provide what their premiums have been buying, so in July they will be reclaiming $34 a month to spend. There may still be private insurance to supplement Medicare. But it will not be so expensive. The Jones may feel the supplement is not necessary since Medicare will have eliminated the treat of a financial disaster to them.

EXAMPLE NO. 3 — Jimmy Green, a high school senior intent on entering college soon, has the assurance of a college fund of $2,300 his parents have been building for him through the years. But Grandpa, age 68, shows up with cancer. And a series of operations. And medical bills of $8,300. With savings of $850. There is no health insurance. It is better to save Grandpa than to educate Jimmy, so the $2,300 college fund plus a mortgage on the home goes to the hospitals and doctors.

Medicare will remove the threat to Jimmy's $2,300. The additional expenses it saves his own parents may provide him the money to join a fraternity.

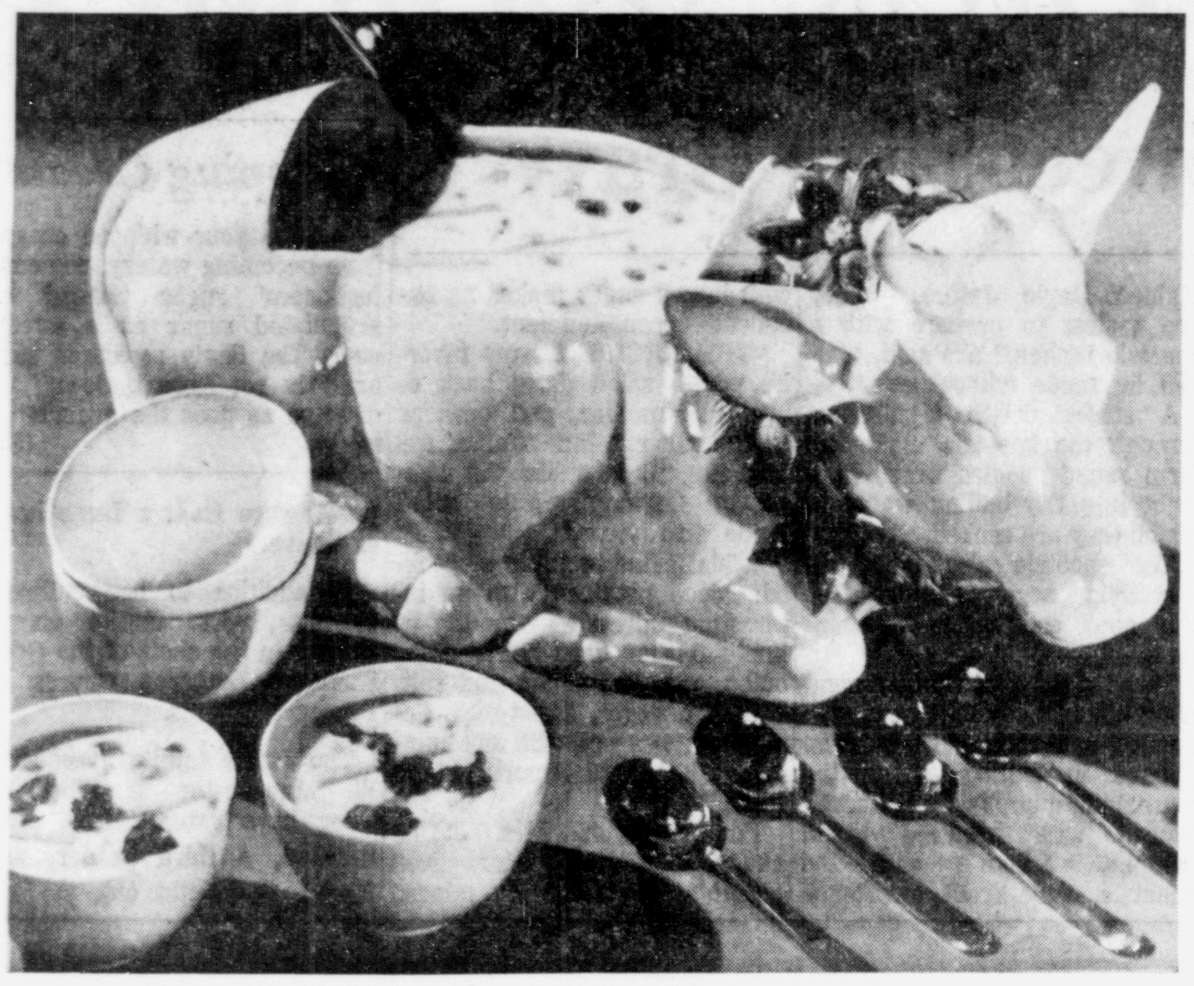
Chowder a Hearty Main Dish



Hearty milk chowders are wonderful main dishes for fall and winter meals. They offer the opportunity to use leftovers and inexpensive foods, yet are so substantial they can be a meal in themselves. The Milk Foundation of Chicago suggests fruit or gelatin salad, hard rolls and crisp cookies to serve with this Milk Chowder with Vegetables.

MILK CHOWDER WITH VEGETABLES

3 tablespoons butter
¼ cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper.
1 (1-pound) can tomatoes
Dash of baking soda
1 (1-pound) can cream-style corn
1 (10-ounce) package frozen lima beans
Parsley

Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Add chopped onion and celery, saute until onion is soft but not brown. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk while stirring. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Heat tomatoes with dash of soda. Prepare lima beans according to package directions. Add tomatoes, cooked lima beans and cream-style corn to milk mixture. Heat thoroughly, but do not boil. Serve with sprigs of parsley as garnish. Serves 6 to 8.

TURKEY CHOWDER

2 onions, chopped finely
3 carrots, thinly sliced
¼ pound butter
3 potatoes, diced raw
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
dash nutmeg
1 whole clove
1 tablespoon sugar
1 package frozen baby lima beans, cooked
4 cups cubed cooked turkey
3 tablespoons sherry
4 cups milk
Grated Parmesan cheese

Saute onions and carrots in butter melted in large covered saucepan, about 30 minutes. Add potatoes, water, spices and sugar. Cook for another 30 minutes. Add cooked lima beans, turkey and milk. Bring to steaming point, but do not boil. Stir in sherry, if desired. Serve hot, sprinkled with cheese. Serves 6 to 8.

TUNA CHOWDER

½ cup chopped onion
½ cup sliced celery
¼ cup butter
3 cups diced raw potatoes
2 cups water
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon herbs blend
⅛ teaspoon pepper.
2 (7-ounce) cans tuna, drained and flaked
Chopped parsley
Lemon juice

Melt butter and add onion and celery; saute onion until soft and lightly browned. Add potatoes and water. Simmer until potatoes are tender, about 15 minutes. Blend flour into ½ cup of milk. Add to remaining milk and stir into the potato mixture. Add salt, herbs, and pepper. Cook until chowder is smooth and slightly thickened. Add tuna and allow to heat, but do not boil. Garnish with chopped parsley. Serve with a few drops of lemon juice for each serving. Serves 6 to 8. (Substitute 1 (1-pound) can of salmon for the tuna fish, if you wish.) (S

HOT SHRIMP DIP
(Makes 3 Cups)

1 can (5 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained and chopped
2 tablespoons butter
1½ cups (12 oz.) cottage cheese
¼ cup sour cream
¼ cup salad dressing
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon soy sauce
1 can (5 oz.) shrimp, drained and chopped

Cook mushrooms in butter until lightly browned. Stir in cottage cheese, sour cream, salad dressing, salt, garlic salt and soy sauce. Heat over low heat until hot. Add shrimp and heat. Serve with bread sticks, rye wafers and Melba toast rounds.

Be an Office Angel; Follow These Tips

Today's busy executive expects much more from his "right-hand gal" than just a competent stenotypist. Whether you're on your first secretarial job — or if you're already an experienced secretary — these five tips from office procedures experts at Olivetti Underwood Corp. may help you improve your rating as an "office angel."

1. BE ACCURATE. Double and triple check if necessary. Your boss must rely on what you say and do. You can't afford fumbles.

2. ORGANIZE your work. Arrange your desk so you can avoid time - wasting "paper-shuffling." Try to take action on each letter or memo as it reaches you.

3. POLISH your telephone techniques. When you answer the phone, you actually become a public relations influence for and before calling, it's often a good idea to jot down the points you want to cover and to summarize them before hanging up. A simple procedure — but it eliminates misunderstandings.

4. GROOM yourself for success. If you want to meet people and take an active part in company affairs, your appearance must do your boss and company proud. Avoid telltale signs of carelessness such as a shiny nose and chipped nail polish.

5. KNOW HOW to deal with co-workers. Winning co-workers to your side is easy if you remember to use the same tact you employ in dealing with the public. Never let a favor go unthanked. Praise freely and criticize sparingly. You, in turn, will get the kind of recognition you crave: you'll be typecast as a key employe! (S

YOU'RE FACING BIG CHANGES WHEN MEDICARE GETS HERE

Medicare, whether you like it or not, whether it's right or wrong, will probably be one of the major developments of your life. No matter how old you are.

Medicare will ease some suffering and save some lives of those over age 65, to be sure. But it will go beyond this, to affect the fortunes of people between age 40 and 55, of merchants, of 18-year-olds, and of those in charge of savings accounts at the bank.

Because the illness and threatened illness of Granpa and Grandma have dammed up a veritable flood of money all these years, and with the coming of Medicare next July the dam is going to let go.

EXAMPLE NO. 1 — William Smith, married and the father of three children, is contributing $40 a month for the medical needs of his aging parents. Whatever it is that ails the parents may well be cured if they can get treatment by competent doctors and reasonable hospital care, which will be provided by Medicare but which until now nobody could afford. In any case, this treatment and care can start in July and will be virtually free except for a fee of $3 a month. So, however things go, the son should be freed of his $40 a month burden.

So Smith and his wife will reclaim enough of their income to make installment purchases of a refrigerator and a sofa or of a second-hand car. They will be relieved of the constant threat that the $40 could have jumped to $80 at any time. They will be done with one of the serious cockleburs of marriage, which is "Why are we giving so much money to YOUR parents and so little to mine?"

EXAMPLE NO. 2 — Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, both having retired parents with meager savings and both frightened by the fantastic costs that would fall on them if the parents developed serious illness, are paying health insurance premiums for both sets of parents. Medicare will provide what their premiums have been buying, so in July they will be reclaiming $34 a month to spend. There may still be private insurance to supplement Medicare. But it will not be so expensive. The Jones may feel the supplement is not necessary since Medicare will have eliminated the treat of a financial disaster to them.

EXAMPLE NO. 3 — Jimmy Green, a high school senior intent on entering college soon, has the assurance of a college fund of $2,300 his parents have been building for him through the years. But Grandpa, age 68, shows up with cancer. And a series of operations. And medical bills of $8,300. With savings of $850. There is no health insurance. It is better to save Grandpa than to educate Jimmy, so the $2,300 college fund plus a mortgage on the home goes to the hospitals and doctors.

Medicare will remove the threat to Jimmy's $2,300. The additional expenses it saves his own parents may provide him the money to join a fraternity.

Karen Madsen Lives on West Coast as Navy Man's Bride

Iowa State University was the meeting place of a recently married couple, the former Karen E. Madsen of Palatine and Marion L. Kneedler of the U.S. Navy stationed at Miramar, Calif. The bride attended Iowa State for two years after graduation from Palatine High School and then attended Business Methods Institute.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen J. Kneedler of Creston, Iowa, was graduated from Creston Community College and completed two years at Iowa State before entering the service.

THEIR MARRIAGE took place Dec. 4 in the First Methodist Church of Palatine with Rev. Wilbur M. Childress officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Madsen, 313 N. Quentin Road, Palatine, and her father gave her in marriage. Her gown was traditional white peau de soie, fashioned with a wide scoop neckline, three-quarter sleeves and a full skirt richly bordered with rose-patterned Guigure lace. Her four-tiered veil was gathered to a cluster of peau roses to form a headpiece.

She carried white fuji mums and white roses with ferns.

FOR THE ONE o'clock ceremony, the bride was attended by Mrs. Ervin Gramit of Palatine as matron of honor and Adrienne Elle of Palatine as bridesmaid. Both were gowned alike in light blue crepe floor-length sheath dresses with a flowing panel at the back and topped by a royal blue velveteen jacket with scoop neckline and Dior sleeves. Each carried a cascade of white fuji mums, light blue carnations and ferns.

THREE OF THE groom's brothers served in the wedding party, Frank Kneedler as best man, Danny Kneedler as groomsman and Jimmy Kneedler as an usher. Frank came from the Canal Zone where he is stationed in the U.S. Navy and the other two came from Creston with their family for the festivities.

The other usher was the bride's brother, Gilbert Madsen Jr., who came from studies at Arizona State University in Tempe.

Phalaenopsis orchids formed the corsages which the bride's and groom's mothers wore for the double ring rites and the reception held immediately afterwards in Immanuel Lutheran School Cafeteria, Palatine. Mrs. Madsen wore a turquoise dress, and Mrs. Kneedler was attired in deep green.

After greeting 150 guests, the couple left for their honeymoon, spending eight days sightseeing en route to the west coast. They will live at 5246 Clairemont Mesa Blvd., San Diego.

Before her marriage, the bride worked at Pure Oil Co. and Polk Bros. in the local area. The groom expects to enter photographic intelligence work in Denver next summer. (S

Capri Sets Tryouts for O'Neill Play

Capri Players is plunging into the new year with an emotional play, "Long Day's Journey into the Night" by Eugene O'Neill.

Tryouts for this play will be tonight (Thursday) in Room 133 at Prospect High School, Kensington Road, Mount Prospect. They will start at 7:30 p.m.

"Long Day's Journey into the Night" is an autobiographical play, "written in tears and blood." The four Tyrones, Mary, James, James Jr. and Edmond, are characters taken from O'Neill's family. The action takes place during one particular day, a day in which all the Tyrones reveal their basic characters. Emotions of frustration, fear, love and hatred compromise with the struggle for unity.

TOWARD THE end of O'Neill's career, he said he was able "to face my death at last and write this play — write it with deep pity and understanding and forgiveness for all the four Tyrones."

There are roles for five actors. Technical workers also are needed. (Bill

'Flying Machine' Held Third Week At Golf Mill

Continuing its exclusive northwest suburban engagement, "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines," begins the third week at the Golf Mill Theatre.

To accommodate the crowds turning out for this picture, "Magnificent Men" will be shown at Golf Mill five times on weekends, and four times on weekdays.

For two days only, Feb. 2 and 3, the Golf Mill Theatre will have a special showing of Shakespeare's classic, "Othello," starring Lawrence Olivier. There will be a matinee performance at 2 p.m., and an evening performance at 8 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at box office. (Bill

Golf Mill Shows Exhibit of Oils

A new collection of oils by Michael Mores Jr., of Niles will be offered for viewing in the modern art gallery of the Golf Mill Theatre during the month of January.

Mores' formal art education was obtained at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts. He is a founder member of the Niles Art Guild and was chairman of the recent All-America City Art Fair sponsored by the Guild as well as serving as its vice-president. Bill

MAUREEN LEE, as Judith, gets acquainted with her fiance's friend, played by Dennis Kennedy, in Country Club Theatre's production of Marc Camoletti's "Boeing Boeing," currently at the theatre in Mount Prospect. The comedy cast also includes Norman Rice, Adele Malis, Faith Quabius and Patsy Karp. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. except Sunday when it rises at 7:30. (Bill

Capri Players is plunging into the new year with an emotional play, "Long Day's Journey into the Night" by Eugene O'Neill.

Tryouts for this play will be tonight (Thursday) in Room 133 at Prospect High School, Kensington Road, Mount Prospect. They will start at 7:30 p.m.

"Long Day's Journey into the Night" is an autobiographical play, "written in tears and blood." The four Tyrones, Mary, James, James Jr. and Edmond, are characters taken from O'Neill's family. The action takes place during one particular day, a day in which all the Tyrones reveal their basic characters. Emotions of frustration, fear, love and hatred compromise with the struggle for unity.

TOWARD THE end of O'Neill's career, he said he was able "to face my death at last and write this play — write it with deep pity and understanding and forgiveness for all the four Tyrones."

There are roles for five actors. Technical workers also are needed. (Bill

Barbershop Show

Arlington Heights chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA) announced that its 16th annual barbershop harmony show, "By the Sea," will be held Sunday, Jan. 23, at Maine East High School, Dempster Street and Potter Roads, Park Ridge.

There will be two performances, one at 2 p.m. and another at 5.

Show chairman Ernie Robb of Arlington Heights said the show will feature The Four Renegades, 1965-66 International Barbershop Quartet champions. Its members are from Skokie and Oak Park and Gary, Ind., chapters. Also on the program will be The Four Nubbins, a comedy quartet from Spencer, Iowa, and The Foursome, 1965 Illinois District finalist quartet from Arlington Heights.

ALSO APPEARING on the program will be The Arlingtots, a chorus of barbershop singing children in second through eighth grade, who scored a hit at last year's show. The Arlingtones, 1963-64, 1964-65 and 1965-66 Illinois District Barbershop Chorus champions and international contest finalists will round out the show.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of The Arlingtones, or at Tower Cleaners, Mount Prospect, or Krause and Kehe, Arlington Heights. (Bill

Local Man Featured in New Show at Countryside Gallery

Robert Borchard, 723 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, is the featured guest artist in the show, "Janus I," at the Countryside Gallery, 10 W. Miner St., Arlington Heights. A public reception to open the exhibition will be held tomorrow (Friday) from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Works by five Countryside Gallery artists will also be featured. They are Janine Collier, Chicago; Charles Farmer, Des Plaines; Barbara Houskeeper, Deerfield; Mae Saule, Maywood, and Janice Wetzel, Wilmette. The show will run until Jan. 29.

Borchard, who will show wooden constructions of both freestanding and raised two-dimensional types, teaches art at the Evanston Art Center and Nichols Junior High School, Evanston. He attended the Albright Art School in Buffalo, N. Y., received a B.A. degree from New York State University; attended Rutgers University, obtained a master's degree at the University of Wisconsin and has also studied at the Art Institute of Chicago.

HE HAS HAD many one-man shows, including the Little Studio Gallery, Madison, Wis.; Chinook Gallery, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Lake Forest Academy; Evanston Community Center Gallery; Michellini's Gallery Restaurant and the Evanston Public Library.

The artist is represented by the 4 Arts Gallery, Evanston; Benjamin Galleries, Chicago, and the sales and rental gallery of the Art Institute of Chicago. He received a second prize at the juried and invitational Old Orchard Festival of Arts in 1964. Works by the artist are in collections around the country and in private collections abroad.

Janine Collier, who was born and educated in Paris, studied under the French painter Jacques Hardy. After moving to this country, she studied further in New York and in Chicago with George Rocheleau and Claude Bently.

HER WORK has been exhibited at the Illinois State Museum at Springfield and throughout the Chicago area. She was included in the winner's circle at the Plum Grove Show in 1963 and received an honorable mention at the Skokie Art Fair in the same year. The artist received second prize at the Golf Mill Art Fair in 1964 and is represented in the Art Institute sales and rental gallery.

She appeared on the cover of the French magazine, "La Revue Moderne," in 1964 in connection with an article about her work. She won first prize at the 1965 Randhurst Art Fair and works primarily in oil and collage.

Featured craftsman Charles Farmer, who is one of the directors of the Countryside Gallery, received his education at the Art Center School of the University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky. He studied jewelry design, sculpture and silversmithing with Romul Kraus and Nelle Peterson.

HIS WORK has been exhibited at the Speed Museum, Louisville, Ky.; the Kentucky and Indiana Annual Sculpture Show, 1956, and in 1957 in the same show he received the memorial award for silver. In 1956, he was the recipient of the first prize for sculpture in the Kentucky State Fair.

Pottery and silver jewelry and holloware by the artist have been shown locally through the Countryside Art Center as well as at private exhibitions such as the Maine High School show, Des Plaines.

Barbara Houskeeper will exhibit oil paintings. She was educated at Knox College, the Rhode Island School of Design and the Art Institute of Chicago. She has studied with such well known Chicago artists as Rudolph Pen, George Buehr, Claude Bently and Harry Bouras.

HER PAINTINGS have been exhibited recently at Marina City, John M. Smyth and Co., the invitational Old Orchard Festival of Arts and Ricardo's Restaurant. She is represented at the Rogue's Gallery of Rush Street.

In 1962 the artist received the Calendar Award from the North Shore Art League and in 1963 received an honorable mention award for oil in the Plum Grove Countryside Art Center Fair and a second rpize for watercolor from the Evanston Woman's Club. She was awarded an honorable mention at the Countryside Spring Festival of Art in 1965 and won first prize at the New Horizons show of 1965.

The artist works primarily in oils and has developed a new interest in plexiglass as a medium. She taught Countryside Art Center classes for seven years, both adult and children's, as well as at Design Unlimited, Glenview, and the Studio, Winnetka.

MAE SAULE, who will exhibit watercolors, received her training at the Art Institute of Chicago, having studied with Leslie Davis. She has taught private classes in watercolor as well as classes at Proviso Township High School in art for adults.

The artist has exhibited her work at the Illinois State Fair at Springfield, the Dean Milk Tribune Gallery Show, Pen Women local and state shows and through the Oak Park, Austin and River Forest Art Leagues. She received purchase awards in 1961 and 1963 from the Union League Club and was a winner in the 1965 Oak Brook Fine Arts Promenade.

She has had one-man shows at the Oak Park Arms and the Maywood Public Library. Her primary interest is watercolor landscape.

JANICE WETZEL received her art education at the Art Institute of Chicago, the American Academy of Art and through the North Shore Art League. She has exhibited her work at the Old Orchard Festival of Arts, Lake Forest College, the Sun-Times Gallery and at the Evanston Art Fair.

She received a $250 purchase prize from the Union League Club in 1965 and has won numerus prizes through the North Shore Art League, as well as an honorable mention from the Evanston Woman's Club. The artist is primarily interested in oils and acrylics and will exhibit examples of these.

The Countryside Gallery is open from 1 to 4 p.m. daily except Monday. For further information about the January show call 253-3005 during gallery hours. (Bill

Comedy Pits Woman Against Man, Machine

Neither man nor machine can get the best of Bunny Watson, played by Gloria Dembinski, in the three-act comedy, "The Desk Set," which Cameo Players will stage in the Prospect High School Little Theatre Friday and Saturday, Jan. 14 and 15.

In this play by William Marchant, the man is a methods engineer (efficiency expert), portrayed by Peter Piper. He installs Emmeracs around the office of a television network, and these electronic brains soon begin replacing whole departments.

Bunny, however, outwits the whole situation; she quickly spells down both Emmeracs and the efficiency expert, and both blow a fuse.

RUNNING throughout the play are romance and a little heartache. The boss, played by Don Schroeder, receives many both interesting and challenging offers.

Mrs. Betty Morris, 1011 Westgate, Mount Prospect, is directing "The Desk Set." Experienced in all phases of theatre, Mrs. Morris received her bachelor's degree from the University of Miami, Fla., where she majored in drama, and her master's in speech and television direction from Northwestern University.

She was instructor of dance and choreographer at the National Music Camp in Interlochen, Mich., and was an actor-director for the Bermudiana Theatre in Bermuda. She also served as an assistant film director for CBS-TV.

IN SUBURBAN theatre, Mrs. Morris has choreographed for Best-Off-Broadway Players and directed the Cameo Players last year in their premiere performance, "The Seven Year Itch." She has her own dance studio.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Jean Petras, 1313 Mulberry Lane, Mount Prospect, 392-6077. (Bill

Announce 'Wildcat' Director

Jerry Epperson, professional director, singer, actor and dancer from Niles, has been selected as dramatic director for the Music-On-Stage production of "Wildcat."

MOS president Jack Wassmer of Palatine, who announced Epperson's appointment, also announced that auditions for "Wildcat" will be held this weekend at Prospect High School, Mount Prospect.

The auditions will be conducted in Room 133 from 8 to 11 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) and again on Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Scripts will be provided for the dramatic reading, but any musical selection not in the "Wildcat" score must be brought for the accompanist, Mrs. William Cotsakis of Palatine, Epperson said.

EPPERSON brings to this production a varied experience, said Wassmer. Before graduating from DePaul University with a bachelor of dramatics arts degree in 1952, he appeared in the Memphis Open Air Theatre as a musical stock actor and dancer. Following this engagement he toured the United States and Canada as a dancer in "Student Prince," "Rose Marie," and "The Merry Wodow."

As a performer with Globe Players and Theatre First Inc., Epperson interpreted roles from the lead in "The Play's the Thing" and "Shining Hour" to the Scarecrow in "Wizard of Oz" and King Lear in "King Lear." He played many other roles in his 14 years with these two groups.

During this time the Niles resident also found time to direct a number of shows. He served as assistant director for the summer stock season at Elkhart, Wis., Summer Theatre and directed for Chicago Park District and Theatre First. He also has directed original musical reviews for a number of groups.

JOHN WAYNE stars with Dean Martin and Martha Hyer in "The Sons of Katie Elder," opening Sunday at the Catlow Theatre. In Technicolor and Panavision it tells the story of how four brothers try to overcome the legacy of their family name.

Concert to Feature French Orchestra

The Paris Chamber Orchestra, featuring classical trumpeter, Adolph Scherbaum, will present the next Arlington Heights Community Concert at 8:15 Monday in the Arlington Theatre.

ADOLPH SCHERBAUM

The orchestra, composed of 15 French musicians under the direction of Paul Kuentz, has played nearly 1,000 concerts in Europe and North America. The French Journal of Music has praised it as "our best chamber orchestra."

Scherbaum has been praised for his virtuosity on the trumpet by critics for such influential publications as the New York Times, Saturday Review, The New Yorker and Time Magazine.

The orchestra's repertory spans the centuries from 17th century Vivaldi to works by the contemporary composer Tcherepnin, but both the orchestra and its featured soloist are particularly regarded by the critics for their mastery of Bach.

Following this engagement he toured the United States and Canada as a dancer in "Student Prince," "Rose Marie," and "The Merry Wodow."

As a performer with Globe Players and Theatre First Inc., Epperson interpreted roles from the lead in "The Play's the Thing" and "Shining Hour" to the Scarecrow in "Wizard of Oz" and King Lear in "King Lear." He played many other roles in his 14 years with these two groups.

During this time the Niles resident also found time to direct a number of shows. He served as assistant director for the summer stock season at Elkhart, Wis., Summer Theatre and directed for Chicago Park District and Theatre First. He also has directed original musical reviews for a number of groups.

Local Man Featured in New Show at Countryside Gallery

Robert Borchard, 723 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, is the featured guest artist in the show, "Janus I," at the Countryside Gallery, 10 W. Miner St., Arlington Heights. A public reception to open the exhibition will be held tomorrow (Friday) from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Works by five Countryside Gallery artists will also be featured. They are Janine Collier, Chicago; Charles Farmer, Des Plaines; Barbara Houskeeper, Deerfield; Mae Saule, Maywood, and Janice Wetzel, Wilmette. The show will run until Jan. 29.

Borchard, who will show wooden constructions of both freestanding and raised two-dimensional types, teaches art at the Evanston Art Center and Nichols Junior High School, Evanston. He attended the Albright Art School in Buffalo, N. Y., received a B.A. degree from New York State University; attended Rutgers University, obtained a master's degree at the University of Wisconsin and has also studied at the Art Institute of Chicago.

HE HAS HAD many one-man shows, including the Little Studio Gallery, Madison, Wis.; Chinook Gallery, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Lake Forest Academy; Evanston Community Center Gallery; Michellini's Gallery Restaurant and the Evanston Public Library.

The artist is represented by the 4 Arts Gallery, Evanston; Benjamin Galleries, Chicago, and the sales and rental gallery of the Art Institute of Chicago. He received a second prize at the juried and invitational Old Orchard Festival of Arts in 1964. Works by the artist are in collections around the country and in private collections abroad.

Janine Collier, who was born and educated in Paris, studied under the French painter Jacques Hardy. After moving to this country, she studied further in New York and in Chicago with George Rocheleau and Claude Bently.

HER WORK has been exhibited at the Illinois State Museum at Springfield and throughout the Chicago area. She was included in the winner's circle at the Plum Grove Show in 1963 and received an honorable mention at the Skokie Art Fair in the same year. The artist received second prize at the Golf Mill Art Fair in 1964 and is represented in the Art Institute sales and rental gallery.

She appeared on the cover of the French magazine, "La Revue Moderne," in 1964 in connection with an article about her work. She won first prize at the 1965 Randhurst Art Fair and works primarily in oil and collage.

Featured craftsman Charles Farmer, who is one of the directors of the Countryside Gallery, received his education at the Art Center School of the University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky. He studied jewelry design, sculpture and silversmithing with Romul Kraus and Nelle Peterson.

HIS WORK has been exhibited at the Speed Museum, Louisville, Ky.; the Kentucky and Indiana Annual Sculpture Show, 1956, and in 1957 in the same show he received the memorial award for silver. In 1956, he was the recipient of the first prize for sculpture in the Kentucky State Fair.

Pottery and silver jewelry and holloware by the artist have been shown locally through the Countryside Art Center as well as at private exhibitions such as the Maine High School show, Des Plaines.

Barbara Houskeeper will exhibit oil paintings. She was educated at Knox College, the Rhode Island School of Design and the Art Institute of Chicago. She has studied with such well known Chicago artists as Rudolph Pen, George Buehr, Claude Bently and Harry Bouras.

HER PAINTINGS have been exhibited recently at Marina City, John M. Smyth and Co., the invitational Old Orchard Festival of Arts and Ricardo's Restaurant. She is represented at the Rogue's Gallery of Rush Street.

In 1962 the artist received the Calendar Award from the North Shore Art League and in 1963 received an honorable mention award for oil in the Plum Grove Countryside Art Center Fair and a second rpize for watercolor from the Evanston Woman's Club. She was awarded an honorable mention at the Countryside Spring Festival of Art in 1965 and won first prize at the New Horizons show of 1965.

The artist works primarily in oils and has developed a new interest in plexiglass as a medium. She taught Countryside Art Center classes for seven years, both adult and children's, as well as at Design Unlimited, Glenview, and the Studio, Winnetka.

MAE SAULE, who will exhibit watercolors, received her training at the Art Institute of Chicago, having studied with Leslie Davis. She has taught private classes in watercolor as well as classes at Proviso Township High School in art for adults.

The artist has exhibited her work at the Illinois State Fair at Springfield, the Dean Milk Tribune Gallery Show, Pen Women local and state shows and through the Oak Park, Austin and River Forest Art Leagues. She received purchase awards in 1961 and 1963 from the Union League Club and was a winner in the 1965 Oak Brook Fine Arts Promenade.

She has had one-man shows at the Oak Park Arms and the Maywood Public Library. Her primary interest is watercolor landscape.

JANICE WETZEL received her art education at the Art Institute of Chicago, the American Academy of Art and through the North Shore Art League. She has exhibited her work at the Old Orchard Festival of Arts, Lake Forest College, the Sun-Times Gallery and at the Evanston Art Fair.

She received a $250 purchase prize from the Union League Club in 1965 and has won numerus prizes through the North Shore Art League, as well as an honorable mention from the Evanston Woman's Club. The artist is primarily interested in oils and acrylics and will exhibit examples of these.

The Countryside Gallery is open from 1 to 4 p.m. daily except Monday. For further information about the January show call 253-3005 during gallery hours. (Bill

Concert to Feature French Orchestra

The Paris Chamber Orchestra, featuring classical trumpeter, Adolph Scherbaum, will present the next Arlington Heights Community Concert at 8:15 Monday in the Arlington Theatre.

ADOLPH SCHERBAUM

The orchestra, composed of 15 French musicians under the direction of Paul Kuentz, has played nearly 1,000 concerts in Europe and North America. The French Journal of Music has praised it as "our best chamber orchestra."

Scherbaum has been praised for his virtuosity on the trumpet by critics for such influential publications as the New York Times, Saturday Review, The New Yorker and Time Magazine.

The orchestra's repertory spans the centuries from 17th century Vivaldi to works by the contemporary composer Tcherepnin, but both the orchestra and its featured soloist are particularly regarded by the critics for their mastery of Bach.

M&S Actors Rehearse Annual Children's Play

Despite the Christmas holidays, Masque and Staff players of Elk Grove Village have been busy readying their fifth annual children's play for presentation Jan. 15 and 16.

Producer Liz Brodersen reports both actors and production crew have "Puss in Boots" well in hand, in expectation of the same capacity crowds that have seen their previous children's plays.

"CHILDREN'S PLAYS, because of their large casts and heavy use of costumes, can sometimes present problems not encountered with adult plays," she said, "but we have been lucky, so far, in that our people spite the inconveniences that you can naturally expect at this time of the year."

Committee chairmen in charge of behind-the-scenes activities include Jessie Cusser and Patt Gersdorf, set construction and decoration; Joan Hazlett, Lois Gotha, Lois McKelvey and Jim Gibson, lights and sound; Liz Romero, stage manager; Barbara Hoffman and Carol Greenfield, costumes and makeup; Diane Calkins and Ron Gersdorf, house committee, and Guy Marsh and Dick Hazlett, publicity and the combined tickets and program committees.

"Puss in Boots," based on the popular fairy tale, tells the story of a poor miller's son, Jack, who finds himself on the death of his father with no better legacy than a cat. His father's other property is willed to Jack's older brother, Ratzel. The brother drives Jack out of the house to make his living in the Enchanted Forest, ruled over by a wicked and magic ogre. The play tells how the clever Puss, who turns out to be quite a legacy, uses his wit to dispatch the Ogre and win for Jack a fortune, a castle and the Princess of his dreams.

LIZ ROMERO will be heard and not seen in the forthcoming Masque and Staff children's play, "Puss in Boots," being staged Jan. 15 and 16 at Dempster Junior High School. Mrs. Romero, who played the female lead in M and S's recent production of "Sunday in New York," has quite another role, that of the Mouse, in "Puss in Boots."

PLAYING THE principal roles are Bonnie Casey as Puss, Fritz Allen as Jack, Bob Johnson as the Ogre, Fred Brodersen as Ratzel, Bob Brown as the King, Marie Cavanagh as the Princess and Loretta Tomaselli as the Aunt. Other cast members include Earl Marshall as the Woodcutter, Barbara Hoffman as the Lady, Dwight Hoffman as the Lord and Liz Romero as the voice of the Mouse.

"Puss in Boots" is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 15, at 1:30, 4 and 8 p.m. and Sunday, Jan. 16, at 1:30 and 4 p.m. All performances will be given at Dempster Junior High School, located on Dempster Road just west of Elmhurst Road (Route 83). Admission is 50 cents for children and $1 for adults.

Free bus service to and from the show will be provided on Saturday only. Buses will depart from Devonshire and Herzog Schools at 12:45 and 3:15 p.m.; pickups will be made at 1 and 3:15 from Brentwood, High Ridge, Forest View, Robert Frost, Rupley, Clearmont, Ridge and Salt Creek Schools.

INFORMATION about tickets, which will also be available at the door, may be obtained by calling HE 7-1874.

A drawing contest, being run in conjunction with the children's play, will terminate Sunday. The contest, open to all children in District 59 between the ages of 5 and 11, requires each entrant to submit an original drawing of an incident in the play interpreted from a description of the action contained in the contest announcement. One girl and one boy at each age level will be chosen as winners and will receive free tickets to the play. Drawings must be submitted on 8½ by 11-inch white paper.

Entries may be dropped into the special boxes provided at the IGA Foodliner in Elk Grove Village and at the Kroger store in Mount Prospect Plaza.

Quartet of Musicals Slated at Mill Run

The sound of music will emanate from the Mill Run Playhouse for the next three months as the Niles theatre presents four top-notch musicals starting Jan. 18, when Earl Wrightson and Lois Hunt are starred in Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate" for a 13-day run through Jan. 30.

On Feb. 1, Dennis Day comes to town for the Chicago premiere of a musical adaptation of James Thurber's classic short story, "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," to run through Feb. 12. Although the theatre is usually closed on Mondays, during the Dennis Day show a special Monday, Feb. 7, performance of the musical is scheduled.

The story, revolving around a middle-aged dreamer who imagines himself in various heroic roles, features music and lyrics by Leon Carr and Earl Shuman.

A ROMANTIC tale of a day in the life of a handsome and poetic beggar in legendary Bagdad, "Kismet," starring Howard Keel, will light up the Niles playhouse for three weeks starting on Feb. 15 and running through March 6.

From March 8 through March 27, Rodgers and Hammerstein's all-time hit musical, "Oklahoma," will be offered. Starred will be John Raitt.

The current attraction at Mill Run is Herb Gardner's rollicking comedy "A Thousand Clowns," starring Van Johnson. Co-starred with Johnson are Doug Chapin, Patricia Sales, Bruce Kirby, Carlton Colyer, and Bruce Brighton. It will run through Sunday, Jan. 16. (Bill

Countryside Art Classes to Resume

Countryside Art Center classes will resume this week beginning with the children's class Saturday at Arlington Heights' Pioneer Park.

Adult classes are to begin Monday at Recreation Park with the drawing class Monday morning and the intermediate and advanced painting sessions Monday afternoon.

Tuesday afternoon beginning painting will start at Recreation Park. Small sculpture will be held at Pioneer Park Wednesday morning, Jan. 12, and intermediate and advanced painting that evening at Recreation Park.

ATSUSHI KIKUCHI

A new watercolor class will be featured this semester to be taught by Atsushi Kikuchi, a self-employed fine art painter. Winner of numerous honors and awards, including the Jenkins Memorial Award of the Chicago Art Institute, this well known Chicago artist has exhibited widely in the United States and in Japan during the past 17 years.

BORN IN Seattle, Kikuchi spent his childhood in Japan. He has traveled extensively in Europe, Mexico, Canada and Asia in search of painting subjects. He has studied at California College of Arts and Crafts, the Los Angeles Art Center, Chicago Academy of Fine Arts and the School of the Art Institute of Chicago.

The watercolor class will be held at Recreation Park Monday nights. This class will begin Jan. 24 and run for nine weeks. All other classes will run for ten weeks.

Students may register at the Countryside Gallery between 1 and 4 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. For more information call Jeanne Alderson, CL 3-8542.

Artist to Give Pottery Making Demonstration

A demonstration of "Throwing on the Wheel," a method of pottery making, will be given tonight (Thursday) by Ruthe Karlin, a Countryside Gallery artist.

The program will be presented at Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights following a student exhibition entitled "January Vista." A reception for viewers will begin at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Karlin, whose work is represented at the Countryside Gallery, will present a lecture demonstration explaining her techniques of throwing clay on the potter's wheel. (Bill

The Way We See It

County Government Needs Close Study

In common with many other governmental agencies, Cook County appears headed for financial troubles.

No politician likes to comment publicly about the possibility of a tax increase, but some knowledgeable Cook County politicians of both parties mention the possibility privately.

The core of the trouble is that county government is being given new responsibilities faster than it is getting the financial power to deal with them.

For example, in the judicial area, last year's General Assembly doubled the pay of jurors and required employment of more public defenders. Everyone agrees these changes are wise and overdue—but they cost money.

Even more costly new responsibilities have developed in the welfare fields, where decades of neglect and mismanagement of human resources have caused serious problems to pile up.

When talk of more taxes is heard, the question naturally arises: Are present funds being used as efficiently as possible?

Cook County Democrats say efficiency is high, but Republicans question this, pointing to about 500 patronage employes on the payrolls.

Many patronage employes are efficient and dedicated workers who do as good a job as anyone else could do. However, experience has shown that the patronage system tends to breed inefficiency and waste.

Patronage is only one aspect of government operations. Expanding functions means growth and change of the organizational and administrative structures. Are these efficient?

Recently, an independent three-man team of engineers paid by the Better Government Association studied the operations of the Metropolitan Sanitary District.

Prior to their study and report, there were many charges and counter-charges about the organization and operation of this vast agency. The report, while suggesting important areas for improvement, was generally favorable to the operation of the district under its chief executive, Vinton W. Bacon.

The report gave the public an expert, non-political basis on which to judge the Sanitary District operations.

It seems to us that an expert, nonpartisan study of county government operations would be timely. It might point the way to economies that would postpone or minimize tax increases. If this proved impossible, it would give the public the facts on which support for needed additional revenues could be based.

Helene Bristol

Together with all others who knew her, we mourn the death of Helene Bristol, Paddock Publications education writer.

For more than a decade, Mrs. Bristol was an active force in the progress of northwest suburbs.

She joined Paddock Publications in 1954 and a year later became the first editor of the newly-established Rolling Meadows Herald.

Her dedication to Rolling Meadows was reflected in numerous honors that followed. She received honorary membership from the Rolling Meadows Lions Club for community service, the Rolling Meadows Fifth Anniversary Award for community service, and the special appreciation certificate of the Rolling Meadows Home Owners Association, which guided the city's incorporation.

In 1960, Mrs. Bristol became education writer for Paddock Publications. Her devotion to this assignment helped area schools keep pace with phenomenal enrollment growth. Through her, the public understood school problems and school officials learned what the public was thinking.

A scholarship fund has been established in her memory and will be used to help promising journalism students. Donations should be made to: Helene Bristol Scholarship Fund and sent to Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, 25 E. Campbell St., Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Bristol's work won the admiration of both her newspaper colleagues and school officials. This was a tribute to her skill as a reporter. But most of all, Helene Bristol will be remembered as a warm and pure spirit. She is irreplaceable.

Protection for Consumers

Most of us can remember when vending machines dispensed only peanuts, candy bars, chewing gum and cigarettes. Now they offer a variety of foods, hot and cold, and even entire meals.

The outlook is for continued growth of the vended foods industry. In schools, plants and offices vending machines are tending to replace the cafeteria. Machines offering new varieties of products spring up day by day in new locations.

This puts a growing burden on municipal authorities who have the responsibility for enforcing sanitation and health standards.

Paddock Publications reporter Jack Neukom was given the assignment to investigate local practices in regard to vending machines. He discovered some up-to-date village ordinances dealing with this problem along with some examples of complete neglect.

This is not surprising, since different municipalities have maintained widely differing standards of inspection of such old-fashioned enterprises as food stores and restaurants.

Consumer protection is a basic function of local government. The consensus of vending machine proprietors is that enforcement of health laws helps the industry by curbing unscrupulous operators.

Municipalities without adequate laws and means of enforcing them should close the gap. Perhaps the Illinois Municipal League could help by providing examples of a model ordinance and how to enforce it.

Predictions In Politics

by T. William Swinford
staff Writer

Why Charles Percy will win the election against Sen. Paul Douglas D-Ill; in 300 words or more by T. Wm. Swinford, usually wrong political viewer:

Percy should capture all the votes on the spectrum from just left of center to the far right. Douglas is rated by the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), liberal organization, as nearly perfect.

He is rated by the American's for Constitutional Action, (ACA), a conservative organization, at the bottom of their list.

Therefore, Swinford's political pick is Percy in Illinois.

IT IS MY belief that conservatives and right-wingers and right - wing extremists have no choice but Percy — unless, of course, they field their own candidate.

In addition, many middle-of the road voters will choose Percy because he follows the same path they trod in their political convictions.

Douglas will capture all of the votes of those on the left and far left.

But, as usual, politics will fail to stir emotion in the voter where the politician needs help — in the pocketbook.

The game will continue to develop as a rich man's game.

SWINFORD

Conceivably, the trend could continue until the class system is followed once again in this country. The "rich class" will become rulers, the "poor" followers, and the "in-betweens" will clamor for an end to the caste system.

But many Republicans will be sitting out the 1966 elections.

One notable example of this is William Scott, current state treasurer, who by rule of the constitution cannot be re-elected to the post.

HE CHOOSES not to put his prestige, which was damaged in the 1964 elections, on the line against Douglas. You remember Scott — some call him "in again, out again, in again, Scott-again."

This stems from his indecisiveness in running against Percy for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Scott chooses to work for the GOP nomination for governor in 1968, as does John Henry Altorfer of Peoria, William Rentschler, of Lake Forest, and other Republicans.

COOK COUNTY Sheriff Ogilvie, who like Scott cannot succeed himself in office, is weighing the decision to run or not to run for president of the Cook County Board.

I feel he can also be considered a definite possibility to seek the gubernatorial nomination in 1968.

In this case, Scott and Ogilvie, long allies, will be dividing their support throughout the state, making Altorfer a shoe-in.

On the local scene, I predict that Eugene Schlickman of Arlington Heights, a freshman Republican legislator in the last session of the General Assembly, will seek re-election, thus avoiding a headon clash at this time with Sen. John Graham, R-Barrington.

THOMAS HOUSER, presumably, will be campaign manager for Percy, in which capacity he served in 1964.

Houser had been mentioned by some as a candidate against Graham, but never admitted to seeking the post until his announcement this week that he would not be a candidate.

Rep. Donald Rumsfeld, R-Ill., will win re-election in the 13th Congressional District.

1966, a "political off-year" will be sparkling from now through next November on the political scene with the oft-repeated charges and counter charges.

It would be refreshing if, this year, some of the charges were pursued after the election.

Speak Up!

Staff Writer

Are you satisfied with the retail facilities in your community and more generally in northwest suburbia?

People contacted this week for Speak Up! seemed to find northwest suburbia a pretty good commercial area.

The specific question was, "What in your opinion is the type of store or retail outlet your community lacks?" When this question was answered, the people were then asked to consider the retail facilities of the entire northwest suburbs.

PRIBILSKI

Anyone thinking of starting a business? This writer suggests you consider a shoe store for the Hoffman Estates - Schaumburg - Roselle area. The people there are "shoeless."

"A SHOE STORE," was the immediate reaction of Mrs. Gerald R. Kostecki, 96 Auburn Lane, Schaumburg. "We lack an adequate shoe store."

Mrs. Garner T. Culpepper, 117 Auburn, Hoffman Estates, and Mrs. Edgar Grebe, 532 Rush, Roselle, concurred with Mrs. Kostecki's opinion.

"We need a good family shoe store," said Mrs. Grebe. "We have to go to a larger community to get shoes."

A few people remarked that the stock and variety of clothing was inadequate.

MRS. CULPEPPER said a good clothing store is needed in the Hoffman Estates area. She said she does much of her shopping in Elgin.

Mrs. James A. Ek, 6N706 Valley Road, Roselle, remarked that "the stock of sizes is not complete. I prefer to go downtown (Chicago). It seems I'm not able to find what we want or prefer out here."

This criticism also came from Mrs. Norman O. Stava, 1717 Robbie Lane, Mount Prospect.

She said, "Children's clothes are especially lacking." She said she went to Randhurst to buy a snow suit for her child and in all the stores the same snow suits were being sold. She did not like the suits offered. "All three stores had the same suit—seems like they are all buying from the same people."

Despite the above criticisms about lack of variety in clothing, most people did seem satisfied concerning clothing stocks.

The common remark of almost all the 14 people contacted was that they want a large department store closer to their homes.

SEARS, WIEBOLDT'S, or Wards were the most often mentioned, which probably reflects greatly the buying standards and buying power of the generally middle-class families in suburbia. Carsons and Fields were not mentioned.

Randhurst Shopping Center is the big commercial drawing card of this area. Oakbrook is favored by a few, particularly those in Roselle area.

Despite the size of Randhurst, one specialty seems to be lacking: a bridal registry.

Said Mrs. James J. Rose, 201 E. Lonnquist, Mount Prospect: "I wanted to get something the girl wanted and Carsons doesn't have a registry." She went to Fields in Chicago.

MRS. ROSE also commented that she found it necessary to go to Bretanos book store in Chicago to get particular books.

And one Arlington Heights music buff complained, "I feel a dire need for a decent record center and phonograph supply place."

The desire to have a large department store nearby seemed to stem for a real or felt inconvenience of having to drive what seems like long distances.

But maybe George A. Miller, 239 S. Greenwood, Palatine, gave an answer to this feeling of inconvenience.

HE SAID, "Things are not necessarily in our town but they're all close. The facilities we have in the suburban area, we all have to drive to anyway. The extra five minutes doesn't make any difference."

(Perhaps many ex-Chicagoans have forgotten that it takes considerable time to reach major shopping areas in the city. For instance, most northwest Chicagoans must drive at least half an hour to reach "Six-Corners" center at Irving, Milwaukee and Cicero.)

Only one person was particularly critical of the merchants themselves.

Mrs. Edward Bortko, 125 Winston Drive, Palatine, voiced a complaint heard commonly among many people in that community.

She remarked, "I never do any business in Palatine. I can't put my finger on any one thing, but in Arlington Heights I feel the stores, the people are more efficient and have more to offer."

IF THINGS ARE lacking here, one reason might be the one offered by Mrs. Arthur F. Gilbert, 259 N. Inverway, Inverness.

She said larger populations are needed to support various specialties. The supply or stocks in our stores are provided to meet today's demands, she said.

This holiday season, I spent much time on my New Year's resolutions. The effort was rewarding. I think I came up with an outstanding set of resolutions and I am confident enough of this to share them with you. Here they are:

CUMMINS

1—I will not spend more than $15 each for monogrammed silk shirts.

2—I will not put whipped cream on my baloney sandwiches.

3—I will not listen to more than three full-length performances of Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde" during the calendar year.

4—I WILL not pay extra for chrome - plated Hollywood mufflers.

5—I will not ignore any pretty woman.

6—I will not contribute more than $100 to any aldermanic campaign.

7—I will not interfere with my broker in his management of my investment portfolio.

8—I will maintain all friendships, even with someone who says, "New York is a nice place to visit but I wouldn't want to live there."

9—I will pay promptly any dues I owe to yacht clubs.

10—I WILL never be too busy to find a few minutes for any young person who wants to chat with me on "Pathways to Success."

11—I will continue my search for the perfect martini.

12—I will learn the names of all Cook County commissioners so I will be equipped to give credit where credit is due.

13—I will teach my children the significance of the issues underlying the Argentine-Chile border dispute.

14—I will write a letter of congratulations to any cartoonist who does not caricature Gen. de Gaulle's nose.

15—If I see a cow in pain for not being milked, I will milk it.

16—WHEN I color, I will try to stay within the lines.

17—I will charge admission when I wrestle bears or alligators.

18—I will peel bananas before eating them.

19—If I begin writing a monograph on Eskimo art, I will complete it.

20—I will not do business with unskilled diamond cutters.

21—I will slow down when I go through Wauconda.

Calls Retirement of Mayor Great Loss to Rolling Meadows

An announcement was made to the City Council and the City of Rolling Meadows that I have often dreaded and often wondered what effect it would have on the city as the name of John J. Woods and the growth of Rolling Meadows has been synonymous.

I've often wondered how far this city would have gotten and how far it would go without the leadership of John J. Woods, the Mayor of Rolling Meadows. For, Mr. John J. Woods announced his retirement as Mayor of the City of Rolling Meadows at the Council Meeting of Tuesday, Dec. 28.

I for one was very shocked, not only as an alderman but as a man who has known John Woods for six years.

When this announcement was made there was an absolute silence, a complete absolute silence at the Council Meeting, something never seen or heard of before. For there wasn't one man in the council or City Official who wasn't stunned by this announcement.

I have been In politics for many years and I have never in my life met a man who was so devoted and gave so much and asked for so little in return. A man that put in almost 40 hours a week at a salary too small to mention; a man who had such pride in his city and people and never turned his back on anyone, no matter what time of day or night; a man who thought of his city in such glowing terms, that at times he put the city and the people above his own personal life.

I have been an alderman for almost three years and the public has come to us with many problems and never would this man, regardless of how big or small a problem, turn these people away.

He would allow them a full hearing at our council meeting and at times very exhausting hearings, even at times to allow these people to criticize his administration even to a point where it became overbearing and yet he always maintained the dignity of his office.

I wonder if the general public can even realize in their own minds the amount of work hours that are put in by the alderman. I've had people call me because they are in disagreement with my views or vote. Do these people think we just sit at these council meetings and come to a decision? We put three to four nights in a week and work anywhere from 8 p.m. to 12 and 1 a.m.

During the course of a week we are calling other offices in other cities digging up facts and figures at our own expence and even after we do all this I still have people calling me and threaten that I am coming up for re-election.

I for one hope that they remember this next April, 1967, and anyone who wants this job is welcome to it. It is one of the most unheralded jobs I have ever seen and yet it means so much to the people of Rolling Meadows and we all know our position in seeing that our city goes forward. When I think of all the detailed work and the amount of time and phone calls and statistics that have to be looked up and checked into (annexation is a good example), I wonder if the people really realize that this job pays only $50 a month and if they would be willing to do the same.

I only point this out because the mayor of our city spent about 40 hours a week on work, had to attend social functions, spent money out of his own pocket and had to make various trips to other cities to keep the name of Rolling Meadows in the limelight The tremendous job this man has done for the city could never be repaid in 100 years.

The city will never see the likes of a man like this again, for I find it hard in my heart and mind to feel anyone will be able to fill his shoes completely. His honesty, his integrity, his ability to work out problems and his ability to be able to think of other people and all their problems will never be fully appreciated, except by those who worked with him many years and listened to all that was going on.

I for one will miss this man greatly for he is without a doubt one of the greatest men I have ever met, not only socially, but for working publicwise. His straightforwardness and honesty is unbelievable unless you really know him and work with him. The City of Rolling Meadows, as far as I am concerned, has suffered a great loss with the retirement of John J. Woods, but as a proud city, and we surely are a proud city, we will try to pick up where John left off and try to do a job that has to be done.

To John Woods and his wife I wish all the luck and happiness that God can bestow on two people and I surely hope that the people of the City of Rolling Meadows, in the not too distant future, will have a day for John and his charming wife Jenny. For no two people deserve this tribute more than these two wonderful people. They have given so much to the city and gotten so little back from the people of Rolling Meadows.

Christmas Spirit Came Early to Addolorata Villa

The spirit of Christmas came quite early to the ladies of Addolorata Villa, Wheeling. Cadette Troops, Brownies, Boy and Girl Scounts, Women's Clubs, came like "The Three Kings" bearing gifts . . . decorated Christmas trees; fabulous varieties of Christmas cookies from every Land; beautifully decorated place-mats, place-cards, and many, many other lovely things, all hand-made, plus an abundance of Christmas Cheer.

Groups who visited came from Prospect Heights, Buffalo Grove, Wheeling, Roselle, Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect, as well as from Chicago and Mundelein.

Never have the groups been so beautifully trained. . .each one had its own special appeal and theme—it would be impossible to express our appreciation to those responsible for the thought and preparation put into each program—or to give "just description"!

Our sincere thanks to these wonderful people, with fervent prayers that the infant Jesus in whose honor these programs were presented to us, may grant to each his own special reward and gift of peace.

We also wish to express our sincere gratitude to Mayor Scanlon, and Fire Chief Bernard Koeppen for their wonderful cooperation and help during the storm on Christmas Eve. Due to the power failure, our boiler room became dangerously flooded - threatening serious damage to the pump and boiler motors. Captain Koeppen and Lloyd Kelm worked until 4:30 a.m. pumping the water out. We know many others had more drastic problems in many other areas, but with over 80 elderly residents, power failures and the attendant discomforts can be very serious for our home.

Praises Work Of Edwards as Wheeling Editor

I have been a resident of Wheeling now for over seven years and I don't believe that I have missed reading a single copy of your paper during that entire period. It was, therefore, with concern that I read yesterday in your Dec. 30 issue that Mr. Edwards, your Wheeling Editor, was leaving your staff.

Indeed it is an understatement that he will be missed and that it is impossible to list his accomplishments and contributions toward the professional quality of your newspaper.

One of the finest qualities, I lieve Mr. Edwards possesses as a reporter was the ability to write about an event so that if you read his account of it, the impression you came away with was the same as though you had been attendant while it was occurring.

Another equal if not greater quality was the almost painful honesty with which he chronicled the life of our community.

Although I am sure not everyone agreed with Mr. Edwards all of the time, including myself, his presence at local governmental meetings representing the power of the press acted as a community conscience. This quality alone demonstrated the worth of your paper as a whole.

In addition, as a reporter of news events, he was an originator of projects and goals for our community, such as the preservation of the role of nature and natural beauty in the appearance of our Village, the Family Fair, and many other good and valuable works.

I don't think I could count the nights that I had seen him work until the early hours of the morning at a Village Board or other civic meeting.

Was there natural beauty in our town? Your hard working Mr. Edwards found out by canoeing the river, navigating the creeks, and personally walking at least one of the nature trails he supports.

All in all, it is most assuredly going to be the Journal Star's gain and the Herald's loss.

Town Thanked For Holiday Decorations

On behalf of the Holiday Decorating Committee of the Community Council of Wheeling, I would like to express our appreciation to the community at large.

Our congratulations to the award winners, whose ingenuity, orginality, and hard work resulted in such striking displays.

To the rest of the participants, our thanks for taking part in the contest, and may you be inspired to come up with prize-winning decorations next Christmas.

The owners of the few business establishments who made the effort to join in the holiday spirit with appropriate enthusiasm, deserve commendation for setting a fine example for others in future contests.

My personal thanks for the members of the hard-working committee who took time from their own busy Christmas schedules to ensure that the town would have the proper atmosphere for a typical "old fashioned Christmas" look. These members included Duane Ainlay, Billy Fritsch, Lorraine Lark, Gloria Nicholson, and Lillian Stiller.

The Community Council offers its thanks to those who donated the funds used to obtain the plaques and certificates awarded to the winners in the various categories. These prizes are to be given out at the next regular meeting of the Community Council.

It is axiomatic that every living being, including all plant life, has a definite life-span peculiar to its specific type. This, of course, is true of the once-lovely trees that adorn our village streets.

When their life expectancy is exceeded they definitely become a hazard to lives and property, as evidenced by the tragic accident that caused two deaths in Arlington Heights on Northwest Highway just east of Euclid Avenue in the spring of 1963. The rest of these once fine trees were removed.

A not-too-strong wind caused one of these once beautiful trees to fall on the hood of an automobile being properly driven, well within the law. It weighed tons and the auto's occupants had no chance to escape its sad effect. Young trees could be replanted at comparatively low cost.

Several similar near-misses have occurred within just feet of my home, resulting in six of them being removed.

The cost of inspecting at least those on village curbings and removing the dangerous ones, of which there are now many, would be slight compared to even one law-suit in money, besides the humane aspect of the danger. No pound of cure can outdo that ounce of prevention.

Tells Memories, Expectations As Year Begins

Some reflections on the beginnings of a new year!

As we wind up the last year, our thoughts go back through the struggles, through the golden moments, and pause, and savor moments of friendship, and spontaneous warmth. Surely the mud tracked on the kitchen floor is not so important now; why can we not know this when in the instant of irritation —we forget the little important things; like a smile, or a warm handshake, or precious laughter shared with a friend.

The ecstasies of an autumn sunset against all the seasonal brilliance; the starkness of winter, with each tree a solitary sentinel bearing a message of "Hope." Yes, hope that in spring again the fresh green will blossom new; and that which seemed dead, surges with life resurrected. If we had not seen the stark harshness of January, could April be so sweet?

IN 1966 birds will build again and renew their life once more; and the delight of a blue jay, soaring, lifts the soul to such heights. The curiosity of a squirrel rediscovering the world, now green—that was so harsh and white! And, oh, the fresh beauty of the first spring flower.

Even today, evidences of spring begin to be seen. Aren't the days growing longer?

—For leaders of business and for the stability of the financial standing of this community;

—For religious ministries and other essential services and for news coverage available for the people.

A special newspaper section for and about the Economic, Physical and Future growth of Industry in the great Northwest Suburban Area.

The Northwest Suburbs represent one of the country's most active, prosperous and enthusiastic areas . . . these people are proud of their community, their homes, and of the industrial infiltration that has affected their neighborhoods and their lives.

This influx of industry to the suburbs has made people aware of the association of industry with suburbia, and consequently, they want to know more about the inner working of their industrial neighbors.

To answer this desire, Paddock Publications publishes a yearly Industrial Review. This is delivered to our readership as a special, self-contained newspaper section containing complete editorial coverage about the great industrial present and future. Also, it lets the various participating industrial companies present their own personalized story, written by the companies, themselves, if desired.

Your participation in the Industrial Review can be of great help in procuring personnel, building community good will and establishing your company firmly in the minds of the public and the eyes of your customers.

the best in EDITORIAL COVERAGE

The 1966 Industrial Review will contain timely editorial stories and pictures that build the prominence of industry in the area. Our staff of feature writers work year 'round to assemble the most interesting and factual industrial stories and present them in the understandable and appreciated method that has made Paddock Publications one of the leading suburban newspapers in the country.

Participants are offered the opportunity of writing their own corporate story in their own style and words. This "self styled" approach gives industry a priceless opportunity to present itself in a personal style that is appreciated by readers.

WHEREAS, the ordinances have been printed in book form, published by the authority of the corporate authorities pursuant to the Illinois Municipal Code (Ill. Rev. Stat., 1965, Chap. 24, Paras. 1-2-4), and

WHEREAS, in addition thereto three (3) copies of said book have been filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Municipality for use and examination by the public more than thirty (30) days prior to the adoption of this ordinance pursuant to the Illinois Municipal Code (Ill. Rev. Stat., 1965, Chap. 24, Paras 1-2-4 and 1-3-2).

NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Wheeling, County of Cook and State of Illinois, as follows:

SECTION 1.

That the Municipal Code of Wheeling, heretofore printed in book form pursuant to the authority of the corporate authorities be and the same is hereby adopted and published by the authority of the corporate authorities.

SECTION 2.

That in the event that any provisions of the Wheeling Municipal Code are in conflict with any of the statutory provisions enacted by either the State or Federal Government, the State or Federal statutes shall control.

SECTION 3.

In all cases where the same offense is made punishable or is created by different clauses or sections of this code the prosecuting officer may elect under which to proceed; but not more than one recovery shall be had against the same person for the same offense; provided that the revocation of a license or permit shall not be considered a recovery or penalty so as to bar any other penalty being enforced.

Whenever in this code a minimum but not maximum fine or penalty is imposed, the court may in its discretion fine the offender any sum exceeding the minimum fine or penalty so fixed but not exceeding five hundred dollars.

Whenever in this code the doing of any act or the omission to do any act constitutes a breach of any section or provision of this code, and there shall be no fine or penalty declared for such breach, any person who shall be convicted of such breach shall be fined not less than two dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each offense.

Whenever a Village Ordinance complaint has been issued for a violation of any provision of this ordinance, the officer shall, if in his opinion the violation is of a nature that the condition can be rectified or discontinued, indicate on the violation complaint in the appropriate space, the following schedule of fines:

(a) If paid by mail or in person on or before the 10th of the month following the date of the issuance of the complaint, the fine shall be two dollars ($2.00).

(b) If paid after final notice date, but before service of a Notice To Appear, the fine shall be five dollars ($5.00).

(c) If paid in Court after the Notice to Appear has been served, the fine shall be ten dollars ($10.00) plus the court costs, if any.

SECTION 4.

This ordinance and the Municipal Code of Wheeling shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS

BY LINDA NORRIS

Ira Louvin, one-half of the famous Louvin Brothers singing team, was the victim of a tragic automobile accident that took place earlier this year . . . Just prior to the accident, Ira was preparing for his solo debut on records (in 1964, his brother, Charlie, had made his solo debut and since then has become one of the most popular country and western stars in the country) . . . The album The Unforgettable Ira Louvin is the result of that preparation . . . His wife, Anne, wrote several of the songs Ira was to sing and Ira wrote three himself . . . The last tracks for the album included Life Is Too Short, The Bottom of the Bottle, The Master of the Universe and The Right Side of the Road . . . All were recorded on March 4, 1965, less than three weeks before Ira and his wife were involved in the fatal accident

Jean Shephard's last LP was Lighthearted and Blue, an album of mostly up-tempo tunes . . . Now, in a change of pace, the popular vocalist offers It's a Man Every Time, and LP consiting of all love songs or ballads . . . Among those in the album are Bitter Tears, Too Broke to Break, I Love You More and More Every Day, Ain't You Ashamed and the title song.

The Lombardo Brothers combine their talents in a new LP entitled Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians Play the Songs of Carmen Lombardo (that's keeping it in the family!).

Ordinance No. 418

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR LATE CLOSING HOURS FOR CERTAIN TAVERNS.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Elk Grove Village, Counties of Cook and DuPage.

SECTION 1. That Section 20.008 of the Municipal Code of Elk Grove Village be and is hereby amended by adding thereto the following:

"Class AA licenses which shall authorize the sale of alcoholic liquor for consumption only on the premises specified as provided in Section 20.001 and such additional time as may permit the licensee to operate until 4:00 A.M. on Monday through Saturday inclusive of each week and until 5:00 A.M. Sundays and January 1 of each year, additional fee $250."

SECTION 2. Section 20.009 of the Municipal Code of Elk Grove Village is hereby amended by adding thereto the following language:

"In addition to the foregoing the Village President may issue upon application and payment of the additional fee provided a Class AA liquor license to any holder of a Class A liquor license when he in his sole discretion deems it advisable and to the best interest of the Village to so do."

SECTION 3. Section 20.012 of the Municipal Code of the Village of Elk Grove Village is hereby amended by adding thereto the following language:

"The foregoing shall apply to holders of Class AA license except in addition to the foregoing said holders shall have the right to keep their premises open until 4:00 A.M. Monday through Saturday inclusive and until 5:00 A.M. on Sundays and January 1, of each year."

SECTION 4. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication as provided for by law.

Passed and approved this 28th day of December, 1965.

Ordinance No. 836

(AN ORDINANCE ADOPTING THE MUNICIPAL CODE OF WHEELING)

WHEREAS, the corporate authorities have heretofore entered into a contract to revise and codify the various ordinances of the Village pursuant to the Illinois Municipal Code (Ill. Rev. Stat., 1965, Chap. 24, Para. 1-2-3), and

WHEREAS, the ordinances have been printed in book form, published by the authority of the corporate authorities pursuant to the Illinois Municipal Code (Ill. Rev. Stat., 1965, Chap. 24, Paras. 1-2-4), and

WHEREAS, in addition thereto three (3) copies of said book have been filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Municipality for use and examination by the public more than thirty (30) days prior to the adoption of this ordinance pursuant to the Illinois Municipal Code (Ill. Rev. Stat., 1965, Chap. 24, Paras 1-2-4 and 1-3-2).

NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Wheeling, County of Cook and State of Illinois, as follows:

SECTION 1.

That the Municipal Code of Wheeling, heretofore printed in book form pursuant to the authority of the corporate authorities be and the same is hereby adopted and published by the authority of the corporate authorities.

SECTION 2.

That in the event that any provisions of the Wheeling Municipal Code are in conflict with any of the statutory provisions enacted by either the State or Federal Government, the State or Federal statutes shall control.

SECTION 3.

In all cases where the same offense is made punishable or is created by different clauses or sections of this code the prosecuting officer may elect under which to proceed; but not more than one recovery shall be had against the same person for the same offense; provided that the revocation of a license or permit shall not be considered a recovery or penalty so as to bar any other penalty being enforced.

Whenever in this code a minimum but not maximum fine or penalty is imposed, the court may in its discretion fine the offender any sum exceeding the minimum fine or penalty so fixed but not exceeding five hundred dollars.

Whenever in this code the doing of any act or the omission to do any act constitutes a breach of any section or provision of this code, and there shall be no fine or penalty declared for such breach, any person who shall be convicted of such breach shall be fined not less than two dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each offense.

Whenever a Village Ordinance complaint has been issued for a violation of any provision of this ordinance, the officer shall, if in his opinion the violation is of a nature that the condition can be rectified or discontinued, indicate on the violation complaint in the appropriate space, the following schedule of fines:

(a) If paid by mail or in person on or before the 10th of the month following the date of the issuance of the complaint, the fine shall be two dollars ($2.00).

(b) If paid after final notice date, but before service of a Notice To Appear, the fine shall be five dollars ($5.00).

(c) If paid in Court after the Notice to Appear has been served, the fine shall be ten dollars ($10.00) plus the court costs, if any.

SECTION 4.

This ordinance and the Municipal Code of Wheeling shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law.

PASSED this 3rd day of January, 1966.

Ordinance No. 834

(AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE ZONING ORDINANCE)

WHEREAS, the Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Wheeling held a public hearing, duly advertised pursuant to the provisions of the statute and ordinance to consider a petition to amend Zoning Ordinance (No. 787) by adding a use now permitted in the B-3 area to the uses permitted in the B-4 area, and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Board of Appeals has submitted its written recommendations to the corporate authorities that the ordinance be amended by the addition of a use now permitted in the B-3 area to the B-4 area, and

WHEREAS, the corporate authorities of the Village deem it to be in the best interest of the citizens of said Village to amend said ordinance.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Wheeling, County of Cook and State of Illinois, as follows:

SECTION 1.

That Article 5, Paragraph 5.12-C of Ordinance Number 787 be and the same is hereby amended by adding thereto the following sub-paragraph:

5.12-C (14) Distribution of newspapers, periodicals, books and other reading matter.

SECTION 2.

All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 3.

Article 13. A person who violates, disobeys, omits, neglects, or refuses to comply with or resists the enforcement of any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be fined not less than Twenty-five Dollars (25.00) nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00). Each day such violation or failure to comply is permitted to exist after notification thereof shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION 4.

This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication according to law.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS

BY LINDA NORRIS

Ira Louvin, one-half of the famous Louvin Brothers singing team, was the victim of a tragic automobile accident that took place earlier this year . . . Just prior to the accident, Ira was preparing for his solo debut on records (in 1964, his brother, Charlie, had made his solo debut and since then has become one of the most popular country and western stars in the country) . . . The album The Unforgettable Ira Louvin is the result of that preparation . . . His wife, Anne, wrote several of the songs Ira was to sing and Ira wrote three himself . . . The last tracks for the album included Life Is Too Short, The Bottom of the Bottle, The Master of the Universe and The Right Side of the Road . . . All were recorded on March 4, 1965, less than three weeks before Ira and his wife were involved in the fatal accident

Jean Shephard's last LP was Lighthearted and Blue, an album of mostly up-tempo tunes . . . Now, in a change of pace, the popular vocalist offers It's a Man Every Time, and LP consiting of all love songs or ballads . . . Among those in the album are Bitter Tears, Too Broke to Break, I Love You More and More Every Day, Ain't You Ashamed and the title song.

The Lombardo Brothers combine their talents in a new LP entitled Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians Play the Songs of Carmen Lombardo (that's keeping it in the family!).

FOR THE FAMILY MANAGER

ITEM: On a dollar basis, health quackery probably tops the list of "rackets" whereby consumers are cheated financially. Government agencies have estimated that some 25 million Americans are fleeced of $1 billion or more each year in return for worthless drugs, gadgets and health foods.

* * *

ITEM: Among the vegetables, turnip greens, kale, and collards are good sources of riboflavin as well as of vitamin A and C.

* * *

ITEM: If your home freezer stops running and you know it will be off for some time, take several steps to keep food from spoiling: keep the freezer closed; move the food to a locker plant; or add dry ice.

* * *

ITEM: Creamed cottage cheese will make smooth fillings for sandwiches and canapes, if thoroughly whipped with a rotary beater. Add minced onion, seasoned salt, caraway seeds, bits of anchovy, diced pimento, well-drained chopped cucumber or herbs for seasoning.

* * *

ITEM: If cords are not attached to an electric appliance, coil the cords loosely and place in a drawer or on a shelf. If hung on nails or small hooks, the weight of the plug and the attachment prongs have a tendency to make the cords bend sharply.

WANT AD INFORMATION

DEADLINES

Classified advertising now appearing in Thursday editions can also be scheduled in Sunday Suburbanite at the same time at advantageous discount. No classified advertising will be accepted for just the Sunday Suburbanite, without also appearing in the Thursday editions.

Tuesday at 3 p.m. for Thursday editions, and for Thursday-Sunday combination. Ads received until 10 a.m. Wednesday will appear in "Too late to Classify" section of Thursday edition. Thursday at Noon for Sunday Suburbanite for Sunday-Thursday insertions.

RATES

Reader classified rates: 20c a word first insertion, 17c a word repeated consecutive insertions. Minimum charge for any ad $2.00.

Display classified rates: $4.90 per col. inch first insertion, $4.20 per col. inch repeated consecutive insertions.

We also offer a contract rate to display classified advertisers. Special introductory offer, for limited time only, 50% discount on classified advertising appearing in the Sunday Suburbanite in addition to the Thursday editions.

BLIND ADS

A $1 service charge will be made for all ads when replies are to be received through this newspaper.

ADJUSTMENTS

If your ad appears incorrectly, notify us immediately. We accept responsibility for the first incorrect insertion only. Such responsibility is limited to such a proportion of the entire cost of the advertisement as the space occupied by the error bears to the entire space of the advertisement.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Ads will be taken over the telephone on a charge basis if the advertiser is listed in the phone book, or a subscriber to one of our newspapers. All ads appearing under "Situations Wanted" classification must be paid in advance.
